Why? When? What?

Why? Order from catalogue houses
When! I guarantee to sell you same goods for less
What? Profit do you gain by doing so

Why? Not buy a nice Linoleum or Rug
When! You can save 25 per cent

What? Is the use of keeping your old goods
When! I will trade you new ones for them

Why? Have the blues and talk hard times
When! Prosperity is staring you in the face

What? Pleasure do we get out of life
When! We knock and knock and knock

Fall in line with the crowd and buy your Furniture and Household Goods from me and everything will be well with you and yours

DO YOUR CHILDREN ASK QUESTIONS

Of course they do. It is their way of learning and it is your duty to answer. You may need a dictionary to help you. It won't answer every question, but there are thousands to which it will give you true, clear and definite answers, not about words only, but about things, the sun, men, machinery, places, stories and the like. Then, too, the children can find their own answers. Some of our greatest men have ascribed their power to study of the dictionary.

Of course you want the best dictionary. The most critical prefer the New and Enlarged Edition of

TAFT IN HERO CLASS

RISKS OWN LIFE TO SAVE LITTLE TOT FROM AN AWFUL DEATH AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, July 29.—Hon. W. Taft, republican nominee for president, had a narrow escape from injury in Cincinnati today and he is the hero of a thrilling story. He was [illegible] at the Grand Central depot, and was walking down the platform when a little girl, who in some manner had slipped from her mother, was snatched up by the nominee from in front of a Baltimore & Ohio engine, which he snatched the tot from in front of a Baltimore & Ohio engine as it approached at a speed of [illegible] miles an hour. The mother fainted when she saw the little one in the arms of the candidate. The tot was not hurt, but was very much frightened. Mr. Taft was [illegible] to escape about the Pullman car of another train as Taft took charge of the machine. The mother hurried to see
