GREAT INCREASE IN STORED FOOD STOCK

Report Shows Average of 20 Per Cent More Than Same Time Last Year.

IS HELD SPECULATIVELY

Holders Look for World Demand on Account Successful Strikers Securing Higher Wages.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Although prices of practically all important foods have shown a substantial increase during the last year, stocks of food held in storage on June 1 this year were approximately 20 per cent greater than those held on June 1, 1918, according to a memorandum showing the relation between storage figures and prices issued today by the federal trade commission.

Government stocks were excluded from the comparison.

The fact that stocks of many important foods were much larger on June 1, this year, than on the same date last year," said the commission's statement, "while prices were as high or higher, apparently means that they are being withheld speculatively for a world demand which is not now here but which is expected when hunger impelled strikers secure higher wages with which higher food prices can be paid."

To show that the law of supply and demand is not working the commission listed eight staple foods which on June 1 showed an increase in stocks withheld from the market ranging from 3 to 238 per cent over the stocks on June 1, 1918, and in each instance there was shown to have been a substantial advance in the wholesale price during that period. Stocks of frozen fowls showed a maximum increase of 238 per cent and the price despite this fact increased 3 cents a pound, wheat stocks showed an increase of 174 per cent with an increase in price of 31 cents; flour stocks, an increase of 21 per cent, with an increase in the price per barrel of nearly $1; egg stocks, an increase of 9.8 per cent with an increase in price of 11 cents, and butter stocks an increase of 129 per cent, with the price soaring 12 cents above last year's figure. Salt beef, canned salmon and canned corn completed the items in this table, the latter showing an increase of 81 per cent in stocks with an increase in price.

All dry storage stocks, according to the commission's figures, showed an average increase of 124 per cent. Of these not listed in the above table stocks of rye increased 346 per cent, barley, 27 per cent; buckwheat flour, 327 per cent, and canned tomatoes, 202 per cent.

Ask Wage Increase.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7.—Demands of increases from 50 to 75c an hour for motormen and conductors and from 37 1-2 to 62c an hour for brakemen and recognition of affiliation with the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway employes were presented to General Manager C. F. Hanrahy today by a committee representing trainmen of the Illinois traction system.

MANY WITNESSES AT MOORE PRELIMINARY

Dean, whom Mrs. Moore was supposed to have taken to the train for Oklahoma City shortly before midnight, had been living at the Moore home for several months before Moore was released from the penitentiary. Dean is a company with a girl named Jack," testified the Moore home the next morning and took away clothes belonging to him after a short talk with Moore. Mrs. Weeks also testified that a window on the porch was open and a ladder across the house when she arrived.

Emmon Hinebaugh and C. E. Lawrence, who lived over the Moore garage, said that they heard only one shot and that Moore called Lawrence in the house two minutes after the shot was heard. Lawrence told that when he entered he found Mrs. Moore's left arm and shoulder in his lap and that Moore covered her with a counterpane while he went above.

Several times during the day the defense tried to show that someone might have entered the building by means of the ladder and the open window on the porch.

NOT A SOCIETY GIRLS' SCHOOL

False Report Effectually Answered by President Thompson.

A report has gained prevalence in some sections that CRESCENT COLLEGE & CONSERVATORY for girls is a society finishing school. It has been learned that this report has been circulated by representatives of certain denominational schools. CRESCENT is non-denominational but investigation will show that the religious spirit runs higher perhaps than in denominational schools and that CRESCENT girls apply more of their time and money-savings through their Social Service Club to charitable purposes than other schools many times as large.

This false report is effectively answered by the following array of facts which show that this JUNIOR COLLEGE, only 10 years old, has set the pace for other girls' colleges.

In 1910 there were 143 so called colleges for women in the Southern States, of which only four were admitted by the United States Specialist in Higher Education to be colleges of the first class. In that year CRESCENT was dominated a JUNIOR COLLEGE offering besides Music, Art, Expression, Household Arts and Business, only the first two years of the College course and the four-year high school course. The Universities promptly accredited all work offered in CRESCENT CONSERVATORY. CRESCENT was the first JUNIOR COLLEGE. At present over 50 of these institutions are styled JUNIOR COLLEGES. The President of CRESCENT was first to apply to the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States for a constitutional provision for membership of JUNIOR COLLEGES. This was granted in 1915.

CRESCENT was among the first to retain a graduate trained dietitian in charge of the boarding department and also to retain a graduate trained nurse in charge of the hygiene of the school.

CRESCENT was among the first to maintain a department of Domestic Science.

CRESCENT is the first and only girls' school frankly to admit the presumption that the girl will be a wife and mother and to offer complete courses in Child Welfare.

CRESCENT is perhaps the only school with accredited relations which subordinate proficiency in Latin, Mathematics and other academic subjects to education and training in the essentials.

The Heads of CRESCENT are impressed with the utter impossibility of providing the care needed in high school and under class college girls in a large school, and so limits its enrollment to 80 girls.

The loss of health and of time and efficiency, the failure to inspire the girl to useful service after her school days, the tendency to frivolous waste of money and time in school and out, the lack of the right companionship and association with teachers of strong Christian personality and finally the practice of operating medium priced cars for the purpose of reducing salary budgets, these and a score of other influences making undesirable the big enrollment schools, are too impressive to ignore.

Comparable results are likewise impressive. CRESCENT girls grow healthier in body and mind and they learn economy both of money and time and are useful as well as ornamental.

It will be plain that initial charges, or rating which are three times those of the most expensive schools in the ordinary girls' school, will be no difference in effect in the first year in most schools, there are bound to be some who are temperamentally not fitted to CRESCENT COLLEGE.

So finally CRESCENT may be termed a remedial school, due to cause her girls leave their return to society to the family and to the state, and further that will always belong to the best society.
