TULSA DISPLAYS PUNCH AND BEATS OMAHA IN TENTH

SPARKS BAFFLES OMAHA SLUGGERS

Holds Invaders Hitless in All Innings Except Third and Tenth.

SLATTERY UPSETS "DOPE"

Becomes a Batting Fiend After Errors Give the Invaders Lead.

By CHARLES J. BRILL.

Coming through with the punch that has been so sadly lacking previously this season, Tulsa fought a great up-hill battle at McNulty park yesterday afternoon, overcoming a three-run lead in the seventh inning and winning out in the tenth, 5 to 4.

It was just the kind of a game that makes home fans glad they had not lost confidence in the team during its days of reverses and encourages them to hope for a more glorious finish in the final drive of the season.

Too much credit for yesterday's triumph cannot be given Al Sparks, who faced the Omahogs throughout the contest and held them in check while his team mates slowly and surely overhauled the advantage the invaders had gained through a combination of hits and errors in the third. From the third to the tenth he did not yield a single safe blow and four of the five wallops they did get came in that one session.

Slattery Redeems Himself.

Aside from the fact that Sparks pitched a great game and that Thomason and Davis figured in the deal that sent over the deciding tally, Joe Slattery was the chief actor on the stage, upsetting all of the dope which has been figured out concerning his work at first base. Heretofore he has been a tower of strength in the field and a very weak sister in offensive play. Yesterday it was the reverse. His two bobbles in the third played a very material part in the registering of runs by the opposition and it was his batting that put the locals in the running a couple of innings later. In five trips to the plate he laid down a sacrifice and got two singles and a three-bagger, the best batting record made by any of the 19 men in yesterday's fray.

Tulsa started the scoring in the second. Cleveland led off with a scratch single through the box. Both runners were safe when Barbeau fielded Davis' roller to second too late to catch Cleveland. Barney advanced to third on Goodwin's infield hit and scored while Mason, Gislason and Jackson were making a double play on Manion's grounder.

That Gloomy Third.

Gloom settled over the Oiler camp in the next inning. Kopp started it with the first hit made off the delivery of Sparks. Gislason fouled a couple attempting to bunt and then when forced to swing on the ball shot a single to left. It was on the next play that Slattery pulled his first rank error since joining the locals. Jackson sent a bounder down the first base line which Slattery gathered in for what looked like a sure double play, but his throw to second to catch Gislason went wild into left and Kopp scored. Gislason dashed on to third, arriving there ahead of the ball, but he overslid the bag and Cleveland tagged him out. Two were down when Kirby filed to Davis, but Donica started things going again by driving a hit to right scoring Jackson. Donica took second on the throw-in and registered when Slattery booted Hazen's grounder. Hazen gained an extra base on the bobble and scored an instant later on an error by Davis, who had gone to second when Barbeau lifted another Texas leaguer to right which Davis snared.

Two were down in the fifth before Tulsa launched a sudden attack which carried her to within striking distance, and it was John Wuffli's strategy that made it possible. Pulling the unexpected, Wuffli dumped a bunt down the third base line and beat it out easily. Still smarting under the realization that it was his errors which had made it possible for the invaders to get a good lead, Joe Slattery smashed one to the right field wall, enabling Wuffli to dash home. Tulsa then was only two runs to the bad. The margin was reduced to one when Dills singled, scoring Slattery.

Thus heartened, the locals settled down determined to hold the enemy in check while they continued their aggressive attack. In the seventh they drove the much-touted Kopp from the hilltop and drew up on even terms. By cracking the first ball pitched into left for a safety, Manion made the opportunity. Sparks advanced him on a sacrifice and he went to third when Jackson made a bad throw to second and scored on a wild pitch. Slattery singled and Dills singled and then Jackson hurried Fuhr, the fork-hander, to the mound, who retired the side. The locals blocked Fuhr in each of the succeeding rounds but it was not until the tenth that they could get anybody to complete the circuit. Thomason lead the way with a hit to left. He advanced on Cleveland's sacrifice and romped home when Davis drove one between short and third.

