Stocks Irregular

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Announcement that the decision of the lower courts in one of the long pending Southern Pacific oil land cases was the outstanding feature of today's professional and irregular stock market.

The news, which preceded the opening of the session, was followed by wild buying in Southern Pacific at an extreme rise of 14 points to 109, the convertible 5 per cent bonds rising 4¾ points and American Oil, a Southern Pacific property, 4 points.

Many other stocks were favorably influenced by the judge in these cases, but the advance lost much of its force before noon.

Rallies of the last hour were featured by motors and the principal food shares, the former on a report at the end by the greater strength of United States Steel and related adventures in Mexican and Pan American petroleums. Sales amounted to 1,050,000 shares.

There was no material change in the easier local monetary situation.

Bond dealers reported a better demand for investment issues while was not active out of the exchange, where trade activities in Liberty and Victory issues were more marked (regular). Total sales par value aggregated $23,000,000.

Much of the present unrest is caused by a lack of confidence in one another. Why should not business take the lead and make every transaction on a strictly ethical basis? This would inspire confidence and help allay the unrest. The article on page two, which outlines such a policy, is a reprint from the Merchants' Journal of Topeka, Kan., and will be of interest to every business man and woman in the city. It will be good for your boy or girl to read too.—Adv.

SMART MUSICAL COMEDY COMING

Frank Dobson and His Thirteen Sirens at the Orpheum Tomorrow.

Hailed as the smartest musical comedy that has appeared on the big-time this season, Frank Dobson and his 13 sirens, who open a four days engagement at the orpheum tomorrow comes to this city with the prestige of the highest compliments from dramatic critics and theater managers in the big cities of any musical organization that has been on tour in the southwest.

When this act headlined at the Kansas City Orpheum six weeks ago the Kansas City Star gave it most enthusiastic praise. At the Palace and Majestic theaters later Dobson and his sirens were the hit of the bills.

The act runs over 30 minutes, carries 17 people, mostly girls and a carload of special scenery.

Three other good acts appear with Dobson and his sirens here, one of which, Rockwell and Fox, "two noble nuts sailing the ocean of nonsense," is a big-time headline feature. Stuart and Keeley, dancers, and Jessie Miller, in exclusive songs, complete Sunday's show, which is looked forward to by the Orpheum management as perhaps the most brilliant vaudeville bill of the season.

The show now playing is a dandy. James Silver and Helen Duval, assisted by George Kirby, have the best rube comedy singing and talking skit of the year. They completely stopped every show yesterday, the applause being a roar at every performance. The Sorrento Quintette is a good classic operatic organization. Jack and Pearl Hall open the fun with a corking sharp-shooting act while Corradina's Animals close it with the finest animal act of the season. Gilmore and Castle turn loose a lot of good blackface singing comedy and dancing.
