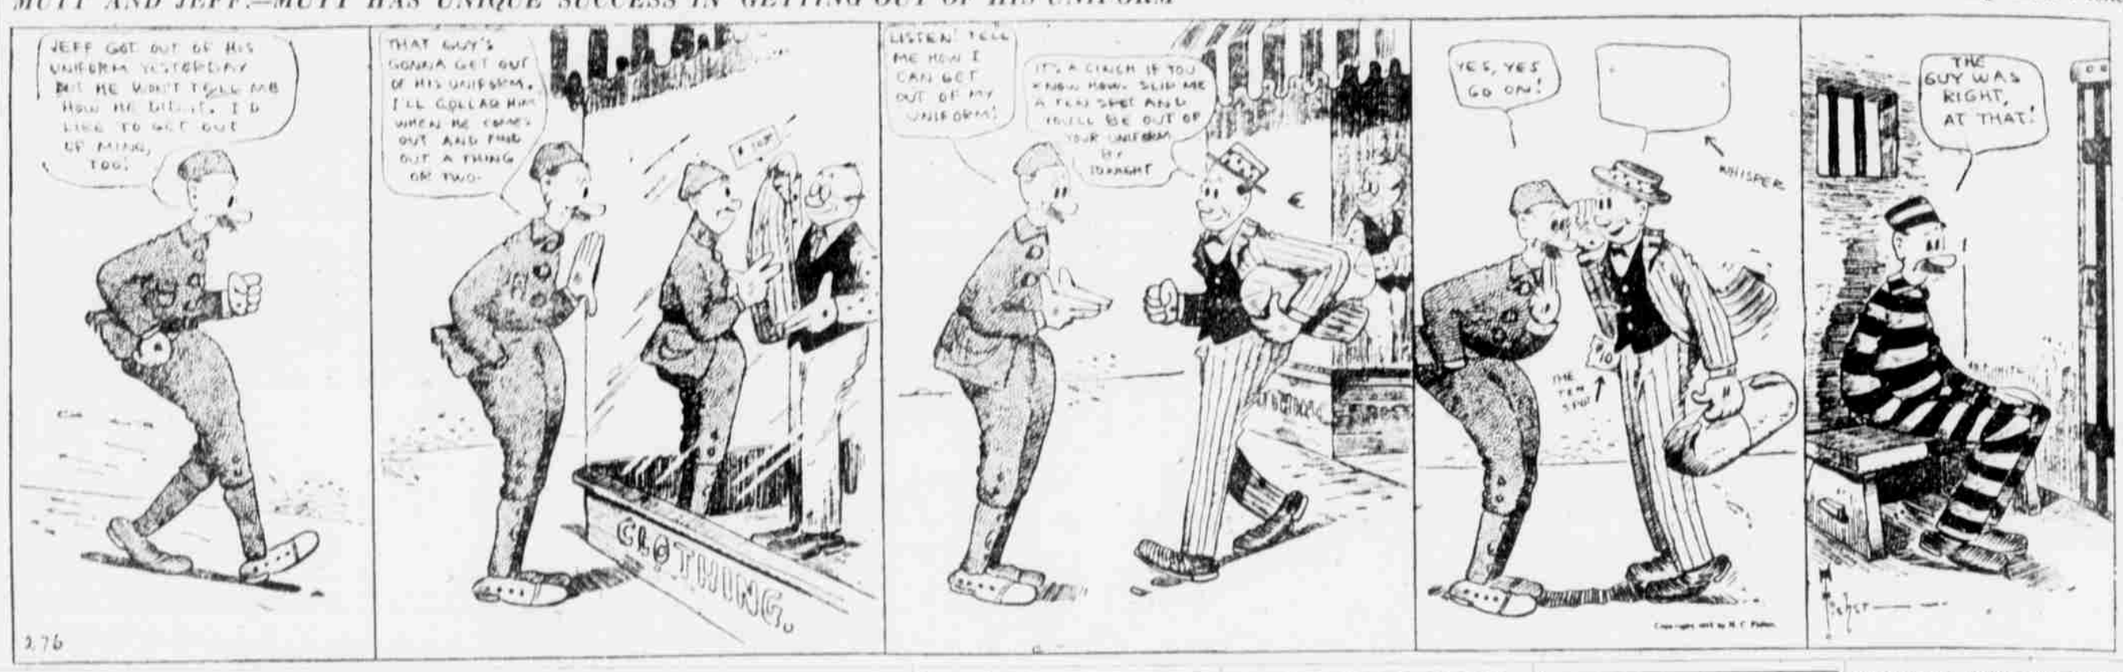
MUTT AND JEFF.—MUTT HAS UNIQUE SUCCESS IN GETTING OUT OF HIS UNIFORM —By Bud Fisher



TAKES TIME TO BUILD A WINNING BALL NINE

Ned Hanlon Comes to Defense of Connie Mack and Says Tail Leader Will Have Winner.

