

A BRILLIANT FORCED MARCH.—Col Wallace, now commanding the regiment of Zeavers, at Cumberland, sends in his official account of the late dispersion of the rebels at Romney. We find it very interesting reading, and the country has reason to be proud of the pluck and endurance of the Indiana soldiers. They marched over a wild, rough, mountain road, and that too, immediately after several days of sleepless railroad travel. We quote the following portion, first premising that the enemy had a full hour's notice of this intended attack, and that they had routed the rebels out of a house in which they were strongly posted. We quote: "My attention was then turned to the battery on the hill. Instead of following the road, as the rebels expected, I pushed five companies in skirmishing order, and at double quick time up a hill to the right intending to get around the left flank of the enemy and cut off their retreat. Hardly had my companions deployed and started forward and got within rifle range, before the rebels limbered up and got over the bluff in the hottest haste.

"Between their position and that of my men was a deep precipitous gorge, the crossing of which occupied about ten minutes. When the opposite ridge was gained we discovered the rebels, indiscriminately blent with a mass of women and children, lying as for life from the town. Having no horses, pursuit of cannoniers was out of the question, as they went off under whip and spur. After that, I quietly marched into the place and took possession of the empty houses and a legion of negroes, who alone seemed unalarmed at our presence. After searching the town for arms, camp equipage, etc., I returned to Cumberland by the same road, reaching the camp at eleven o'clock at night. My return was forced, owing to the fact that there was not a mile on the road that did not offer half a dozen positions for the ruin or rout of my regiment by a much smaller force.

"My regiment behaved admirably, attacking coolly and in excellent order. When all behaved gallantly, I cannot single out officers for praise. Sufficient to say, they conducted themselves like veterans, and in such a manner as to entitle them to your confidence in any field. I beg to call your attention to the length of our march, eighty-seven miles in all, forty-six of which was on foot, over a continuous succession of mountains, made in twenty-four hours, without rest, and varied by a brisk engagement, made, too, without leaving a man behind; and what is more, my men are ready to repeat it to-morrow."

PAPER GENERALIS—MISTAKES.

If the telegraph reports are correct, the two paper generals, Pierce and Schenk, who commanded the government forces at Great Bethel and Vienna, are censurable in the highest degree. In the first case, Pierce gets as confused as a school boy, allows the men to be so placed as to fire into one another, and then in the face of the foe don't know how to command them. At Vienna, the Ohio troops are rushed right upon the enemy's battery, and the first intimation they receive of their presence, is the shower of death dealing balls, grape and canister crashing into the cars and their ranks. Such soldiers as rally around the government deserve good leaders, and the nation will not endure useless sacrifices of life by the blunders of incompetent men. The country possesses great numbers of experienced officers, who will take care of their men, as well as give account of the rebels. This is a matter in which the country will demand the greatest circumspection. Let no men lead a brigade, regiment, or even company, who is not equal to every emergency that may arise. Nothing demoralizes an army so effectually as lack of confidence in their officers. There are no times to stand on ceremony with men. We cannot acquit the National or State administrations of a partisan bias in their military appointments. The fact that a man has been a leading republican politician is not a proper ground for promotion in the army. It undoubtedly requires a certain degree of strategy and tactics to manage a caucus, or carry on a political campaign, but politics are not regarded as the best school for high scientific pursuits—certainly not for the command of armies.

Swear Him In.

We insist upon it that Horace Greeley shall be compelled to take the oath of allegiance to the United States, or else remove himself and his old white coat and all his personal effects, including his pestiferous newspaper, out of the limits of the country covered by the Star Spangled Banner. As a loyal citizen of the United States, and as a faithful adherent to the glorious stars and stripes, we demand that the government compel Greeley to leave or take the oath of allegiance at once. Our reason for making this demand is because Greeley published the following lawless, dishonest and traitorous assault on our flag in the Tribune in 1854, and to this day he has never retracted it. We say again, let Greeley be sworn in or let him be run out—no other.

From the New York Tribune, 1854.

Call to the Stars and Stripes.

All hail to the flagging Lie!
The stars grow pale and dim;
The stripes are bloody scars—
A Lie, the yawning hymn,
It shield's a "mirat-dock,"
It binds a man in chains,
It yokes the captive's neck,
And wipes the bloody stains.
Tear down the flagging Lie;
Half-mast the starry flag!
Insect no sunny sky
With hate's polluted rag!
Destroy it ye who can!
It bears a fellow man
To groan with fellow slaves.

FEARFUL TORNADO IN ILLINOIS.—Lives Lost.

