BLOOD TESTS SHOW HALF ARE INFECTED

More Than 200 of 480 Patients Reported to Clinic Are Diseased. Reports Last Night Show

Since the vice campaign began Saturday night, 480 men and women have been listed for treatment for the social disease. Of the blood tests taken and just returned last night, 50 per cent of them have proved to be negative in the last analysis. This percentage of persons free from all traces of syphilis speaks unusually well for the general health conditions of the city, doctors say.

Gonnorrhea tests, on the other hand, have shown to be 98 1-2 per cent positive cases. Practically all of those infected patients, however, belong to the prostitute class. Every person examined and there are hundreds now volunteering just to see that they are absolutely free from either disease are dismissed immediately after examination. If infected on parole to report two or three times weekly until the cure is effected.

Capt. J. C. Mahr, physician in charge of the free clinic and head of the statewide vice campaign, with headquarters in Oklahoma City, was in the city last night assisting at the clinic.

"I have divided this work into four classes, first, publicity and education; second, the treatment and cure of the disease; third, the question of repression of vice; and last and the most important, reclamation.

Examine Women Sunday.

An idea of the cooperation accorded us by the people of the city may be gained by the action of the secretary of the Cooks and Waiters union, who advises us that they will cooperate in every way possible and that the union will compel every member to take the examination. No one will be allowed to work while they are in the infected stage. In order that there might be no embarrassment to the many innocent young girls and men affected by this ruling, Dr. Reeder has set aside Sunday for the examination of all cooks, waiters, waitresses and persons who handle foodstuffs. The examination is compulsory under the federal laws.

Miss Alecia Brown, the little lady of the government, appointed to the southern military department, arrived in Tulsa last night and will have charge of the last named work. While here she will endeavor to organize a reclamation department to care for the girls and women after they have gotten rid of the disease which chained them to their past.

SANDS SPRINGS RAILWAY CO. LOSES DAMAGE CASE

Damages of $677.09 were awarded the plaintiff in the suit of J. F. McCoy against the Sand Springs Railway company, tried before a jury in superior court Friday, upon allegations of the plaintiff that he had been permanently injured October 26, 1915, when an automobile in which he was riding was struck by an interurban car operated by agents of the defendant company.

McCoy asked damages of $10,000 in his petition, but the jury, after considering the testimony for almost a nhour, awarded the plaintiff one-twelfth of the damages asked in the petition.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SECRETARIES TO MEET

Clarence B. Douglas, general secretary of the chamber of commerce, and president of the Oklahoma Commercial Executive association, has called a meeting of the latter organization for 1 o'clock p. m Wednesday, May 28, at which at least 40 of the chamber of commerce secretaries representing all the larger cities and towns of the state will be in attendance.

The meeting is called for the purpose of working out a plan of cooperation for the state's development work, that the same degree of team work may be obtained through this organization all over the state as there is through the local organization in Tulsa.

PRESBYTERIANS OPPOSE INTER-CHURCH MOVEMENT

ST. LOUIS, May 16.—The question whether the Presbyterian church in the United States should enter the inter-church world movement which seeks to ally all Protestantism, delayed for several hours today adoption of the new era reports by the 131st general assembly in session here, because the report indorsed the movement.

Paragraphs of the report pertaining to the movement finally were deleted and the report adopted for five years with the understanding that the question would be brought before the assembly later for action.

LIEUT. H. V. ASHLEY, who was in command of the Tulsa ambulance company when it was entertained in Tulsa Tuesday, arrived here Friday from Camp Bowie and was the guest of W. J. Stemmons. Lieutenant Ashley, whose home is near St. Louis, Mo., will spend several days in Tulsa and is considering locating here.

THE COURSE for motorists who want to learn the secrets of their automobiles will begin next week, according to announcement at the meeting of the Auto club Friday. J. I. Sheppard of Fort Scott, Kan., who will conduct the course under the auspices of the Automobile club, spoke at the meeting and said that the course would mean a 50 per cent saving in repair bills.

MALCOLM P. FARMER has returned to Tulsa from active service overseas with the navy. Mr. Farmer made four trips from American ports to the war zone during his period of service and was in European waters when the armistice was signed. Mr. Farmer received his discharge a few days ago, returning to Tulsa, where he will be connected in business with his father, W. C. Farmer.