Ned Hanlon, famous baseball manager in the days of the 12 club National League, does not often break into print, since he was driven to retirement by the fiasco of the Federal League, but the former pennant winning chief did take occasion recently to go to the rescue of Connie Mack when some baseball experts attempted to "pan" the lanky Philadelphian on the showing of his teams since he wrecked that famous $100,000 will which he won pennants regularly.

Hanlon declared in his defense of Mack, that the tail leader cannot be expected to put up a winning combination in just a few years as much time is required to drill young players to play together so their play will be effective.

Hanlon talks from experience. It will be recalled that his famous Baltimore team made up of Doyle, Reitz, Jennings, McGraw, Kelly, Keeler, Brodie, Robinson, Clarke and Pitchers McMahon, Corbett, Hoffer, Hemmings, Pond and Esper required several years to develop fully into the excellent combination they were when at the zenith of their career. It was this machine which stopped Frank Selee's winning streak at Boston.

When the National was reduced to an eight-club league, Hanlon's crew was shipped to Brooklyn and made good, but the fight of the brotherhood days wrecked the club and Hanlon never did get his organization into the habit of winning flags.

Hanlon says Mack has never been appreciated. He also says Mack is developing some sensational youngsters now, but they have not hit their stride, and until they do fandom is taking advantage by hurling criticism at the tail leader.

"The public," says Hanlon, "never seems to take into consideration the volume of work and thought necessary to develop a winning combination. They expect results over night and unless they get them the manager comes in for a grilling that is positively unfair." Hanlon says he will never again take a hand in baseball when the suit of Baltimore Feds is settled and he receives his share of the damages. He is not broke, financially, but he has given up much of a comfortable fortune to America's national pastime.

LEAGUE FOSTERS UNJUST SETTLEMENTS—JOHNSON

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 8.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, speaking here last night, declared that the proposed league of nations was not in reality an association to prevent war, but "a league of armed nations in a gigantic war trust."

"In its very creation," he added, "it has been stripped of every idealistic purpose it ever had. In complete within itself the element of pains within itself the element of many wars, and worse than that it rivets, as in the Shantung decision, the chains of tyranny upon millions of people and cements for all time unjust and wicked annexations.

"This league of nations, with the men who really wrote it, was meant to obtain peace only insofar as peace maintained forever inviolate their territories and their subject peoples; and it was meant that this kind of peace should be obtained by the express of the power and the force of the United States."

ITALIAN ENVOYS PRESSING FOR ADRIATIC SETTLEMENT

PARIS, July 8.—Tommaso Tittoni, the Italian foreign minister, and head of the Italian delegation to the peace conference, is anxious to have the Adriatic problem settled as quickly as possible, Signor Tittoni, who has gone to Rome for conference with King Victor Emmanuel and the cabinet on current diplomatic negotiations, made this known in a long conversation with one of the American peace officers before his departure. The problem referred to by the Italian peace delegation was the increasing friction between French and Italian troops in Fiume and elsewhere along the Adriatic, further evidence of which has developed.

"Y" Secretary Killed.

PIAGI E, July 8.—James Carr, a secretary of the American Y. M. C. A., was killed and an Italian officer injured when a machine in which they were flying, over the Wesenbrad holiday, fell today. The pilot was doing stunt tricks with the airplane and Carr, operating a movie [illegible] apparatus, when the plane fell.

St. Joseph First in Tulsa's 14-Game Invasion of North

Bright Prospects as Club Starts Trek in Other End of Circuit.

TO RETURN HOME JULY 29

Play Wichita and Joplin in Southern End Before Coming Back.

With the addition to the pitching staff of Shackleford and Vaughder, tried and valuable material, and with the club going at its best offensively and defensively, the Oilers open a 14-game stay in the north today, playing a three-game series at St. Joseph. Following the invasion of games in this end of the circuit, three with Joplin and four with Wichita, before returning home July 29.

Shifts in the team standing in the Western between now and the next home contest are entirely probable, with the chances of Tulsa bettering its position being exceptionally bright. This assertion is based on the play of the club in its last 19 games as compared with the work of the other nines. Of the last 19 games, Tulsa won eight, showing a fast and efficient defense, strong attack and the best pitching turned in by local hurlers of the season.

After playing three days at St. Joseph, the Oilers move on to Omaha for four games in three days. Sioux City is billed for four days and the northern trip will end with a three-day stay at Des Moines. Then the club heads homeward, staying in the southern end a week.

