MALONE FRACTURES ARM; BOUT WITH LOUGHLIN STOPPED

IS UNFORTUNATE END TO FAST GO

Examination by Physician Shows Bone Is Broken in Forearm

RED BYRD DEFEATS STORIE

Welters in Fast Go With the Former Having the Best of Milling

As an unfortunate ending to a bout which promised to be one of the best ever held in Tulsa, Jock Malone, St. Paul welterweight, sustained a fracture of his left arm in the sixth round of his scheduled 15-round bout with Willie "K. O." Loughlin at Convention hall last night and the bout was stopped and declared no contest by Referee Edward W. Cochrane, sporting editor of the Kansas City Journal.

Up to the time of the injury it was a fast and interesting bout, with it going getting warmer as it progressed. Malone had a slight lead on points though, of course, that does not imply that he would have won over the 15-round distance.

Malone and his manager, Emil Thiry, will stay in Tulsa until an X-ray can be made of the former's arm. Tulsa newspapers will announce result of the examination.

Red Byrd and Tom Storie, middleweights, boxed 10 slashing rounds with the former winning the decision in the semi-windup. Storie was superior in infighting, but Byrd's punches landed more timely and with greater power than those of Storie.

Byrd is given three rounds, two, third and tenth, by decisive margins, and the first by a shade. Storie won the fifth by a shade. Six, the second, fourth, sixth, eighth and ninth, were even.

Last night's card, the first of the Tulsa Athletic club, promised to have been one of the best ever held in Tulsa and it is unfortunate that a new organization was to see its initial show end as it did. However, it was unavoidable and the promoters, who lost heavily on the card, have shown their gameness by matching Sam Langford and Jack Thompson, negro heavyweights who battled to sensational draw here in August, for a return engagement October 20. Promoter Macken was unable to secure high-class boys for the October 6 date and being unwilling to offer any but the best, passed up that date.

Glenn Condon, former sport writer and boxing referee, and one of the foremost advocates of clean boxing in the southwest, now manager of the Majestic theater, made a splendid talk, asking for support of clean boxing that the Tulsa Athletic club is providing. Condon was given a big hand.

It was announced that Bobby Hughes and Mult McKee will box 12 rounds at Okmulgee, September 27. Red Byrd and Tom Storie will box the eight-round semi-windup.

DRUMRIGHT PHONE GIRLS QUIT SERVICE ENTIRELY

Special to The World.

DRUMRIGHT, Sept. 22.—The Southwestern Bell striking telephone operators succeeding in closing the exchange completely here at 4:15 p. m. this afternoon. There is absolutely no service being rendered, except doctors' calls, one lone girl, the wire chief, wearing overalls, is left in charge. The agreement to close the phone office was the result of a meeting between local strikers and phone officials and the offices will remain closed until an arbitration board coming from Oklahoma City tomorrow makes a ruling on the grievances of the operators.

The strikers have been conducting themselves in a very commendable manner, although last night some rowdies not believed to be connected with the operators, threw stones through the glass doors and windows of the telephone exchange and some near-by buildings were slightly damaged. Everything is quiet tonight.

JOHN TABOR IS HELD FOR COMPLICITY IN ABDUCTION

Special to The World.

McALESTER, Sept. 22.—John Tabor charged with abduction of May Herd, 18 years old, as she was preparing to marry John Worthington, on September 14, was arraigned here today before a justice, refusing to enter a plea until his attorney, absent from the city, could appear. Tabor was picked up by officers on the streets here.

He refuses to talk about the case. Carl Monk, county attorney, issued the warrant for Tabor on the suspicion that he hired the men who lured Miss Herd into a closed automobile, drugged her and put her out of the machine at an unfrequented part of a road.

The accused had called on Miss Herd the night before and begged her not to marry Worthington. He is a widower, his wife having died within the year.

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR DYNAMITING DIPPING VAT

Special to The World.

SALLISAW, Sept. 22.—Arthur Wood and Bud Maxwell of Long were held to the district court by Judge Joe Brandon on a charge of having dynamited and destroyed the cattle dipping vat at Long last Monday night. They were placed under $1,000 bonds which each gave.

The vat was located a half mile from Long and the explosion was heard for miles.

Reds to Evidence as Norman.

Special to The World.

