General Information for the Public

Admission to the grounds between the hours of 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. will be 50 cents. There are two entrances for pedestrians, one at the railroad station, north end grounds, and one at the street car station, south end of grounds. There is a vehicle entrance half way between these two gates. No admission will be charged at the gates after 6 p. m. Admission to the exhibit buildings during the day will be free. All buildings will be open at night and the entire grounds will be brilliantly illuminated.

Vestibuled Frisco shuttle trains will leave the Frisco depot, downtown, on the even hour, beginning at 9 o'clock a. m. Last train at 11 p. m. Trains leave the grounds every hour, beginning at 9:15 a. m. Last train leaves grounds at 11:15 p. m. Tulsa Street Railway cars will run direct to the exposition gate from the corner of Third and Main streets. Cars leave, going east, every five minutes. Fare on the street railway and the Frisco shuttle trains will be 5 cents each way. Railroad tickets should be purchased at the special ticket stations at the depots before boarding the train.

Season tickets, good for admission to the exposition grounds every day of the exposition can be purchased for $2.00 each. Fireworks will occur each night at 8:30 o'clock. The immense gas torch in the main plaza will burn each night, starting at 9 o'clock. A monster ocean searchlight on top of the Hotel Tulsa will assist in the illumination of the grounds at night.

Thirty seven members of the exposition police force under Chief Reynolds will be on constant duty. Police headquarters on the grounds are at the main gate, north end of grounds. Western Union and Postal telegraph wires can be found at press headquarters, directly adjoining the convention hall, south end of grounds, and near the United States army camp.

CHAIRMAN HUNT IS PROUD OF TULSANS

IN OPENING SPEECH YESTERDAY HE PAID A TRIBUTE TO HIS CO-WORKERS.

WELCOME THE VISITORS

Tired But Happy—Appreciated Assistance of the Press and Other Active Individuals.

Chairman O. D. Hunt, of the Tulsa Board of Control, made the opening address at Monday morning's farm Congress exercises. He welcomed the crowd and paid a glowing tribute to the loyal support of his associates, who have done so much to assist in making a successful exposition. Mr. Hunt said in part:

"Life is a series of mental pictures that pass and repass before the mind in rythmic review. While I stand before you today mentally and physically worn with the arduous labors which have demanded every moment of my atention during the past several months, yet I can truly say that I have in my heart no feeling other than that of extreme satisfaction and joy to have the privilege to invite you here to witness this exposition, which we have reared from the barren ground less than four months ago. These buildings which you now see about you existed only in the minds of the men who had charge of the work. The task of materializing the vision has been no small affair I assure you, but with the support given me by my associates we have been successful in overcoming one by one the various obstacles that have arisen to challenge our progress until today we are enabled to turn over to the Chairman of the Board of International Governors the finished product of our labors.

"Noble men stayed loyally by me as their chairman through this whole labor and perhaps no other man has done so much for the success of this undertaking as the Honorable Cyrus A. Avery, who, as chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of this county, has done more toward the making of the buildings and grounds of this exposition possibly than any other man in Tulsa.

"Again I am happy because Mr. Lorton of the Tulsa World and Mr. Stryker of the Tulsa Democrat have given us the hearty and cordial support of the Tulsa press as well as their personal labors. These men in company with Mr. Charles A. Sanderson, Secretary of the Tulsa Commercial Club and Mr. L. K. Cone, have made up the Local Board, which has done so much in the perfecting of our plans."

"I am also happy because the Governor of Oklahoma, the Honorable Lee Cruce, has given his full and hearty co-operation to this movement whenever called upon to do so. And still again I am very happy because there are so many exhibitors who have come here and spent their time and money in noble and generous self sacrifice to put up the beautiful exhibits which we have at this exposition. With them it has been a labor of love for the cause and on the day when the Master metes out his rewards they will surely receive theirs.

"I said in the beginning that I was not only tired but happy and I am happy, because, in spite of the difficulties that have vexed us, we are presenting what we hope will prove to be the best exposition in the history of the Congress. I am happy indeed to have had the opportunity of working hand in hand with the noble minded men who are the leaders in this movement for the betterment of farming; men who, when they have realized that the great resources of our food supplies are being wasted and that many hundreds of human beings are going to bed hungry every night that something must be done to stem the tide of waste and impending disaster."

"And now I wish to say that I am happy and my joy is complete because we have in our own hearts the knowledge that we have done our best without malice or prejudice and have given our best efforts to this cause and whatever mistakes we may have made were of the head and not of the heart.

"On behalf of the Local Board, ladies and gentlemen, of our own nations, of Canada, and from the lands across the seas, we wish you welcome and trust you will find the same joy in your brief sojourn with us as we have found in preparing for your very welcome visit."