All southern clubs make a 14-day stand in the north before coming back to their own ballwicks, and much lively stuff is likely to ensue before that time. Oklahoma City and Joplin have furnished a surprise by their continued good play and unless their expected crack comes this road trip those clubs will be hard to beat out.

No games were played in the Western yesterday, all southern clubs being en route north.

REFUSE ARBITRATION OFFER OF SECRETARY BURLESON

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The offer of Postmaster General Burleson to arbitrate the coastwise telephone strike before the war control board will be rejected, according to union officials here today. Burleson's arbitration proposal was made in Washington after a conference with United States Senator Phelan.

"We will stay out until Christmas before we will submit our case to Burleson's wire control board," said Miss Nellie Johnson, vice president of the telephone operators' division of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

JACK COOMBS IS RELEASED AS MANAGER OF PHILLIES

PHILADELPHIA, July 8.—Jack Coombs was relieved of his duties as manager of the Philadelphia National league baseball club today after a stormy session with Owner W. F. Baker and "Cactus" Cravath, veteran outfielder, was appointed his successor. The reason given for Coombs' dismissal was the poor showing of the club, which has lost 27 of the last 29 games.

Record Time Hung Up in Second Day at North Randall

CLEVELAND, July 8.—Another record crowd was on hand for the second day of Grand Circuit of harness racing at North Randall today, and record time was hung up in several events.

A world's record was established in the half mile dash for two-year-old trotters, when Mr. Dudley won it in 1:02¾. He was driven by Lyman Brasie and razed the first quarter in :31½ seconds.

Abbie Putney hung up the best time of the year in the Pacing three-year-old trot when she covered the second heat in 2:06¼.

Seventeen horses, the largest field ever on the track, were in the opening heat of the 2:12 pace.

Three favorites were successful with one second choice and Mr. Dudley fourth choice in the betting, accounting for the other events.

CONFIDENCE IS MAIN ESSENTIAL IN SPORT

Famous Track Mentor Declares Athletes Must Have Faith if They Are Successful.

Confidence, according to Boyd Comstock, famous track coach who performed miracles with mediocre talent in California, is the one big asset necessary for success in the athletic line. "If a coach can get a youngster's confidence and then get the lad to thinking that he is going to make good, there is no power on earth to prevent the successful accomplishment of the trick.

Comstock is always talking confidence, but of course he equips his charges with other requisites. He is one of the few trainers in this country who scout the idea of an athlete having too much confidence, and his success ought to prove to the skeptics that he knows his subject from soup to nuts.

Comstock was in charge of that wonderful quartet of lads who represented Citrus Union high school of southern California, when they journeyed east and copped the silks at the big interscholastic meet conducted under the direction of Alonza Stagg at the University of Chicago. Comstock had only four rank recruits when he began training them that season, but he so thoroughly imbued them with unfaltering confidence, their work was positively unlooked for and sensational in the extreme.

Every day those lads worked. They worked hard, but their sessions were short so they would not stolen of their line. Comstock was on the job every minute when his charges were engaged. He told the runners how fast they must run, and he told the weight men just what they might accomplish. He told them how to get the best results and each day he pumped them full of confidence until they started. Comstock has a system of his own. He employed other boys in the school to tell the athletes how well they were going. When the boys knew the compliments were on the level they produced results quickly. Comstock says confidence is 75 per cent of the battle for the track coach, regardless of the comments to the contrary.

BONDS APPROVED TO LET HAYWOOD AND PALS OUT

CHICAGO, July 8.—Bonds for the release of William D. Haywood, leader of the 93 I. W. W.s convicted before Federal Judge Landis here last August, have been approved by United States District Attorney Charles F. Cline and the court of appeals.

Haywood was sentenced to 20 years in the federal penitentiary and fined $30,000 last October by Judge Landis following a verdict of guilty against him and his codefendants by a jury on August 24. He is the 13th out of the 93 to be released on bonds pending the appeal of their case to the United States circuit court of appeals.

TACIT AGREEMENT REACHED FOR EX-KAISER'S HEARING

PARIS, Monday, July 7.—The agreement reached by the allied council that the trial of former Emperor William would be held in London as announced by Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons last week, was a surprise, but from American sources it was learned late today that the agreement was regarded as binding.

What purports to be an authentic account of the incident in the council upon which the British premier based his statement, has become available from a usually reliable source.

DAILY DOPE
by Larry Dailey

With the half way mark in both major league races just passed, start of inter-sectional games this week will be watched with particular interest by the followers of the game. Western national league clubs began their invasion of the east yesterday while eastern American league teams start on their jaunt through the west today.

