DUNLAP, PIONEER MUSKOGEEAN DIES

Life of Merchant Prince Reads Like Romance; Owned 20 Stores

Special to The World.

MUSKOGEE, Jan. 6—The life of Hallard G. Dunlap merchant prince who died here today, reads like a romance. Starting with $50 capital, he and his three sons have developed a mercantile business that spoed a merchantile business that reaches into 20 towns of Eastern Oklahoma and has an annual business of over a million dollars.

Mr. Dunlap's death came suddenly after a short illness. He had recently announced his retirement from business and was expecting to leave for California—for his health. He was ill for three months a year ago, but was thought to have recovered entirely when the second attack came recently.

He was born near Gaisden, Tenn. in 1859, and left the farm in youth because his health was too delicate for farm work. He was married at the age of 19. He resided at Russellville, Ark. from 1880 to 1893, when he moved into Indian-Territory with his family. From one smal department store his business grew into other stores in other towns. Always catering to the working people, he sold only for cash and at the lowest prices—the secret of his success, he recently declared.

A wife, three sons and three daughters all living survive the dead man. He also had four brothers and one sister. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Fire Loss Light in Muskoge

Although more than $5,000,000 worth of property was endangered by fire here during 1920, only $46,727 worth of property was actually destroyed by flames, according to the anual report of Fire Chief Chapman. During the year the department answered 529 calls which kept the fireman occupied 384 hours and 27 minutes extinguishing the flames. More than two-thirds of the total loss was fully covered by insurance. The companies traveled 14,782 blocks in getting to and from the fires.

He did not waken until he got 10 miles past Heavener, where he was supposed to change cars. In walking back to Heavener, he sprained his back and sustained permanent injuries.

other the children and I were until night before last when they were carted from me, here at Ellis Island," the officer continued. "I went back to my ship without them. Entering their room at noon on the sain I found some of their little caps and playthings, and began to collect these childish relics. I had to sit down, and burying my face in my hands, I shook with the realization that the destinies of these children and myself are inseparably linked. I knew then that a man's love for a child transcends all human laws, the machinations of statesmen, the intrigues of international cabinets."

CAR BRAKES HERE ARE O. K.

T. S. R. Employes Deny Blaming Their Vehicles for Tulsa Accidents.

Motormen and conductors employed by the Tulsa Street Railway company, members of local No. 574, in a special meeting last night, adopted a resolution which denies that a committee of street car employes stated that faulty brakes and inefficient cars were mainly responsible for street car accidents here.

On the other hand, the resolution states, no crew leaves the car barn with a car that is in any sense out of order. An examination of the brakes on every car, before it starts to work, is vouched for as routine at the car barns, the resolution continues.

Ridiculed by Paper as 'Social Butterfly' She Seeks $100,000 Balm

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Charging that she had been held up as a social butterfly, guilty of snobbery and un-American conduct, Mrs. Blanche Bonaparte, of New York, Washington, Newport and Palm Beach, has begun a $100,000 libel suit against Town Topics, it was learned today.

The plaintiff is the wife of Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, great grandson of Jerome Napoleon, king of Westphalia. She divorced her first husband, Harold Strebeigh, in Brooklyn, in 1914, and married Mr. Bonaparte shortly afterward. Mr. and Mrs. Bonaparte are at present living at the Biltmore hotel in this city.

Mrs. Bonaparte set forth in her complaint that she and her husband are persons of wealth and social standing and are accustomed to mingle with people of wealth and standing in fashionable society. She alleges that she has been the object of a long campaign of ridicule by Town Topics, and quoted numerous extracts from the society paper to bear out her contention. In dealing with one extract the complaint sets forth that the defendant publication sought to create the impression that she entertained European and monarchial ideas regarding persons who engaged in trade.

MEXICAN OFFICIAL MAY VISIT TULSA

Governor of Tamaulipas Invited to Talk on Oil Situation

That there may be a better understanding between Mexican officials and oil men who are interested in the oil development of Mexico, the governor of the state of Tamaulipas, Mexico, has been invited by the chamber of commerce to visit Tulsa for an informal conference with local oil operators and companies.

The governor has signified his intention of attending the inaugural ceremonies of Governor Hobby of Texas at Austin on January 15. The local effort is directed toward bringing the Mexican official here immediately after these ceremonies, before he returns home.

A telegram received from his secretary by the chamber of commerce Thursday indicates that the visit here is not an improbability. Definite word is to be sent by the secretary as soon as he obtains a reply from the governor.

Tamaulipas is one of the important oil producing states of Mexico, and, it is understood, a number of local operators have holdings in or near that state. The chamber of commerce believes a conference by the governor with the interested oil men will have an excellent effect in cementing whatever friendly relations now exist toward American operators in Mexico.

ADMITS POISON ERROR

Vera Rush Says She Is Sorry After Taking Dose Over Love Affair; Calls for Her Lover.

Admitting her mistake in taking poison, Miss Vera Rush, 17 years old, who about 9 o'clock Wednesday night took six tablets of bichloride of mercury because of a shattered love affair, was reported to be resting easily at the Tulsa hospital last night. Her condition is reported to be somewhat improved.

The girl continually asked for her youthful lover, Carolton Mason, because of whom it is said she swallowed the poison. It was after she had seen Mason riding with another girl that she swallowed the fatal dose. "Yes, I made a mistake and am sorry," she told relatives last night.

Mrs. W. L. Smith, 514 West Seventh, sister to the stricken girl, denied last night that her little sister had attempted to "vamp" Mason. Mrs. Minnie Mason, head of the Tulsa Boys' home, said last night that she did not know where her boy was, as he had not been home for two days. Mrs. Mason says that the affair was one-sided, all the love being exhibited on the part of the girl. But Miss Rush's sister and Miss Rush, too, deny such a statement. Up until Christmas night Mason had visited the Rush girl and Mrs. Smith's home, according to Mrs. Smith.
