SHARES UNSETTLED IN AIMLESS SESSION

Stocks Fluctuate During Greater Part of Exchange Period—Bond Market Weak; Polls Bullish.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Stocks fluctuated aimlessly during the greater part of today's quiet and professional session.

Polls resumed their bullish maneuvers in oils, hide and leather preferred shares and some of the food and distilling issues, resulting in gross gains of two to four points, subject to material reductions at the end.

Shipping contributed to the market's weaker side at reaction so one to three points. Coppers, rubbers, sugars and tobaccos also sagging variably, and standard equipments cancelled much or all of their forenoon gains of one to two points.

U. S. Steel was again conspicuous for its persistent pressure, yielding a point to 89, which established the lowest quotation for that issue since the middle of last year. Kindred shares lost one to two points, minimum prices prevailing at the heavy close. Sales amounted to 550,000 shares.

The bond market was weak, numerous speculative railway issues losing one to one and one-half per cent. Liberty bonds were steady and the foreign group featureless. Old U. S. coupon fours declined two and one-fourth per cent on call from last sale.

A fine dramatic moment in the beautiful and artistic musical sketch, "The Singing Teacher," a feature act on the current bill at the Empress by Homer Lind & Co. Mr. Lind was formerly a grand opera star and a few months ago sang the baritone part in a revival of "Pinafore" in New York. Mrs. Lind is an exceptionally talented violinist. She began playing at 10.

IMPROVEMENTS STARTED ON TURNER BUILDING

Following a conference with Fred Turner, owner of the property it occupies, the Wasserman Jewelry company started to remodel its building at Third and Main yesterday, and will put in windows and an entrance on Main street. Mr. Wasserman says that Mr. Turner thinks the litigation covering the ownership of the property may extend over several months and granted permission for the changes to be made.

The property, which has been in litigation for some time, has been sold to the National Bank of Commerce and it is planned to eventually erect a larger building. Fred Turner recently got a decision in his favor in the supreme court, but time was given to perfect a request for a rehearing and even if this is not granted, it is possible the case will go to the United States supreme court.

Mr. Wasserman plans to make the main entrance to his business on Main street. In one corner of the room he will have a well appointed diamond room.

How to Make a Gray Hair Remedy

Mrs. Mackie, the well known New York actress, now a grandmother, and whose hair is still dark, recently made the following statement: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately turned black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following simple remedy that you can make at home.

"Merely get a box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it, if four ounces of distilled or rain water and comb it through the hair. Directions for mixing and use come in each box. One box will last you for months.

"It is safe, it does not rub off, is not sticky or greasy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look many years younger."

WILL THERE BE ANOTHER GREAT WAR?

Evangelist Tindall Studies Prophecies on Future History of World at Convention Hall.

That the Tulsa public is appreciating the lectures by Evangelist Tindall is evidenced by an attendance of about 1,400 people last Sunday night at Convention hall, who heard him speak to the subject, "Will There Be Another World War?"

He introduced his subject by using Isiah, 46:8-10, "Remember the former things of old; for I am God, and there is none else; I am God and there is none like Me declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done." The evangelist said: However optimistic our thoughts and desires may be in regard to the European peace conference, none but God can tell the outcome. Kings and statesmen of past ages have professed and attempted to unroll and dictate the future, but have ended only in utter failure. He cited his audience to the notable example of this policy recorded of King Nebuchadnezzar in Daniel, the second chapter. This king, while thinking upon the future history of the world was given a remarkable dream by God, then had it taken away from him. He called in his scientific and religious educators to bring to his mind and interpret his dream. The command of death upon their failure to do so, brought Daniel, a prophet of God, into contact with the monarch. By his earnest prayer God revealed the dream to his servant. He saw a great image, whose head was of gold, the arms and breast of silver, the sides of brass, the legs of iron, the feet part iron and part clay. Daniel told the king this was the future history of the world, in which four kingdoms corresponding to the four metals of the image, should successively rule the world. Said the prophet plainly, "Thou art this head of gold, and after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee and a third kingdom of brass which shall bear rule over all the earth. And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron."

Attention was called to the iron and clay mixture of the ten toes and the interpretation given that the iron kingdom should be divided into ten parts.

Evangelist Tindall said the bible reveals that the kingdoms of Babylon, Medo Persia, Greece and Rome followed successively and that Rome was divided into ten parts, which are the nations of Europe today.

