UNSTABLE STATUS PERVADES STOCKS

Condition Same for Past Several Days; Leading Issues Are Heavy

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The same unstable conditions operated to the detriment of quoted values in the stock market, as for weeks past, in the stock market today, leading issues being mainly downward. Trading lost none of its professional aspects, save in certain instances, where persistent offerings bore the marks of involuntary liquidation arising from fresh industrial unsettlement or dubious dividend prospects. The Reading group extended recent declines and other shares of the same class reacted, excepting Norfolk & Western.

Weakness of specific issues, notably Central Leather common and preferred Ajax Rubber and some of the less prominent specialties, at extreme losses of 1 1-2 to 6 points, were accompanied by circumstantial reports of dividend "readjustments."

The market registered lowest prices in the last hour. Maintenance of call money at 7 per cent against yesterday's 6 per cent rate, provoked further bearish aggressions in which practically all gains were effaced at the heavy close. Sales amounted to 600,000 shares.

All foreign exchanges weakened, notably French, Belgian, Dutch and Spanish remittance and Scandinavian rates added to their recent setback. The Bank of England, however, again strengthened its liability.

Most domestic bonds, including rails, were easier, the foreign division also making fractional recessions. Total sales, par valued, $10,175,000.

VALUES RETARD IN GRAIN TRADE

Possibility of Executive Action on Tariff Bill Affects Market

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Wheat traders, confronted today by the apparent likelihood that the emergency tariff bill would be vetoed by President Wilson, overlooked or ignored a possibility that action by the president-elect might suddenly change the outlook. Values sagged from lack of support, and closed heavy, 2 1-4 to 3c net lower, with March $1.68 1-4 to 1-2 and May $1.59 to 1-4. Corn lost 1 1-4 to 1 1-2c and oats 1 to 1-8c. Provisions varied from 35c to 7c advance.

Trading in the first few minutes hinged on the emergency tariff reports coming to the wheat pit. Bearish sentiment which dominated the market throughout the remainder of the day was due largely to cooler weather. Increased rural offerings of corn tended to weaken prices for corn and oats. Provisions averaged lower in line with grain and hogs.

COTTON GOES LOWER

Except for Short Period in Early Trading It Is Depressed Below Level Set Wednesday.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17.—Except for a short period in the early trading in the cotton market today stood depressed below the level of yesterday's close and last quotations were at the lowest levels, showing net losses for the session of 21 to 29 points. Heaviest selling came toward the close following the receipt of reports that England had declared an embargo on exports of gold and silver. March traded down to 13.13c and July down to 13.79c.

The steadiness around the opening was due to dollars from apparently authoritative sources that southern mills were closing down, but after advances of 6 to 11 points increased offerings were met as the result of claims that higher grades of spots were easier in some interior markets. The decline was widened by rumors of fresh labor troubles among English coal miners but around mid-session the downward movement was checked momentarily by the tendency on the short side to take profits, the market acting healthy from the technical standpoint at this stage.

A little later the news of a million dollar bank failure in the middle west and the raising of federal reserve discount rates in the Dallas district stimulated fresh selling and from then on to the close the market was under considerable pressure.
