District 2. All territory south of the center of Third street and east of Main street. Bills rendered on the 8th of the month and payable before the 18th.

District 3. All territory north of the center of Third street and east of Main street. Bills rendered on the 15th of the month and payable not later than the 27th.

A penalty of 10 per cent is assessed if bills are not paid within the time limit.

Provisions were also made for collecting from the consumer of a charge for the installation of meters of a size over three fourths of an inch. The ordinance also regulates the number of taps to be made on a main, which it is believed will more equally distribute the pressure.

RETAIN TREATY WITH LEAGUE

thoritative statement was made there is reason to believe that the territorial question of the league of nations figured in the deliberations. No final decisions were reached but the general trend of the discussion was favorable and tended to dissipate any apparent divergence in viewpoint.

That general satisfaction was felt was indicated by the statement made at the close of the conference that the treaty doubtless would be ready to present to the Germans within a fortnight.

Would Control Rhine Navigation.

PARIS, March 18.—The future navigation of the Rhine will be controlled by an allied commission, the peace conference commission on the international regime of ports, railways and waterways decided today. The commission will replace the German-Holland commission of before the war.

The fortifications on the island of Heligoland, Germany's formidable base in the North sea, must be dismantled. This decision was reached today by the supreme allied war council.

It was decided also that the Kiel canal should be internationalized and made accessible to the ships of all nations on equal terms.

Tolls will be collected to pay for the maintenance of the canal. Germany probably will retain sovereignty of the waterway.

The council has under consideration the investigation of maintaining Heligoland as a port of refuge for peaceful craft.

Disposition of Germany's warships is not likely to be included in the treaty of peace, according to the view of the American peace delegation. Germany, however, will be required to surrender bills to the ships. The ultimate ownership will be determined later.

GAS REBATES AWAIT DEMAND OF PATRONS

Corporation Commission Holds Local Company Must Refund Tulsa Users for Deficient Service.

PRESSURE LOW TWO MONTHS

December 1917, Bills Subject to 12 Per Cent, and January, 1918, Bills 5½ Discount.

An order compelling the Oklahoma Natural Gas company to discount all bills 12 per cent for gas furnished to domestic consumers in this city during the month of December, 1917, and 5½ per cent on all bills for domestic gas sold during the month of January, 1918, the discounts to apply to the net accounts or to amounts actually paid to the gas company, has been received in this city by J. H. Wilkins, United States commissioner, who as a private citizen carried the matter of the complaint of citizens of Tulsa against the quality and quantity of gas furnished during the winter of 1917-1918 before the corporation commission of Oklahoma. This order was made by the commission on February 28, 1919.

Commenting on the order, Commissioner Wilkins said: "I would suggest, in the light of the orders which I have received that every patron of the gas company during the months of December, 1917, and January, 1918, make demands upon the gas company for a return of the discount allowed by the state corporation commission. If the rebate is refused, then the patrons should take the matter to the commission by letter.

This city lost its contention that the gas company had failed to keep its agreement to construct a belt gas line around the city, because of the fact that, since no hearing was ever held in this city, no evidence was placed before the commission that this condition exists.

Following is an extract from the finding of facts on the gas situation in Tulsa at the beginning of last year, and the order issued by the commission:

A complaint was filed with the commission on February 4, 1918, by J. H. Wilkins and six others of Tulsa, alleging that the Oklahoma Natural Gas company had violated commissioners' order No. 1028 in that the supply of gas furnished to the citizens of Tulsa was entirely inadequate at times during the months of December, 1917, and January, 1918.

The complaint further alleges that the defendant company had violated the commission's order No. 1255, issued March 1, 1917, in that it had failed to construct a belt pipe line around the gas distributing plants in the city of Tulsa, which was to have been completed under the provisions of this order, within six months from March 31, 1917.

The matter came on for hearing before the commission on February 21, 1918, with none of the complainants present.

The testimony of R. H. Bartlett, vice president and treasurer of the defendant company, indicated that the defendant had complied with the commission's order No. 1255, relative to the construction of a belt pipe line around the city distributing system and maps showing the various lines constructed were submitted in evidence. In view of this undisputed evidence, the commission is compelled to dismiss further consideration of the complaint relative to the violation of the above mentioned order No. 1255.

In reference to the complaint for violation of the order No. 1038, the defendant company filed a record of the hourly pressure maintained from December 3, 1917, to February 3, 1918, inclusive. This exhibit shows that during the month of December, 1917, there were 28 hours of three-ounce pressure, 93 hours of two-ounce pressure, and 49 hours o one-ounce pressure. For the month of January there were 35 hours of three-ounce pressure, 33 hours of two-ounce pressure and 19 hours of one-ounce pressure.

This record of pressure was taken at the company's office in the business section of the city, and in the absence of information reflecting true conditions in any other section of the city, other than the sworn complaint which specifically states that gas was entirely inadequate for domestic purposes, it must be accepted as applying to the city as a whole.

Applying the rule adopted by the commission that four ounces constitute the minimum pressure for reasonable service, three ounces 75 per cent service, two ounces 50 per cent service, and one ounce 25 per cent service, with less than one ounce being considered as of no value to the consumer, it is found that during the month of December there was a loss of 12 per cent of service, and during January a loss of 5½ per cent in service.

Wherefore, the premises considered, and the commission being advised, it is therefore ordered that the Oklahoma Natural Gas company shall discount all bills 12 per cent for gas furnished to domestic consumers during December, 1917, and 5½ per cent for gas furnished during January, 1918.

Wilkins stated Tuesday that since the commission had not seen fit to hold its hearing of these questions in this city, but compelled witnesses to go to Oklahoma City if the people were to be represented, this fact led to the failure of any testimony being presented to the commission except that given by representatives of the gas company.

DIVORCE AND MAIDEN NAME FOR MRS. IVA TOMLINSON

Decree of divorce on journal entry was filed in district court Tuesday granting to Iva Tomlinson legal separation from W. T. Tomlinson. The court held as true the plaintiff's allegations of gross neglect on the part of the husband. Mrs. Tomlinson was given possession of all household goods in the home formerly occupied by the plaintiff and defendant, and was restored her maiden name, Iva Stewart.
