ART MAGIRL ARRIVES IN TULSA TO BATTLE KID GEORGE NEXT MONDAY

MIDDLES APPEAR IN ALL-STAR GO

Les Darcy Refused to Box Magirl Shortly Before His Death.

BANTAMS TAKE HARD WORK

Puryear and Loadman Go Through Paces Before Big Crowds.

By LARRY DAILEY.

With seven victories in as many starts since the signing of the armistice, Art Magirl, sensational Bartlesville middleweight, who meets Kid George in the second half of the all-star card of the Tulsa Sporting club next Monday night, arrived in Tulsa yesterday and looks to be in fine condition. Magirl boxed a 10-round exhibition with Tommy Daly at Arkansas City Tuesday night.

Magirl looks to be in as good condition as in 1916, the year he established a great record in the ring, winding up in Australia where he boxed 158 pounders. Following that successful campaign, Magirl grew careless in his training and difficulties with his manager impeded his career for a time.

Magirl is conceded to be one of the greatest natural fighters in the game. A terrific hitter with either duke, a clever boxer and skillful ring general, he has come to be feared by all leading pugs in his division.

Triumphs in Australia.

In 1915 and the early part of 1916, Magirl established a remarkable record in the ring, winning from many men rated as the best welters and middles in the game. So pronounced was his success that in the spring of 1916 he was offered a contract to appear five times in Australia, splendid handsome sums being offered for his services. Magirl sailed for the Antipodes June 13, 1916, and returned to the states December 26, 1916. His campaign in Australia was a complete triumph. Not only did he defeat two of the best boxers in the game there but his spectacular, tearing-in style resulted in his receiving more press notice than any American boxer. He was called the American Cyclone and his work in those five scraps justified that moniker.

Magirl fought Dave Smith, who later became heavyweight champion of Australia, two bouts, wining both in 10 and 12 rounds. He then beat Fred Kay in a slashing 20-round scrap. Two days after meeting Kay Magirl lost a questionable decision to George Chip. His last bout, Magirl lost on a foul in 10 rounds to Fred Kay.

Cherishes Darcy Articles.

One of Magirl's most cherished possessions is the signed articles for a match with Les Darcy. It was while in Australia, when boxing followers were roused to great enthusiasm over the United States scrapper, that he and Darcy were matched. The bout was set for November 15, but Darcy refused to stay and meet Magirl, sailing for the states October 18.

Magirl's success in the ring during the past half year refutes the statement that they never come back—for the Oklahoma Terror is fighting and winning his way to the top the same as a few years ago.

Kid George, middleweight, who meets Magirl, acknowledges that Art is a tough bird but he believes he can beat the Oklahoman. "They call him the Terrible Oklahoman, or something like that, but I've met Les Darcy, the Awful Australian, and others about as good. I've managed to hold my own and expect to Monday night," said George.

Bantams Preparing.

Earl Puryear and Dick Loadman, bantamweights, who headline the card in a 15-round bout to a decision, worked hard yesterday. Puryear was on the road early in the morning and in the afternoon worked before a capacity house at the Brady hotel. Puryear put in several rounds shadow boxing, rope skipping and bag punching, winding up with six rounds of boxing. Puryear practically down to weight now says he can do better than the stated 120 pounds, 'give or take Loadman followed the Tulsa boy. The Lockport boy also got down to hard work. That he appreciates the fact that Puryear is a hard boy to beat is indicated by his workouts. In addition to road and gymnasium work, Loadman put in eight rounds working with sparring partners. These latter fellows, by the way, are hard to find, as they care little for the Loadman punches, even with the big gloves.

George and Puryear are to work at the Brady this afternoon at 3 o'clock to be followed at 4 by Loadman and Magirl. The public is invited to the work outs.

K. O. BROWN TO BATTLE M'KEE AT FORT SMITH

K. O. Brown, recently returned from service with the A. E. F., and Matt McKee, crack little Oklahoma City bantam, are to meet at Fort Smith tonight in a 15-round engagement.

Brown is a fast and hard hitting little scrapper and possesses the potential ability which needs only to be developed. He engaged in the inter-American-British bouts, held in London during the winter. Brown won all three bouts in which he appeared. In addition to winning those scraps and doing his share in beating the Huns, Brown was personally complimented and awarded a medal by the prince of Wales. Mike O'Dowd was the only other American to receive that honor.

Daily Dope By Larry Daley

Reports from boxing critics who have seen K. O. Brown, 116-pound boy in action since his return from service with the A. E. F. in France, indicate that the little fellow is a real scrapper—with championship possibilities. But Brown receives more recognition for the services which he rendered in aiding to defeat the Hun. He was decorated by the Prince of Wales for his work in the American-British boxing tournament, but Brown is more proud of the gold stripe he wears than the medals awarded him by a future king.

One can't help watching the workouts of Dick Loadman and Earl Puryear, bantams who meet here next Monday night in the main attraction of Jawn Reisler's all-star card, without feeling it would be a great schap—one well worth attending. Both boys are undoubtedly seriously impressed with the prospects of a desperate scrap and each is going about his training with determination far different than that which has characterized other boxers in their training here during the past.

