Are You Awaiting The Great Crisis?

If So, Do Not Allow the Time to Pass With Nature Unaided.

Women who give nature a helping hand during the period of expectancy find that when the time arrives for baby's coming it is approached and passed with infinitely less pain and danger.

Thousands of women for over half a century have learned that in the time-honored preparation, Mother's Friend, they have a grateful, relaxing, penetrating remedy the use of which makes it possible for them to go through childbirth without the usual nausea, nervousness, bearing-down and stretching pains, and that through its use the hours at the crisis are fewer and of much less pain and danger.

Mother's Friend penetrates the muscles, rendering them pliant and easily governed by the demands of nature. They relax gently and bring happy days and calm, restful nights. As the result the crisis is passed with greater ease and in less time, the breasts are kept in good condition and the skin is made and kept soft and free from blemishes.

Write to the Bradfield Regulator Company, Dept. P, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from your druggist today and thoroughly fortify yourself for the coming event.

Y. W. C. A. Recreational House for Girls of Tulsa to Be Real Beauty Spot

Plans for the Y. W. C. A. recreational camp house are now in the hands of local architects for bids and it is expected that the contract will be let and the erection of the house begun at once.

The camp site consists of 15 acres located on the Oklahoma Union line, eight miles from Tulsa, south of Parthenia Park, 10 of the acres being donated by the traction company, and the other five a gift from Dr. W. M. Wilson. The land is rolling and has attributes of great natural beauty. A brook wends its way through the rocks, a theater formed by nature herself invites outdoor dramas portrayed in the fashion of hillside at one extreme part of the tract gives climbing facilities equal in spots to the Ozark Mountains, and rich black soil near the housesite already has vegetables and roses growing profusely. The whole is fenced in—a country home, a breathing space, a rest cure, for the young women and girls of Tulsa throughout the summer months.

Everything Modern

The house to be built now will contain a very large dining room, screened-in galleries, kitchen, pantries and upstairs bedrooms. At a future period when finances allow, these quarters will be exclusively for diningroom and kitchen purposes, and a club house of living apartments will be built near-by. The diningroom has a wide open fireplace that will burn long sticks of wood from the uncleared grounds about, and that room and the unusually large porches will answer for a living room at present. The house is to have the lower floor built of native stone, the upper story is to be of ship-lath. The whole planned to be rustic and "woodsy." The lay of the building is on the side of a hill which forms a natural basement under the kitchen, with store rooms.

About $5,000 has been given to the Y. W. C. A. committee in charge of this camp and it is being stretched to go as far as possible. The furniture for the house has been given by Tulsa friends, and among the articles is a victrolla and a sewing machine. The latter is expected to be a boon to the visitors, who, while resting from their usual strain of activity and breathing the fresh pure air of the open, can yet put their mornings to good purpose by making a shirtwaist or a fresh supply of underclothes.

Plenty of Flowers.

Not only citizens of the city, but many nurserymen and florists gave great quantities of shrubs, vines, plants of all sorts and garden seed to enhance the beauty and value of the grounds, and every Saturday for the past three months has been spent by the interested girls, who, under the guidance of secretaries of the Y. W. and their friends have gone to the camp to hoe and plant and pull weeds.

Mrs. Dan J. Davisson is chairman of the camp committee which is composed of the following Tulsa women: Mesdames L. S. Randolph, J. W. Sanders, W. E. Brown, D. C. Rose, C. E. Struvielle, N. J. Gubser, A. J. Roth. Misses Eva Horner, Ada Starkweather and Mattie May Purdy.

On the grounds a well of good, clear water has been dug, tennis courts offer opportunity for healthy play and exercise, an athletic field furnishing other facilities for games and drills of the campfire girls, as well as the others.

The Y. W. C. A. summer camp is a beauty spot worth going to by anybody; it is a paradise to the Tulsa young women who are looking forward to spending the hot days of their vacation there, or an occasional week-end, or even just one day. The traction company gives them special rates in going back and forth on the cars, and many are the weary girls who will feel rejuvenated after a visit there for play and rest.

Tulsa-Made Trench Heaters Adapted to Household Uses

"And they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks."—Isaiah, 2-4.

One sign of the coming of the time when nations shall no longer lift up sword against each other and that peace shall be in the land is to be observed in Tulsa where the Mechanical Research laboratories of 112 North Main street, which perfected a trench heater and cooker for use by the American troops, has turned their device into a modern domestic article for use in the home instead of on the battle front.

It was L. M. Bowman of Tulsa who invented the trench heater, built to meet specifications of the government which required that it show no light from above, that it should heat a bucket of water to the boiling point in 20 minutes; that it should withstand rain and wind; that it should be able to stand in four inches of water or mud; that it should be safe and that it should be convertible as cooker or heater. The Tulsa device met all these demands under the most rigid tests made by the government and millions of them would have been used in the trenches had the war not suddenly terminated.

