OILERS LOSE ANOTHER AND SLIDE INTO SEVENTH PLACE

LISTLESS GAME WON BY SAINTS

Mickey O'Brien Goes to Sleep and Visitors Are Never Headed.

A BAD DAY FOR PITCHERS

Five Hurlers Unable to Stop Hits; Sparks and Haines Ineffective.

An Irishman went to sleep at the switch and while he slumbered and slept, doop, rushed by.

Sounds like "mellerdrammer," but that is just how Tulsa came to drop the deciding game of the St. Joe series to the Saints, 6 to 3, yesterday. One was out, Pitts was on third and Hargrove on second in the third round yesterday, when Butcher bounded one to Haines. Pitts was homeward bound and Hargrove had crossed third by the time the ball reached Mickey. Up to the time of its arrival he is known to have been wide awake, but then drowsiness overcame him. Not only did Pitts get back to third in safety without even being shot at, but Hargrove was permitted to amble back to second without any undue haste, unmolested by any peg from the man with the ball. Then came the real disaster. Bonowitz smashed one to deep left, clearing the bases and opening up a lead the locals never could overcome.

The fact that Sparke had hurled a no-hit game his last out did not awe the invaders at all when he faced them on the mound yesterday afternoon. Pitts displayed his disregard for celebrities by smashing one right through the box and out into center. Hargrove boosted him to second with a sacrifice, whence he scored on Kelleher's single and Davis' error. Kelleher swiped second and after Butcher had whiffed he scored on a single by Bonowitz.

Rose started to do the hurling for the visitors, but his sojourn on the mound was cut short after he had had two balls called on the first batter by a display of temper. When he threw down his glove, Umpire Holmes took it for a tip that Rosey intended to be rough, so he chased him to the showers. McLoughlin being sent hurriedly to the hilltop, while Hoffman started warming on the sidelines. Although he managed to get by in the opening round, McLoughlin went to the bad in the second and after filling the bases with free passes he was yanked and Hoffman sent in. Scenting a chance to get a flock of runs, Manager Abbott sent Manion in to bat for Sparks. Davis scored on his grounder to Hargrove and when Hargrove made a bad throw to first in an attempt to double Manion, Goodwin also registered.

Beall's double and Pitts' single gave St. Joe another in the fourth.

Tulsa made her third tally in the seventh on a base on balls to O'Brien and Haines' double.

Pacing the Sport World

By Charles J. Berry

THERE will be a new lineup for the Oilers today. While Outfielder Thomason, secured from Sioux City in exchange for Hal Brokaw, arrived yesterday afternoon, he was too late to get into a suit and he saw the game from the grandstand. Today he will be found in center field. In order to get more power for his attack, Manager Abbott has decided to give Pop Goodwin a rest while Jimmy Burke takes his place at second. Here is the new batting order:

Wuffli, shortstop.
Slattery, first base.
Dilts, left field.
Thomason, center field.
Cleveland, third base.
Davis, right field.
Burke, second base.
Manion, catcher.
Bayne, pitcher.

Abbott figures this combination ought to produce even if Burke is slightly handicapped by a bad leg for it is the best offensive organization he has had this season. He will send Bayne to the mound this afternoon in the opening game against Omaha and then face them with Barham on Sunday. Both figure to win and he believes that if the gang once can get over with a complete series and hit its real stride, it will be hard to stop.

While Abbott would not commit himself yesterday further than to announce this change in the lineup, it is altogether likely that if this should fail to deliver the goods there may be some more radical changes. Spencer Abbott and Jim Crawford have too much at stake to see Tulsa monkey around in the second division very much longer. They promised Tulsa a winner and they are the kind of men who can be expected to make good their promises.

Bockenkamp Meets Legg in Finals of Western Golf Meet

ST. LOUIS, June 20.—Breaking the course record by two strokes with a 71, Richard Bockenkamp, a public links golfer of St. Louis, 18 years old, today defeated L. D. Bromfield of Denver, who played a game only slightly less brilliant, 2 and 1 in the semi-finals of the western amateur golf championship on the 6,255-yard links of the Sunset Hill club and won the right to play the finals with Harry G. Legg of Minneapolis, who had no difficulty in eliminating with ordinary golf, Clarence Wolff of St. Louis, medalist of the tournament 5 and 4.

While Bockenkamp played thrillingly, brilliant golf, Bromfield was on his heels all day, scoring 77 in the morning to Bockenkamp's 76 and 74 in the afternoon, only two over par. Neither player won a hole in anything less than par, Bockenkamp playing 22 holes in perfect figures and Bromfield 21. In addition Bockenkamp scored 5 birdies and Bromfield four, the extra par and birdie accounting for the two hole margin victory.

Principals of July 4 Card Here Have Many Engagements

By LARRY DAILEY.

