CONVENTION HALL WILL BE MADE "OPEN AIR" ARENA

PACKED HOUSE IN PROSPECT JULY 4

Advance Sale for Brennan Greb Battle Is Heaviest Yet Held.

FANS TO BE PROVIDED FANS

Reisler Promises Comfort to Tulsa Sporting Patrons Friday.

Convention hall is to be transformed into an open air arena for the pugilistic program of the Tulsa Sporting club on July 4. Promoter John Reisler announced last night that he had made arrangements to transform the mammoth auditorium into "the coolest spot in Tulsa."

"When I get through with that hall," declared Reisler, "it is going to be a cooler layout than any open air arena in the country on that day, and many a degree cooler than it will be in that mammoth stadium at Toledo where Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey are going to hold forth."

Since the card is to be staged during the afternoon, it will be possible to station guards about the building and prevent anybody sneaking into the hall when the doors and windows are thrown wide open. Reisler proposes to open all doors and windows and the skylights downstairs and up. Even the big stage doors will be turned back, giving the air free circulation. Scores of electric fans will be planted all over the house to keep the air moving.

Already the workmen have begun to get the big hall ready. The ring is being overhauled and after it is placed in the center of the floor it will be decorated with the national colors.

Advance Sale Heavy.

Although the contests were four days off the advance sale of tickets yesterday was so heavy as to bring an expression of pleased surprise from the promoter.

"It sure is gratifying the way the tickets have been going the last two days," said Reisler. "I'm surprised. Tulsa generally is a poor advance sale city, but already there have been more tickets sold than for any previous show up to the day of the battle. I am satisfied now that the size of the crowd which sees Brennan and Greb tear into each other on July 4 will be limited only by the capacity of Convention hall. I am sure every seat will be taken."

To Get Toledo Returns.

Just how to give the best service on the Willard-Dempsey fight returns has been puzzling the local promoter. He has made arrangements all right to have a direct wire from Convention hall to the ringside at Toledo, but what has been bothering him has been how to announce the returns after they are received. He has decided, however, to have the detailed description of tween rounds. He selected the stage the fight read from the stage be in preference to the ring because the announcer will be facing the entire audience there, whereas he would have to repeat three or four times were he to attempt to talk from the ring.

STATE DEPARTMENT STARTS PROBE OF MEXICAN OUTRAGE

NEW YORK, July 1.—The state department has taken up with the government of Mexico the murder of John W. Correll, American citizen, the maltreatment of his wife and the attempted murder of his son by bandits near Tampico, Mexico, on June 16, 1919, according to a statement today by the National association for the Protection of American Rights in Mexico. Correll, with his wife and 16-year-old son, went to Tampico from their home at Ada, Okla., about 10 weeks ago, the association said it was informed in a signed statement by Mrs. Correll and her son.

Mrs. Correll's statement, the association said, asserted that about 10 a. m. June 16 40 Mexicans raided the Correll house at Colonia, 20 miles northwest of Tampico, wrecked the interior, shot down Correll, shot at the boy who fled into the brush and then assaulted Mrs. Correll.

PECORD AND JUDGES WILL CONFER TODAY

Method of Handling Toledo Fight Will Be Decided and Announced

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 1.—Arrangements were completed here today for a conference of the judges and referee at the Willard-Dempsey bout on July 4. The meeting will be held shortly after the arrival of Major Biddle and other members of the board on boxing control cities Wednesday night or Thursday morning. Then the duties of the judges and the two judges will be considered and a working agreement arrived at.

In a general way it is understood that in case of a knockout Referee Pecord will count out the defeated man and there will be no necessity for any action by Judges Rickard and Biddle. If the contest goes the limit of twelve rounds the judges' findings will be the more responsible. They will select the winner by vote and if in agreement the referee will simply announce their verdict. In case they disagree, however, Referee Pecord will then cast the deciding vote and the boxer who receives two of the three votes will be declared the winner. The same result will be achieved in case of two of the three vote in favor of a draw.

Brokers' Offices Raided.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The offices of J. Frank Lilly & Co., Broadway stock brokers, were raided today by Assistant District Attorney Rorke and a squad of police simultaneously with the filing in the federal district court of an involuntary petition in bankruptcy against the firm. Mr. Rorke said charges against the firm have been filed with the district attorney.

No One Wants to Play With Brennan; He Is Too Rough

It is well that Bill Brennan had fought himself into shape before coming to Tulsa and just as well that that Harry Greb should have postponed until today his arrival, for they cannot secure heavyweight sparring partners here on this account, while the two would have enjoyed wallopin' the old boys on through preparation for their 15-round encounter next Friday. They realize that it is for the best interests of the show that the big fellows take just been here long.

Although the Pittsburgh wonder was scheduled to have arrived yesterday, he will not be here until today. A telegram from St. Louis where he stopped Monday for a day's workout brought the news. Learning that Greb would be on hand with whom to spend his rough, he decided to make the St. Louis stay two days instead of one day.

In the meantime Brennan is doing the best he can with the sparring partner. Bill was so tough on Bob Moran he was here before that most of those who seen him work, don't feel a second engagement.

Brennan should be fine, however, that he is ready. The big fellow went through his work with a dash and snap that was good to see, all the while keeping up a kidding jamboree. The difference in his condition from last time he was here is striking, particularly in the cause of the confidence in himself he displays. While previously he was apparently ill at ease in the presence of Greb, he seemed to intimate that he would have an uphill battle. This was apparent during the early rounds of his Miske fight, but after he reached the halfway mark he began to pick up fighting a vastly different fight during the last half. And since his victory over Miske at St. Louis last week he has been all confidence. This bodes ill for Greb, and the Pittsburgher is going to need all of his much-touted speed to take care of himself if Brennan calls into him as he promises to.

Even in the excitement that surrounds the big fellows these days, Tulsa fans are not losing sight of the fact that before Brennan and Greb meet, awaiting each other, Earl Puryear and Bobby Hughes are scheduled to step through a 15-round welterweight battle. Owing to the fact that Puryear is under contract not to engage in a Toledo fight until he meets Pete Herman here on Labor day, there will be no contest in Toledo and instead in the lightweight contest. Some of Puryear's supporters however have been doing considerable boosting that the local boy would score a knockout over his Louisiana opponent.

How close is Puryear to being in condition even in the light of his recent performance at Tulsa is a question. Tulsa fans will remember that he failed to do anything real in the ring for twenty rounds but in Boyd's opinion he came to life in the last round to score a decisive victory. Boyd's opinion is that Puryear was not in condition to go the full distance. Some will say that he was not in condition to go the full distance. Some will say that he was not in condition to go the full distance. Some will say that he was not in condition to go the full distance.
