CUMMINS ATTACKS TREATY

Iowa Senator Points Out Failures in League to Meet Object

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The German peace treaty got nearly six hours of speeding up in the senate today, but without reaching the Fall amendments, which had been made the special order of business by a strict party vote earlier in the week.

Chairman Lodge of the foreign relations committee called up the pact two hours ahead of the regular schedule, and from that time until adjournment it was discussed continually. A big crowd looked on from the galleries.

Just before the discussion started with an address by Senator Cummins, republican of Iowa, attacking the league of nations covenant, republicans and democrats alike had heard reports that the president, on his way home from his western speaking trip, would be advised Monday, perhaps by some democratic leaders that there was no hope of ratification of the treaty without reservations. There was no reference, however, in the long debate to the president's cancellation of the rest of his speaking program.

Democrats Act.

Some prominent democratic senators said today they planned to advise the president to carefully consider acceptance of some sort of reservations, interpretative in character, at least. It was said to be possible that their advice would favor recommendations that the reservations be accepted or that the treaty be withdrawn from the senate at least temporarily.

These democratic spokesmen are convinced that the treaty cannot be ratified without reservations of some description. They conceded, however, that there might be a row over the democratic advice given the president in view of the adamant position taken against reservations by Senator Hitchcock, democrat, Nebraska, the administration leader in the treaty fight.

Jones to Tell Stand.

In announcing in the senate today that he would make known his position next week on the treaty and league covenant, Senator Jones, republican, Washington, declared his recent vote against Senator Lodge's motion to postpone consideration of the Fall amendments had no significance.

After a colloquy between Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, in charge of the administration forces, and Senator Lodge, concerning method of procedure relating to the Fall amendments, which would exempt the United States from representation on Europe commissions created under the treaty, reading of that part of the printed text taking in the last of the 12 amendments, was ordered. But the reading was never started. Senator Hitchcock had conceded that the agreement was to vote on the amendments today, but waiting for the record Senator Lodge and others showed only candidates such was to begin today and in order to save time, it was further agreed to get through with the reading before opening the debate.

Johnson Hits Back.

Senator Williams, democrat, of Mississippi, coming late into the chamber, asked permission to put into the record certain documents sent to him from California concerning Senator Johnson's fight against the league of nations. Senator Williams had just remarked that Senator Johnson was returning to California to continue the attack on the president, and to long after his railroad fences, when the latter walked down the aisle with fire in his eye.

That opened the flood gates of oratory, and the senate never got back to its reading.

Senator Johnson, who started tonight for California, pleaded for adoption of his amendment to the league covenant, which would give the United States the same calling power as Great Britain and declared he was going among the people to point out to them that the part was an affront to the patriotism of the American people.

FOR THE GLORY OF YOUR RACE.

For the glory of your race
And the honor of your name
Do your best, where e'er your place—
Be too proud to stoop to shame

Do whatever life shall ask,
So when finished, it shall be
Your performance of a task—
Fit for all your friends to see.

For the father's name you wear,
And the mother love you know,
And the trust in you they share—
Be your best where e'er you go.

Never turn from what is right
Although strong the lure may be,
Never do by day or night
Deeds you would not have men see.

Tell, whatever be your place
And whatever tasks you claim,
For the glory of your race
And the honor of your name.

BRITISH PREPARE FOR FINISH FIGHT IN RAIL WALKOUT

All Available Means Employed to Defeat Strike.

TIEUP IS THREATENED

Miners and Transport Workers Expected to Join Movement

INVOKE WARTIME RULES

Food Rules Restored—Midnight Time Fixed for Men to Quit

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Dispatches from the provinces arriving in London since midnight indicate that the call for the railway strike has been generally responded to, although in some centers with reluctance.

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The government tonight was marshalling all the facilities at its disposal with the avowed intention of fighting to a bitter finish a country-wide strike of railway men, which was due to begin at midnight as a result of the refusal of the National Union of Railway Men to accept the government's proposals regarding the fixing of a permanent rate of wages as a basis for further negotiations.

