The Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father, with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works. Matt. 16:27.

See the Judge our nature wearing
Clothed in majesty divine:
You who long for his appearing
Then shall say, This God is mine!
Gracious Savior,
Own me in that day for thine.

What is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul. Matt. 16:26.

Kansas farmers would like for the government to extend its guarantee of price so as to include peaceable and industrious wheat harvesters.

If congress and Tumulty can run this country, says the Toledo Blade, the president and House will look after Europe.

The New York Telegraph predicts, however, that the real democratic floor leader will for the present do most of the leading by cable.

At any rate Mr. Wilson did not announce that he would not undertake to govern Turkey until after Mrs. Wilson had learned that it was proposed in the reconstruction plans for that country to remove the veils from the Turkish ladies.

It only requires for immediate relief for government operation of railroads a little sum like one billion, two hundred million dollars, and Mr. Hines intimates that an additional appropriation will be necessary before the government releases the roads to the private owners. How do you like it?

Scott Ferris is attempting to "beat back." At the beginning of the war he was opposed to increasing the pay of soldiers from $15 to $30. On the first day of the special session of this congress he introduced a bill granting to all members of the military or naval service in the present war six months' pay in addition to all other amounts due them.

COVER THEM OVER.

Few and fleeting are the surviving members of those two once in our armies who fought each other in deadly conflict, but now are united together by the cement of common patriotism and are ready to do faithful fealty to the Stars and Stripes, turn out in droves with strewn of flowers upon the graves of their comrades who gave their lives before to that flag—the stars and stripes and the [illegible]. Those who [illegible] were the fire of this sentimental patriotism but every few years some war comes along to fan the flame of loyalty and renew the force of patriotism in breasts that [illegible] well aigh designed to each with some reminders.

We have in this year of 1919 learned something anew of the cost of a free country. We have seen the shadow of ruin and devastation hover over the eastern portion, but a long way off and dimly, but gradually increasing in menace until the impulses of a free people could no longer be withheld at bay. Called to aid in defending the right we have had a new baptism in patriotism. [illegible] of our boys who have gone to the front to fight the battles of the world. [illegible] the conventions and jobs in the [illegible] and shall return [illegible] of those who have gone to the front. [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and
