Game starts at 4:30 o'clock.

Overcoming a lead of five runs that was barely caused by the umpiring of Umpire Norcum in the opening inning of yesterday's game, the Colts, by masterly stick work, won the second game of the series with the Tars at Broad Street Park by the score of 7 to 5.

Schweitzer, Newton and Snyder were the stars with the club, each securing a pair of bingles, one of Snyder's being good for the circuit. Schweitzer and Newton tallied four of the seven runs while Berger, Bohe and Snyder each captured one.

With two men down and one run over the pan for the Tars in the first session, and the bases loaded, Pressly, who was at bat, had two strikes on him. McArthur sent a pretty curve over the centre of the plate and Norcum distinctly called "Strike three." Woerth threw the ball to the infield, and the players started towards the dugout, when to the surprise of all present Norcum said, "Ball three." The Tar runners were scampering around the bases, and in an effort to stop them Bunting picked up the ball and threw it to Woerth, who had not quite reached the plate. The ball got away from the catcher, and all three runners scored. Pressly was passed and stole second. Stewart coaxing him with a rattling single to right.

Norfolk promptly knotted the score, Cleveland opening with a base on balls, a triple and a sacrifice fly in the first inning. The Colts got busy on Humphries in the sixth and sent another pair over. This was followed in the eighth by three runs on a triple, an error of Pressly's, followed by Snyder's home run.

The score by made a mistake in officially keeping the board with Hopkins on the plate, and fans though the scoring was for ten innings, while the fact was the game lasted but nine innings in the regulation eight and one-half innings.

The series will close to-morrow, and the week-end will see Fortsmouth as guests of the Bloomingers.

JOHNSON WAS STAR IN GOOBER-TIGER GAME

Twirled in Fine Form and Contributed Three Hits Out of Four Times—Made one Triple.

PETERSBURG, VA., September 1.—Johnson was the star in to-day's game with Roanoke, not only did he pitch in fine form, but he made three hits out of the four times he was at the bat, one of them being a triple, and scored twice and was responsible for one of the Goobers eleven runs.

Roanoke lost the game in the third inning, when their lineup went to pieces, and to be charitable, the best that can be said about this inning is that they became demolished, and that the Goobers took advantage of it and scored seven runs on three hits, two sacrifice hits and four errors. WASHINGTON, September 1.—Chicago won a fifteen-inning game from Washington here to-day, 5 to 4, making it three straight. Scott, for the visitors, went the entire distance, while a trio of twirlers opposed.

It was Scott's overthrow to third base that allowed Washington to score three runs in the ninth and tie it up, otherwise he would have won earlier in a regulation game, 3 to 1.

In the fifteenth inning Shaw passed Demmitt, Weaver sacrificed and Collins singled, Demmitt scored. The score:

SHORE STRONG IN PINCHES

BOSTON, September 1.—The Red Sox cleaned up both ends of a double-header to-day, winning the second game, 4 to 2, after gathering the opener, 7 to 6.

Shore and Leverenz were the opposing twirlers in the second game, and though the Boston star was hit harder than the St. Louis man, he was strong in the pinches.

Leverenz allowed four hits, but wretched support gave Boston three runs and the game in the fourth inning.

The Sox made their other run in the eighth on hits by Scott and Speaker. Scores:

PHILADELPHIA, September 1.—The Clevelands met the Athletics this afternoon. The world's champions won by the score of 16 to 3. The Athletics clouted Steen, Blanding and Dillinger for eighteen hits, a total of twenty-seven bases. The Naps played poorly in the field, which aided the scoring.

Bender retired in the seventh when his team got such a big lead. Mack let Kopf bat for Eddie Collins in the seventh, when the bases were filled, and the youngster tripled. The Boston Braves, who open a series with the Phillies here to-morrow, watched the game. Score:

DR. ROLLER ARRIVES, READY FOR BATTLE

Seattle Physician in Fine Condition for Mat Test To-Morrow Night at Broad Street Park.

HAS WRESTLED IN THE WEST

Met Costello, the Italian, and Defeated Him With the Toe Hold. Zbyszko Fighting in European War.

