CONGRESS WILL ACT ON RAIL LAWS SOON

Committee Is Expected to Frame Legislative Proposals Before This Weeks Ends

SENATE TO GET DRY BILL

Prohibition Enforcement Measure Will Be Reported to Upper Body and Will Be Called Quickly

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Despite the pre-eminence of the peace treaty controversy and the high cost of living question touch other important legislation faces congress this week.

Railroad legislation will be pressed in both branches. Before the end of the week the senate interstate commerce subcommittee drafting permanent legislation, hopes to report its recommendations with a tentative bill to the full committee. Hearings will be continued by the house interstate commerce committee with representatives of the railway executives advisory committee to be heard tomorrow.

The prohibition enforcement bill approved yesterday by the senate judiciary committee will be reported favorably tomorrow to the senate. Other minor bills now have right of way in the senate but it is proposed to call up the prohibition measure late in the week.

Final settlement of the section zone over repeal of the daylight saving law is planned Tuesday in the house with an effort to pass the bill over the president's veto.

Secretary Baker will give his views on a permanent military policy to the senate military committee tomorrow.

Legislation to change army court-martial procedure is up for consideration tomorrow by the senate military subcommittee. Former Judge Advocate General Samuel T. Ansell is to appear in criticism of present military justice methods and to suggest reforms.

The new oil and leasing bill is to be taken up tomorrow by the senate and after its disposition bills to develop water power are to be framed by committees.

GERMAN GIRLS PUNISHED FOR ASSOCIATING WITH YANKS

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN GERMANY, Aug. 17.—Posters written in German and warning German girls against associating with Americans appeared recently in several public places in Coblenz and other towns on the Rhine, the girls being urged to refrain from making the acquaintance of soldiers regardless of the fact that the treaty of peace had been signed. At various times posters have been put up threatening indiscreet girls with punishment of one kind or another.

American officers who have investigated say the Germans are determined that girls who associate with the soldiers shall have their names known to the population and that several secret societies have been formed for that purpose. Intelligence officers say that on several occasions the names of girls who are on the records of the German police for associating with Americans have been read to the congregations at Sunday morning church services. In other villages the practice of posting the girls' names in public places was inaugurated some time ago.

The officers assert that blacklists of the girls' names have been prepared and are being kept for future use, after the Americans are gone.

TESTS PROVE DIFFERENCE IN RESISTANCE OF TUBES

At the suggestion of the Michelin Tire company of Milltown, N. J., a series of very interesting experiments have just been completed in the laboratories of Columbia university, with the purpose of determining the comparative durability of various makes of tires and tubes.

"One of the most interesting of these experiments," says R. R. Bramwell, the Michelin advertising manager, "was a test of the relative resistance which different makes of inner tubes offer to cutting.

"Accidental discovery that inner tubes vary considerably in this respect led us to make this experiment. We were trying to cut sections of different makes of inner tubes sufficiently thin for examination under the microscope."

PAPER STORIES FIND FRENCH GIRL'S MATE

Ex-Soldier Husband Reads of His Wife's Arrival and Meets Her in Pawhuska.

Special to The World.

PAWHUSKA, Aug. 17.—Newspaper stories of the arrival of a soldier's bride from France and her inability to locate her husband were read by Adolphus Boyle, a workman in the Osage oil field at Wynona, and brought him posthaste to join her, continuing a happy romance that had its origin at Lyons, France, while Boyle was located there as an American doughboy.

Boyle and the young woman were married several months ago in France and it was the intention that she should return to America with her soldier-husband. When embarking time came, however, her mother was critically ill, making it impossible for the wife to accompany Boyle. They arranged, however, that she should come to America at the first opportunity. Several weeks ago the young wife's mother died and she proceeded to the United States.

Mrs. Boyle did not have much idea of how to locate her husband, excepting that he was in an oil field at a place called Wynona, and from New York she traveled to Chicago and thence to the Osage town, where she arrived early in August, unable to speak the English language to any extent. It seemed impossible to locate Boyle. Kindhearted citizens of Wynona, oil men and all others joined in the search and stories telling of Mrs. Boyle's arrival were sent to the newspapers. One of the papers happened to fall into Boyle's hands, some time later, and immediately he hastened to Wynona.

In the meantime Mrs. Boyle had been taken to Pawhuska and placed in charge of the Red Cross. Here the husband finally located her and the reunion was an unusually happy one. He had understood that she would notify him from France and that he would meet her in Chicago.