NORMAN, Sept. 22.—Red will be the prevailing color on the campus of the University of Oklahoma beginning Monday, when 1,000 members of the freshmen class will don their red caps, to be worn until after the Thanksgiving day football game. A student council ruling requires freshmen men to wear the insignia during the first few weeks of school in order that they may become identified by the upper classmen and by each other.

SEVERAL vital issues concerning the future of the Western league next season are to be met by the moguls of that circuit when they convene in their annual winter session this year. One of the most important questions is the disposal of the Des Moines franchise. President Albert B. Tearney decided last week that the Iowa capital would remain its berth in the Western league, but intimated that one or two changes in ownership might be consummated during the winter. That Tom Fairweather may dispose of his Des Moines franchise is considered likely.

Extension of the schedule to 154 games is also to find many supporters and it is practically certain that the Western program will be two weeks longer next season. By opening and closing a week later than this year a majority of the magnates express themselves in favor of such a schedule extension. Frank Isbell Wichita owner, "Pa" Rourke, Omaha magnate, Spencer Abbott and James K. Crawford, Tulsa owners and Jack Holland of Oklahoma City have already advocated a longer season. Other club owners have not been sounded regarding the playing of 154 games but none are expected to seriously oppose the movement.

Opposition over the re-election of Tearney may result in a warm fight. Tearney's stand on the draft question in which he took the leadership in demanding that the draft be abrogated is understood to have met with disfavor in certain quarters in the league. Tearney while here last week declared he is positively not a candidate for re-election though it is probable he will accept the presidency for another year should it be tendered him. Tearney's regime as president this year has been very successful, the Western having enjoyed one of its most successful seasons and unless more magnates are swung to the side of those opposing him the Chicago man will probably be tendered the leadership again.

Never again will Western moguls, or any other minor league heads for that matter, attempt to stage a series between pennant winners. At least, that is the word of President Tearney regarding the Western league, following the dismal failure of the Murphy cup series. Inclement weather, poor playing by both clubs in the four games played, and general lack of interest caused a large decrease in the attendance, the receipts falling far under the season's average in both Tulsa and St. Joseph and little more than expenses were realized. Barring the prestige of beating the leaders there was no incentive to the series. The commission composed of Messrs. Tearney, Isbell and Rourke planned well and it was no fault of the players that they were unable to do themselves justice on the diamond. But the season was over with St. Joseph as pennant winners and even Tulsa winning the cup does not detract from the Dolan's flag victory. A series between Southern association or Texas league pennant winners with the former as the most desirable and which would be for the class A championship would have been the logical series to have played if Charles Webb was insistent that someone play for his cup.

Sugar Famine Strikes Capital.

Nothing Complicated About Pat Moran's System as Manager

There is nothing intricate or complicated about Pat Moran's system as manager of the Cincinnati Reds, which have just clinched the 1919 pennant in the National league. Moran says he just tried at all times to exercise horse sense, and above everything else always took care of the game at hand without even a thought for the morrow.

Probably Moran's system can best be explained by reciting some incidents in the recent series between the Cubs and Reds. In one game with the Reds a run or two to the fore the Windy City crew began finding Fisher's benders. Instead of sending a weak hurler to the bull pen to warm up, Moran sent Ring, one of his star boxmen, to warm up and kept him there during the entire inning. Moran never gave a thought to the matter of saving to use Ring out of his turn.

On another occasion in the same series Sallee was being hit hard and although the Reds were a run to the good Moran figured he might have need for another hurler. Ring was again chased to the bull pen. Pat declared after the series that he believed in taking care of the game at hand. "We were in the lead in both cases," said the Redlegs chief, "and perhaps the next day we would not have had a lead to work with. Figuring on tomorrow's game does not appeal to me, for tomorrow's game may never be played."

In addition to playing safe at all times in the game at hand, Moran has been a stickler for the early lead. His logic in defense of such a plan is good too. He argues that at the start of the game the players are fresh and their supply of pep is better than when the eighth or ninth inning is reached. The Reds this season have won a reputation for tearing into things in the first inning, and when they have succeeded in getting a lead they have had the incentive for hard work all the way through the game. Certainly a system complicated about such a system—but it has gotten results.