Unusually interesting and close races in both leagues, with the splendid grade of ball played has been rewarded in the high interest taken in the game by fans and which has been reflected by the box office receipts and there is no doubt but that baseball has come back stronger than ever to its place as the greatest sport of them all. There is always a great amount of interest taken in inter-sectional clashes and this is especially true at this time.

In the National the success of the western clubs will be watched with particular interest. Three of the western nines are in the first division which indicates that the Giants will have a hard time retaining their lead. Western fandom will be pulling for the success of either the Reds or Cubs as the Giants aren't very popular. With the exception of the Giants and Robins, the east does not offer formidable opposition and it is entirely probable that one of the western clubs will return home in the lead as the McGraws must throw back three strong attacking nines in the Reds, Cubs and Pirates.

Western American league clubs are also showing a preponderance of strength, which is even more evident than in the National. Three western American league nines are in the first division while the second four is headed by a western club. The Yankees are the only team to show championship class. The Red Sox have been a disappointment throughout the season and seem to be out of the race. The Athletics and Griffs have never been contenders. The Yankees will find the going hard on their trip meeting the four western clubs all of which are still in the pennant hunt, while the exception of the hill top nine, the western clubs in the Johnson circuit should not meet stiff opposition.

Of course, weak clubs are liable to rise and beat the leading clubs, but judging by past performances and the way the standings read now, it looks favorable for western clubs in both leagues.

Last year when baseball was struggling under the blow of the work or fight rule, when the unthinking public, so easily influenced in the hysteria of war, were condemning the continuance of the game, certain sport writers forgot their loyalty to the sport, the good to which the game has done and attacked baseball, dealing the national game a hard blow, but one from which it recovered. Boxing has come back into popular favor. The ring game is enjoying its greatest prosperity for a decade. But there are still a few too short-sighted or careless of boxing's future who persist in hurting the game. Billy Rocap, a Philadelphia scribe, charges that there was a collusion between Jess Willard and Tex Rickard in promoting the world's heavy title mill. Rickard has been given a vote of confidence by the Toledo boxing commission. Despite that there will be those who will be glad to condemn the game, to follow the lead in crying crooked stuff. If there has been a shady deal, let Rocap expose it and lay the facts before the people. Let us have no boxing if it is crooked. But unless there are proofs, Rocap, whose decision in awarding the world's bantam title to Pete Herman is looked upon with suspicion, has gone a long way in harming the progress of boxing and in feeding the doubts of of the public regarding the sport's honesty.

KIWANIANS TO CLASH WITH ROTARIAN NINE

Benefit Baseball Game to be Played for Armenian and Syrian Drive Tuesday.

Tulsa has yet to see its greatest baseball game. When the Rotarians and Kiwanians clash at McNulty park next Tuesday, the feature game of the season, or for all time for that matter, is expected. Scorers are laying in a new supply of pencils. In the meantime, players of both clubs are practicing hard for the event for which they have waited so long and patiently.

Connie Mack Long, manager of the Kiwanis club, when interviewed yesterday was emphatic in his declaration of victory. "We will do to the Rotarians what Jack Dempsey did to Jess Willard," said Manager Long. "Of course the game must go nine innings but after we have batted once the result will never be in doubt." The Kiwanians are practicing every morning at McNulty park at 8 o'clock and it whispered that some real material has been uncovered, including a pitcher whom Spencer Abbott wanted to take north with the Oilers. This wonderful hurler refused to make the trip, however, until after the game with the Rotarians Tuesday.

John McGraw Woodford, leader of the Rotarians, could not be located yesterday. Dame rumor had it that Woodford and his proteges were holding secret skull practice at Spavinaw, drinking of that water which is sure to bring them victory.

The game is to be a benefit for the Armenian-Syrian fund, all proceeds going to that worthy drive.

Yes, it is going to be a great game. If the score is any indication and if a ball game is judged by the number of tallies, it should be Tulsa's greatest contest.

Shoes Go Up.

CHICAGO, July 8.—Shoes will cost from $3 to $4 a pair more by next spring, it was stated today by officials of the shoe exposition in charge of the display of shoes and accessories now being made here. "The increase is due to several factors," Secretary David said. "For one thing, all foreign countries must come to America for shoes and there is only a limited amount of raw stock and world shortage of hides."

"These suits keep your spirit up and your temperature down."
"Tulsa approaches the zero hour; and I'd hate to think she failed to go over the top with so much at stake." Vote wet tomorrow.
If these suits cost a little more it's because they're worth it, and they're worth it because they fit better at first and always afterward. They're 1-8 silk lined with staying qualities in the front with collars that don't bulge. They come in Three colors—green, tan and cream. Two fabrics—Palm Beach and Mohair. Three prices—$15.00, $17.50 and $25.00.