Hopes to Arouse Interest

It is hoped that sufficient interest will be aroused among the oil companies of the city to form a baseball league. The local Western league club here would not hurt interest in independent ball. On the contrary, professional baseball acts as an incentive toward the playing of sand lot games.

ARGUMENTS TODAY NEGRO MURDER CASE

Testimony Completed Friday in Case of the State Against Robert McIntyre for Homicide.

With the close of the testimony of both the state and defense witnesses, the trial of Robert McIntyre, the negro charged with the murder of Lee Chatman in the servants' quarters in the rear of 1639 South Carson, on the night of September 19, 1917, was adjourned by Judge Redmond S. Cole in district court at 5:30 o'clock Friday evening to be resumed Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, when arguments of counsel for the state and the defense will be heard.

The chief witness for the state, Cleveland Cavitt, testified that he went to the servants' quarters shortly after dark and that in the room at the time was Chatman and two young negro women, Lucile Hooks and Leona Brown. McIntyre, the defendant, came into the room and then left with the two women and the three returned to the house a few minutes later. After a short conversation, in which Cavitt claims McIntyre expressed his disapproval of the alleged fact that Chatman had been in the company of Lucile Hooks, the defendant drew an automatic pistol from his pocket and shot Chatman five times in the body.

The defense claims that there was a quarrel between the men previous to the shooting and that McIntyre fired the shots at Chatman in self defense after Chatman had attempted to shoot the defendant.

The case was called for trial Tuesday, but because of the absence of Lucile Hooks and Leona Brown the case was continued from day to day. The women were located north of Oklahoma City Wednesday by J. F. Burnett, Tulsa county deputy sheriff, who followed them all that day without results. The women were arrested in Oklahoma City Thursday and returned to this city by W. T. Beasley, Tulsa county deputy.

CITIZENSHIP APPLICANTS FACE NEW QUESTION LIST

SOMERSET, Pa., May 16.—Are you a bolshevik? Are you an anarchist? Do you believe in the doctrines of Lenine and Trotzky. Who started the war? Do you read American newspapers? These are some of the new questions applicants for naturalization are obliged to answer in the Somerset court.

SEVEN STREETS IN WEST TULSA CLOSED BY ORDER

The Oklahoma Union Railway company, represented by Knight Douglas, petitioned the city commissioners Friday to have a city ordinance passed allowing the temporary closing of the seven streets ending at the O. U. lines in West Tulsa, now existing as waste land, since they cannot be used for public traffic.

These streets, Frisco, Alabama, Georgia, Bland, Virginia and Clinton avenues, abut upon the interurban's right-of-way, composed of seven tracks and adjacent land. The right to reopen any or all of them should the need arise was given and the penition granted. There are but three streets in West Tulsa, whereby traffic may cross these railway lines.

COUNTY PUPILS MAY CHANGE DISTRICTS

Students Who Wish to Attend Schools Not in Their Area Should Ask County Superintendent.

All applications by school pupils of rural schools in Tulsa county for transfer to schools of other districts than the residence of the pupil, must be made to Mrs. Minette Hedges, superintendent of Tulsa county schools, before June 1, according to information made public Friday.

A state law provides that pupils of any school district, having completed the grade schools, and wishing to enter thehigher grades, may be transferred upon request to the superintendent, to a school of the petitioner's choice. Th transfer also applies to those whose residence in one district is near the school in another district, and to those who have inferior common school facilities and seek to take advantage of facilities offered by schools of other districts. Under the law the tuition of those transferring from one district to another, is paid by the district of the pupil's residence and not by the parents or guardian of the pupil, as formerly.

TEXAS COMPANY FILES SUIT AGAINST THE CITY

Asking a restraining order preventing the city of Tulsa from selling tax bills levied against street improvements made in district No. 185 in this city, and the sale of the bills for the satisfaction of an indebtedness in favor of the plaintiff, suit was filed in superior court Friday by The Texas company against the Hartford Accident and Indemnity company, the city of Tulsa and E. P. Harwell.

The Texas Company claims indebtedness of $5,122.72 on the part of the Eureka Paving company, which was bonded in the sum of $76,000 to insure performance of their contract for certain improvements in the district No. 185. The plaintiff claims the paving company is insolvent and that the city is about to allow the sale of tax bills for the benefit of the paving company as against the prior rights of the Texas Company.