"THAT LITTLE GAME" --- ---The Crowd Confuses Him

CINCINNATI DRAWS FIRST SERIES GAME

World's Baseball Title Honors Will Be Decided in Battles Starting on Next Wednesday.

NINE GAMES TO BE PLAYED

Two Will Be Staged at Cincinnati and Next Three at Chicago—Players Declared Eligible.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Cincinnati, for the first time in its history as a National league city, will on Wednesday, October 1, witness the opening game of the series to decide the championship of the world between the Cincinnati Reds, winners of the National league pennant, and the Chicago White Sox, the prospective winners of the American league pennant. Chicago has not yet cinched the flag in the junior organization, but the national commission made its arrangement on the theory that it was almost impossible for Cleveland, the runnerup, to nose out Comiskey's club. All games are scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m.

The decision to open the baseball classic in Cincinnati was decided on the toss of a coin by Louis Comiskey, son of the owner of the Chicago club, August Herrmann, president of the Reds, called "heads" and won.

The teams will play the first two games in this city and the next three will be played in Chicago. The clubs then jump back to Cincinnati for games six and seven, if this is necessary, and before the eighth game, which will be played in Chicago, it will be decided by lot where the ninth game should be contested should the series stretch out to this length. The schedule, as drawn, calls for continuous playing on each day, weather permitting.

The umpires who will officiate in the series are William Evans and R. F. Nallin of the American league and Charles Rigler and E. C. Quigley of the National league.

J. G. Taylor Spinks of St. Louis will represent the national commission as official scorer, while Joseph M. McCready, secretary of the Baseball Writers Association of America, will represent that organization. These two officials will work in both cities and will be assigned by one member of the local chapter of the writers' association in each of the contesting cities.

The commission voted itself 1,500 tickets for distribution between the major and minor league clubs of the country. After Presidents Johnson and Heydler drew the first 100 envelopes containing requests for tickets for the games here from a large box, the meeting adjourned.

It was announced that 23 players on each club are eligible for the series. They follow:

The Players.

Chicago—Eddie Cicotte, Eddie Collins, John Collins, Urban Faber, Oscar Felsch, Charles A. Gandil, Joseph Jenkins, Joseph Jackson, William James, Richard Kerr, Harry Leibold, Grover Lowdermilk, Byrd Lynn, Harvey McClellan, Fred McMullin, J. E. Mayer, Eddie Murphy, Charles A. Risberg, Ray Schalk, J. J. Sullivan, George Weaver, R. H. Wilkinson and Claude Williams.

Cincinnati—Nick Allen, E. S. Bressler, Jacob Daubert, L. B. Duncan, Ray Fisher, H. H. Eller, Edward F. Herner, Henry Groh, William L. Kopf, Adolphe Luque, S. W. Magee, A. B. Mitchell, A. Earle Neale, William A. Rariden, Morris Rath, James Ring, Ed Roush, W. H. Ruether, H. F. Sallee, Charles H. Dee, Henry Schreiber, James L. Smith and Ivy B. Wingo.

"The attacks on Mr. Herrmann at this time are inopportune," declared Mr. Johnson, after the meeting, in speaking of the statement by Mr. Baker of the Philadelphia Nationals, that Herrmann should resign from the chairmanship of the commission. "He has given something like 17 years to baseball, and to attack him at this time, when his club has won a championship, is an insult to his integrity."

Mr. Johnson had no comment to make in regard to the action taken by certain club owners to oust him from the American league. "When the time comes for me to talk, I shall do so," Mr. Johnson said, "but until that time I have nothing to say. The books of our league are always open for inspection at any time."

It was announced that President Ban Johnson of the league would be in Cincinnati to attend the series.

ON THE GRIDIRON

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Yale resumes intercollegiate football practice Monday after a war lapse of two seasons. A new athletic director, Al Sharp, was in charge of the squad which proved a record breaker. Ninety-one candidates reported, the biggest total in history for reporting day. Of these 56 were linesmen, of the 35 backs, 16 were quarterbacks.

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Michigan began her 40th year of football yesterday when Coach Yost started his 19th annual pre-season practice. The veteran coach created a considerable surprise by sending the squad of 12 men through a short but strenuous blocking and tackling practice.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Twenty-six candidates greeted Coach E. O. Sithem when the first official football practice of the 1919 season was held at Indiana university, Monday. Sithem held a lengthy drill on the fundamentals, having the men fall on the ball, tackle the dummy and sprint about the field. Many veterans of former seasons, including several stars of last year's S. A. T. C., reported.