DAILY DOPE

By LARRY DAILEY.

Parke, England's greatest player, has retired, but the British still have a dangerous pair in Arthur and Gordon Lowe.

The United States will be better prepared to battle for the cup than the other nations. We have not suffered the loss of players as have the European sportsmen while the game has continued here during the war, with the resultant development of several brilliant young players.

Japan can present a worthy trio in Kumagee, Kashio and Nakami if she desires to compete. France has an exceptionally strong team in Gobert, Decugis, Germot and Laurenze and with the United States and England present the greatest strength of the challengers.

Loss of that wonderful player and splendid sportsman, Anthony Wilding, who was killed in action while fighting with the Australians early in May last year, will seriously impair the chances of the present cup holders. Norman E. Brooks, however is still a wonderful player while Doust and Jones compose a formidable doubles team.

With the great revival of sport in the United States and in Europe to a certain extent since the signing of the armistice has come renewed interest in tennis, a game much scoffed at by those who do not know, but a sport that during the past half decade has grown rapidly until it now numbers as many devotees as any other sport with the exception of baseball.

It will probably be some time before Germany is permitted to participate in the world's championship matches. These men of the allies nations who fought the dastardly Hun will certainly not care to play tennis with the nation which showed it has no sportsmanship—that the word to them is unknown.

In R. Norris Williams, 2nd, William Johnston, R. Lindley Murray Church, Strachan and Tilden, some of America's crack players, and Maurice McLaughlin, who must yet be reckoned with and Vincent Richards, sensational New Yorker, who is a trifle young for the Davis cup team, however, the United States presents the strongest array of them all.

For several years before the world became engulfed in the world conflict, the court game was the international sport. Played by all countries in all climes its popularity as an international sport has exceeded even that of golf, its only close rival. For several years, until Germany declared she could whip the world in 1914, tennis was easily the most popular sport in Europe and one of the most popular in the United States.

Early indications are that tennis is rapidly recovering from the hard blow suffered by the war and that in a short time it will again be the great sport of pre-war days. Revival of the Davis cup matches, similar to our baseball world series, but which involve all the nations, with the exception, of course, of Germany and her allies, and the corresponding great interest taken in tennis and the world's champion contests indicate beyond a doubt that the game is on a firm foundation, that it is rightfully the international sport.

Ruth Law, Famous Aviatrix To Fly At Claremore Today

Holds World's Altitude and Long Distance Record for Women.

SPEED DEMONS TO COMPETE

Famous Drivers to Provide Thrills in Victory Automobile Races.

Ruth Law, daring aviatrix, one of America's foremost flyers and the first woman to enter the aviation field, is one of the leading attractions at Claremore today when speed demons of the air and track will compete in a series of races.

This is Miss Law's first appearance in America since her return from Japan.

A trans-Atlantic flight, contemplated by the intrepid woman aviator, will be attempted during October. Miss Law announced yesterday. Her plane is a light Wright machine, capable of attaining a speed of nearly 200 miles per hour and is especially equipped for long-distance flying.

Not content with being the first woman to enter aviation and being the best known aviatrix in the world, Miss Law has perfected flying to an extreme degree. She holds the world's record for altitude and long-distance flying. Miss Law was a team-mate of Lincoln Beachey, who met his death several months ago in California, and with Beachey was known as one of the most skillful flyers.

As a special attraction Miss Law will race 15 miles with George Clarke for a purse of $5,000.

Fourteen race drivers, including four from Oklahoma, are entered in the Victory auto races. This will be the biggest auto race meet staged in the state and is being backed by the Claremore commercial club and under the sanction of the International Motor Contests association.

Johnnie Boyd of Tulsa, in a powerful Packard, and John Boling, also of Tulsa, in a Hudson, are included in the list of fast cars from Oklahoma which will be in competition on the fairgrounds oval. A Mercer and another fast Hudson are also named from the state, with drivers to be approved by the contests association.