"Stocking Legger" Is Latest.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 17.—Homesteadstead police arrested what they termed the first "stocking legger" in their experience when Clara Hobson, a negress, was placed in jail. Witnesses said the woman carried a half pint of whiskey in her stocking. At frequent intervals through the main thoroughfare of the town she would take the bottle from its hiding place, imbibe and replace it.

WATER FILTER WEIGHS TWO TONS

Radix Water Company Purchases Enormous New Filter.

In accordance with their policy of keeping up with the times and their increased business the Radix Water company has discarded their patent filter that has been in service for several years and purchased a large filter of the latest design. The filter shell alone weighs 250 pounds, into this is placed 1,000 pounds of tripoli rock and sand, added to this is the weight of the water as it passes through making it necessary to build a large concrete base for this monster to rest upon.

This filter is only a part of the Radix company's new program, in addition to the giant filter they are installing a new sterilizing device that uses the ultra-violet ray. The water passes through the sterilizing apparatus and is subjected to the ultra-violet rays which are thrown from a quartz tube containing submerged mercury, all harmful bacteria are killed instantly as passing in contact with the ultra-violet rays. The greatest feature of this treatment is that it purifies and sterilizes the water but does not change the taste or affect the medicinal qualities of the water as does distillation or the use of chemicals.—Adv.

YANK AVIATORS HELD ON RANSOM

of the Rio Grande to the end of the district.

Become Confused.

It is believed by aviation officers here they confused the Conchos river which flows into the Rio Grande near Presidio, Texas, with the Rio Grande and followed the course of this river into the interior of Mexico.

Another theory advanced here by fellow aviators is that they were forced to land either on the American or Mexican side of the border in the wild country of the Big Bend district and were made prisoners by the Mexican bandits who make marauding trips across the border at frequent intervals in search of cattle and other property which they carry off to Mexico.

When it became known at Fort Bliss tonight that the aviators were reported held by Mexican bandits, there was much discussion among army officers of the possibility of American troops crossing the border in search of the bandits who were holding the aviators prisoners. This was discredited by higher officers for two reasons. The principal one advanced was that the American aviators would be killed if an expedition crossed in pursuit of the bandits. The other reason was that orders for expeditions to cross the border in Big Bend district applies only to the pursuit of bandits who have stolen property on the American side and then only to follow a "hot trail."

MARFA, Texas, Aug. 17.—Letters purporting to be from Lieuts. Paul H. Davis and Harold G. Peterson, American army aviators, missing since last Sunday, were received here today at military headquarters. The letters stated the aviators were being held by bandits for $15,000 ransom somewhere in Mexico and were threatened with death unless the ransom was paid, according to the letters.

The demand for the ransom was received here today and a report made at once to Major General Dickman, commander of the southern department. An unconfirmed report was also received here that the aviators were being held at a point close to the American border and that Chico Cano, a famous bandit of the Big Bend-Ojinaga district, was the leader of the bandit band holding the aviators.

The whereabouts of the bandit rendezvous from which the American aviators were believed to have sent their message, is unknown here. Because of the rugged, rough nature of the country south of the border the location of the bandits' camp by airplane would be almost impossible as there are many box canyons in which they could hide without being detected from the air or by the Mexican cavalry troops searching for them.

$25,000,000 TO BE RAISED FOR AMERICAN MEMORIAL

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The completion of comprehensive plans for raising a fund of $25,000,000 for the erection of a great American memorial in France, commemorating America's achievements and the triumph of democracy in the world war, is announced by John Buell Tiffany, secretary of the U. S. A. Chateau-Thierry Memorial association.

The association plans to raise the fund for the erection of an "adequate, appropriate and permanent memorial" by popular subscription throughout the United States. Details of the plan will be made public shortly.

France some time ago offered a site for a United States national memorial. Officials of the association point out that no more suitable location could be chosen than at or near Chateau Thierry.

AGITATION CARRIES STOCK PRICES DOWN

Labor and Demand for Reduction in Living Costs Responsible for Downward Market Trend

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Labor conditions and other indications of social unrest, notably the nation-wide price agitation, accounted mainly for the further break in stock market prices last week.

The decline had the effect of correcting the fictitious or unstable position of many of the more speculative issues. Another factor was the complete collapse of foreign exchange.

The money market was unusually easy as to call loans but this condition resulted mainly from reduced stock dealings. Bankers realize that the money market will be put to its severest test in the impending domestic and foreign demands.

Apart from the unsettlement created by labor disturbances, the industrial situation was rather mixed. Better conditions prevailed as to iron and steel, in which greater production was reported, while the leather and textile industries were measurably affected by the high cost movement.