Principals in the all-star boxing card of the Tulsa Sporting club here July 4 should be in shape to put up lively arguments if real ring work counts for anything. Harry Greb, who meets Bill Brennan in the final bout of 15 rounds scraps Mike Gibbons June 23. Earl Puryear and Bobby Hughes, bantamweights who also tangle 45 minutes have several engagements on their hands before the Independence day tilt.

Result of hard work of Bobby Hughes and his undoubted class is getting results. Bobby never has failed to give his best and is one of the greatest drawing cards in the 118-pound division. After meeting Jack Simons at New Orleans next Monday, Bobby hops Nate Jackson at Little Rock June 23, he is scheduled to show in Shreveport. No opponent has been picked for him there at the latter place.

In Jackson, Hughes meets a tough battler and should he emerge successfully, which most local fans believe is probable following last Monday night's card, Hughes will prove beyond a doubt that he is fit to battle the great local boy.

Puryear, who has battled his way to the top during the past two years, and who is matched to meet Pete Herman 20 rounds here Labor day for the world's bantamweight title boxes Pekin Kid Herman at Peoria, June 23.

Bill Brennan, Chicago light heavyweight, who gave Billy Miske such a great battle here a few weeks ago writes from Chicago that he is in great condition, (old stuff of course, but really believed 25 lbs is always in shape. Brennan says he is working hard in the Windy city and that he will be prepared for the fight of his life when he makes with Greb. There is no doubt that Bill will get it, too, as this Greb is one of the greatest in the game right now. Bill says his go with Miske has convinced him that he is as good as ever and that he will make another drive for the heavyweight championship.

DAILY DOPE

By LARRY DAILEY.

With the conclusion of the second inter-sectional games in the major leagues today, with the exception of the Robin-Cub series which ends tomorrow much of importance regarding the probable standing of the clubs as the curtain goes down has been disclosed. Some nines have proved their worth when tried under the first serious tests while others have wavered and floundered.

The Giants have shown that their sensational spurt to the top of last month was no flash in the pan—that McGraw has gathered together a great club, presenting a direful attack and capable defense and that it is the club that must be beaten out.

Pat Moran's Reds, under the leadership of the genial and masterful Celt, have bettered themselves in the invasion of the eastern clubs. The Reds have continued on the heels of the leaders throughout the inter-sectional games and have shown no signs of weakening.

The Robins have been the biggest disappointment. In third place June 5 with 20 games won and 16 lost for a percentage of .556, they have shown a weak offense and indifferent defense, dropping to fifth place, with 23 victories and 26 defeats for a mark of .469. Ten straight games were lost by the Superbas.

The league champions have maintained fourth position but have made no progress and seem outclassed by the Giants and Reds. Loss of three out of four games to the Giants on their own ballwick and frequent changes in the lineup indicates the Bruins are not of pennant winning class.

The Pirates have made the greatest gain, advancing from fifth place with .486 to third with .542. The most significant feature of the Pirates' rise has been their ability to rally in late innings when apparently beaten. The Braves, Phillies and Cardinals have played improved ball with the latter club showing the most class.

Great has been the fall of the White Sox. Going east with a comfortable lead and with an average of .594 the Gleasons are now tied with the Indians with the Yankees a game behind. Indifferent pitching and a weak offense has resulted in numerous White Sox reversals. The punch doesn't seem to be there, despite the brilliant array of talent, and numerous games were tossed away through lack of opportune hitting or fatal miscues at critical moments.

The Indians and Yankees have shown the most class in the Johnson circuit and with the White Sox are easily the most formidable clubs. Both have been successful in important series, the Yankees beating the White Sox and the Indians triumphing over the red-hosed crew.

Barrow never has succeeded in striking a winning combination. The usually brilliant defense has crumbled in several games due in a great measure to ineffective hurling while the Hubs, never strong offensively, have been helpless when their defense slacked.

The Tigers and Browns, both playing much the same style of ball, a dashing game and taking more desperate chances than any other four clubs, have hung around the first division, when at least one and possibly two potentially stronger clubs are lower in the race.

Clark Griffith can't win except when the great Walter is on the slab. Poor work all around has been responsible. Connie Mack is getting better ball and the A's look better than the Griffs.

YALE BEATS HARVARD IN BIG REGETTA RACE

REGETTA COURSE, NEW LONDON, Conn., June 20.—Rowing a beautifully timed race, Yale defeated Harvard in the four-mile varsity event on the Thames today by a scant half length of open water after one of the bitterest struggles ever staged on this historic waterway. For more than a mile and a half the craft raced side by side, so closely aligned that the official timers could not detect a fraction of a second difference at the various half-mile flags.

The regetta was the first to be rowed since 1916, and the victory breaks the tie which has existed since the last race when Harvard won her 25th big race to the series of inter-varsity contests which date back into the early eighties.
