BOSTON, September 28.—The Braves kept on winning to-day, defeating the Cubs by a score of 7 to 6. Tireless Bill James added another win to his long record, although touched up rather more freely than usual. The efficient stick work of the Braves pulled him through. The Cubs pounded James for four hits and two runs in the opening inning, and added another in the next on a brace of safeties and an error. They scored one in the sixth and two in the ninth. The Braves got busy in the second. Gowdy doubled, following two singles, scoring two runs. The Braves made four more in the third on five hits, including a double and a triple and three singles. Schmidt's triple was responsible for the other score in the eighth. The score:

PASS STARTS WINNING RUN

PHILADELPHIA, September 28.—The Cincinnati team defeated the Phillies to-day in the last game of the series by a score of 4 to 3. A base on balls in the ninth inning paved the way for the winning tally, a sacrifice and a single scored Daniels. There will not be a game here to-morrow, the game having been played in Saturday's doubleheader. The score:

NO PROBLEM FOR GIANTS

NEW YORK, September 28.—Pittsburgh was no problem to the Giants to-day, the visitors being twice in a single by Burns, Fletcher, Snodgrass and Merkle, a sacrifice by Grant and another hit by Merkle netted the Giants four runs in the seventh inning of the first game, which preceded the second game the Giants handled in Sunday's Gotham and Kaiser's manner.

ATHLETIC REGULARS REST

ST. LOUIS, September 28.—The Athletics gave a rest to their regulars today, and with a make-shift team they lost to the Browns, 7 to 1. Jack Coombs pitched his first game of the season, and allowed only one run in three innings he worked. Hamilton was a puzzle to Mack's youngsters, and held them safe. At the finish Murphy and Lapp were the only regulars playing for Philadelphia. The score:

MADE FOUR HITS YESTERDAY

"Butcher" Schmidt

FIRST-SACKER OF BOSTON BRAVES

Charles Schmidt, better known as "Butch or Schmiddy," is a product of the sandlots of Baltimore, Md. This sterling player received his first professional experience with Jack Dunn's Orioles, and was later sold to the Braves, where he has made good.

Schmidt is an earnest worker and an excellent fielder, and feels the loss of a game much more than the manager. He bats and fields left-handed.

MOTORCYCLE TRIP FROM RICHMOND TO CANADA

Four Local Enthusiasts Spend Their Vacation in an Enjoyable Manner and at Little Expense.

PAY VISIT TO NIAGARA FALLS

Are Also Shown Through Several Automobile Factories — All Pronounce It the Most Pleasant Outing They Ever Spent.

The following Richmond boys left Richmond on their motorcycles on their vacation, and had a most delightful trip, covering about 2,000 miles, at a cost for the entire trip of $35 each: C. Bogue, Kenneth Boyle, Henry Holt, O. M. Burrows.

They left Richmond on Friday, September 11, at 5:30 A. M., reaching Fairfax Courthouse at 7 P. M., having lost their way several times on the route. Boyle and Holt, on account of bad roads and some machine trouble, shipped their machines from Manassas to Washington. Fuqua left Fairfax at 7 A. M. September 12, reaching Washington about 9:30 A. M., after ploughing through a great deal of mud, it having rained very hard during the night.

Having taken in the sights of Washington, Boyle, Holt and Fuqua started out for Baltimore, accompanied by Ed. Denham, the dare-devil rider, who was seen here on Labor Day at the races, reaching Baltimore Sunday about 10 A. M.

Here Holt purchased a new machine, and the trio were joined by Burrows, who had shipped to Baltimore, and the quartet, having seen all of the city, continued their journey at 3 P. M.

They reached Frederick, Md., about dark, but pushed on to Hagerstown after dark, reaching Hagerstown about 9 P. M. Here they stopped with Mr. Fuqua's father, and left Monday at 9 A. M., reaching Harrisburg, Pa., at 5 P. M., where they visited the famous capital of Pennsylvania.

