Tulsa Pitcher Shows Wrong Spirit—McDonald Should Have Been Banished

BY LARRY DAILEY.

The Oilers yesterday slipped from third place to the second division, when they lost a double-header to the Saints, 12 to 5 and 7 to 3. The Saints outhit and outfielded the Oilers and deserved to win both games.

Tulsa wins from the first to the second division by virtue of double victories by Oklahoma City and the Saints, which now occupy third and fourth places respectively, the Indians leading the Oilers by one game and the Saints by one-half game.

Home Day at McNulty.

Yesterday was a hectic day at McNulty park and both games were marred by unpleasant incidents and wrangling of players. In the first game McDonald, Saint shortstop, threw his bat at Joe Morris, Oiler pitcher, when he (McDonald) was hit by a pitched ball in the seventh inning; the second time he was "beaned" by Morris. Only quick action by Umpire Becker and St. Joseph players prevented a fistic scrap between McDonald and Morris. McDonald's unsportsmanlike action should have drawn his banishment from the game by Umpire Anderson. That sort of stuff, especially before an overflow Monday crowd, is a disgrace to any high league, much less a circuit with Class A rating.

In one second game, Manager Jimmy Burke of the Oilers was the target of his own home fans when he benched Pitcher Tom Lukanovic in the first inning and sent Oscar Haughland to the mound. Some of the unthinking local rooters even went so far as to "rile" the Tulsa players—Burke, especially—during the remainder of the game. Lukanovic's actions when he went to the bench from the mound, including the throwing of his glove, kicking the water cooler and in other ways showing his anger, doesn't tend to make that spirit of team play so essential to a winning baseball team. Right or wrong, Burke is manager and as such should be aided by his players—not handicapped the way Lukanovic would handicap him.

Should Have Benched Morris.

Joe Morris, making his 1921 start in Oiler livery in the first game was unsteady and the Saints won in the tenth inning when he weakened and allowed seven runs and seven hits. Morris gave up four runs, two hits, three bases on balls and a sacrifice in the first inning and two passes, a sacrifice and his own error gave the Saints another in the second inning. Thereafter Morris pitched good ball until he "blew" in the tenth inning. Morris allowed 12 hits, passed six and hit four batsmen and should have been taken from the box either in the first or second or in the tenth before the Drummers garnered all their tallies.

Hovlik pitched well for the Saints with the exception of one bad inning—the sixth—when he permitted four hits and three runs. He allowed six hits, passed only two and struck out five.

Four errors, two of which aided the Saints in their run getting were made by Tulsa. The two Saint displays were not costly.

Haughland Pitches Well.

Lukanovic gave up four hits, one base on balls, which, with three errors, gave the Saints six runs in the first inning, enough to win. Haughland pitched well the remainder of the game, allowing only six hits, walking one and fanning three in each and one-third innings.

Mangum, youthful Drummer right fielder, was in splendid form, keeping the Oilers's six hits scattered and was never in danger of having his first-inning lead overtaken.

All of the Oilers' three errors came in the first inning and all were costly. The Saints' one blunder did not help the Burkemen in scoring.

PREAKNESS RUN TODAY

Fourteen Three-Year-Olds Compete Today in Historic Turf Feature at Pimlico.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 15.—Fourteen three-year-old colts and fillies will parade to the post tomorrow for the fourteenth running of the Preakness Pimlico's historic spring feature. Indications tonight are that thousands of persons from all over the country will be present to see the big turf event. Reservations promise full houses.

A field in keeping with the $10,000 added event will start. There is some disappointment over the failure of E. R. Bradley to accept the issue with his derby winning team, but the list of entrants who will have vital interest in the classic includes some of the country's foremost sportsmen. Entries, weights, jockeys and owners follow:

The veteran McDonald had a great day at bat yesterday, getting six hits in eight times at bat, including three doubles. He handled 11 chances, some of them difficult and made two errors.

Burke was the Oiler swat leader with three hits, one a double, in eight trips.

Joe Boley had a splendid day. He on safed four times in nine attempts and twice robbed Oilers of hits. He took Query's drive in the seventh inning of the first game and in the eighth inning of the second game made the day's fielding feature when he went back of the telephone post in center field and snatched Wuffli's smash.

Connolly made a neat catch in the fifth inning of the second game when he dodged through the overflow crowd on the third base line and caught Thompson's foul fly.

Infantile Studies Honored With Exhibition in Royal Society.

CARDIF, Wales, May 15.—Helen Williams of South Wales is noted to be the world's youngest artist. Her claim to this distinction is based on the fact that she is only 18 months old. She sits up in her cot every day and with a pencil and drawing board sketches the things that adorn her nursery.

Two of her studies drawn from memory are being exhibited in the annual exhibition of the Royal Drawing society in London. Her pictures are an outline of a cat with a ribbon bow and a running gamecock.

Yankees Oust Indians In American; Pirates Set Pace in National

NEW YORK, May 15.—The New York Americans ousted the Cleveland aerials' champions from the top of the league today when they downed the Indians for the seventh time in eleven tilts. Cleveland after outclubbing the sensational Yanks last week in a series at Cleveland, was unable to stop the Yankees. The Indians lost ground to second place behind Washington last week.

The Pittsburgh National league leaders, who made unsuccessful raids on Boston and Philadelphia, did not get back to the top when they met a floundering golden Walker for its victim and are today only half a game in New York.

In the American league Carl Mays had his usual losing work of the season and Cole's defeat was the fourth consecutive contest lost by the Indians. The world champions batted well early and were able to get an early lead. Home runs by Ruth figured prominently in New York's seventh successive win.
