London to Keep Her Police Women Since They Made Good Cops

LONDON, Oct. 18.—After 10 months of trial the London authorities of the metropolitan police have decided that women police officers have made good and the few men who were left to return. They were in charge of women prisoners and children, searching women and performing such duties as the protection of the city. They had exercised much tact, November it was felt that the [illegible] had proved and they were dismissed.

The creation of feminine officers from the United States to London and the fear that an order of discipline might follow the signs of life in the trenches induced the police to [illegible] the picked women for duty in the city of London.

LAND FALLS BEFORE HIGH WAR TAXATION

English Landlords Unable to Hold Estates With Demands of Government

LONDON, Oct. 18.—England is changing hands because those who are high landed proprietors cannot afford to own and maintain their estates, according to accumulating evidence of the past few days.

"The crushing taxation which has resulted from the war," said the notice sent by the duke of Rutland to his tenants, coupled with the great rise in the price of all commodities and labor, have placed such burdens on my property as to compel me to largely diminish the size of my estate." The duke of Rutland sold his Harby estates in the vale of Belvoir, much to the regret of his tenants.

Brigg. Gen. William Strong of Thorpe Hall, Peterbourough, is another landed proprietor who is parting with his property. He explained to the villagers that he regretted to do so, but as one-third of his income goes direct to taxation, it was impossible for him to maintain the hall and the estate.

Property of this class is being bought by the men who made their fortunes during the war, but in almost every instance, [illegible] it would be a misnomer of persons rather than being taken by one.

PROHIBITION HAS NOT HELPED SODA TRADE

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Americans are rushing to the ice cream soda fountains under the new dry regime. This was the gist of an address made by Asa T. Gardner, president of the National Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, at the convention of the association here.

"No sir, it was all wrong—all wrong," said Mr. Gardner. "Lately we were told that the alcohol secured in cream would turn to sweet, but the expected rush failed to materialize. If anything business began to fall off."

Another paradox of the ice cream trade, Mr. Gardner explained, was that more of the dainty were consumed in cold climates than in warm.

REAL Y. W. C. A. HOSTESS HOUSE IN ARCHANGEL

PARIS, Oct. 18.—The American Y. W. C. A. hostess house in Archangel, Russia, is now a regular Y. W. C. A. building for girls with a fully equipped recreation field.

The building has been turned into a Y. W. C. A. for the use of all girls in Archangel and particularly for girls who are separated from their families and are living alone in Archangel, working in the larger offices, such as the telegraph telephone post-office, banks, British general headquarters, the city and state government offices. This step was taken immediately after American troops left Archangel.

The recreation field is part of a large garden just back of the American embassy building and is fitted up with tennis courts, a volley ball field, baseball and basketball fields. The garden has fine old trees and paths which wind through it and gardens to the river road. It is quiet and beautiful, an ideal recreation place for the girls for whom it was secured.

Classes are being started in English, French, stenography, typewriting, first aid, home nursing and elementary dietetics. Already the registration is larger than had been expected.

DAILY CONCERTS ARE GIVEN FOR ITALIANS

ROME, Oct. 18.—Nightly concerts at the Y. W. C. A. camp for industrial girls just outside of Florence, have required themselves into community concerts, which are attended by peasants for miles around the camp.

At dusk the [illegible] is taken out as the lights and the peasants begin gathering in the wood about the camp. The line can be traced down the hill to the planted algarets of the [illegible] which glow like fireflies on all sides of the camp.

The peasants ask always for Italian Americans—the American national hymn—which they always applaud enthusiastically. It has come to be known as the "Buona Notte" [illegible] and it is always played the last thing in the evening.

This camp was established as a recreation center where girls who had suffered from under-nourishment and poor housing conditions during the five war years might go for short vacations.