They next reached Hammondsport, N. Y., visiting the Curtis aeroplane plant in hopes of seeing the flying boat America, but in this they were disappointed, as they were informed that the America had been sold to some foreign government; also that they had now under construction seven more, and allowed no one to visit the plant at this time. They did see the original Langley on a try-out, which at the time was skimming along about a foot above the water.

Reaching Elmira, N. Y., they went through the eclipse machine plant, which is one of them ost wonderful automatic machine plants in the country. From there they journeyed to Buffalo.

Here they visited the Pierce Arrow auto factory, and were shown the 1915 models. They finished the Buffalo trip by visiting the Buffalo Motordrome, where they saw some records broken by the speedsters of the wooden bowl. This drome is only a quarter of a mile, and Fuqua was extended the courtesy of the track with the machine he was touring on, but only succeeded in doing fifty miles an hour.

Leaving Buffalo at 7 A. M. they covered the thirty miles of splendid boulevard in record time. They visited the falls from the American and Canadian sides, took some photos on Goat Island, after seeing all of the points of interest here left for Rochester, and by hard riding reached there that same night.

Boyle separated from the party here and went on ahead. Reaching Little Falls they passed numerous knitting mills and overtook a man and his wife riding tandem, and on an extended tour. Passing through Poughkeepsie, N. Y., they visited the Flat Auto Factory, where the racing cars are built. They then journeyed through the Catskill Mountains.

Arriving in New York City, they rode Broadway from one end to the other and attracted large crowds wherever they stopped. They next went to Philadelphia, where they were joined by Boyle, and after seeing all that was to be seen in the Quaker city, started for Baltimore. Getting within eight miles of Baltimore, they were overtaken by rain and darkness, and were forced to stop within sight of the city.

They made an early start next morning, reaching Washington at 9:30, and started for Fredericksburg. Owing to a heavy storm of the night before they were unable to reach Fredericksburg that night, stopping at Cromwell.

Next morning they pushed on through the twenty odd miles of mud to Fredericksburg, leaving there at 9:15, reaching Richmond at 11:45 A. M., having completed a trip of about 2,000 miles riding, with riders and machines in good shape, although rather muddy.

The machines averaged about sixty-

LOCAL BOWLERS FORM EIGHT-CLUB LEAGUE

Committee Appointed at Recent Meeting Apportions Players to Various Teams.

ROLL ON TWO SETS OF RUNS

Commercials Start October 12 at the Newport—Get - Together Session Thursday Night — Match Game This Evening.

The executive committee—Whitman, Rowsey, McFarland, Barrow, N. Smith and Goetz—of the Richmond Bowling Association, at its meeting last night, decided to increase the Richmond Class A League to eight clubs this season, making it one of the largest tenpin bowling leagues ever organized in this city.

The games will be rolled on the Palace and Newport Alleys, the Newport getting games every Monday and Friday, while the Palace will get every Tuesday and Wednesday. The above move is one of the best things that has ever happened in this city in bowling circles, as it will bring all of the bowlers into one body and elevate the great indoor game.

The following is a list of the teams and players who will comprise the Richmond League, as suggestedby the committee in charge. Final line-ups will be decided at the meeting Thursday night at Saenger Hall.

Jewelers—Spilling, S. N. Williams, Sutterlin, Bliley, Martin and Bell.

Cook Printing Company—Cook, McFarland, Bailey, Deasy and Boulding.

Times-Dispatch — Roy, Overmann, Barrow, Hampe, A. Smith and P. Smith.

A. L. Davis Plumbing Company—A. L. Davis, Beardsley, Flinn, Troutner, R. Williams and Miller.

Aicos—Whitman, Kennedy, Gallegher, O'Brien, Schmitz, Brown and Horn.

Newports—Blair, Houchens, Bryant, W. Williams, Pitts, Froman, Farrer and Phipps.

Palace—Rowsey, L. Cosby, Richardson, Tillery, Adams.

Jenkins Wheel Company—Wade, Arright, Gilbert, Anderson, Harper.

The Commercial Bowling League has made great headway the past week, and has nearly completed its line-up for the six teams which will compose the league this season. This organization suffered a handicap on the start by losing some of its strongest players, who have been drafted by Class "A" teams. The opening games will start on the Newport runs Monday, October 12.