The Carnegie Hero Fund commission has refused to award a medal to five-year-old Fredie Smith of Columbus, Ohio, who leaped int othe water and saved a little girl from drowning. Its reason is that he had not reached "the age of discretion." Thus we get new light on the old proverb that "discretion is the beter part of valor."

A HEAVY BURDEN

A Bad Back Makes Life Miserable For Many Tulsa People.

A bad back is a heavy burden.

A burden at night when bedtime comes.

Just as bothersome in the morning. Ever try Doan's Kidney Pills for it? Know they are for kidney backache—and for other kidney ills?

If you don't, some Tulsa people do. Read a case of it:

Mrs. N. C. Woods, 823 S. Lansing Ave., Tulsa, Okla., says: "I had been bothered for six or eight months by a constant, dull, heavy ache in the small of my back. I felt tired all the time, lacked ambition and felt worse in the morning. Having reason to believe that my kidneys were disordered, I decided to take Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved to be the remedy my case required and after I used them, the backache and other trouble left."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

RAISING STOCK ON THE GREAT PLAINS

SUCCESSFUL FARMER WILL BRING LIVE STOCK TO FEED INSTEAD OF OPPOSITE.

ADDRESS BY PROF. BAINER

Three or Four Good Cows, Properly Managed, Will Supply Food and Clothes to Family.

Notwithstanding that the small farm is taking the place of the large ranch, H. M. Bainer, of Amarillo, Texas, in an address before the International Dry Farming Congress last night predicted that the "Great Plains" area known in its original state as the "cattle country of the United States," will soon be producing and supporting more live stock than ever before. With diversified farming, he declared the same area will support several times the present numbers of all classes of animals.

"The bulk of the crops of the Great Plains area are feed crops and to get the greatest cash income from the crops they must be marketed on the hoof," he asserted. "By combining good tillage with live stock farming good feed crops can be produced every year in the plains country. The successful farmer will bring the livestock to the feed instead of shipping the feed to the stock."

The beef animal, dairy cow, hog and hen are the factors, he pointed out, through which forage crops must be changed into more marketable products and urged the small farmer, especially, to pay more attention to the dairy cow.

"Without question," Mr. Bainer declared, "the dairy cow is the best animal for the dry-land farmer. Three or four good cows, properly handled, will supply the average family with groceries and clothing. The dairy does not need be run at the expense of wheat and cotton grown on many dry-land farms but in connection with them. Enough cows should be kept to balance the farm, consume all grass and forage and keep up soil fertility.

Poultry he described as a necessary adjunct to the dairy.

Wanted—Will pay 5c per pound for clean cotton rags at World office.

WANTS 10,000 FOR HUSBANDS AFFECTIONS

MRS. EMMA BLAIR FILED SUIT AGAINST HUSBANDS ALLEGED "PARAMOUR."

That the "persistent and unholy motives" of Ella Smith caused Thomas Blair to completely abandon his wife, is the charge made by Mrs. Emma Blair, yesterday in a suit asking $10,000 of Etta Smith for the alienation of Mrs. Blair's husbands affection. The suit was filed in the district court.

Mrs. Blair alleges that until the Smith woman met her husband that their domestic life was happy but that after the meeting, the Smith woman began to exercise an influence over her husband that made him completely forget his wife.

Thomas Blair, was a candidate for the democratic nomination for sheriff in 1912, but was defeated. He and the other parties all live at Broken Arrow. The family troubles of the Blairs have been almost constantly in court, Mrs. Blair once having her husband and another woman arrested and charged with adultery.

SELLS APRROVES OF THE OSAGE LEASE

PRAIRIE'S LEASE ON DISPUTED 400 ACRES APPROVED BY COMMISSION.

GETTY'S PROTEST OVERRULED

Means That Much Drilling Will Be Started Near Cleveland in the Next Ninety Days.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Commissioner Sells, of the Indian bureau today approved an oil lease entered into by the Osage Indians and the Prairie Oil and Gas company, covering 400 acres of Osage land near Cleveland, Okla.

The terms of the lease provide that the company shall pay a royalty of one-sixth of all the oil produced and a cash bonus of $225,000, and start nine wells within ninety days.

This amounts to nearly $105,000 more than was offered by all the other bidders and is the largest ever obtained for an Osage oil lease.

The lease is the one which was protested by George F. Getty, who bid $1,300 for a 40-acre tract in the southeast corner of section 36-22-7, and who claimed that as his bid was the highest, he should get the lease. The Prairie Oil & Gas Co., however, bid $225,000 for 400 acres in the same section, which enclosed the 40 acres bid on by Mr. Getty. Inasmuch as the Prairie's bid was $150,000 higher than all the other bids in the aggregate on those particular tracts, the department approved the Prairie's bid. Mr. Getty appealed to Commissioner Sells, but his appeal was unavailing, although he was given a hearing.