CHICAGO.—Thirty-seven experienced candidates, the largest squad in the history of football at the University of Chicago, reported to assistant Coach Pat Page yesterday. Coach Stagg is ill and will not take charge of the squad for a day or so.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Sixty-five candidates reported to Coach Scanlon Monday at the opening practice session of Purdue. Coach Scanlon gave the men a talk, emphasizing the need of hard work and immediate efforts to get in condition.

CHICAGO.—Thirty men, nine of them veterans of former elevens, reported for the first football practice of the year at Northwestern university. Charles Buckman expressed himself as well pleased with the season's prospects.

PURCHASE GROUND FOR PARK

Half a Block in Center of Bristow Is to Be Beautified.

Special to The World.

BRISTOW, Sept. 22.—The refunding bonds from the proceeds of which the city will buy a half block on Main street, have been issued and as soon as sold the trade will be completed. It is planned to move off the residence and store buildings on this plat and plant it in flowers, grass and trees and make a city park in the heart of the city. Later the ground can be utilized for the erection of a new school building, something the city badly needs right now.

The ground purchased cost approximately $12,000, which is $5,000 more than it could have been bought for a year ago.

SOX NEED ONLY ONE GAME TO WIN OUT

Indians Must Win Four While Chicago Is Losing Five to Nose Out American Leaders.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Arrangements for conducting the world's series, made at a meeting of the national baseball commission in Cincinnati today, are highly satisfactory to Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago Americans.

"Playing two games in Cincinnati and then coming here for three is all right so far as I am concerned," President Comiskey said. "If we had won the toss for the opening games it would have been all the same to me."

Approximately 20,000 applications for world's series tickets have piled up at the White Sox park and must be returned to the senders, as the reserved and box seats have been sold. There have been the usual protests from disappointed applicants in the method of awarding the tickets, but officials explained there was no other course to pursue.

The pennant race in the American league cannot be settled before Wednesday as neither Chicago nor Cleveland play until that day.

Chicago has five remaining games to play. The percentage figures show that if the White Sox win one of their remaining games, or Cleveland loses one, Chicago will win the pennant. If Chicago loses all five of its games and Cleveland wins four, the flag will go to Cleveland. The Cleveland club reduced Chicago's lead to four games yesterday by winning from Washington.

GLEASONS BIG FAVORITES AMONG CHICAGO FANDOM

Few followers of the national pastime in Chicago fear the outcome of the world's series and the few who harbor an idea that the Reds will win aren't making a great deal of noise. Kid Gleason's team has the almost undivided support of the rooters, on the north side as well as on the south side, and Redland fans who journey to the windy city to see the games played there will have no difficulty in laying wagers. The Chicago fans place a great deal of faith in the batting power of the Sox and believe, too, that Cicotte, Williams and Kerr compose an array of pitchers that will baffle the Red hitters.

CARL FLEMING TO BOX M'GOVERN ON THURSDAY

Carl Fleming, Tulsa featherweight, who fought the semi-windup to the Hughes-Mason bout here, will meet Benny McGovern of St. Louis at Picher Thursday. Fleming, who has been out of the ring by reason of army service, is rounding into shape again and is confident of defeating the Missourian Thursday.

Fleming has also been matched by the Oklahoma Boxing league to fight 12 rounds with Joe Nelson of New Orleans before the Muskogee Athletic club, September 29.

Preparations for Drafting in Minors Now Under Way

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 22.—Preparations for the first all-minor league draft in the history of baseball are being made by Western league club owners, who this week received instructions from J. H. Farrell, secretary of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, the subject organization regarding just how and when the draft will be held. For the first time since drawing places were instituted the national commission has left former supreme court, will have nothing to say about the matter.

An arbitrary price for players has been set, as follows: Class AA leagues shall pay for class A players $1,000, class A shall pay for class B players $1,000, class B shall pay for class C players $500, class C shall pay for class D players $200.

Conditions of trade are not permitted and payment must be made in cash.

