OUTSIDE SECURITIES HOUSED IN EXCHANGE

For Privilege to Deal in These Stocks Permission Must Be Had of Committee.

SECRET POLICY IS CONDEMNED

Demand for New York City 6's Carries Price to 103 for 1917 Issue. Extension of British Moratorium Not Applied to Bills of Exchange.

BY BROADAN WALL.

New York, September 28.—To deal in outside securities one must apply to the committee now housed under the roof of the Stock Exchange, while the market for listed stocks is conducted in the clearing-house of the New York Stock Exchange in New Street. Thus the foster-child has usurped the home of the legitimate.

The policy of conducting trades secretly has reached the point where criticism is met from all sides. The best defense ever made by the Stock Exchange was the statement that it was a public market, where all transactions were openly recorded.

Another soft pedal was put on publicity when the committee of five announced that it would not require orders in mining stocks listed on the New York curb and selling at not over $1 per share to be filed with it. "It will permit trading to take place, providing transactions and quotations are not made public."

The demand for the New York City new 6s carried the price to 102 to-day for the 1917 issue. Some disappointment is felt that the foreign buying did not take up a greater proportion of the loan, and this probably caused the strength in the market for foreign exchange, cables selling up to $5.09½, and demand touching $5.09, with a good volume of buying at these figures.

Another reason to assign for the strength in the exchange was the recognition that the extension of the British moratorium from October 4 to November 4 does not apply to bills of exchange.

Call loans were made at 6 per cent, and some maturing time loans were renewed at this rate. A more liberal offering of funds for stockbrokers' uses is looked for later in the week. At London the money market is a shade easier, but with few offerings. Commercial paper was steady, with small business at 7 to 8 per cent.

Dullness ruled in the copper metal market, with prices ruling at 12 cents a pound, the figures that prevailed last week. It is estimated that the stocks of refined copper have increased about 50,000,000 pounds in the last three months.

The plants of the United States Steel Corporation, it is said, are now operating at about 50 per cent of capacity. Incoming business is small, with unfilled steel tonnage on the decline.

In the outside market stocks were extremely dull and transactions few. Several deals in the Standard Oil stocks were recorded at about the figures that prevailed when the exchange closed.

New York, September 28.—By reason of its important bearing upon the international market, to-day's violent rise in foreign exchange on London overshadowed all other financial developments. Cables rose to $5.62 and demand sold at $5.61, each representing a gain of 3 cents in the pound sterling over last Saturday, and restoring rates to the highest quotations for these remittances since the latter part of August. The advance was occasioned largely by an increased demand for London bills, persons having large obligations to discharge abroad, which in October, when many ninety-day bills will expire. It was the general expectation that the maturities would be met by new grain and cotton bills, but the supply of the latter has been especially small because of the embargo of exports of that staple.

Moreover, the $100,000,000 gold pool was counted on to relieve the exchange situation, but delay in the consummation of that project has added to the general confusion of the market.

Apart from the flurry in foreign exchange, which reacted slightly later, most of the day's news was of a constructive character.

Money eased here, some four-months' year loans being placed at 7 per cent. There were some foreign sales of American bonds and notes under the new arrangement of the Stock Exchange, but no figures were available. It is known, however, that practically all the transactions were at moderate concessions.

New York, September 28.—Mercantile paper, 6. Sterling exchange, steady; unsettled; cables, $5.61, for demand, $4.8600. Exchanges, $179,094,579; balances, $5,194,673. Bar silver, 54¾.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, September 28.—Little change was reported in the cotton situation here to-day. Advices from eastern sections of belt indicated further reductions in the spot markets, but local spot people said that a better tone had developed in the Southwest over Sunday, and that advances of 5@7 pts were being asked for prompt shipments of strict middling. Eastern belt prices have been relatively high as compared with Texas cotton, and the regularity reported to-day seemed to be in the direction of a better parity. Domestic mills are still said to be buying only from hand to mouth, owing partly to the absence of hedging markets and partly to expectations of lower prices as supplies accumulate in the South. October notices were issued to-day against some 4,000 to 5,000 bales of the local stock, and were supposed to represent the complete liquidation of that position, as most October contracts are believed to have been transferred to December.

ENORMOUS INCREASE IN VISIBLE SUPPLY

Figures Had Been Anticipated, and Market Is But Slightly Affected—Trading Is Irregular.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Chicago, September 28.—There was a further enormous increase in the visible supply of wheat in this country and Canada last week, but it was anticipated, and the effect on the market was small. Visible stocks in the United States increased 8,561,000 bushels, and there was a decrease of 3,739,000 bushels in Canadian supplies. Stocks in this country are now within 3,500,000 bushels of what they were a year ago, while the present supply available in Canada is more than double that for the corresponding period last year. In view of the present relative cheapness of Canadian wheat for export, as compared to that of our grain, these big supplies in the Dominion are significant. Foreign buyers have shown more interest in Canadian wheat recently, and it was pointed out by a local statistician to-day that No. 3 Northern wheat in Canada can be bought at about $1, while the export grades of winter wheat here are about 6 or 7 cents a bushel higher than this.