From an authoritative source it was learned tonight that the government intends to use its every resource, even to the employment of armed forces if necessary, to combat what was characterized as a "heinous offense" and "a strike against the life of the community."

Already preparations have been made to continue the transport of necessities by motor cars, the war office has suspended all leave of absence and further demobilization of the military forces, and the food minister has revived virtually all the war measures regarding the rationing of food.

The government announces that in order to assure food supplies during the strike it may be necessary entirely to suspend the transportation of coal.

"I do not think there is a shadow of a doubt that the miners and the transport workers will join the strike," said J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railway Men, in an interview with the Daily Mail. According to the Daily Mail, the government also expects the miners and transport workers who with the railway men are members of the "triple alliance" to join the strike.

The food controller tonight issued an order virtually reviving the war measures regarding food, namely, by prohibiting hoarding beyond one week's supply and applying the ration of meats to public eating houses, which will not be allowed to serve sugar, milk, or butter separately, except to children under 16 years of age.

The order comes into operation tomorrow. Local food controllers are empowered to fix maximum prices of articles which previously have not been affected by such methods.

All persons able to drive vehicles are invited to offer their services to the government.

The decision of the National Union of Railway Men to strike came at the final conference this morning between

Outrageous Army Cruelties Abroad Found by Committee

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Bringing a report of atrocities perpetrated by American expeditionary forces overseas to immediate attention of congress, a committee of army prison horrors here tonight on the [illegible] Armistice from Brest. The party was composed of Representatives Rainey, Kelly of Pennsylvania, Johnson, South Dakota, chairman, Oscar N. Bland of Indiana, and Henry D. Flood of Virginia. Conditions in army prisons among those visited, it was said, with special emphasis laid off prison Camp 2 near Paris, the committee stated.

Conditions were "appalling", Representative Bland said.

"Nothing like this treatment of our men had ever been known before in the history of the American arms. We have copies of records, reports and testimony of inspectors, court martial officers and so on, to be presented in definite detail."

Representative Bland said that colonel officers and general officers were directly responsible for the numerous atrocities [illegible] Colonel Gerhardt, he said, was one of colonels he should have.

He said that General Harris for months was in the same building as 10 Rue St. Anne, where [illegible] of outrages were committed. Lack of food was [illegible] and [illegible] were before his [illegible] an inspecting outside the [illegible] conditions were on fire in his office, Mr. Bland said.

The report [illegible] that General Harris was the [illegible] guardian of the [illegible] man in the [illegible] adjutant general's office to prevent [illegible] departments had [illegible] to recommend the trial [illegible] court-martial [illegible] heard.

These facts stated Mr. Bland, show that the most horrible and revolting [illegible] exist, and that the higher officers responsible have not [illegible] made to stand on their [illegible] which they are responsible. Redress for the wrong has been offered by the war department. It is [illegible] on to them.

Congressman Bland said, [illegible] is the intention of the committee to see that every man in any way responsible for the outrages will be brought to justice before the forum of public opinion.

Wilson's Messages Are Not Unfavorable to Italy Says Report

By The Associated Press.

ROME, Sept. 26.—The Stefani agency, the semi-official Italian news agency, denies that President Wilson has demanded the expulsion of Gabriele d'Annunzio from Fiume, or threatened an economic blockade of Italy.

The news agency adds that President Wilson sent two dispatches, one of them reaching the American delegation in Paris Thursday morning and the other arriving in Rome this morning. Both of them were without menace, according to the news agency, and expressed the most cordial sentiments towards Italy and said that modifications in the Fiume situation were possible if the basic principles were safeguarded.

ROME, Monday, Sept. 22.—"It would be difficult to find a graver period than this in the whole history of modern Italy," said Foreign Minister Tittoni today in alluding to the situation here.

One report has it that King Victor Emmanuel may abdicate and another that civil war is imminent between the nationalists and militarist factions, on the one side and the forces controlled by the official socialists on the other.

