PAWHUSKA MAN HURT

Edward Revard, Osage Indian, Also in Hospital At Kansas City.

1 MAN, 3 WOMEN KILLED

Wives of Missouri Men Did Not Know Husbands Were Joy-riding.

Special to The World.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 21.—The dead:

R. S. Norgrove, Kansas City.

Mrs. Jane Morris, who operated the Mondamin hotel, Kansas City.

Mrs. Flora Wilson, a cousin of Mrs. Morris.

Miss Grace Platt.

The injured: Edward Revard, 27 years old, Pawhuska, Okla., district manager for the Hathaway Motor Car company and a former soldier, taken to St. Joseph hospital, will recover.

Alvin L. Bailey, 28 years old, Tulsa, Okla., district sales manager for a motor car company and former soldier, taken to St. Joseph hospital, will recover.

A wild drive late last night over the Raytown road, dark and full of dangerous curves, ended when the speeding Packard motor car driven by Ed Revard, a half blood Osage Indian of Pawhuska, Okla., failed to make a sharp turn, rolled over two or three times and killed three women and one man. Three of the men in the car, including Revard, were injured. The accident occurred about 9:30 o'clock there and a half mile southeast of Kansas City. The three couples in the car were going to the F. K. Harrison farm for a chicken dinner. R. S. Norgrove, a high contractor of Kansas City, was killed. The three women lived at the Mondamin hotel, one of them refused to divulge her identity, when asked a few minutes before she died. Revard is at the general hospital in a dangerous condition. Alvin L. Bailey, Tulsa, Okla., a discharged soldier, suffered a broken leg and scratches on the body. He is at St. Joseph's hospital.

Wives Didn't Know.

The wives of Norgrove and Revard did not learn of the fatal motor car ride until 'phone of the accident. Mrs. Norgrove was waiting at the sign contractors office for her husband to take her home when informed of his death. Mrs. Revard received word by telephone. She hurried to the general hospital and after learning of Revard's condition returned to the Dixon hotel. Neither wife knew that her husband was motor car riding with other women.

Mrs. Revard is part Osage Indian and while at the general hospital waiting for word from her injured husband, she appeared cool and collected. When Dr. W. W. Hobbs of Raytown and Dr. J. W. Green of Independence arrived at the scene of the accident they found the bodies of the victims under the motor car and along the road. Several broken bottles were found near the car and the physicians said there was a strong smell of liquor.

When the rescuers arrived, Platt with a broken leg was lying in the road. He asked a passing motorist to take a telegram to Kansas City. The message while giving the address stating that his leg had been crushed in an accident. Platt also said he had been discharged from the army recently after more than 4 years service overseas.

Traveling Too Fast.

Bailey told Doctor Hobbs that the powerful seven-passenger car was going 50 miles an hour when it struck a sharp turn. The boys, who had been drinking, were in a very excited condition, however.

I didn't know the nature of the wreck, he said. They were from Bartlesville, Okla., and I only met them today.

Revard with his wife and two children came to Kansas City a month ago, intending to make his home here.

Alvin L. Bailey is about 28 years old. He registered Friday night at the Mercer hotel. Bailey said he was City about every two weeks, according to the clerk at the Mercer, where he is well known. He said he sustained fractures of 4 ribs and his leg. He is a salesman for the Hathaway Motor company, and resides in Tulsa, Okla., where his wife and a baby are located with the Tulsa relief in Tulsa. Bailey said he was discharged from the army in France and returned to the United States in June. He received 1 year in France.

SONG OF CONTENTMENT

I envy no man a piece of land,
And I want a wealth of fame
Let him who will toil hard his skill
Off and hunt for claim
Though I ask here for a mansion fine
Their happy no happier are than mine

The roof above me shelters me
When outside blows the storm
The fire I make for comfort's sake
Looks red and keeps me warm
Though with me Satan's fires are flaming
Hell
They cannot warmer to than I

I will lie down to simple fare
And find its flavor sweet
Any wine I drink this thought is Set
Use all that I can eat
I know the rich man also stops
Who's had his fill of molten chops

I promised is my rest at night
Sweet my dreams A'-lay
When night comes down I quit the town
And drop my weight of care
And when upon my couch I lie
No man more soundly sleeps than I

And so I envy no man's fame
And no man's wealth of land
For while I live life cannot give
More joys than those I build
Rich men with all their power to buy
Can do but little more than I

500 MAY BE LOST ON LOST SPANISH SHIP

Divers Identify Lost Vessel as the Valbanera, Which Went Down With More Than 400 on Board.

WILL CONTINUE THE SEARCH

Officials Are Puzzled When No Wreckage Is Found; None of Bodies Are Found on Surface.

