THE ALMA RECORD.

Florida Letter.

Pensacola, Florida, Nov. 29, 1885.

DARK RECORD:

Agreeable to the request of many of our Gratiot County friends who desire to know how we found the sunny South with its mild climate and cheap homes, we desire to say we had hoped before this to have been able to give them some definite description of the St. Andrews Bay Centre for which we started when we left Alma. But alas, how uncertain when one depends on what we see in print. On arriving at Pensacola we found that we would have to go 161 miles East from here by rail then by team 38 miles south, and then take a small sail boat 12 miles down the Bay to reach a point only 89 miles distant from this city. We could only reach there direct from here by sail vessels. From the glowing accounts sent out by the St. Andrews Bay R. R. & Land Co. of Cincinnatti we found them gathering here from different points in the north and west. Here we have met some from Oregon, California, Texas, Kansas, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Ohio, Kentucky, and Alabama, besides many from Michigan. In regard to mild climate we found it much warmer than in Michigan, and while they boast that the extreme change from Summer here to Winter cold is but 30 degrees it all may be true, but we find it nearly exhausts the whole scale of extreme in one day However it is much better than the piercing cold of Michigan

Pensacola is a city of about 12,000 of all nationalities and colors mostly of the dark kind. If cheap homes in the south means a bed of sand out in the country away from the cities I think they can find plenty of them from the many thousand acres we find for sale at a small price. And rents and the cost of living here are very dear. Last Friday a company of 20 of us chartered a steam tug boat to take us to Andrews Bay but when we had got about 40 miles out on the Gulf the sea was so heavy we were compelled to return to this port. We have rented a small house and bought furniture and are at home for the present. From here we shall make tours to different parts of the state, and expect to make another attemp to go to St. Andrews next Wednesday and when I have the pleasure of seeing that much extolled place will write to you again. All agree that St. Andrews Bay is by nature a beautiful place, but at present it is in a crude state and needs some better facilities for getting here

JAMES GARGETT.

During the past six months Alma has been favored by a very successful train of book agents. Those who purchase from them usually pay nearly double the amount for which one accustomed to book buying can procure the same works. O. J. Stilwell has ordered, for the school and private parties, several hundred volumes during the past three years charging no commission, and freely offers to procure any standard work not found in the bookstore for any Almaite.

By comparing the following rates with those recently paid by some of our citizens the advantage of availing one's self of the above offer may be seen. Appleton's New American Encyclopaedia $40.00, Agents price $156; Chamber's New Encyclopaedia in 10 volumes $10.50, Agents price in 6 volumes $36; Johnson's Encyclopaedia $39.00, Agents price $54.00; Dicken's Works in 15 volumes $8.00, Agents price in 5 volumes $10. 100 volumes of Franklin Square Library $7.50, for which our citizens paid $79.00. All common standard volumes of fiction on which the copyright has expired as Ivanhoe, Jane Eyre, Scottish Chiefs 58c, or in better binding 47, Poets 47 or in elegant gilt and gold 57; histories and other works in proportion The above offer is aimed at book agents, and not at book stores, as Mr Stilwell refuses to procure books offered for sale by the trade here.

General McClellan is said to have expressed a wish that he might be buried at Antietam "That I can get up with my boys when the reveille sounds."

A revival meeting has been in progress at Wheeler, under the direction of the United Brethren Church, since Nov. 8th, it has resulted in the conversion of 26 people.

The druggists of Gratiot county should remember that the law now requires them to register their names with the state board of pharmacy on or before Dec. 18. All who do not will have to go before the board of examination. The secretary's address is Jacob Jesson, Mackinaw, Mich.

The Tribune says that samples of Mt. Pleasant water were sent to Lansing for analysis, and the ordinary well water was declared impure and wholly unfit for use, while water from the water works well was all o. k. if they only had some of the Alma mineral water over there we probably would not hear so much about the terrible ravages of diphtheria.

For some years the following sentence has stood as the shortest into which all the alphabet could be compressed. "J. Gray Pack with my box five dozen quails." A Chicago gentleman recently improved on the above sentence as follows: "Quick, glad zephyrs, wait my javelin box." G. W. Perry, a Boston lawyer, has now forced the twenty-six letters of the alphabet into a sentence of only thirty one letters. "Z. Budget Thy vixen jumps quick at fowl."

Michigan may well be proud of her educational institutions. In this department the state was awarded three premium certificates from the New Orleans exposition. One is for the state, for the best collection in the educational exhibit, one for the state public school at Coldwater, as the best institution of the kind in the country, and one for the agricultural college, for the best display of forestry and grasses.

Money to be Made.

It is said that dull times are not known by the agents for the great publishing house of George Stinson & Co., of Portland, Maine. The reason of this exceptional success is found in the fact that they always give the public that which is keenly appreciated and at prices that all can afford. At present we understand, their agents are doing wonderfully well on several new lines. They need many more agents in all parts of the country. Those who need profitable work should apply at once. Women do as well as men. Experience is not necessary, for Messrs. Stinson & Co. undertake to show all who are willing to work, not hard but earnest, the path to large success. It should be remembered that an agent can do a handsome business without being away from home over night. Another advantage—it costs nothing to give the business a trial, and an agent can devote all his time, or only his spare moments to it. Stinson & Co. guarantee grand success to all who engage and follow the simple and plain directions that they give. We have no space to explain all here, but full particulars will be sent free to those who address the firm; their full address is given above.