ATTEMPT AT JAIL DELIVERY IS MADE

Men Sentenced to Serve 50 Years on Robbery Charge Make Desperate Try for Liberty.

HIGGINS IS FIRED UPON

Jack Berry and J. C. Marsh Armed With Knife and Gun Attack Jailers and Trusties.

By knocking down a trusty who was giving them some water, and securing the keys to their cell, then making their way to the jailer's room and firing at him with a revolver which they had mysteriously gotten in their possession, Jack Berry and J. C. Marsh, sentenced to serve 50 years in the state penitentiary for robbery, made a bold attempt to escape from the county jail about 9 o'clock last night.

Berry and Marsh had been sentenced to serve 50 years in the state penitentiary for conjoint robbery of a drug store on West Ninth, July 23, and the American drug store at Madison and First July 27, by Judge Redmond S. Cole in the district court Thursday.

According to a story told by Deputy Sheriff Noah Langley, Lawrence Winn, a man living in Sand Springs had been arrested for highway robbery several days ago and placed in the county jail awaiting trial. He had been allowed to mail on other prisoners and had been given the keys to the cells upon several occasions. It is also said that he accompanied visitors inside the jail and had been allowed to examine packages of food which had been given to the prisoners.

Winn had entered the cell where the two men were kept to give them some water when they seized him and threw him to the floor, forcing him to give up the keys. They unlocked the door to the cell and went into the room where the two jailers, J. M. Grey and Tom Higgins, together with several trusties, were sitting. Marsh drew a large knife and Berry aimed a gun at Higgins, demanding him to open the door that led to the elevator. Higgins started for his revolver and Berry fired at him but missed his aim. Winn had come out of the cell and ordered Berry in the act of shooting Higgins, grasp the gun and began trying to take the pistol from his hands giving the jailer a chance to get his gun and prevent Berry from firing a second shot. As soon as the prisoners saw they were handily outnumbered they went into their cell.

Examination later revealed that one of the bars to their cell had been sawed in two, showing that they had been planning a breakout.

Winn was placed in a cell and it is said will be held in jail as a witness of assault committed in the jail.

The two convicts, Berry and Marsh, will be taken to the state penitentiary Monday.

MEXICAN LEADERS UNITE UNDER VILLA IS REPORT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Information that all the revolutionary factions in Mexico had united under Pancho Villa in a movement against the Carranza government was received by the state department today. It was reported that Villa had issued a manifesto calling on the Mexican people to join his forces in overthrowing the Carranza government.

Dispatches about the union say Villa, Felipe Angeles, Manuel Chao and Francisco Murguia, who have been reported as being in the field against the Carranza government, have agreed to support Adolfo de la Huerta, who is said to be in Sonora, as provisional president of Mexico, and have agreed to support Villa for the office of president when the next regular election for president is held.

Another report received at the state department today said Villa had issued a manifesto calling on the people of Mexico to join his forces in overthrowing the Carranza government.

GOMPERS HOLDS RIGHT OF UNIONS ISSUE INVOLVED

Demand Voice in Determining Conditions of Employment.

STRIKE AT BETHLEHEM

Committee Meets Today to Plan Walkout Set for Monday

DEADLOCK IS CONTINUING

Little Change Apparent at End of Fifth Day of Steel Tieup

By The Associated Press.

Chief developments on the fifth day of the great steel strike were:

1.—Definition of the strike issue as the right of employes "to be heard, to organize and to have some voice in determining conditions under which they labor," made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American federation of labor, before the senate labor committee in Washington.

2.—Calling of a meeting of the strikers' national committee in Pittsburgh today to make final arrangements for the strike of 35,000 employes of the Bethlehem Steel company set for Monday.

3.—Announcement that John D. Rockefeller jr., principal owner of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co., will take no part in the strike of 6,000 workers at the Pueblo plant.

4.—Claim by union officials that workers in the Youngstown district at a meeting held to vote on the question of returning to work, had decided against such a move.

