CLEARING HOUSE MANAGER RESIGNS

W. A. Brownlee Resigns; Place to Be Filled By Roscoe Adams.

After four years as manager of the Tulsa clearing house, during which time it has made the most rapid growth of any such organization in the country, W. A. Brownlee has resigned, and his place will be filled by Roscoe Adams, assistant cashier of the First State bank.

Mr. Brownlee, the retiring manager, was elected chief executive of the association in July, 1912. At that time the average weekly clearings were approximately $600,000. At the present time the average clearings are approximate $3,700,000, or a gain of $3,100,000. It is doubtful if any other in the United States can lay claim to such a record, and the wonderful increases shown have been the subject of much interest throughout the financial world.

Great Strides.

In speaking of the publicity which Tulsa had gained through her bank clearing statements Mr. Brownlee said yesterday that on several occasions he had received communications from Bradstreets of New York and from other financial journals asking for confirmation of reports which to them seemed erroneous because of the great difference in gain of one report over that of the preceding week or month. In each instance Mr. Brownlee has been able to report that notwithstanding the apparent inflation of the figures, they represented the clearings of the local association and not the total amount of business which had been passed through the clearing house.

At the time Mr. Brownlee took charge of the clearing house the total deposits, as shown by the first call after he assumed the management, were $4,002,887.36. In response to the last calls the banks of Tulsa showed a total deposit of $26,110,826.47, or an increase of $22,017,939.11.

Mr. Adams, who will assume his new duties beginning July 1, is one of the most prominent bank officials in this city, and he announced yesterday that his sole desire as manager of the Tulsa clearing house was to perpetuate the high record and standard reached by the untiring efforts of Mr. Brownlee, whom he succeeds due to his resignation on account of important business matters.

FRISCO TO SPEND $500,000 IN TULSA

side track will be boarded on each side, the space between the tracks being filled with the gravel, which will enable teams to turn around on the tracks. No storage cars will be allowed on this track. Another proposition was submitted, that of extending this platform down to the auto mobile platform. This will be done as soon as permission is obtained from the city commission.

Half Million Improvements.

These improvements have not been announced or authorized, but it is understood that they are considered in a favorable light. If consummated, the depot additions will bring the Frisco's improvement bill in Tulsa and West Tulsa up to easily a half million dollars.

The facilities of both freight and passenger departments are entirely inadequate at present, and the Frisco is following its avowed intention of getting ahead of Tulsa's growth, instead of trailing it as in the past. The extensions would provide for a city much larger than Tulsa is now.

Officials in Special Train.

The officials arrived in Tulsa yesterday on a special train made up of several private cars. In the party was T. H. Coppage, superintendent of transportation, who will succeed J. A. Frates as general superintendent July 1. Mr. Frates has retired from the Frisco system, and it is rumored that he will move to Tulsa in order to look after oil interests and his duties in the Sapulpa & Oil Field railway, of which he is president.

Others of the party were J. C. Taylor, district engineer at Springfield; J. M. Chandler, superintendent at Sapulpa; J. H. Doggrell, assistant superintendent of transportation, who will step into the vacancy left by Mr. Coppage July 1; N. M. Rice, chief purchasing officer at St. Louis; C. J. Price, general storekeeper at Springfield; J. M. Johnson, fuel agent at St. Louis and F. P. Sparrs, chief engineer at Springfield. W. A. Moore, general agent at this point, was in the conference yesterday.

MUSELLER STRONG MAN FOR CONGRESS

Pawhuska Attorney in Race to Win; Is a Great Stump Speaker.

A. R. Mueller, Republican candidate for the nomination for congress from First district, was born in Clayton, Adams county, Ill., in 1857. His father was a blacksmith and gunsmith of Dutch descent and a subject of the king of Hanover until he became a naturalized citizen of this country. His mother was of Scotch-Irish descent. When six years old his father died.

For three years he lived with a Dutch uncle in Peoria and attended German school. When 9 years of age he was sent to live with an uncle in Vermilion county, Illinois, with whom he lived on the farm until he was 16, making a hand during the spring, summer and fall, and attending four months of school during the winter.

When 16 he took all the money he had earned in various ways, some $72, and attended a business school, completing the full course in four and one-half months. For several years thereafter he taught school in the country during the winter and worked in the harvest field during the summer and dug potatoes and husked corn in the early fall, just like all other poor boys had to do if they got along. He has worked on the public highways for 75 cents per day, bound his wheat in the harvest field for $1.25 per day, and husked corn and cribbed corn for 2 and 2½ cents per bushel. He studied whenever he could get the books.

He was married to Ida E. Thomas of New Holland, Ill., in 1880, and they have two daughters and one son, all grown. He read law and was admitted to the bar in the state of Illinois in 1886, and immediately located at Wichita, Kan., where he entered into active practice, and was judge of the city court of that city for four years. In 1892, having lost all he had and could borrow in the collapsed boom preceding, he made the run into the Cherokee strip and located on a lot in Perry. He was elected probate judge of Noble county, Oklahoma, in 1894, and county attorney of the same county in 1898, and in 1902 he was appointed by President Roosevelt register of the United States land office at Alva, Okla., a position he filled for more than four years. He again entered the practice of law and located in Pawhuska, Okla., in 1898, where he now resides. As a stump speaker, he is well known in old Oklahoma, having actively participated in every campaign since 1892.

