

Taxation.
The following article on the unequal burthen of Taxation from that able and high-toned journal, the New Hampshire Patriot, applies with equal force to Pennsylvania and we heartily commend it to the attentive perusal of our readers.

In perusing "the financial measures" of the late session, which will be found in this paper, we are very naturally led to think of the subject of taxation. And next to its enormous amount, comes to mind the fact of its gross inequality. Everybody is aware that all public burthens and blessings fall very unequally upon people; and especially in this so in the matter of taxes, in this State. There is no subject which more imperatively demands careful and honest legislation; a radical and thorough reform is required in our laws and practice in regard to the assessment of taxes. Efforts have been made to effect this—the subject has been frequently brought before the Legislature; but petty personal and partisan matters have so intensely engrossed the attention of the majority of late, that no great subject like this, of vital interest to the mass of the people, could be attended to. Last year the subject was referred to a committee with instructions to report at the late session, but if any report was made it received no attention.

It is well known to all that an immense amount of property escapes taxation entirely; probably more than one third of the property of the State. This has been made more apparent since the exemption of U. S. securities from State taxation. It is found that immense sums of money have been invested in these securities—the existence of which the assessors had no knowledge—money which had never been taxed. Men who have never reported "money at interest" or "on hand" to be taxed, are found to have invested large sums in these securities, without having diminished their "visible property." This only confirms the otherwise notorious fact that but a small amount of "money at interest" has heretofore been taxed. This is the fault both of the law and the assessors, and the consequence is that the men of small property, the farmers, mechanics and laboring men, bear an unequal share of the burthen of taxation. The man whose property consists mainly of a farm or a house and lot, is taxed upon all he has; while his neighbor, worth five times as much, whose property is mainly in "money at interest," notes, bonds, U. S. securities, &c., gets off with a tax upon but a small portion of it. This is a great and growing evil and wrong; and now, when taxation bears so heavily upon the mass of people, it imperatively demands correction. It is folly to assert that it cannot be corrected—that legislation cannot reach it. But it seems to be the policy of the ruling party to impose the main burthen of taxation upon labor and to favor capital; and under our present system, that object is effected. The day laborer, with no property to be taxed, often pays as heavy a tax as a man worth thousands of dollars; and a man having real estate of the value of $2,000, or $3,000, often pays a larger tax than his neighbor who has $20,000 invested in ways not known to the assessors.—Let any one look over the tax-list of his town and he will be satisfied of the truth of this assertion. The result of this is that the rate of taxation is greatly increased.

The most apparent remedy for this is to compel every one to make to the assessors a return of his property under oath, and to provide proper penalties for false returns. This would do much towards remedying this great wrong. In connection with this subject the bill taxing incomes from U. S. securities is of interest, and its justice too apparent to require further illustration.

GENERAL SHERMAN.
His Speech at St. Louis on Monday Night—He Urges Attention to Industry—He Would Leave Davis to the Authorities, Respecting Himself too Much to be a Hangman.

GENTLEMEN—Be quiet and I will speak to you a few words. I have no doubt, from the sounds I hear, that a good many of my old soldiers are down in this crowd. [Laughter.] As they are very ready to "pitch in" when I tell them, I hope they will also be as obedient in keeping quiet, for it is a great strain to the crowd to attempt to reach the far limits of this voice, up and down the street. I was in hopes you would let Mr. McPherson tell the whole story, for it would have saved me some trouble. I claim to be an older citizen of St. Louis than he has stated, for I came here in 1843, and then made a circuit by way of New Orleans and Charleston. I now again return from the same place, under slightly different circumstances. [Laughter and cheers.] I then traveled by steamboat to New Orleans and Mobile, up the river to Montgomery, staged across the country to Macon, and so on to Charleston. This time I had a nice time. [Shouts of laughter.] I knew perfectly well that in this crowd, and throughout the city, almost in every house may be found some one who will tell you the tale better than I can; therefore, I do not intend to take any time or strain my voice to tell you of the march recently made from Atlanta to the sea-coast, and so on to Washington. I would prefer to call attention to things which surround you here in St. Louis; to the advantages you enjoy here; to the duties that devolve on you, now the war is over; to the great future and what you must be as that future is developed. The past is gone and you cannot amend it. All we have now to do is to record its history; but the future is before us; and you and I and all of us must meet it manfully and meet it well. I hope that no war is in reserve for us; but there may be other dangers and other labors quite as important to our country as war. The daily duty of the citizen to labor, the duties of the week and of the year, are just as important to the American people as the war through which we have passed. You have cities to build, commerce to develop, agriculture to encourage—every thing to do to build up a great nation. [A voice—And Jeff Davis to hang.] Hang him as much as you please. [Laughter and cheers.] On that subject I tell my soldiers this: The soldier's duty is to fight an armed foe; allow the sheriff and the jailor to do their executions. It is none of our business. [Cheers.] For my part, I and all my soldiers hold ourselves in too much respect to be mere hangmen. Here, in St. Louis, you have more natural advantages than any other point on the whole American continent. You have three rivers that come together in your vicinity; you are in the centre of a vast agricultural region; almost in sight of the finest mineral region in the world, and I doubt not, this very spot where we now stand is destined to be probably the second city in America, and this very crowd must give form and shape to this great commodity now growing up under your very eyes. [A voice—Did the Irish do their duty?] I do not command any noisy crowd. [Voices—Put him out.] Now, my fellow-citizens, I will conclude by saying that I am among you simply as one of you. I am here on duty, but my duties will call me to points far distant, but while I am with you I shall cultivate social relations with you to the extent of my power, and I hope to be permitted to have a long sojourn in St. Louis, and to live in peace and quiet, and to enjoy my books and the society of my friends. I hope to welcome you and to live with you as friends and companions, but for the present I can only thank you and bid you good night. [Loud cheers.]