KEY WEST, Florida, Sept. 21.—Sent to the 400 passengers and 18 members of the crew of the Spanish passenger steamer Valbanera a lost off Rebecca Shoals light, 40 miles east, here, in recent gale had chance continued today without results.

Cuban Consul Milord, who directed the work of the divers who identified the sunken hulk as that of the Valbanera, today wired a complete report of his investigations to officials of the Denelle line, which owned the steamer.

Consul Milord also asked for additional instructions as to the employment of divers to search the wreck thoroughly for bodies.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Rear Admiral Decker, commander of the seventh naval district with headquarters at Key West today reported to the navy department examination of the wrecked steamer off Rebecca Shoals light near Key West, had established beyond doubt that the ill-fated passenger steamer Valbanera.

Admiral Decker in his report said that examination of the steamer's hulk by divers indicated that no effort was made to leave the port hatch. In that case with a passenger list of 400 and 45 members of the crew it would appear that many of them at least went down with the vessel. Admiral Decker reported however, that there were no bodies or wreckage in the vicinity when the wreck was discovered by salvage divers.

FULLER REPORTS ONLY SWELL LIST OF TEXANS KILLED

Sunday Investigations Add to Horror of Gulf Storm.

FIND TWO MORE DEAD

Plans for Dragging Bay May Be Abandoned Due to Handicaps.

APPEAL FOR MORE MONEY

Governor Sends Representative Who Declares Funds Needed.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Sept. 21.—Fuller reports received today from the devastated storm area, of which Corpus Christi is the center, only serve to swell the death roll of last Sunday's hurricane and confirm earlier estimates that the total property damage will exceed $20,000,000.

It is daily becoming more apparent that the destruction wrought by the storm will surpass all previous estimates, both as to life and property, as news filtering in from the surrounding country, with the partial resumption of wire communication continues to emphasize the appalling magnitude of the catastrophe.

Little progress was made during the day in the recovery of bodies known to be floating in the bay, despite the fact that there was no let up in this work over Sunday. The finding of only two additional victims were reported today, these being taken from the wreckage along the North Beach section of Corpus Christi. Neither of these were identified.

Plans for dragging Nueces bay for bodies known to be held in the large amount of wreckage still floating in the backwaters are being discussed, though the physical difficulties of the task may prevent its fruition.

Busy Clearing City.

It is now believed that there is little hope of recovering the additional victims and the conviction is growing that the final disclosure in the terrible disaster must be written with the total death list locked in the waters of Nueces and Corpus Christi bays.

Marked progress was made during the day in clearing away the debris left by the storm in the stricken downtown section of the city along the bay front. Many of the streets have been entirely cleared of the wreckage.

With the arrival of Ralph Roape, secretary to Governor Hobby, as the personal representative of the state's chief executive, the work of the various relief organizations was given additional impetus through assurance that there would be no delay in the efforts to raise funds for the continuance of this work. After making a survey of the situation Mr. Roape got in touch with Governor Hobby over the long distance telephone and requested him to issue another appeal to the people of the state for financial assistance for the entire storm-stricken area. Mr. Roape also attended a conference of the various relief committees to discuss plans for coordinating relief measures and determining the scope of emergency activities.

Following the conference and after spending the day looking over the situation, Mr. Roape issued the following statement:

Destruction Appalling.

"It is impossible for the human mind to picture the destruction which has been wrought by a tidal wave such as this passed its vicinity. No one could conceive of such a disaster.

Released German Spy Holds Conference With His Chief.

By The Associated Press

AMSTERDAM, Saturday, Sept. 20.—Dr. Theodore Lewald, former member of the Reichstag parliament and German secret spy, who was released from prison in England arrived at Amerongen yesterday. Lewald was accompanied by a German who registered at a hotel as "Herr Anderson," whose identity here is much secret, but who is believed to be one of the prominent persons whom the ex-Kaiser of Germany.

Lewald said the Associated Press correspondent that he could say nothing about the subject of his visit.

On the arrival of Amerongen from Berlin Lewald and Anderson were met by General Zimmerman, the former Kaiser's chief aid, and it is said there was a conference at Doorn, at which Doorn which it is reported Lewald and the former Kaiser discussed the situation.

Lewald is the German who Lord Northcliffe, British newspaper publisher, declared was the German spy who had been in Berlin, London, Paris, Madrid, Stockholm and Copenhagen. Lewald was released from prison in exchange for Northcliffe himself.

The general impression around Amerongen is that Lewald is important politically in breaking in Germany and that he seems to more to inform and assist the former Kaiser.

While refusing to talk about his visit to William, Herr Anderson, Lewald expressed the opinion that the strong feeling against Great Britain would not last for a long time.

"Personally, I feel the friendship of the British people for my country," said Lewald. "I hope this will soon return to England," said Lewald, "I am always welcome."