Meeting Art Magirl yesterday for the first time in 4 years recalls that memorable scrap of those two great Sooner warriors, Kid Ferns and Magirl, held at Dewey, July 4, 1914. Magirl and Ferns were among the foremost welterweights and were recognized as being two of the greatest in the game. For 12 rounds they stood toe-to-toe, taking three blows to get in one. Magirl was given the decision, Ferns suffering two broken ribs while neither boxer was able to walk for several days.

To Resume Claremore Races This Afternoon; Fast Horses Entered

Special to The World.

CLAREMORE, Okla., May 8.—With the sun shining late this afternoon indications are that the annual Claremore seven-day race meet, set back two days by rain, will be resumed this afternoon. The meet started last Saturday and will be concluded next Tuesday providing weather conditions are favorable.

There are over 150 horses here, the majority of which ran at New Orleans and Hot Springs. Included in the entry list are several of the fastest horses on American tracks.

Kuklux, Parrish, Alma Louise, Kristles Kub, Mex, Stickfast, Rob A, Myrtle A, Examiner, Flossie S, Barbara Shilling and Recluse are among the well known runners entered here.

Excellent crowds have witnessed the three days' racing to date and it is pronounced the most successful meet ever held on an Oklahoma track. Judge Nicholson and Starter Stevens are veteran and capable officials and thanks to them the meet is conducted in an entirely satisfactory manner.

Boosters Play here Today.

The initial debut of Jess Haines in a Tulsa uniform was again delayed, wet grounds forcing the postponement of the Tulsa-Des Moines game here yesterday. Provided there is no precipitation today it is probable that the Oilers and Boosters will play. This is the third and last game scheduled with Jack Coffey's club on this trip.

Wet grounds resulted in postponements in other cities around the Western wheel. The St. Joseph-Joplin and Sioux City-Oklahoma City games were set back until later in the season.

It is unfortunate that two games with the Boosters were postponed as it will cost the local club close to $1,000. Messrs. Abbott and Crawford have built a splendid park and are presenting a winning nine and deserve a better break in the luck.

Schedule changes are to be made tomorrow. The northern clubs finish their southern jaunts, each playing three more games in the sunnier side. The final games are: Sioux City at Tulsa, Des Moines at Oklahoma City, St. Joseph at Wichita, Omaha at Joplin.

The southern clubs open the northern home seasons next Wednesday. Tuesday is an off day. Here is the way they open: Tulsa at Omaha, Oklahoma City at St. Joseph, Wichita at Des Moines, Joplin at Sioux City.

Following today's game with Omaha and the three-game series with the Scos, the Oilers leave for Omaha Tuesday via Kansas City and will be gone 14 days, playing every club in the northern half. Manager Abbott is anxious to take the club away in first place and providing the Saints and Sioux City have any luck with Joplin, looks like he will probably accomplish his desire.

CONTRACT FOR HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION APPROVED

The bonds to insure proper construction of the Tulsa-Jenks paved highway, the contract for which was tentatively awarded to the Mathews, Sturdevent, Vanderslice & Cosby company of Springfield, now known as the Big Four Construction company, at the meeting of the county commissioners of Tulsa county last Monday, has been approved and the contract will be formally signed next Monday.

The bond is in the sum of $232,983.15, the amount equal to the contract price for the construction of the five sections of the road between Tulsa and Jenks. The highway will be completed under the contract within seven months after the signing of the contract.

'HI' TRACK TEAM OFF FOR EASTERN GAMES

Coach Clayton and 11 Men Leave for Muskogee to Compete in Track and Field Meet.

Coach G. E. Clayton and his high school track team will leave for Muskogee this morning, where they participate in the first annual eastern scholastic track meet. The eastern association was formed during the winter, taking the place of the Triangular, which was composed of Muskogee, Okmulgee and Tulsa. Those three schools, with McAlester and Claremore, comprise the eastern association.

Expect Championship.

Following the victory of the local scholastics in the Oklahoma A. and M. college meet at Stillwater and their tie with Woodward for the state championship in the University of Oklahoma meet last week, Tulsa is a favorite in the meet at Muskogee.

Tulsa high school followers are sanguine over the prospects of the team winning the state title. Next week Tulsa and Woodward, class A, and Thomas, class B, winners at Norman, meet here to decide the championship. This is the first year Tulsa has won a state interscholastic meet and Coach Clayton and the team are to be complimented for placing the school in the front rank on the track.

TULSA WILL RECEIVE MORE VALUABLE ADVERTISING

Clarence B. Douglas, secretary of the chamber of commerce, is author of a short but very comprehensive and complete story of Tulsa which is destined to appear in the new editions of the Encyclopaedia Americana.

The story is, of course, statistical giving the location facilities, natural resources, wealth, population, etc. of this city, and is one of the finest little bits of advertising that can be obtained.