The new rules provide that class AA teams shall draft from class A leagues only and only one man may be lost by a class A club. Class A, however, can take as many players as desired from class B leagues and clubs and class B from class C and class C from class D. In other words, Atlanta, a class A league team, for instance, can lose only one man by draft and if Louisville, for example, loses that player the other class AA teams will not be permitted to select another Atlanta athlete. Class A, on the other hand, can draw unrestricted from class B and B from C and C from D.

The dates for the draft are: Class AA, October 1, 2, 3; class A, October 5, 6, 7; classes B and C, October 8, 9, 10.

The drawings will be made in Farrell's office, Auburn, N. Y.

MEMBERS OF MOB SUED BY PORUM MAYOR, THE VICTIM

Special to The World.

MUSKOGEE, Sept. 22.—D. E. Herschelman and his wife filed suits for $35,000 each against 26 citizens of the town of Porum, near here, as a result of a whipping given Herschelman in September, 1918. The young lawyer was accused of being pro-German because he represented draft evaders.

He charges in his petition that he was dragged from his home, turned over a steel oil barrel and whipped with a blacksnake by a mob of citizens. Mrs. Herschelman says that she was held by members of the mob and compelled to witness the flogging given her husband. The couple moved from Porum to Muskogee. Herschelman was formerly mayor of the town of Porum.

PAT MORAN IS ONE OF GAME'S HARD LOSERS

One of the reasons for the success of Pat Moran in baseball is that he never stops fighting, not even after the game is over. Ed McKeever, part owner of the Brooklyn club, cited a little incident recently which may give the fans an insight into the character of Moran. After a game in Brooklyn which the Reds lost, Pat was coming out of the dressing room. McKeever spoke to the manager and said: "Well, Pat, how do you feel?"

"I fee like murdering seven men. The idea of losing that game that we should have tucked in the bat bags seven times. It won't do, that kind of playing. It won't do, and I won't stand for it." And then Pat stumped away indignant.

"Another manager," declared McKeever, "might have laughed off the defeat, but not Moran. He was fighting mad."

FEDERAL GRAND JURY IS EMPANELLED AT MUSKOGEE

Special to The World.

MUSKOGEE, Sept. 22.—Urging especially the investigation of reported violations of the national food laws, Federal Judge Robert Williams Monday afternoon empanelled a grand jury of 18, the first of the fall term of the United States court for eastern Oklahoma. Food hoarding and profiteering, internal revenue act violations, liquor traffic and Indian affairs are among the cases that will be probed thoroughly by the jury, which is to report within the next two weeks.

Conducted under the direction of United States Attorney McGinnis, whose resignation is to take effect in about one month, investigations into alleged violations of the federal food laws are expected to result in the return of several indictments against food dealers, both here and in other towns in the district.

SKELETON RESTORED TO LIFE

You start to die the moment you are born. This is true of everyone. Actual physical decay starts at birth. It continues to the grave. But a man or woman in good health never thinks of such things. Gloomy, depressed, melancholy thoughts are the result of disease. Brooding over "wrongs," nervousness that makes you startled at every sudden noise and afraid of your own shadow, insomnia, worrying—all these indicate weakness and exhaustion. In this condition you lose your appetite and lose weight. Your flesh falls from you. You waste away inch by inch. In time you become a veritable living skeleton—not living, in the true sense of the word—but eking out a miserable existence that is close to death itself. Your ambition is gone. You become listless and indifferent to everything. You move about as though you were heavily weighed down with chains, a prisoner of pains and weakness.

Nine times out of 10 such conditions are the result of acid stomach, the cause of so many thousands of cases of long drawn chronic sickness and almost intolerable misery. Acid stomach should be treated at the first sign of the first symptom. Take Pepsinol, the tonic digestive that is gently laxative and corrective in its effects. Pepsinol is a marvelous reconstructive, alterative, tonic and strength-builder. What a blessing Pepsinol has proved in thousands of cases arising from stomach troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation. Those who know, say that Pepsinol has time and again restored living skeletons of men and women to life, strength and virile vitality. It builds up strength and restores health, gives you a hearty appetite and corrects constipation. Don't wait until acid stomach has you in its clutches. Take Pepsinol NOW.

When you thing of "pep" think of Pepsinol.

Genuine Pepsinol is made only by The Peplas Medicine Co., Memphis, Tenn., and is in strict accordance with the Medical Standards of the United States Pharmacopeia.