Trading in wheat futures here to-day was again marked by irregularity. Following a rally from the initial dip, the market soared higher most of the time, and resting prices were 1@1¼c better than Saturday's close for the active months. September wheat finished 1⅝c higher, due to short covering.

The corn market was small and featureless, with prices at the close ¼@½c lower than previous resting spots. Favorable weather over the belt for finishing the crop, with prospects of its outturning for several days at least, curbed buyers' activities. Shipping call for cash corn here was limited, only 35,000 bushels being reported sold. There were shipments for 50,000 bushels of corn at 1c to Buffalo.

Oats were under much hedging pressure early, but later were helped by fairly good local speculative buying, which was stimulated to some extent by claims of considerable export sales at the seaboard. Resting prices were ¼c higher than the previous close. Local exporters claimed that bids were too low and exports of only 2,000 bushels were reported from here. Rumors of over a million bushels worked at the seaboard could not be confirmed.

TRIES TO SAVE AUTOMOBILE AND IS INSTANTLY KILLED

STAUNTON, VA., September 28.—William S. Hunter, superintendent of quarries for the Virginia Portland Cement Company, at Fordwick, was struck by a Chesapeake and Ohio freight train at Bells Valley on Sunday night, and his neck was broken. He died instantly. He was automobiling with his wife, two children and guests, eight in all, and as he crossed the railroad track the machine went dead. All the passengers got out as they saw the train coming. Hunter tried to push the car out of the way, but was struck, and the machine was demolished. He leaves his wife and seven children.

SOUTHERN'S DAIRY CAR STOPS AT BURKEVILLE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

BURKEVILLE, VA., September 28.—The dairy car of the Southern Railway stopped to-day at Burkeville, and was met by some of the prominent farmers of the community. There are many dairy farms around Burkeville; in fact, the Richmond market is supplied with a large quantity of produce from this place. This is a section where farmers have found it profitable to keep cows. Professor W. D. Saunders, who has charge of the dairy work at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, was with the car and addressed the farmers both morning and afternoon. W. W. Fitzpatrick, of the Southern Railway, were also among the speakers. Meetings will be held on Tuesday at Jetersville and on Wednesday at Amelia.

Bungalow Mysteriously Burned.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

LYNCHBURG, VA., September 28.—The bungalow belonging to Stephen C. Hurt, on the Dixie Plantation, in Amherst County, opposite Reusens, was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning in an unexplained manner. With the bungalow were burned rare and highly prized curios, which Mr. Hurt had been engaged in collecting for a number of years. Unless the collection of curios was stolen some time Saturday night and the bungalow fired to hide evidence of the robbery, the origin of the fire cannot be explained.

ABINGDON IS STORMED BY TRIO OF CANDIDATES

Irvine, Slemp and Rose Place Their Views in Congressional Campaign Before Voters.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

BRISTOL, VA., September 28.—Abingdon was stormed by the congressional candidates to-day. Congressman C. B. Slemp, R. Tate Irvine, the Democratic nominee, and John L. Rose, the Progressive nominee, each spoke. The Democrats and Progressives spoke in the courthouse, while Mr. Slemp spoke in the town hall. The Slemp meeting was also addressed by Dr. William Carter, of New York, and Thomas J. Munsey, the Bland lawyer.

Mr. Irvine was introduced by Judge F. B. Hutton, who took occasion to commend the Wilson administration in the highest terms, declaring that its accomplishments were a sufficient argument for the support of Irvine in the present campaign.

Mr. Irvine made a pointed speech, emphasizing views expressed by him in his opening address at Jonesville. His positive views on the temperance issue were interesting, in view of the recent State-wide election. He declared that he had been at heart in favor of the prohibition of the liquor traffic for many years, and that his letter in July expressing himself in favor of that issue was but a repetition of his course on previous occasions when this issue was up. He said he would favor nation-wide prohibition either by legislation or by an enabling act, whereby the people might express the popular will of the nation on that subject.

Congressman Carter Glass, who was to have spoken for Irvine, wired that it would be impossible for him to get away from Washington on account of pressing official duties, but that he expected to begin making speeches in the district about October 1.

Mr. Slemp's principal argument in his speech to-day was that the war tax had not been made necessary by the European war, but by the Underwood tariff measure, which had reduced the revenues from imports. He declared that the custom-house records show that there was a decrease in imports during July of only 6 per cent, and that, compared with two years ago, imports are now back to normal.

Commission Loses Case.

RALEIGH, N. C., September 28.—Judge Whedbee, of the Superior Court, to-day announced that he had ruled against the Corporation Commission in its test case involving the right of the State to collect inheritance taxes. The Corporation Commission will take an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The railway company is seeking to enjoin the Commerce Commission from putting into effect a coal rate promulgated a month or more ago for the territory covered by that system from Southwest Virginia.