Dr. Roller arrived in Richmond yesterday. The doctor came direct from the Western States, where he has been wrestling the past two weeks. He stated on his arrival that his trip through the West has put him in fine condition for the finish bout with Lewis to-morrow night.

"I met a couple of mighty tough mat men on my last trip," declared Roller. "They certainly surprised me. One man in particular, who was practically unknown in this country, having been imported to the United States to try for championship honors. One of the Western promoters being anxious to find out just how good the new foreigner was, booked him with me, giving the new wrestler an assumed name. The bout was staged in Wichita, Kas.

"On the night of the match I did not arrive in town until a few minutes before the bout was called, so consequently felt very tired and did not have a chance to rest up. When the big European stripped for action, he immediately impressed me as being a good wrestler. I started after him, and for the first twenty minutes it was nip-and-tuck. However, I soon discovered that my opponent was not up in the tricks of the catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling, so I finally pinned him with a toe hold, after wrestling the first fall nearly forty-five minutes. I had very little trouble in winning the second fall, but I want to say it was one of the toughest fights I ever had.

"After the match I found out my opponent was none other than the great Costello, the crack Italian wrestler, who is considered one of the best European wrestlers in the game. I look to see this great foreign grappler reach the top of the ladder as soon as he learns the catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling. I doubt if any of the other American wrestlers can beat him, at any rate not if they bar the toe hold."

When asked the whereabouts of Zbysko, the doctor paused a minute and said: "He is at present in Europe fighting in the great war. This fellow was the most marvelously developed man I ever saw, and it would be a shame if a bullet should finish him.

"Beside being a wrestler, the Pole could do anything in the world that was possible for a man to do with strength, and do it with the science of an artist.

"Zbyszko will fight just as hard on the battlefield as he did on the wrestling mat. The giant Pole has the heart of a lion, and I would not be surprised to hear that he has won as much glory in the army as he did on the mat.

"The only real European stars now in this country are Costello, the Italian Giant; Antonio Rouleau, French champion; Loudello, Bohemian Giant, and Martenson, the Danish grappled."

The Roller-Lewis match will be for the championship of America. The man who wins this match will trot the fastest gait of his life. There will be action every moment of the contest, and people who attend will, without a doubt, see the hardest-fought wrestling match ever witnessed in the South.

COACH WOOD STARTS FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Ten Pigskin Pushers Report on Lambeth Field—Virginia Will Have Almost a New Line-Up.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., September 1.—Joe Wood, coach of the Virginia football team, to-day began the task of building up an eleven to take the place of last year's winning combination which was shot all to pieces by graduation and other causes. Ten candidates reported for practice on Lambeth Field this afternoon, and for an hour and a half engaged in light work. After trying a few forward passes, there was a brief signal drill.

Among the first to report was Bobby Gooch, quarterback and mainstay of the backfield last season. Having engaged in daily workouts on the cinder track recently with Captain Cronly, the hurdler, Gooch appeared to be in excellent trim. Fast, aggressive, heady and sure, this little warrior should prove a sensation in his final season on the gridiron.

Among the other candidates who reported to-day were Fuller, a half back from Davidson College, who was ineligible last fall; Berkeley, sub-quarter on the Virginia team three years ago, but more recently of the Episcopal High School; Murphy, a backfield man and drop-kicker, and Robinson, a quarterback from Danville.

Word was received to-day from the Anderson brothers, former Woodberry stars, saying that they would report this week. Both are players of promise, but were withdrawn from the squad last fall when their parents objected to their playing.

ALCOS WILL PRACTICE AT BYRD PARK TO-DAY

Workout Sessions Will Also Be Held at Same Place To-Morrow and Friday Afternoon.

TEAM WILL LEAVE SATURDAY

Manager Seamans Has Changed His Plans, and Will Take Players on Special Train—Photographs to Be Presented Members.

This afternoon the champion Alco baseball team will play a practice game at Byrd Park, starting at 5:30 o'clock. This game will be followed by another one to-morrow, and Friday the team will hold its final workout also at Byrd Park.