Regarding the United States, Lewald said he, being in ignorance of what happened and that he knew nothing of the Versailles treaty, he could not comment on the situation.

BELGIUM-HOLLAND IN A HOT CONTROVERSY

Official Wireless Dispatch Says Both Nations Have Withdrawn Ambassadors from Countries.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—An official wireless dispatch from Berlin, dated Saturday, says that the Belgian ambassador at The Hague having been withdrawn, the Dutch ambassador at Brussels also has been withdrawn.

Several times recently there have been reports that diplomatic relations between Belgium and Holland were strained as a result of the demands of Belgium for a revision of the treaty of 1839 between Belgium and Holland under which Holland is given the southern bank of the Scheldt river and an enclaved strip of Dutch Limburg lying between Belgium and Germany.

Belgium based her demands upon the necessity of securing a stronger military frontier and freeing the trade of Antwerp, her great port, from the restrictions now placed on it by Dutch possession of the lower portion of the Scheldt, and asked for political control of the southern bank of the river and certain territory deemed necessary to safeguard Belgium's economic interests in South Limburg.

In return for these concessions the Belgians suggested that Holland receive compensation in the form of certain bits of German territory inhabited by a Dutch speaking population.

The allies were believed to be favorably inclined toward the project of the free navigation of the Scheldt but Holland is understood to have been practically opposed to any modification of sovereignty in this connection.

A commission of the peace conference at last accounts was considering the situation.

STEEL PLANTS SAY UNION MEN ARE NOT REPORTING

GARY, Ind., Sept. 21.—It was admitted by officials of the United States Steel corporation that union men were failing to report for work as they stated some at least would, but not enough to cripple the plants, it was said.

It was announced tonight that Gary would be the general headquarters for the strike movement with John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the national committee, in charge. Mike H. De Young is in charge at South Chicago and W. Z. Foster is in charge at Pittsburgh. Foster will arrive here tomorrow morning from Chicago.

Drumright Telephone Girls Quit Jobs in Order to Get Raise

Special to The World.

DRUMRIGHT, Okla., Sept. 21.—Shorter hours and better working conditions is the goal of 19 of the 20 telephone girls who walked out here last night with the result that the telephone company is being crippled, as the subscribers are asking in vain for "hello" girls. Although there has been no outbreak, the situation is considered tense.

Weekly wage average of the Drumright telephone girls is $15. They ask $18 as a minimum wage. The strikers are parading the streets selling benefit tickets, and have accumulated a nice sum in support of their cause. Pickets are stationed at the telephone office. Merchants are the only ones to have telephones because of a recent agreement, it is made by the company to be operated in future, it is said.

DECLARES SENATE WILL NOT RATIFY AS WRITTEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—In an able and eloquent address, which compelled the congratulations and drew applause from the galleries, Senator Spencer of Missouri declared strongly for such reservations to the covenant for the league of nations as will safeguard the essential rights of America.

"I am with all the conviction in my power," said Senator Spencer, "that the treaty of peace as it is now written will never be ratified by the senate of the United States, and that before it ever receives the sanction of the representatives of the people here assembled, reservations similar in effect to those which the committee on foreign relations has already reported must be incorporated in it, in order to secure its ratification."

ALL HANDS ON LOST SHIP REACH SAFETY

Eleven Survivors of British Steamer Picked Up While One of American Vessel Is Found.

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 21.—Eleven survivors of the lost British steamer Bayronto and one survivor of the American steamer Lake Winona, were landed here today by the fishing smack Ida. With 19 of the crew of the Bayronto landed at Charleston, S. C., on September 18 and 18 others landed at Havana the same day, this accounts for her full complement.

The men were picked up in open boats on the coast off Egmont light. The lone survivor of the Lake Winona, a Porto Rican negro, was in a boat full of water eating crabs and sea grass. He had been without either food and drink seventeen days and nights. Chief Officer Moody of the Bayronto and Wireless Operating Cole were among the survivors.

The Bayronto, the survivors said, foundered in heavy seas during the gulf hurricane. All but two of the officers were snatched by the waves, and in one of these chief officer Moody and the 19 men put to sea, with only five gallons of water and hundred biscuits.

Ten days after leaving the vessel running short of water, they spread their oilskin coats and caught rain water. When the supply of biscuits ran out, they caught a few fish and ate them raw. Finding the sun intense hot, they poured salt water over themselves to keep cool but this only caused the sun to blister their nearly naked bodies.

"UNFAIR," SAY SPECTATORS

Unlimited Money Backs Up Both Sides, Say Leaders.