Miscegenation.
We ask our readers for this once to become credulous enough to believe us when we say that the following sentence actually appeared in the New York Independence, Henry Ward Beecher's paper, a widely circulated and influential journal, and the leading organ of one branch of the Presbyterian Church. Speaking of the negro race, the Rev. writer says: "This race has the seeds of great and rich and generous culture. It shall be mixed with ours, is being mixed; and in future we shall see a fruit of art, of literature, of social life, the product of the great grafting, such as has not been seen in this world."

Read that to your wives, sisters and daughters, ye who follow the leadership of the Abolitionists and other worshippers of the negro.—But let others pour out indignation and contempt upon all such calculations.—Cleveland Plaindealer.

REPUBLICAN FRIENDSHIP FOR THE SOLDIER.
The Republican majority of the Connecticut Legislature have tabled a bill which proposed to give a small bounty to soldiers who went into the army two years ago. These Republican demagogues have plenty of honied words for the soldiers, but that is all.

The above is in keeping with the conduct of the leaders of that party in all parts of the country. Now that the war is over, and the services of our brave soldiers are no longer needed, they are "mustered out," and, though complimented for their bravery and fidelity, in words, which cost nothing, they will be left to shift for themselves, while the stay-at-home patriots will secure to themselves a monopoly of all the honors and offices in the gift of the government. Now that the soldiers have returned, to mingle again with their fellow citizens, and can read Democratic newspapers without fear of insult and punishment, they will be likely to find out who their true friends are, and how utterly hypocritical and hollow are all the windy professions of regard for them which have been made by the Black Republicans.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

A serious difficulty between returned soldiers and negroes occurred on Sunday last in Baltimore county. The Baltimore Gazette gives the following account of the affair: It seems that the negroes in the neighborhood of Sparke's Switch, eighteen miles from the city, on the Northern Central Railroad, proceeded to a wood in the neighborhood to spend the day at what is termed a "bush meeting." During the afternoon a party of discharged soldiers visited the meeting and became involved in a quarrel with some of the negroes, during which, it is alleged, one of the negroes struck one of the white men, which was the signal for a general disturbance. The negroes were severely handled, and the meeting entirely broken up. The negro who committed the first assault was caught and severely beaten, and afterwards ducked in a pond near by.

Rev. O. O. McLean, of Lewistown, will preach in the Lutheran Church, on Sunday evening next; Services to commence at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Dr. Nadal of Washington city, will preach in the M. E. Church, of this place, next Sabbath, July 30, at 10 1/2 A. M.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.
What is health? What is disease? Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain explosive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party, or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and all that class of cases which soon run into mortification Brandreth's Pills have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live.—Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for its removal. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply ASSISTING THESE EFFORTS OF NATURE. [July 28—1m.]

A FEW REASONS WHY THE AMERICAN WATCH IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "cancers," "dilemmas," and "Sassa levers" in professed repair for a few years will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH.
Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferences with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th. ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believers, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF OF THE MERITS OF OUR WATCH may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.
