FIREMEN ONCE MORE SEE COMMISSIONERS

Mayor Offers to Give Final Decision in Request of Men for Increase in Their Wages.

AGREEMENT IS PREDICTED

Bonus Agreement Has Ended Executive Informs Representatives Presenting Demands.

Reaching of an agreement between the city firemen and the city over the matter of wages seemed to be more likely yesterday afternoon following a second conference between representatives of the men and Mayor Hubbard and Commissioner F. M. John. Firemen are asking for an increase of $25 in their monthly pay checks. Mayor Hubbard told the firemen that no definite promise could be made until a further check of the budget could be made, but promised an answer to their demands as the commission meeting today.

Mayor Hubbard said he impressed on the men that the bonus arrangements made during the war was entirely unexpected with the armistice. "They were not made in a hit or miss and I believe they understand the position of the city." The mayor said recommending to the conference "We will do our best and that we expect to more than we can offer."

Commissioner John also expressed the belief that an amicable agreement might result from the proposal to be considered today. "Although the firemen intimated they would accept if their request was not granted by affirming they would under no circumstances accept a salary increase of less than $25, I believe the views of many have changed and that an agreement can be made this week," said John. "I had a talk about for a $15 raise for the firemen and I think the main trouble was a misunderstanding about the bonus arrangement. The mayor told them positively what I did Tuesday but we will know Friday what the most money we can afford to give will be."

Enlistments Increase

Enlistments in the United States army are increasing rapidly. Following is the list of 12 men accepted this week: Edward L. Lewis of Claremore, Archie W. Hamilton of Tulsa, Charles M. Anderson of Pawnee, Sam L. Queen of Pawnee, Neal M. Ellis of Tulsa, Hay W. McGraw of Chandler, Albert H. Siddons of Tulsa, James E. Boswell of Kansas City, Alfred C. Williams of Gilmer, William E. Lay of Tulsa, Charles A. Coones of Shawnee, J. H. Board of Sparks.

EXAMINATIONS FOR POSTAL POSITIONS WILL BE HELD

Examinations for clerks and carriers at the local postoffice will be held in the postoffice building in this city September 27, according to E. E. McClure, assistant superintendent of mails and head of the civil service examining board in Tulsa.

McClure said yesterday that the congressional committee investigating salaries now paid postal clerks and carriers would probably lead to increases in all departments, and that a bill is now before the house of representatives to give a bonus of $150 a year to all present employes because of the new schedule of salaries which will probably be granted by the government. McClure said that he believed a large number of persons will make application for the places open in the local office.