Every bowler in Richmond who has been a bowler, who is now a bowler, or who wishes to become a bowler should be on hand at the big bowlers' meeting Thursday night at Saenger Hall, 214 North Third Street, at 8 o'clock.

Farrer and Phipps will meet Burch and Froman in a two-man exhibition to-night at 8:30 o'clock. These tenpin matches are creating great interest among the bowlers and challenges are being received from all sides.

To-night's match should prove to be an interesting one, as both teams are evenly balanced.

Whitman and Dunkel defeated Hampe and Latimer by a margin of 156 pins in a five-game two-man match on the Newport runs yesterday. Whitman was the bright and shining light with the big maples, and showed mid-season form by securing high score and average. The scores:

PARI-MUTUEL SYSTEM OF BETTING SURE TO PLEASE

"Iron Men" to Take the Place of Layers at Laurel During Meet Starting Thursday.

BORROW TO CARRY TOP WEIGHT

Harry Payne Whitney's Gelding Is Awarded Honors in Baltimore Handicap—Several Stables Arrived From Canada Yesterday.

BALTIMORE, MD., September 28.—When the racegoers pass through the gates of the plant of the Maryland State Fair at Laurel Park on Thursday, many changes will be noted. One of the most interesting will be in the installation of the pari-mutuel machines.

By the opening day twenty-six machines of the latest style will be ready for operation. While the Eastern turf set has had considerable experience with the French mode of betting at Pimlico, the iron men at Laurel will afford a more interesting study.

The machines are an improvement over those used at the Hilltop. They eliminate the clicker, having an electrical connection, and will be operated with the case of cash register. Only one man is required to sell tickets to the speculator and register the sale. Heretofore two men were necessary.

Despite the passing of the clickers to operate the machines there will be employment for in the neighborhood of 100 men, including ticket sellers, box men, calculators and board markers. The machines will be arranged in the following variety: $50 straight, $20 straight, place and show and $10, $5 and $2 straight, place and show. To avoid congestion in the ring, Manager M. J. Winn has had iron passageways, one of which serves as an entrance to the ticket seller, while the other is to be used as an exit.

Another idea which will meet with the approval of the racing public will be the construction of thirty cashiers' windows. This will do away with the delay, which usually occurs in paying off when there are not an ample number of cashiers.

The way the pari-mutuel system will be handled at Laurel is likely to make a hit even among those who had a tendency to favor the old style of speculation. On a blackboard eighty-nine feet in length and which can be seen from every point of the big ring will be shown everything that has taken place except the actual calculation. Here will be posted the name of the horse, the number of the ticket, the amount of money wagered, etc. To the extreme north of enclosure will be the office of Assistant General Manager Harry F. Breivogel, from where the public can procure any information and where complaints, if any arise, will be listened to and remedied when possible. The ring is well lighted, and is probably the finest of its kind in the country. These innovations should appeal to the advocates of the sport of kings.

While the machines may not net the association the same financial returns as when the ring was open to the layers, there is little doubt that the new system will be a success. Not only is the track ideally located, being midway between Baltimore and Washington, with unequaled train service, but all of the stars of turfdom, piloted by jockeys of superior class, will participate during the meeting, which promises to be the most brilliant ever staged on an American race course.

The mutuels go a long way to gain the confidence of the public and to uplift the sport. The public will make the choice, and the introduction of the machines have done much to purify the sport. There is no credit betting, which has always given a black eye to the game. The French style proved to be the only salvation to racing in Kentucky. It was in the season of 1907 that the machines were first operated at Churchill Downs, the picturesque course of the new Louisville Jockey Club.

The Court of Appeals of Kentucky held that machines were perfectly legal. The Kentucky State Racing Commission issued a ruling in favor of the mutuels, and as the result the tracks in the Bluegrass State have become prosperous and free from scandal. The sport there has been built on a sure and permanent basis, and there is no reason why the same conditions should not prevail in Maryland.

A pamphlet of an instructive design has been compiled by Assistant Manager Breivogel. It shows how the calculating is done, and will familiarize
