King of Marches to Bring Famous Band Here Last of Week

John Philip Sousa, who brings his famous band to Tulsa for two performances Friday in Convention hall, is still king of march composers. The man and his band arrive as band director of the recent Inter-Allied Games in Paris closing a tour of France, Belgium, Holland and Luxemburg. The American Wedding march, "The Golden Star over the Lake with Dell," the camp song, "The American Maid," scheduled for the afternoon program, and "Impressions at the Movies," to be played in the evening, several of Mr. Sousa's new pieces are prominent. One of these, "Showing off Before Company," is announced for the evening concert.

CHILD HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Asks $10,000 Damages for Injury Received in Sand Springs.

Damages of $10,000 were asked in superior court Wednesday in the suit of Virginia Lowry, a minor, by C. W. Lowry against J. E. Lawless of Sand Springs, the child alleging she was permanently injured November 22 when an auto delivery truck driven by an agent of the defendant struck her as she was crossing the street at Fifth and McKinley streets, Sand Springs.

The plaintiff says great negligence was shown by the driver of the truck, since he used no warning signal when approaching the crossing where the plaintiff was standing, and made no attempt to avoid the accident.