Nebuchadnezzar, not content to have his golden kingdom pass away, builded an image all of gold and whoso would not worship it and thereby acknowledge his interpretation of the future should be killed. He tried to dictate the future peace of the world by force, but he and his firey furnace failed. Nebuchadnezzar did not learn his lesson until God sent an heavenly watcher to tell him his reason would be taken from his until he should know that the Most High rules in the affairs of men.

The evangelist said scientific Germany has followed in the steps of Babylon in denying the Creator and establishing the world upon the evolutionary theory—the wisdom of men. He read from I. Cor. 1:21 that the wisdom of men is foolishness with God; and that when Germany adopted the law of plant life, "the survival of the fittest," as the law of God, then she stood ready for the catastrophe of 1914-18. She could then carry her theory into practice and crush Belgium and use her captives to feed the lust and passion of her kulture still believing that God was with her, to carry her education and kulture around the world.

He said, that according to the prophecy of the image Germany was doomed to failure in trying to unify Europe, because but four kingdoms were to bear universal rule. Force has failed; Charlemaine tried it, and Napoleon tried it, and both came to their Waterloo. Therefore, when Kaiser William II tried it with greater facilities, he could but come to a greater failure.

Where force has failed, man tried his wisdom at the marriage altar. Said the prophet: "They shall mingle themselves with the seed of men; but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay." Although the royal blood of Europe was intermingled until it was almost one family, it was in no wise a hindrance to the deluge of 1914. The evangelist asked—where force of arms and diplomacy of marriage have failed, will a peace "league of nations succeed?"

That such a league has been foretold by holy writ was plainly shown from Micah, 4:1-3, where it reads that "In the last days" the "nations shall come and say, 'come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and he shall judge among many peoples and rebuke strong nations afar off, and they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.'"

The evangelist said this text, written more than 700 years before the Christian era, is a very strong proof of the inspiration of the scriptures. Never before until this day have the nations set their hands to the task of abolishing war. That the success or failure of the noble aims of the peace congress being "perpetual peace and equality of man, is foretold in scripture and left to God to explain.

He read the prophecy of Christ recorded in Luke, 21:25-27, where he prophesied that before his second coming there should be signs in the sun and moon and stars, then upon the earth distress of nations with perplexity; men's hearts failing them for fear and for looking after those things that are coming on the earth. He said the signs in the heavens are a matter of history and that this hour is the "distress of nations with perplexity." That the problem of the bolshevik and working men and soldier unions, on one hand, and demands of nations on the other will make the peace conference no small matter to decide to the satisfaction of all.

He said before the problems were all settled such a turmoil would arise that according to Isiah, 33:7 will cause the ambassadors of peace to weep bitterly, and to stem the tide of rising discontent among the masses peace makers would turn to religion as their last source of aid. The evangelist then asked, will popular religion solve the problem and hold in check the turbulent stream of humanity? He gave a most solemn warning that popular surface religion that does not regenerate the heart will break and fail in its hour of trial. He spoke to the principle that men cannot be forced into peace and heaven, but must make the free choice and nothing but a change of heart will stand the coming storm.

He said the rise of bolshevism was out the response to the voice of the Prophets Habukuk, 2:7 and Amos, 8:4-8, where we are told the masses shall rise up "suddenly" and sweep forward "as a flood." He stated that organized labor will become the bolshevism of America and in the rising whirlwind, according to James 5, that the rich shall be a prey to the laborer and will reap their harvest of corrupt dealing. He also showed that God would not justify in workingmen any act of violence, but for such, they will answer in the judgment.

Evangelist Tindall showed from Micah, 4:1-3, that the churches would be exalted in the governments and the voice of her spirit would be "I set a queen and am no widow and shall see no sorrow." Rev. 18:7. He showed that this would develop into a surface religion of the masses, with no regeneration of heart, that the rising tide of discontent would overflow, which would plunge the nations of the earth into a mighty struggle, acording to Rev. 16:14-16, this will call down the wrath of God upon men and bring such a time of distress upon all classes that will make Europe's war seem as a child's play.

He read from Thes. 51:3, "And when they shall say peace and safety then sudden destruction cometh upon them." This, said the evangelist, is the collapse of religion and according to Joel, 3:9-12, the nations will beat their plowshares into swords and pruning hooks into spears and shall gather into the valley of decision for the last awful conflict. This, he said, was God's controversy with the nations recorded in Isiah, 13:8, because they have forsaken His laws, taken a form of religion instead of its pure essence of heart regeneration, which only could have averted the awful horror. He said the final settling at the future peace conference of the Turkish empire would bring on circumstances culminating in international war, and that this would be his subject at Convention hall next Monday night, "The Fall of the Turkish Empire, Involving the Nations in International War."—Adv.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Grayhaired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
