DYKES WILL FACE A CHARGE OF MURDER

Alleged Driver of Car of Highwayman Who Shot Fowler Taken to Kansas.

Jack Dykes who was arrested in this town the latter part of the week charged with accompanying Frank Wade in the murder of William Fowler, who was held up by four highwaymen late Wednesday evening nine miles east of Coffeyville and shot, dying seven hours later in the hospital, was taken in by deputies Friday to Sheridan Wyoming. Dykes was arraigned in court here yesterday morning and will be tried on the charge of grand larceny.

Dykes is alleged to have been the driver of the car in which Jack Wade was riding at the time Fowler was held up and killed. He admits he drove the car during the afternoon part of the day but denies he was in the machine at the time of the shooting.

No information has been learned by the police concerning the whereabouts of Wade, who is also wanted in connection with the murder. It is thought by the police that he is still in hiding somewhere in the county of the city, but no trace of him has been found. The police are still searching for him, however, and expect to apprehend him soon.

John Lyons and Buck Buchanan, friends of Fowler, who were arrested by the police Friday charged with assault upon Dykes before he was arrested, pleaded guilty in the municipal court Saturday and were fined $100 and costs. Buchanan is held under $100 bond and Lyons is held as a state witness against the alleged murderers when they are brought to trial.

AIRMEN CROSS WITHOUT STOP

ginning May 16 and ending May 27.

Less successful, but no less daring than the achievement of the Vickers-Vimy pilot and navigator was the recent flight by two other British airmen, Harry G. Hawker and Lieutenant Commander Mackenzie Grieve. On May 19 they covered more than half the distance across the Atlantic before being forced to alight in mid-ocean. For nearly a week they were given up for lost, but finally turned up safe on board a small craft which took them almost to Ireland before the news of their dramatic rescue was relayed ashore by a British destroyer.

The successful flight of the British airplane and the American seaplane were made in pursuance of different phases of experiment in the problems of the air. Elaborate precautions were taken to guide the NC-4 and her companion fliers by destroyers placed at frequent intervals, the aim being not so much to make a record as to establish the practicability of commercial traffic by air under conditions of comparative safety.

The attempt of Hawker and his gallant flight of Captain Kemp and Lieutenant Hourigan were made for a prize of $10,000 offered by the London Daily Mail for the first to make a continuous flight across the Atlantic under conditions prescribed by the Mail. The prize was not won, the nearest approach to success being the flight of the Vickers-Vimy machine, which came within 1,900 miles of the goal before it was forced to alight in mid-ocean.

Hawker and his companion were picked up by a passing steamer and were given every care and attention during the remainder of the voyage to Europe. They were later taken off the steamer by a British destroyer and landed at Lerwick, Scotland, from which place they were brought to London. Hawker was taken to the hospital suffering from exposure and exhaustion, but his condition was not considered critical.

Wire Situation in Oklahoma Serious; No Relief in Sight

With the exception of three points in the Western Union and Postal telegraph companies of Oklahoma City, the wire situation in this state remained practically unchanged last night, according to officials of the companies. While the strike complained and handicapped the service in much the same manner as it has practically throughout the entire period of the strike.

With the strikers due here in their organizing campaign next week, no relief is in sight.

M. Tracey, president of the Commercial Telegraphers Association, was in Tulsa one evening during the progress of organizing the striking members in Tulsa. The enrollment of these members includes all of the commercial telegraphers that have been called out at the present time. H. G. Knapp, president of the Tulsa organization made the statement that the T. C. A. has no intentions of calling out any others of the telegraph organization at the present time. The members called out now are the keymen and the girls on the multiplex machines.

Board of Education, City of Tulsa, County of Tulsa, State of Oklahoma, will receive separate bids for the furnishing of all materials and the performance and completion of all work according to the plans and specifications on file in the office of the Superintendent of Construction and high school building, Fourth and Union, and Sixth and Boston streets respectively as hereinafter designated, with the exception that the exterior of said under shall be changed to conform with the buildings located on the site where said additional buildings are to be constructed.

Said bids to be received until 8 p. m. Tuesday, June 17th, in the office of the Superintendent of Schools, separate proposals as follows: (1) Completion of all work and furnishing of all material except plumbing and heating, (2) same as No. 1 excluding the plumbing and heating except

NORMA TALMADGE SCORES TREMENDOUSLY IN HER NEW PICTURE, "THE PROBATION WIFE"!

Superb Star in Finest Picture She Has Ever Made—Tells Young Married Women and Prospective Brides How to Handle Husbands—Hawaiian Orchestra and Hawaiian Scenic Film Unique Added Attractions of a Great Program.

"Every woman knows how to treat a husband but few know how to MIS-treat one." This is one of the many crisp, epigrammic subtitles in "The Probation Wife," Norma Talmadge's new picture, now running at the Rialto. It's a peach of a picture. About the keenest Tulsa has seen in a long time. The best, probably, Norma Talmadge has ever made. This is praise enough and a sufficient guarantee of its merit.

Never has the incomparable Norma appeared so bewitchingly beautiful. And her wonderful gowns are dreams of loveliness. And diamonds, pearl necklaces, evening gowns, fur capes—she must have lavished thousands of dollars of that new half-million salary she is now receiving on the costumes she shows to her admirers in this picture.

"The Probation Wife" is a story of cabaret life in New York mixed up with polite society. Norma Talmadge appears first as a cabaret girl, then a scrub girl in a state reformatory, whither she is sent when she is accused by her foster mother of being an "incorrigible." Then she marries a wealthy young New Yorker, the culmination of a delightful romance and here is where she shows those wonderful gowns.

Thomas Meighan is handsome and sincere as leading man and Clarence K. Billings is her usual attractive self as Meighan's former sweetheart who marries a millionaire for his money. Alec B. Francis, the popular character actor, is delightfully sympathetic as the friend.

"The Probation Wife" is on the Rialto screen for the next two days. It's a charming picture.

The Hawaiian orchestra engaged for a week by the management is a novel and pleasing attraction and is much appreciated as it gives the musical program consisting of Hawaiian songs and waltzes that are so popular. Accentuating this music the management is showing with the program a Burton Holmes scenic travel picture of Hawaii.

This is one of the finest programs Tulsa has had the opportunity of enjoying.
