Demand for Fuel Oil Still Continues

Frantic purchasers of fuel oil are offering more than $4 per barrel for immediate shipment, so bad is the situation becoming. It is certainly to be hoped that the miners' strike may be settled shortly and one thing is certain and that is that oil will hereafter play a much larger part in the way of supplying fuel than ever before. Kerosene is going at about 1 cent a gallon over the market price, so strong is the demand.

In the Okmulgee District.

There is much of interest in the Okmulgee district and the possibilities down that way are still as great as ever, in fact it would appear that within the next few months some new pools will be uncovered that will equal anything heretofore found in that whole district.

For instance the well that Waite Phillips has in the top of the sand in the southeast of 22-14-11, northwest of the Youngstown pool, is likely to open up something as large, if not larger, than the famous pool to the southeast because the history of all these trends beginning down in the old Morris field is that there is at regular intervals a new pool where the sand raises and a corresponding dry spots in between where the sand dips. It would look as though Mr. Phillips with his 400 acres under lease has as good a gamble, if not better, than if he were drilling pretty close to the edge of the Youngstown pool. The well has been a fishing job for a long time with plenty of oil showing on top of the sand. There are other very likely looking spots and something new can be looked for any time.

Okmulgee people are furnishing the big news of the day on account of the Deaner & Jamison 20,000,000-foot gas well in the southwest corner of the north half of the northeast of 22-11-11. It is 10 feet in the sand the top of which is found at 2,440 feet and is two locations south of a good gas well recently completed by the same people. Gas from the latter well had been used by the Kingwood Oil company, who have distributed it in Henryetta and Weeletka.

J. C. Finch and others, drilling in the southeast of the southwest of the southeast of 13-14-13 have 2,000,000 feet of gas and the well is spraying oil from sand found at 1,830 feet.

The Oklahoma Natural is drilling in the northeast corner of 5-15-11 has 20 feet of sand found at 2,500 feet, but the well is being drilled deeper for general results.

The Indiahoma Refining company and George A. Simond who just now are among Okmulgee's best and most active operators, are the real heroes of the day when it comes to bringing in oil wells as their Nos. 4 and 5 in the northwest of 13-14-11 are both showing for big producers. No. 4 is only eight feet in the sand found at 2,821 feet and is making 600 barrels. No. 5 is only six feet in the sand found at 2,840 feet and the well is making 300 barrels. The Henry Oil company interests and the Oklahoma Petroleum & Gasoline Co. are getting a well in the Wilcox sand at 2,730 feet, which is certainly high for that locality, in their No. 2, which is the second location west of the southeast corner of the southwest of 1-14-11.

Waite Phillips, drilling near the old Salt creek pool, which furnished plenty of excitement when oil was $0 cents a barrel, is down 1,840 feet on the Tobler in the northeast corner of 23-13-11.

Mr. Phillips has also made a location at the center of the west line of the Amanda Adams farm in 13-13 about six miles west of Okmulgee and is lucky enough to get 'em any old place.

Mr. Phillips is on top of the sand at 2,780 feet with his No. 5 Wilmer Stake in 12-14-11 and it is interesting to note that his No. 4 had a showing for a 40 or 50-barrel well in the Youngstown sand.

Mr. Phillips is also drilling a deep test that is well located to compound the greatest interest as he is testing his No. 1 Tucker Moulton farm in the northeast of 26-12-11 and is now drilling at 3,700 feet. He will go to the 4,500-foot level which by the way was the depth that the Cosden, Wilcox & South Well that started so much drilling down that way was decided for when it started. That well got oil at 300 feet and the entire base has been drilled up to that depth. If memory serves correctly there was one well at least, drilled for the deep pay by J. S. Cosden and his associates but it is doubtful if it went after the Wilcox sand.

Geologists Can Get Busy.

The Texas company well in 11-14-8 is said to be in the Wheeler sand but now comes the report that this is the same sand found up in the Osage which is called the Pers sand and if so it ought to respond readily to a shot. The geologists ought to be able to designate this sand as in the four drilled by J. Garfield Buell in 31-15-9 they got the Perin sand at 2,415 to 2,540, got the Wheeler sand at 2,526-2,400, and best of all had 160 feet of Bartlesville sand from 2,730 to 2,890. It should be easy for geologists and is interesting to note that the oil is of a light green color which is prevalent in that township, however.

Another well that the geologists might easily figure out is the Marell Oil company's test in 29-14-8 northwest of Cushing which is still making 450 barrels after a foot or two of deeper drilling. It is called the Bartlesville because it produces so much oil and the owners say that they don't care what sand it is so long as it is showing so much oil every day.

And another even more important question might be settled by the geologists, namely, as to whether or not the Red river outlines a structure at Burkburnett and if so how long has the said structure been there. They might settle an argument over which some of the politicians at Oklahoma City are becoming much het up.

Refinery Has Changed Hands.

The Merry Oil company of Tulsa has purchased the plant of the Acme Refining company at Jennings and has taken over with it pipe lines and storage tanks. It is near the Republic refinery at Jennings also owned by the Merry people.

In Chautauqua County, Kan.

The Barnsdall Oil company is drilling at 1,550 feet in its No. 1 in the northeast of 31-32-11.

With the Oil Men

J. E. Brammer, formerly with the Carter Oil company, has accepted a position as assistant treasurer for the Producers and Refiners corporation.

W. H. Gray left last night for Henryetta and will take a few days off shooting birds in the wilds of Hughes county. He is accompanied by a party of St. Louis people.

Judge Means of the firm of Gulsser and Means, who has been hunting in Louisiana, has expressed to his home friends a barrel of fine ducks which proves that he is the real thing with a shot gun.

Charles I. O'Neill, who has been writing some mighty good oil news for the Okmulgee Democrat, has been selected by the Okmulgee chamber of commerce as publicity man. It is a good thing.