Manager Seamans has decided to take the squad to Washington Saturday morning instead of Friday afternoon, as was his first intention. The boys will leave on the special train which will leave Bowe Street, between Broad and Marshall Streets, at 7 o'clock in the morning, and about 1,000 enthusiastic fans are expected to accompany the nine.

The train will return at night, leaving Washington about 8 o'clock, and will arrive in Richmond about midnight.

Manager Seamans had the players photographed yesterday, posed and action photographs were snapped as well as a group picture. Each member of the team will receive a mounted copy as a remembrance of the successful season just passed.

MAURICE M'LOUGHLIN MEETS HIS WATERLOO

R. Norris Williams, Second, of Philadelphia, Wins Chief Tennis Honor of the Country.

RESULT A GREAT SURPRISE

Winner Said, After the Match, "Mac Was Off His Game"—Champion Was Member of 1913 Davis Cup Team.

NEWPORT, R. I., September 1.—R. Norris Williams, II., of Philadelphia and Harvard, to-day won the chief lawn tennis honor of the country from Maurice E. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, who had held it for two years. The score was in straight sets, 6-3, 8-6, 10-8.

The result was one of the greatest surprises of the athletic year. Williams's own explanation after the match was the one generally accepted by all who saw the contest. "Mac was off his game," he said.

But McLoughlin was no farther under his own game than Williams was above the brand of tennis which as previously had displayed.

That Williams was playing the best game of his career began to dawn on the gallery when he ran the second set up to three games to love, through McLoughlin's errors. Then came his only reversal in the match, and his nets and outs gave McLoughlin a chance to tie the score at 3 all. The next six games alternated, each player winning his service, but Williams, after finishing the thirteenth, came to the net and drove the champion back into deep court.

From there McLoughlin was forced into making nets and outs, giving the set to Williams. For a single game, when he captured the first contest in the third set on Williams's service, it was felt McLoughlin had found himself again. Then the net began catching his returns, and Williams not only won the champion's service, but made it two games to one a moment later on his own.

After that the games alternated on the service until the fifteenth, when McLoughlin broke through and gained a lead of eight to seven on Williams service.

In the sixteenth game, McLoughlin was within two points of the set and the prospect of a twenty minutes' rest to regain his fast ebbing strength, when his three nets and a placement by Williams again tied the score at

FIRST OF THE GOLF FAVORITES ELIMINATED

Eben M. Byers Beats Charles Evans, 1 Up—Travers Had Hard Battle to Win From Schlottman.

MANCHESTER, VT., September 1.—The firts of the favorites for the National Amateur Golf title was eliminated in the first round of match play on the Ekwanok links, to-day, when Charles Evans, Jr., national champion in 1911, was beaten by Eben M. Byers, of Pittsburgh, national champion in 1906 and runner-up in 1902 and 1903, by a score of 1 up.

Byers won largely through his ability to play his approach shots dead. At the turn he was in the lead, 2 up, but Evans pulled up ever on the twelfth, when Byers missed a short putt. Once more the Pittsburgh man went into the lead when he took a three at the fifteenth hole against four for Evans. At the seventeenth hole Byers got into difficulties, and the figure swere only approximated when he picked up his ball, conceding the hole to Evans. Byers topped his drive and went into the ditch. In trying to extricate himself he succeeded only in entangling himself still further, and after six strokes he conceded the hole to Evans, who was in position to make it in five.

The match was settled on the eighteenth hole, where Evans also topped his drive and failed to reach the fairway. His attempt to play short of the ditch with his iron failed, and although he made a pretty play out, Byers took the hole and the match.

Jerome Travers, titleholder, was carried to the seventeenth hole before he could win from J. B. Schlottman, of Detroit. The chafpion went out in 36, and took 32 for the eight holes coming in. He won 2 up, 1 to play.

Francis Ouimet had to play the full round to dispose of H. R. Marston, of Baltusrol. Ouimet went around in 74, his opponent in 75.