STEEL MAGNATES ARE FIRM

Companies in East Take Steps to Protect Property in Case of Riots.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—Clashes between Pennsylvania state police and crowds bent on holding labor union meetings in the Pittsburgh district today, ushered in the strike in the iron and steel industry. The most serious disturbances occurred at North Clairton, 20 miles from Pittsburgh. Late in the afternoon, where the state troopers charged a crowd of union men holding a mass meeting and broke it up. Resistance was offered and it is charged by union leaders that the mounted policemen used their clubs vigorously and injured a number in the crowd. About a dozen men were arrested. The meeting was broken up at the request of local authorities.

According to eye-witnesses, the meeting was proceeding quietly when the state police broke it up. The crowd scattered and some ran up a railroad embankment and threw stones and other missiles at the troopers. During the melee, several in the crowd were struck on the head by the policemen, it was said. The crowd soon scattered and as far as can be learned no one was seriously injured.

William Z. Foster, secretary of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers, tonight said that a vigorous protest would be lodged with the state government against what he termed a "murderous attack upon law-abiding people."

None of the blast furnaces of the Carnegie Steel company are located at Clairton.

Many Special Police.

There was a slight disturbance at McKeesport, where union organizers attempted to hold a mass meeting in defiance of the proclamation of Mayor George Lysle forbidding public gatherings. More than 2,500 steel workers and sympathizers were gathered near the southern limits of the city when a squad of McKeesport police dispersed them, driving the crowd into Glassport, an adjoining borough.

When the crowd again began to assemble in Glassport the local police appeared and ordered the meeting dispersed. The crowd refused to move and a detachment of mounted state police appeared and with drawn clubs broke up the meeting. One man was injured. Two aliens were arrested for refusing to obey the order to move on.

All preparations had been completed by Mayor Lysle tonight putting down disorder in McKeesport. All day long men were being sworn in as special officers. Members of the Knights of Pythias, Chamber of Commerce and others were sworn in as special police.

More than 2,000 uniform police are available for duty, Mayor Lysle said.

About 3,000 members of groups of Montenegrins have been alarmed by the strike call and have left for Pittsburgh, it was learned. The steel plants in and about McKeesport employ many Montenegrins.

STEEL MAGNATES ARE SILENT DAY BEFORE WALKOUT

Heads of Corporations Make No Statement Sunday.

PLAN STRONG FIGHT

Gary Instructs Officials Not to Yield on Principle of "Open Shop."

SHOW PRESENT WAGE SCALE

Greatest Concern Always Shown for Welfare of Employes, Claim.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The usual Sunday calm prevailed today at the headquarters of the United States Steel corporation in this city. There was no indication of uneasiness over the fact that a strike designed to force suspension of operations in all the company's 145 plants in 20 states will go into effect tomorrow.

Both Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors, and James A. Farrell, president of the corporation, spent the day at their country homes. Mr. Gary issued no statement of the company's plans for combatting the strike. Each subsidiary has been given permission to meet the situation as its officers see fit. The only general order which has been made public was the letter from Mr. Gary to the presidents of the various subsidiary companies directing them not to yield on the principle of the "open shop."

It is not probable any comment will be made on the strike until the corporation learns what percentage of its 268,000 employes responds to the strike call.

To Involve Half Million.

It was estimated, however, that the number of workers affected directly or indirectly by the strike will aggregate half a million. The average daily pay of the corporation's employes, including the administrative and selling force, is $6.21, according to a recent report to the directors. This is an increase of 116 per cent since 1914, when the average was $2.88. The average annual pay in 1918 was $1,950.

The properties owned by the corporation were valued on January 1 last at $1,871,267,897 and its total assets aggregated $2,571,617,175. The undivided surplus amounted to $466,888,421 and its net income for the year 1918 was $159,621,656.

Records of the corporation show that 69,541 employes have become share holders in the companies for which they work. They own 156,880 shares of stock and the pay of the employes who own it ranges from $1.50 a day for common laborers to $30 a day for skilled rollers in the mills.

Referring to attention given by the steel corporation to the care of its employes an official of its bureau of safety, sanitation and welfare pointed out a recent report submitted to the directors in which it was shown that $12,850,000 was expended in welfare work in 1918. The pension roles of the corporation for 1918 show 2,861 persons on the list with payments of more than $789,000 annually to persons averaging 29 years of service with an average age of 63 years. The pension fund, including the endowment of $4,000,000 created by the late Andrew Carnegie in 1911, amounts now to more than $12,000,000.

Many Welfare Experts.

The report of the welfare bureau shows that in all localities where it has large numbers of employes, modern sanitary buildings graded as to needs and size of families have been constructed. The rents are designed to be only sufficient to meet upkeep and maintenance.

A large force of experts is employed in community and welfare work among employes. This includes providing recreation facilities, improvement of homes and assisting employes participating in thrift of foreign birth.