Now that there is no longer need for the trench heater it has been "beaten" into a house hold cookstove, range, heater or furnace attachment and a company is being organized for its manufacture in Tulsa. This burner weighs less than a pound and it will burn either kerosene, gasoline or natural gas, being especially adapted to the burning of kerosene or coal oil. The ordinary burner will operate from 35 to 75 hours on a gallon of oil, depending upon the size of the burner. It is noiseless, odorless, smokeless and carbonless, being cleaner than natural gas. It throws a blue-white flame of great heat intensity. There is no pressure tank necessary and no valve attachments. There is no heat back of the supply head and the burner is perfectly safe and foolproof, its inventor says.

W. A. Smith and L. M. Bowman, who are associated in the operation of the Mechanical Research laboratories, have spent $20,000 in developing the Tulsa oil-gas burner, as the device is called. It is covered by three United States patents and is protected by patents in 18 foreign countries. A company is now being formed to manufacture the heater in Tulsa.

Mr. Bowman is an inventive genius, having designed an electrically propelled submarine, a noiseless shell thrower and a motorless hair-clipper. He was awarded a medal by the government for his invention of war devices and the oil-gas heater was endorsed by the government.

On account of its being adapted for use in rural as well as city homes, and because of its convenience as a substitute for natural gas, coal and other fuel, the oil-gas heater is a device that it is expected will be much in demand, once it is ready for the market.

Ike Wilkinson Found Not Guilty by Washington County Jury After 20 Minutes' Deliberation.

Special to The World.

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., May 11.—Twenty minutes' deliberation by a district court jury was sufficient for bringing in a verdict of acquittal for Policeman Ike Wilkinson of Bartlesville, who had been on trial for three days charged with the murder of Will Paris, 15-year-old foster son of Richard Paris, a deputy sheriff.

Wilkinson, who has been a member of the Bartlesville police force the past year, coming here from Tulsa, where he had been on the police force, had been deputy sheriff and a member of the United States marshal's force, shot and killed Paris on the main street in Bartlesville on the night of November 4, 1918. Paris and a companion were out joyriding in an automobile that night and were coming up Third street at what was said to be an exceedingly fast speed when Wilkinson and another officer stepped into the street waving their flashlights, which warning the boys are claimed to have ignored and some of the testimony offered was to the effect that instead of stopping the Paris lad, who was at the wheel, veered the car and tried to run the officer down, the fender of the machine catching Wilkinson's overcoat and throwing him to the ground. It was then the officer claimed he shot, aiming to cripple the auto. Three shots were fired, one of the bullets striking young Paris in the head. He died the next morning.

Wilkinson did not deny shooting, claiming he did not shoot to kill the boy, but in the excitement he shot wild.

Among the witnesses for the defense who came here to testify in his behalf were several from Tulsa, including Postmaster J. M. Crutchfield, Emmet Smilley, Billie Wilder, banker, ex-Mayor Simmons; also Judge Mellott, United States commissioner of Pawhuska, all giving evidence and testifying to Wilkinson's good reputation.

The state was represented by County Attorney Walter B. Allen, assisted by Boone & Fitzpatrick of Bartlesville. R. B. Boone was formerly district judge of the Washington-Osage district court. The defense was cared for by Morton Rutherford of Muskogee and Charleton & Farrell of Bartlesville.

SHAFFER INCOME TAX CASE HEARD IN K. C.

Arguments were heard in Kansas City Saturday in the suit of C. B. Shaffer of Chicago, against the state of Oklahoma, to restrain the state auditor and the sheriff of Creek county from collecting an income tax of $76,000 from Shaffer who is resisting the tax on the ground that he is a resident of another state. Decision was reserved.

The hearing was originally set for Tulsa on Friday, but Judge Kimbrough Stone of the United States circuit court of appeals wired to the attorneys in the case asking that they appear before him, Judge Arba S. Van Valkenburgh of Missouri and Judge J. W. Woodrough of Nebraska, in Kansas City. In all matters in which cases affecting the constitutionality of a state law are concerned a judge of the circuit court and two federal district judges must make the decision.

Three runs were made by the local firemen Sunday. Two calls were received within 30 minutes.

The first call was received about 6 o'clock Sunday morning from the corner of Hodge and Yorktown streets. The building which was used by R. J. Doboe as a grocery store was entirely destroyed, resulting in a loss of about $4,000, partially covered by insurance.

The second alarm was received about 6:30 o'clock from 108 East Second street. When the firemen arrived at the scene the building was in flames, but was extinguished before the loss was great.
