FATHER AND SON DINNER SUCCESS

"Eats" Enjoyed by 200 Last Friday Night. Program Good.

DR. BARKER TALKED

Special Program Will Be Given This Morning for Dads and Boys

An evening of fun and fine fellowship in a room full of dads and their sons made the First Christian church Father and Son banquet a great success. Two hundred fathers and sons sat down together in the social room of the new church to a feast of fine "eats," live songs and splendid toasts and addresses, that made this an occasion long to be remembered.

The spirit of the Father and Son week as observed throughout the nation was evident in the atmosphere of this banquet. The patriotic note was sounded not only in the toasts but in the decorations, which by the way, were arranged largely by the boys themselves. Under the direction of E. E. Dix as toastmaster, there was plenty of life in the program with the proper songs to allow of fullest expression of good feeling by all.

The climax of the banquet came with the address of Dr. Charles E. Barker. His message brought to both fathers and sons a higher appreciation of life both in its God-given and human sources. Two hundred hearts beat more joyfully and thankfully for the gift of life, and 200 minds caught the loftier and more sacred significance of obligations of sonship to motherhood in the enjoyment of life. Dr. Barker has a great message and is stirring to stronger and purer life the thousands who daily hear him.

The program follows:

Prayer, "Eats." Toasts, "Washing, the Father of His Country," H. A. Tinch; "Our Flag, the Standard Our Sons Fought For," Meade E. Dutt; "Eats." Impromptu. Song (We all sing.) Talks, "Our Dads," Ted Gettinger; "Our Sons," W. A. Marquis. Talks, "What Does a son Expect From His Father?" Ted Brickner; "What Does a Father Expect From His Son?" H. J. Wooten. Song, (We all sing.) Address, Dr. Charles E. Barker.

The climax of the Father and Son week observance for the Christian church comes on Sunday morning. At 9:30 a special program will be given by fathers and sons at the opening session of the Bible school. At the preaching service Rev. Meade E. Dutt will deliver a special sermon to fathers and sons. A section of the main auditorium will be reserved for all fathers and sons who attend and special recognition will be accorded them. The subject of the pastor's message will be, "A Boy's Best Friend."

TWO PIPE LINES FOR LIGHT OIL

sociation, returned to Tulsa yesterday and confirmed the wire report of the assured project as sent out Friday night from Kansas City.

The committee as appointed consists of the following well-known men connected with the refining end of the oil business: Pat Malloy, Constantin; E. E. Shock, Indiahoma; Pat M. Miskell, Empire; E. R. Perry, Cosden & Co.; W. G. Richardson, Lake Park; W. L. Kistler, Producers & Refiners; K. W. Gobel, Kansas City Refining company; T. P. Melvin, G. N. Moore, L. L. Marcell, W. B. Hassett, W. D. Richardson.

It is estimated that the main lines will be eight inch with smaller gathering and distributing lines. The entire cost of the project will total about $25,000,000. There is $200,000,000 behind it, which represents about 40 per cent of the entire oil business.

President Malloy said yesterday that it will take from 30 to 60 days to complete the preliminary organization work. He expects the lines to be in operation with the next 12 months.

Construction of these two, marketing lines absolutely insures the future stability of the Tulsa refining interests and means that Tulsa will continue to be the greatest oil refining center in the world. All the products of the independent oil refineries of the mid-continent field will be marketed through the lines of this corporation and the head offices will be maintained in Tulsa.

One of these lines will be extended from Tulsa to Chicago where it will connect with the tank steamers bound for Atlantic and European ports. Where the line crosses the Mississippi river terminals will be installed for loading the barges which Edward C. Gaffin is now building at St. Louis under the $4,000,000 appropriation recently made to increase river transportation on the Mississippi and its tributaries. Oil products will thus be distributed up the river to St. Paul, down the river to Ohio points and Tennessee river points as far south as New Orleans. It is expected that the pipe line will be able to supply the local demands of Chicago and intermediate territory through which it passes.

A second line will be built from Tulsa south to connect with some point in the Mississippi river at which the largest tank steamers can load. A possible terminus is the Export Oil company's station at Avondale.

The higher rail rates will make it impossible for independent refiners to compete with Standard Oil pipe lines and their long hauls, these rates remaining the same as were in force before the former advance of 3½ per cent in rail rates.

CAN LEGISLATURE ACT?

Question Asked Whether Solons Would Go Over Governor's Head and Pass Bill.

Special to The World.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 21.—Since Governor Robertson has opposed the constitutional amendment for the 6-mill levy proposed by the teachers of the state for more school money, the question arises, could the legislature by a resolution submit the amendment without the approval of the governor.

The opinion of constitutional experts here is that the legislature, being one part of the state government, just as the governor is another, can exercise certain functions independent of the chief executive, and this is one of them. However, one portion of the constitution says that the legislature in special session cannot consider any subject but that submitted to them by the governor.

An effort, however, will be made by representatives of the teachers to have the legislature submit such an amendment for the November election.

The girl reserves made the money with which to give their mothers banquet in a Christmas bazar.

A demonstration of the work being done in the gymnasium classes will be given in the Y. W. gymnasium at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening, when Miss Harriet Wilds, head of the social education bureau of the national board, will talk on physical exercise. Members of the gymnasium and esthetic dancing classes, which will be held as usual are asked to attend the exhibition. Women employes of the Halliburton-Abbott company will attend the exhibition in a body, gathering for a dinner to be given by store officials in the private dining room of the Y. W. at 7 o'clock.

Tuesday will be committee day and on Wednesday Miss Heinbaugh will meet members of the Y. W. of Kendall college and organize a girl reserve club at the Washington junior high school. # A SHORTAGE OF DOCTORS

Doctor Lewis, Health Commissioner, Asks Physicians to Help.

By Associated Press State Wire.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 21.—With numerous small towns in the state without doctors a serious shortage of physicians in Oklahoma was declared to exist today by Dr. A. R. Lewis, state health commissioner. He said the qualifications have been placed so high and remuneration for services has proven so unsatisfactory as compared with plumbing and other lines of work that men are not coming in to take the places of those who die or leave the profession.

Dr. D. Long of the state health department was sent today to the town of May, where there is an epidemic of influenza raging, with no doctor living there.

TOM SLICK HONORED

New Town On O. S. W. Named for Discoverer of the Cushing Oil Field.

MIAMI, Feb. 21.—J. A. Frates, sr., former general manager of the Frisco railroad, who is building a new Oklahoma railroad between Bristow and Okmulgee, today announced that the name of the new town which is to be established between these two cities is to be "Slick."

The new Oklahoma town which will be located in the oil country near Bristow, is to be named in honor of T. B. Slick, well known Oklahoma millionaire operator and vice president of the Oklahoma Southwestern Railway company, which is the name of the new railroad project.

Mr. Frates said the exact location of the new townsite will be announced about March 1. He declared one of the first buildings to be constructed will be a first-class depot. Already over 500 letters from persons who desire to locate in the new town have been received here by J. A. Frates, jr., who is vice president and general manager of the new road.

The applications are quite interesting, one man from Baxter Springs, Kan., who was a former city official there, wanting the job of being the first mayor. Others want to be fire chief and chief of the police department. Negotiations are under way for a Tulsa firm to erect a four-story modern hotel, Mr. Frates said.
