MINE LEADER DENIES FRICTION WITH LEWIS

Frank Farrington of Illinois Says Reports of Friction With Acting Head Not Cause of Strike.

IS ATTEMPT AT DISSENSION

Declares Rumors Circulated Are Only Part of Plan to Cause Break in Ranks of Unionists.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Indications are for a prolonged coal strike, Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois Coal Miners' union, declared in an exclusive interview today just after he emphasized that not one of the 90,000 miners in Illinois are at work except those authorized by the union.

Mr. Farrington reviewed the entire strike situation. His interview came in the midst of an executive session of the state union board, called to consider the strike. He talked freely as the Indianapolis restraining injunction had not as yet been served on him. Neither has it been served on any of the other state union heads. The writs, however, are expected momentarily.

"What is the talk about disruption of the union," Mr. Farrington was asked.

He hesitated a moment, but when published articles were recalled in which it was alleged the present crisis was precipitated through rivalry between himself and John L. Lewis, acting international president, for supremacy in the union, he replied:

"There has been and there is a concerted movement on foot by large financial interests to break up organized labor in America. These reports about Lewis and myself are only a part of it. Lewis and I have no difference of opinion and are on the most friendly terms. It is a feeble attempt to create dissension in the ranks of the union heads.

"Arbitration? Why talk about it? We are emphatically opposed to it in view of the operators attitude in the conference preceding the strike statements by Edgar Wallace in Washington to the contrary notwithstanding. Mr. Wallace has no authority to make such statements. He is merely our executive representative in Washington and has no official title in the union."

The Proposed Treatment Rooms.

According to a statement printed in the official bulletin of the Retail Merchants association of October 24-19, the Seventh Day Adventist church of Tulsa had made application for the associations endorsement to solicit funds with which to establish a headquarters to care for the poor and was not passed upon by the associations executive committee.

Regarding this statement the church takes this occasion to state that this is a misunderstanding of the facts in the case, as we are not out seeking funds for a poor benefit at all. Since the Red Cross, Humane society and Salvation Army are doing that kind of work, and we do not expect to compete against them, on the contrary we endorse and assist their efforts to the extent of our ability.

What we are doing, however, is soliciting funds to establish a school of dietetics and hydrotherapy to train nurses and treat patients free of all cost to anyone rich or poor. The main idea is to augment the city and county's health forces without cost to those who wish to take these courses, provided those who apply for training are morally fit to represent the work.

Some of our solicitors were informed by a few of the merchants that it would be negessary to obtain the endorsement of the Merchants association before they would be free to subscribe to our fund, but on placing the matter before the committee we were informed that as our work was different to the Salvation Army or Red Cross and came under the head of church work, they could not pass on it, as they had no jurisdiction over church matters in any form; it being a question for the people to decide themselves, as to whether they should or should not assist. We also placed the matter before the chamber of commerce and received the same information from them.

The method to be employed in this institution are the same as this church adopted and employed in Battle Creek, Mich.; Washington, D. C.; Los Angeles, Cal.; Melbourne, Australia; London, England; Canton, China, and many other leading cities of the world with pronounced success. We do not limit these lessons and treatments to church members.

We are aware that there are many calls on the business men for various enterprises, some of which are worthy and some fraudulent, and in view of this we invite the public to an investigation of our proposal, and full information will be given anyone desiring such by calling on the church pastor, W. E. Barr at 920 East Sixth street, directly behind the new church at the corner of Central Park and Sixth, or ring him at Osage 2905.

We have started out to get $5,000 to relieve the church of a small encumbrance and establish this school and treatment rooms which is a very small amount, yet ample to care for what we intend starting with. About $2,500 has been subscribed and a little over $1,500 paid in so far. The campaign will be continued until the full amount is obtained and paid in before the school and rooms will be opened. We haven't started this to fail or defraud anyone. We work on strictly Christian principles only.

Crowned It.

A country schoolmaster had two pupils, one of whom was a favorite. One morning it happened that these two boys were late, and were called to account for it.

"You must have heard the bell, boys. Why did you not come?"

"Please sir," said the favorite, "I was dreaming I was going to California, and I thought the school bell was the steamboat bell as I was going in."

"Very well," said the master.

"And now, sir," turning to the other, "what have you to say for yourself?"

"Please, sir, I—I was just waitin' to see Tom off!"

A New Jersey inventor has devised a way to reproduce musical or other phonograph records requiring two or more disks, the needle passing from a completed one to the starting point on the next.