Now is the time your horses and cattle need attention. To prevent disease and tone up the system you will find Parmalee's Condition Powders unexcelled. Full package 25 cents. Sold by B. S. Webb.

Mistletoe for Kissing Purposes

No English lady consider her home decorations for Christmas complete, until a little sprig of Mistletoe, no matter how small, is hung over one of the doors on the inside of the house. Upon this day, "if a gentleman discovers a lady standing under the Mistletoe, he has a right to kiss her."

If this ancient and honored custom becomes as popular in America as it has been for centuries in Europe, it will be largely due to the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette, which, by the way, is published in Vonusia County, Florida, which is famous for it Summery Winters and Orange Groves; for this journal has prepared packages of Mistletoe (a parasite and a native of Florida) which it will send to any address upon receipt of five 2 cent stamps to cover postage, &c The Gazette has published a "Florida Catechism," that gives full and accurate information upon all subjects of interest to tourists or settlers, which it will mail, to any applicant, with a sample copy of its copy of its paper, upon receipt of two 2 cent stamps.

"What Tommy Did"

John Habberton author of "Helen's Babies" says: "'What Tommy Did' would be worthy of the serious consideration of parents if it were possible for any one to be other than wildly mirthful over the saintlinesses and dreadfulness of the little hero. Tommy is an ideal boy—one of the kind which are by turns unendurable and angelic, which changes parents from young to old, and from old to young again many times a day. We pity parents who fail to read this book; there is no time in the day nor any day in the week, in which its pages will not dispel care." The Chicago Tribune pronounces it a book that "will delight every boy and girl and every mother too who will find in it a book that can be read over and over again to suit the insatiable appetites of youthful readers, and yet never sicken the reader with any weakness or nonsense in its composition." It has just been published in dainty delighted shape, fine cloth, richly ornamented binding by Alden, the "Revolution" publisher, at half its former price, 50 cents. Alden's 148-page illustrated catalogue, price 4 cents—contains a catalogue free, of his immense list of standard books, is a wonder as well as joy to book-lovers. Joan B. Alden, Publisher, New York. Rupture

Dr. J. A. Sherman, of New York, Specialist in the treatment of Hernia, by a method of his own discovery, practiced only by himself, respectfully notifies the public that he is now at his Detroit Mich., office, 91 Griswold street, Buhl Block, next the postoffice, where he may be daily consulted during October and part of November.

In Dr. Sherman's method there is no surgical operation; it consists of his appliance and curative compound, external applications. During treatment patients can labor with security from the danger of strangulated Rupture, besides averting or rectifying the dreadful injuries resulting from the use of trusses, such as urinary stress, loss of manhood, irritation of the bladder and kidneys, impotency, from a wasting of the spermatic vessels.

The fallacy of curing rupture by trusses has been fully established by the experience of past ages. Take, for instance, the ruptured man far advanced in life, and he will tell you he has been deluded from his earliest recollection by vainly attempting to get cured from the use of trusses and that from misery to untold agony he has gone on from period to period, spending his money and exhausting his patience, with a vast increase of his rupture.

The following are some of the dreadful maladies resulting from the displacement of the Viscera in rupture, and which are aggravated by the trusses when used to support the rupture.

Rupture becomes inflamed and strangulated, the early symptoms of which are colic pains, rumblings of the bowels, great anxiety, and when reaching its full stage, equated only by the horrors of hydrophobia.

Rupture and trusses cause eventual nervous debility, impaired memory, indifference to amusement and stirring recreation necessarily conducive to health and the promulgation of life.

Rupture and trusses cause kidney and bladder affections, among the most deplorable of which is Bright's disease of the kidneys, depressed and irritated condition of the bladder, some of the preliminary symptoms of which are occasional lassitude, weakness, backache, frequent disposition to urinate, and increasing indifference and inability to the social enjoyments of life.

Rupture and trusses cause gradual and imperceptible undermining of the constitution, impairing of the digestive functions, and thereby inducing fevers of the worst type.

Rupture and trusses fan the energies and capabilities of man to a greater or less extent in every stage of life, both in his physical and social relations and in the physical and mental pursuance of his business.

Dr. Sherman's great experience and unparalleled success during his extensive practice in this and foreign countries, for more than thirty years exclusively in this branch of science enables him to treat the most difficult cases intelligently and successfully. Personal attendance is necessary for a diagnosis of the case and the proper adaptation of the treatment. Patients from a distance can receive treatment and leave for home the same day.

Dr. Sherman's pamphlet, mailed for 10 cents, gives the most convincing proof of his success in the strong endorsements from eminent physicians, clergymen, merchants, and others whom he has treated and cured. Those interested should send for it and inform themselves.