A special match race between George Clark of Dallas, Texas, and Soldier Brainerd of Kansas City for a purse of $1,500 will be one of the features of the day. Clark will pilot his record-holding Sun Ray and Brainerd will drive his far-famed English Minerva, imported at a cost of $21,000.

Victory Sweepstakes.

The Victory sweepstakes with a $2,000 purse will have in addition to Oklahoma entries those of Dick Seip, whose mechanician was killed at Oklahoma City two years ago; Carl Jobe, famous Stutz driver and winner of the Independence races at Kansas City, Lou Schelhell, the Russian racer, in his Harrington; L. D. Stone of Detroit, driving a Peugeot, Ted Le Cocq of Paris, French dirt track champion, and Isuki Fujikawa, the Japanese driving demon.

Tuesday will be a gala day in Claremore and crowds are expected from four states for the races. The commercial club has made arrangements to comfortably take care of all who journey for the big event.

SOUTHERN GOLF TITLE MATCHES START TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, June 23.—One hundred and twenty golfers, representing the leading clubs of the south, will tee off here tomorrow at the Country club in the seventeenth annual championship tournament of the Southern Golf association. Bobby Jones of Atlanta, southern champion, is here to defend his title. The field includes Nelson Whitney, trans-Mississippi champion, Reuben Bush, Leigh Carroll, W. P. Stewart, golf of New Orleans, and C. L. Dexter of Dallas, former southern champion.

Ellis Knowles, country club, Pensacola, Fla., equalled the country club course in a preliminary round today with a score of 70. He was out in 33 and 37 for the second time.

Eternal Victor in Brooklyn Handicap; Favorite Is Second

NEW YORK, June 23.—J. W. McClelland's 3-year-old colt, Eternal, by Rancip-Hazel Burke, won the historic Brooklyn handicap at one mile and a furlong over the Aqueduct race track today in 1:48 4-5. The popular favorite, Purchase, which was giving pounds of weight to all the other horses in the race, finished second, three lengths behind the winner and four lengths in front of Questionnaire, an extreme outsider in the wagering, which took third money. The winner was quoted at 6 to 1, at which he was heavily backed by many who have been following him in his last four or five races and the colt made up for his previous disappointments by his victory today. Many shrewd handicappers selected Eternal as they believed he was simply thrown into the race with the light impost of 108 pounds.

The glory of the race, however, really belongs to Purchase, which, carrying 117 pounds spent a great deal of his energy by unduly anxious at the barrier, where he almost unseated Jockey Loftus three times.

AMERICAN TEAMS GET OFF WELL IN OPENING

PERSHING STADIUM, PARIS, June 23.—With a baseball victory over the Canadian nine and the placing of three men in the finals of the 100 and the 115 meters dashes, the American team got away to a good start on the first day of the inter-allied games held in Pershing stadium. An international crowd of 25,000 persons watched the contest.

Athletes from the British dominions shared the honors of the day with the Americans by winning two of the four principal races.

In the 100-meter dash, Edward Teschner, Lawrence, Mass., Sol Butler, Hutchinson, Kan., and C. W. Paddock, Pasadena, Cal., all won their heats, while Private J. Howard, Canada, and Lindsay of New Zealand, captured their heats in the same events. The time made by the sprinters was not extraordinary. The day was cold and clear.

In the baseball game W. B. Fuller, formerly of the Washington American league team, shut out the Canadians, 5 to 0, much to the delight of 5,000 American soldiers in the bleachers.

Bishop Cunningham Dies.

CONCORDIA, Kan., June 23.—The Rt. Rev. John F. Cunningham, bishop of the Concordia diocese since 1895, died here today. He was born in County Kerry, Ireland, in 1847. The funeral services the latter part of the week will be attended by Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, Bishop Henry Tihen of Denver and scores of other Catholic dignitaries.