BIG STORM WREAKS FEARFUL VENGEANCE

Special to The World

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 27.—Two men and five horses were killed and damage done to buildings at Woodward by lightning during a storm that struck with unusual ferocity recently. Dewey Smith, Shreveport, La., and a man named Autry, Blossom, Texas, were killed instantly on the farm of William McDowell. Two of the farmer's horses were killed at the same time. Three horses on the farm of G. N. Wilkie at Moorland were killed, the bridle bits being melted from the mouths of the horses. A big hole was torn in the roof of the Presbyterian church at Woodward.

Property damage to the amount of $10,000 was also done at Hobart when the alfalfa mill was destroyed by wind. The electric light plant was damaged so that it will be several days before the city can be supplied with lights. A portion of the Eugene Field school building was blown away. Many other buildings in the city were more or less damaged by the hard wind.

Officials to Enforce Safety First Ordinances on Independence Day.

Small boys who cannot await the coming of the Fourth of July to put the punk to the roman candles, the skyrockets, giant firecrackers or explode the torpedoes may feel the strong, stern hand of the law descend on their sunburned shoulder and come face to face with its majesty. The merchants of Tulsa who sell firecrackers more than two inches long, or dispose of pistols in which other than that paper caps are to be fired, stand almost certain chances of going to jail.

Back in 1912 the city fathers of Tulsa passed an ordinance which stands on the books of this municipality as the "Safe and Sane Fourth ordinance." Into this law were written sections, clauses, legal phrases and big words which were intended to take all of the first aid and safety kit program out of the Independence day celebration.

Less Than Two Inches.

This law makes it unlawful for anyone to fire, within the city limits of Tulsa, any firecrackers larger than two inches in length, to explode any bean-canes, to touch off any skyrockets or roman candles or to explode any torpedoes larger than one inch. There is a ban also on the use of other than cap pistols for celebrations.

The law goes further and makes it an offense for merchants to sell at retail any pistols other than those firing that paper caps, or any giant firecrackers over two inches in length.

But the city fathers who visited all of this hardship on the young Americans left a loophole by designating as the official fireworks shooter the chief of police or fire department, and it is under their supervision that the big Fourth of July fireworks celebration at Owen park will be held.

WASH HUDSON OUT OF POLITICS NOW

Will Not Be a Candidate for Re-Election to the State Legislature.

Wash Hudson, who represented Tulsa county in the two last sessions of the state legislature, will not be a candidate to succeed himself. He made the announcement to this effect yesterday. It had been known by his close friends that he has been considering this move for several days. In fact, when his name was filed with the state election board, it was over his own protest.

"My heart leaps with joy when I recall the many nice compliments paid me in the last few days," he says in announcing his withdrawal from the race, "and I shall so live that these splendid men will never be disappointed in me. I have carefully thought the matter over and it is impossible for me to change my original intention."

Mr. Hudson's business affairs are such that they will require all of his time from now on, and he declares that he is out of active politics for good.

Mr. Hudson made a capable representative in the legislature and his fight on the floor in behalf of the oil interests of this section will live long in legislative annals.

The Democratic candidates for the nomination since Hudson's withdrawal are Jim Sykes, Frank Z. Curry and Kelly Gibson.

THE DEATH RATE OF VOTERS.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Finds Half Die in Twenty Years.

In a recent conversation "Uncle Joe" Cannon said he had been making an inquiry of the United States census bureau as to how many of the voters who cast their ballots for McKinley and Bryan in 1896 were now living, and stated that only 49 out of every one hundred would vote this year. That means that one-half of the voters pass out every twenty years. This fact is well to keep in mind, because remarks like this are often heard: Remember that 5,000,000 men voted for Bryan and free silver. But ex-Speaker Cannon's quest for facts shows that only three of the 6,000,000 are here to vote at the next presidential election. Indeed, the youths who will cast their first presidential ballot in November will greatly outnumber the combined old soldier vote, hyphen vote and negro vote. The fact that the youth of the nation as a class are ready for preparedness is a significant indication concerning the next presidential election. Our civil war was fought by young men, nearly all of whom were under 25 years of age.—Army and Navy Journal.

Crop Prospects Good.

Special to The World

GUTHRIE, Okla., June 27.—There has fallen during the storms of the past three days over six inches of rain over Logan county, most of which went into the soil. Farmers are elated over crop prospects. The last half of wheat harvest is somewhat delayed. During the storms lightning killed three horses for a farmer near Malhall, a fine Jersey, for Dr. J. W. Duke, state health commissioner, and struck two churches in Guthrie. No lives were lost.

Want Steamer Released.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—State department officials today requested the treasury department to release the steamer Freda, held up at New Orleans with a cargo of hospital supplies for Progreso, which customs officials suspected were destined for the Carranza army. Secretary Lansing investigated the case at the request of Representative Harrison of Mississippi, who had received an appeal from the Freda's owners.