5.—Condemnation of "foreign agitators" and commendation of Sheriff William Haddock of Allegheny county by a coroner's jury in Pittsburgh, which returned a verdict of "death from gunshot wounds inflicted by persons unknown" while an attack was being made on deputy sheriffs during a riot, in the case of a woman organizer and strikers whom the steel workers claimed had been murdered at West Natrona, Pa.

6.—Apparent deadlock, marked by lack of violence, apparently prevailing in the chief steel centers at the end of the fifth day.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The issue in the nation-wide steel strike was defined today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, as recognition of the right of employes "to be heard, to organize and to have some voice in determining conditions under which they labor."

Appearing as labor's second witness in the senate labor committee's investigation of the steel strike, President Gompers drew from his experience as chairman of the first committee to organize the steel industry and traced the history of organized labor's effort to unionize the steel workers. When he finished the committee adjourned until next Wednesday, at which time Judge Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, has promised to appear.

President Gompers condemned unofficially the "autocratic" in the western Pennsylvania steel centers and repeated many of the charges made before the committee yesterday by John P. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the strikers' committee.

Full responsibility for the strike is laid at the door of Judge Gary, who could have averted it, he said, by granting a conference to the strike committee.

Charges of violence against the steel workers were made by Senator Kenyon, republican, of Iowa, and Senator Calder, republican, of New York, committee secretary, in the strike, was met by Gompers with the question that Foster be given a stenographer to record his testimony.

These were general charges made when Senator Philips, republican, of Colorado, read statements of Governor Shoup, of Colorado, in the effort to show that there was a "deep-laid plot" to open steel towns, which Senator Kenyon contended was proof that Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. had dealt with what Senator Wolcott, Delaware, republican, described as "the Bolshevik element."

Another startling revelation of Senator Kenyon's inquiry was that some steel companies employed men in reference to specific questions and of a personal nature, such as whether they were married, whether they owned their own homes, and whether they had any relatives in Europe.

Senator Kenyon said that the steel workers had complained that they were "worked like dogs" and that the men were working seven days a week and that the steel workers were "worse off than the negroes in the South."

Senator Kenyon said he had received a telegram from Governor Lowden, of Illinois, stating that the governor had ordered the adjutant general to investigate the charges of the strike leaders that the steel workers were being "starved into submission."

President Wilson is now speeding back to Washington after calling off his speaking engagements at Wichita and Oklahoma City yesterday on account of illness which has compelled him to cancel immediate engagements to recuperate from illness which began with an attack of influenza at Paris.

JOHNSON TO DEMAND FULL AMERICANISM

Senator Tells Purpose of Tour in Senate in Sharp Exchange With Senator John Sharp Williams.

WILL TOUR ENTIRE COAST

Addresses Will be Made in Principal Cities in Answer to Appeal Made by President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—"I am going to preach the doctrine of Americanism."

This was the answer made by Senator Johnson on the floor of the senate today to Senator Williams of Mississippi that Senator Johnson was leaving for California this afternoon to "mend political fences."

Senator Williams placed in the record a memorial from California republicans urging that Senator Johnson support the league of nations and then charged that Senator Johnson was going to California to remedy the difference of opinion.

Portland, Spokane, Tacoma and Seattle are named in the Pacific coast cities outside of California in which he will speak, Senator Hiram Johnson announced this afternoon when he started east to resume his speaking campaign against ratification of the treaty in its present form.

Johnson expects to speak on his San Francisco trip Tuesday night. He plans to address some meetings in all the principal cities west of the Mississippi during the next two or three weeks, and it is on the Pacific coast that he particularly desires to reply to arguments in behalf of the acceptance of the league of nations covenant President Wilson addressed there in his tour.

Daniels Is Asked To Explain Marine Incident in Italy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Secretary Daniels was asked in a resolution by Senator Knox, republican, Pennsylvania, adopted today by the senate, to report whether American marines were landed at Trau, Dalmatia, to compel its evacuation by Italian forces, as reported in Press dispatches from Copenhagen and Paris.