On the 19th inst. a terrible tornado swept over Champaign county, Illinois. A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune says: "After the wind had tested the moving capability of everything portable, then came a shower of hail, which converted our immense crops of ripening wheat and waving corn into a barren waste. There are many farms in the vicinity of Champaign City upon which there is not a green leaf or a blade of grass left. Wheat, oats, barley and rye are entirely ruined. I visited many fields to-day, and found the small grain mown to the ground as with a scythe; and the stalks were beaten and shivered, looking as though they had passed through a thrashing machine. Corn which was one and a half feet high, was cut off even with the ground, and the stalk beaten to a jelly an inch below the surface. Up to this date we have heard of five persons who were killed, and quite a number who were more or less seriously wounded."

ABOLITION SPECTACLES.

It is all very well for the leading journals in the North to deny that they would in any way countenance an invasion of the Southern States for the purpose of interfering with their institutions, but if the following, from the correspondence of the New York Tribune, does not smack somewhat of abolitionism, we are unable to comprehend what abolitionism means.—He uses the following language: (as we find it quoted approvingly by many of the parasites to the Tribune)

"The sight of the army crossing the Potomac was very grand and impressive, as well for the scene itself—in the midst of the most lovely landscape, glowing with the richest verdure, under a clear sky and bright summer sun—as for the clear occasion so remarkable and memorable in its character. Was it not the Army of Freedom entering into the land of Bondage, to proclaim Liberty for all men? I trust so; for, if not, it was only an idle and worthless pageant, and will be a burning shame on the Free North. Yes, freedom for the divine Humanity! If this war were for anything short of realizing a perfect equality of right for every human being, it would be the most foolish crusade, or the direst butchery, that this earth ever stained withal. On the triumph of Freedom over Slavery rest the honor and the fate of this nation. We achieved national liberty through the revolution; we must now achieve individual liberty for all men in the nation, to make us a people the worthy standard-bearer of the body cause, which we claim to have espoused for all the world!

"We have been shown a document signed by the Mayors in office of the cities of the United States and Canada, certifying to the superior excellence of Dr. Ayer's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla and to the value of all its remedies as articles of great public utility. Such evidence from such sources bears us out triumphantly in the position we have long maintained with regard to Dr. Ayer's preparations, or more particularly our advertisements of them. No publications need be more opposed than we are to the promulgation of quackery in any shape, but we knew when we began that his remedies were above any suspicion of deception—that they were about the best it is possible to produce for the cure of disease, and that they have the confidence of all communities where they are known. Not a false because the Mayors of the whole country consider them useful to their people, but because we know from experience that they are so to ours, do we believe we are rendering a substantial service to our readers in making their virtues known to them.—[Courier, Princeton, Ky.]

PIMPLES AND SKIN DISEASES.

At the result of impure blood. The blood becomes thick and clogged. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men and women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practiced by persons desirous of health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions, should never dry them up by external applications, for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life-time. There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with loathsome diseases.

JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS

are prepared expressly for the cure of eruptions of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches, Sores, &c. They cleanse the blood of all impurities, producing a beautiful, clear and healthy skin, so much admired by taste and refinement.

A NEW DEMOCRATIC MORNING PAPER.

"THE UNION."

With a view to meet a universally admitted want, the undersigned will issue on Monday, the 1st of July next, a Morning Penny Paper, to be called "THE UNION."

The great mission of the Democratic Party, which has ever stood as the bulwark of the Union and the Champion of every right, renders its entire unity and bold attitude in this hour of National peril a matter of vital concern. The pending struggle is not less for the perpetuation of a United Country than for the perpetuation of Democratic Principles, as expounded by Jefferson and Jackson. The party questions are for the issue, and must be promptly and resolutely adjusted. The past is dead, save in its lessons of experience.

The Democratic hosts have not shrunk from their full share in the responsibility and dangers of the emergency. They have rallied with one accord around the standard of our common country. But the occasion imposes other duties. The Government will demand and receive the willing support of every patriot, in its efforts to vindicate the National honor and to reassert the National authority; and the preservation of Constitutional Liberty rests more with the people than with Congress and Cabinets. Vigilance and Unity are the force especially requisite in the present juncture.

It is the purpose of the Proprietors to make "THE UNION" a first-class journal, and the Democracy of the whole State for the good of a bold and vigorous Allegiance daily; and of effort will be spared to make "THE UNION" both popular and efficient as a newspaper, and as a fair exponent of the great principles for which the Democratic party has ever contended, and which are now so unhappily imperiled.

The Proprietors have protected such arrangements as will place the entire paper, from the first issue, upon a substantial business basis, with the best ability to make a newspaper second in interest and ability to no other paper published in the State. The paper will be read by Democrats, and will redoubtfully avoid a faction, as the deadliest bane to party efficiency.

We look to the Democratic masses for support, and shall labor to make "THE UNION" in every way worthy their confidence and liberal patronage, as a fresh, readable and fearless journal.

TERMS.—Per Annum, Three Dollars. Orders should be addressed to
