THE PROPOSITION OFFERED BY HON. W. P. POLAND

If You Have Nothing Better to Offer for the Uplift of the Town and County Don't Knock On This—A Move For Cheap Gas.

Below is the proposition I offer the citizens of Ardmore in which to take stock. If any other person has a proposition better than this, I want stock in it. If you have nothing better to offer, don't knock on my scheme. Ardmore must get cheap fuel gas to induce factories to locate here. Ask the secretary of the Commercial Club if this is not a fact. Ardmore has progressed to the extent of her agricultural possibilities. We need cheap gas to bring in other factors that will make Ardmore the pride of the state. We have the crude material at our doors. Shall we develop them? What if we had to sink a dozen prospecting wells and at last secure what we want. My proposition below gives you a chance at one, that will cost you nothing. The lot that you get for your $100 is worth more than you pay for it, if we fail on gas and oil. You will have a chance to subscribe, so study the proposition over before I see you. Some of you have never experienced the bottom dropping out of values of business property, and rents going down to nothing. Well, you need not want to, it is very embarrassing to say the least of it. We do not look for any such calamity to befall our town, but we should let no opportunity slip by which our town can be boosted. W. P. POLAND.

The Proposition.

We, the undersigned, hereby agree to pay such an amount set opposite our names to such a trustee as we may hereafter select for the purpose of buying one hundred and twenty eight (128) lots, seventy feet by one hundred and forty feet each, in what is known as the Poland & Anderson Addition, located in Carter County, Oklahoma, south and adjoining the City Park of Ardmore. The consideration for the one hundred and twenty-eight lots is to be one hundred dollars ($100.00) each and each One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) or multiple thereof shall represent a share in a company hereafter to be formed for the purpose of prospecting for oil and gas on the said one hundred and twenty-eight lots. No payments are to be made by us or any of us until all lots are subscribed for, when twenty-five per cent of same shall become due, and the balance in six monthly payments of twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50) per month per share. Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) shall be used under our direction for prospecting for oil and gas, and Seven Thousand Eight Hundred Dollars ($7,800) to be used for the purchase price of said one hundred ad twenty-eight lots.

DEMONSTRATION RUN

THE BANKS & ELLIS MACHINE SPEEDS WITH FIRE CHIEF AND FIRE COMMITTEE.

Chief Slaughter of the fire department is of the opinion that the city should [illegible] automobile fire fighting equipments. He has compiled figures which show that a small expenditure [illegible] be required to install the new equipments and the saving of feed for horses and the services of men will be considerable. It is learned also that Mayor Dick looks upon the plan with favor. The new equipment would afford a quicker method of getting to the scene of a fire. Horses soon tire and after they have run as far as a half mile the latter part of the mile is run on very slow time, while with an auto the second mile can be made as quickly as the first. The fire committee accompanied Chief Slaughter on a trial run with the Banks & Ellis machine yesterday afternoon. A good record was made and the aldermen have scarcely recovered from their fright to discuss the proposition. This machine [illegible] a record of a mile a minute, although it did not travel quite so fast yesterday afternoon on account of the crowded condition of the streets. The trial run was made in the southwest part of the city. The all [illegible] paper boys were invited to take the ride but the reporters were very busy and preferred to get their story second hand rather than while through the air at the rate of a mile a minute.

FIND ANOTHER SKELETON

GREEWSOME FIND MADE IN CONCHARTA MOUNTAINS, NEAR OLD OUTLAW QUARTERS.

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 10.—The wild, rugged sections of Oklahoma which were once part of Indian Territory and the haunts of outlaws are gradually giving up many secrets that hark back to the days when the winchester was law and the reign of the outlaw unchecked.

While camping on the Concharta mountains twenty miles northwest of Muskogee, Dr. William Harrison and family found a greewsome relic of the outlaw days. Mat Miller, a trapper who is posting ready for the fall and winter trapping and hunting, started digging a dugout near the place where the Harrisons were camped. About a foot below the surface his spade turned up a human bone in a shovelful of dirt. Careful digging and exploration brought forth a complete skeleton. Not a bone was missing. Even a gold capped tooth was found. The ribs over the heart were shattered with bullets from a winchester, showing that the man had been killed. It is supposed that he was either a cowman or a government officer who was assassinated or killed in a fight while crossing the mountains. The place where the skeleton was found was within a few hundred yards of the place where the Buck gang, famous in the outlaw history of Indian Territory, made their headquarters. It is supposed that this is another murder to be added to the list charged to this gang before it was wiped out by Bud Ledbetter and other deputy marshals.

The Concharta mountains take their name from the word meaning in Creek yellow land. It is an exceedingly rough and inaccessible section that was a favorite resort for outlaws that worked between Fort Smith on the southeast and the Santa Fe railroad on the west in the early days, robbing trains and banks, stealing horses and defying the authority of the federal marshals, then the only law-enforcing authority in the territory.

KILLS TIMBER WOLF.

An Oklahoma Farmer Puts Abernathy's Stunts on the Bum.

Vian, Okla., Sept. 10.—Richard Carter, a farmer who lives three miles from this place can give United States Marshal Abernathy cards and spades on the wolf catching business, real wolves, not the prairie coyote variety, and he does not want a federal job as reward for his prowess. In fact, Carter takes wolf catching as a sort of an every day affair and scarcely worth mentioning.

The other day his dogs bayed something in a sort of cave and went in after the varmint. The dogs were literally being cut to pieces when Carter went in to take a hand in the fight and save his dogs. When he got into the cave he found his dogs were after a big female timber wolf fighting with the desperation of a mother protecting her young. He had nothing but a pocket knife but he waded in just the same. He tried to stick his knife in a vital spot, but the wolf grabbed his arm and almost bit through and hung on. Quickly shifting his knife to his left hand, he drove it into the wolf's heart. After he had brought the wolf out, he went back and one at a time, brought out six half grown whelps which he gave to his friends. They were of the gray timber wolf variety noted for their fierceness.

Prairie Oil Pipe Line.

Bartlesville, Okla., Sept. 10.—No Italians, Mexicans or laborers of that class need apply to the Prairie Oil and Gas Company for work on the new pipe lines which are now under construction. This is the announcement made by E. A. McPherson, superintendent of pipe line construction for the company, who is here to take charge of the work of laying the new lines.

Mr. McPherson says the company wants only white men on the work because they work better and because there are enough of them now idle in the country to do the work. The company began a campaign for more men by advertising and printing bills for the smaller towns in this section of the country.