A resolution by Senator Lodge also adopted without discussion, asked the state department whether marines had been sent to Europe to aid in carrying out provisions of the German peace treaty for a plebiscite in Schleswig Holstein.

'UNKNOWN PERSONS' KILL MINE LEADER

Coroner's Jury Renders Verdict in Case of Mrs. Fannie Sellens, Murdered in Riot.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 26.—That they came to their death "from gunshot wounds inflicted by persons unknown" to the jury while an attack was being made on deputy sheriffs who were fired at a crowd of striking miners at the mine of the Allegheny Coal & Coke Co. at West Natrona, Pa.

"We deplore and criticize the foreign agitators who build anarchy and Bolshevistic doctrines into the minds of the un-American and uninformed," continued the verdict.

Coroner R. M. Jamison, in his charge to the jury said:

"From the testimony introduced here it is a certainty that a riot occurred. There were no innocent bystanders therefore and everyone in the mill was guilty of rioting. The deputy sheriffs did their duty when they fired."

The killing of Mrs. Sellens has attracted nation-wide attention, because union officials have declared that she had been "murdered" by the sheriffs.

Immediate Engagements Are All Cancelled by President

MUST TAKE VACATION

Cessation From Duties Ordered by Grayson for Recovery.

RETURNS TO WASHINGTON

Unable to Speak at Wichita Special Train Returns to Capital.

CONDITION "NOT ALARMNIG"

Assurance Given by Physician—Still Feels the Effects of Flu.

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Sept. 26. "Upon the advice of Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the president's physician, it has become necessary to cancel all the president's engagements for the immediate future." The statement was issued late this afternoon by Secretary Joseph P. Tumulty.

Doctor Grayson's statement follows:

"President Wilson's condition is due to overwork. The trouble dates back to an attack of influenza last April in Paris, from which he has never entirely recovered. The president's activities on this trip have overtaxed his strength and he is suffering from nervous exhaustion. His condition is not alarming, but it will be necessary for his recovery that he have rest and quiet for a considerable time.

(Signed) "Grayson."

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Sept. 26.—Ill from over-exertion on his long tour for the peace treaty, President Wilson today cancelled the speaking dates remaining on his schedule and turned back toward Washington.

The president acted under orders from his personal physician, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, who said in a formal statement late this afternoon that Mr. Wilson was suffering from "nervous exhaustion" and that while his condition was not alarming, a considerable period of rest would be "necessary for his recovery."

After a few days at the capital, where the president's special train will arrive Sunday morning at the end of a fast run half way across the continent, the president may go to some secluded resort for a complete vacation from the official cares which have occupied his attention continuously for many months.

Abandons Reception.

A plan for Mr. Wilson to go to New York late next week to welcome King Albert, the sovereign of Belgium, virtually has been abandoned, but the president expects to receive the nation's visitor later at the white house. All other engagements for the immediate future have been cancelled.

After a night of illness, during which Doctor Grayson and Mrs. Wilson were in almost constant attendance upon him, the president decided to abandon his trip shortly after 9 o'clock this morning while his train was at Wichita, Kan. He did not leave his private car there and during most of the day he was in bed. In the afternoon and evening he got some sleep and was able to take some nourishment.

Since he left Washington, September 3, the president has delivered 40 speeches for the treaty and when he reached Wichita had traveled more than 8,200 miles on his original 10,000-mile schedule. Besides the Wichita speech, he was to have spoken tonight at Oklahoma City, tomorrow at Little Rock and Memphis and Monday at Louisville, reaching Washington Tuesday.

Cancels Engagements.

Cancellation of the remainder of the trip was announced in a statement by Secretary Tumulty and later the secretary issued another statement announcing cancellation of the president's other engagements for the immediate future.

Although Mr. Wilson's illness did not take an aggressive turn until late last night he has not been entirely well since he left Washington on September 3. A slight cold several times has handicapped him in speaking, and for several days he has suffered from headache. After leaving his train for a three-mile walk late yesterday near Pueblo, Colo., how-
