POLITICS TEN YEARS HENCE--ADDRESS OF MR. CROW TO HIS CONSTITUENTS IN 1865.

The following is supposed to be the address of an enlightened colored gentleman, Mr. J. Cesar Crow, who has represented this district in Congress for one term, and is seeking a re-election.

SHODDY VS. SHODDY. Kelley Excoriates Cameron.

WHEN THIEVES FALL OUT HONEST MEN MAY GET THEIR DUE. The "Great Winnebago," alias "Old Kickapoo" pays the Indians in Middletown Paper.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14. To the Union-Men of the Fourth Congressional District.—A long and successful career in crime emboldens the guilty.

I was but a youth when I first heard the name of Simon Cameron, and it was as the perpetrator of a crime. He had been made the agent of the Government to carry a large amount of money, due them, to the Indians.

For more than thirty years have watched the tortuous career of this man and have never seen reason to abandon my first impression of his character. Whether acting with the Democratic, the Know Nothing, or the Republican party, for he has in turn disgraced them all.

I need not recite the disgraceful facts attending his several canvasses for the United States Senate. Their nauseous odor lingers in our nostrils to this hour.

NOT TRUE.—It is not true that the Democracy of either State at large, or any county, voted as a party against the law allowing the soldiers the right to vote.

tion of a sober man and did he who made it forget that our Congressmen in the old time in proposing to locate a Government workshop at Philadelphia had not the terrible reputation of Simon Cameron, the Fagan of the Harrisburg lobby and ex-Secretary of War to contend with, and therefore, had some chance for success?

In less than one year from the day on which Simon Cameron was installed as Secretary of War, Congress, though at that early day it had before it but partial evidence of his crimes, indignantly drove him from that high office.

You can imagine how painful it must have been to them to find themselves constrained by duty to proclaim the fact that the first man the head of their party had been induced to appoint as the successor of John B. Floyd had exhibited greater aptitude than he for his worst tricks.

With fraternal regards, yours very truly, WM. D. KELLEY.

HOW THE MONEY GOES.

When John T. Ford attempted to re-open his Theatre at Washington and go on with a business which had received the approbation and the patronage of President Lincoln, the War department stopped him.

ONWARD.—The tide of freedom still rolls on; seventy-five ladies of color, with as many "white niggers," left this State yesterday en route for the north.

The Kentucky Election. A Mockery of the Elective Franchise--Citizens Driven from the Polls by the Military.

From the Cincinnati Commercial (Rep.) The American people are properly sensitive concerning the integrity of the ballot-box, and the proceedings in Kentucky on election day will not be received with favor in any quarter.

It is not becoming that a file of soldiers shall stand before the polls, and that officers of the army of the United States shall hold lists of those who are proscribed, made out by irresponsible persons, and prevent them from approaching the ballot-box.

Persons competent to testify—those familiar with the people—conversant with all the facts and in full sympathy with the Union cause—assure us that in Kenton and Campbell counties there are many of the best Union men who did not go near the polls, fearing to cast a vote under military surveillance.

If Kentuckians were mad enough to send a disloyal delegation to Congress—a delegation elected by Rebel votes—the remedy would be found in Congress itself, and would unquestionably be applied by that body.

Change in Sentiment. Parson Brownlow delivered a lecture on slavery, in New Orleans about eight years ago, from which the following is an extract.

THE REASON WHY.—"Can you tell me why the 'Republicans' of wealth are so anxious to have the negroes vote?"

RETURNED SOLDIERS.

It seems but yesterday that loyal ladies and gentlemen, if we may use the expression, were sending mittens, flannel shirts, religious tracts, abolition newspapers and election tickets to the "poor soldiers."

Now the soldiers, foot sore and weary, come home. The men who have followed the echoes of cannon down to the gates of hell. The men who have bathed their feet in the blood of their comrades, as they followed the glittering, flashing sabre up to shake hands with death.

THE SOLDIERS' VOTING LAW. Shoddy organs are endeavoring to make a little capital against the Democratic party by charging that "every one of its members of the Legislature, orators and newspapers violently opposed the soldiers voting amendment."

The Democratic party, although conscious that the whole intent of their opponents was to carry the election last fall by fraud and force made no issue upon the soldiers' voting amendment.

THE NEW GOSPEL. The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is thus reported in the Hartford (Conn.) Press:

At Los Angeles, lately, a jury, in an assault and battery case, rendered the following liberal verdict: "We, the undersigned jury find the defendant a little guilty, and recommend him to a great deal of mercy of the Court."

WHY?

Tax a farm worth a thousand dollars $50, and exempt $100,000 in bonds?

Why? Because all despotic and aristocratic Governments seek to win the interest of the wealthy in favor of the Government against the labor of the poor.

When an Abolition politician, who has been twisting and hunting office all the days of his life, tells you he won't wait office, tell him he is a liar and the truth is a stranger to his tongue.

THE ABOLITIONISTS' RULE NOW. The thing is plain, and a blind man can't help but see it.

At Los Angeles, lately, a jury, in an assault and battery case, rendered the following liberal verdict: "We, the undersigned jury find the defendant a little guilty, and recommend him to a great deal of mercy of the Court."

An Irishman being asked why he permitted his pig to take up his quarters with his family, made an answer abounding with satirical naivete. "Why not? Doesn't the place afford every convenience that a pig can require?"
