GIGANTIC SEARCHLIGHT

Extraordinary Beacon Placed on Top of Mt. Tamalpais on the Pacific Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—San Francisco is to have a beacon that will be to the western gateway of America what the Statute of Liberty is to the eastern entrance.

A 400,000,000 candlepower searchlight is to be erected on the top of Mt. Tamalpais, overlooking San Francisco bay. It will be visible 80 miles at sea and will illuminate the country for miles around.

Most Powerful Beacon.

On clear nights this will give enough light to read by it at a distance of 15 miles from the mountain. The erection of this beacon is the invention of W. D. A. Ryan, engineer of the Panama-Pacific exposition.

The most powerful light on the Pacific coast is the 80,000 candlepower beacon on Alcatraz island in the bay. The new beacon will be 5,000 times stronger.

The beam of light will be visible [illegible] miles. Unobstructed, it would be seen on the top of Mt. Shasta, 200 miles to the north, and it would be visible in Carson, Nev., [illegible] if there were no topographical barriers.

WASHINGTON SILENT ON MOUNTAIN WARFARE

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Official silence was maintained here today concerning the situation in Mingo county, West Virginia, and Pike county, Kentucky, and the possibility of issuing proclamations declaring a state of martial law along the interstate border because of the coal strike riots.

The proclamations were prepared late yesterday and signed by President Harding but given to Secretary Weeks to be heard in his discretion should reports from the trouble region make such action necessary. There were no indications tonight that further reports had been received from the governors of the two states to the effect that the situation was beyond their control.

Orders have been prepared at the war department, however, informing Major General George W. Read commanding the Fifth corps area at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana of the president's action and instructing him to hold troops in readiness to move into the disturbed area should the proclamation be issued.

MARKETS

New York Financial

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—For the week just ended the trend of cotton in the cotton market was higher, mainly because of the heavy rains in the belt, but afterwards the market developed a selling tendency partly on account of large commission and partly because of the improvements taken place from Galveston.

On the last session of the week the disappointing Northern spring wheat from the crop bureau showing the condition during April to only 68.8 per cent against 81.8 in March of this year and 77.4 in April of last year, a selling movement set in, and carried the market off to the lowest levels of the week.

At the finishing the trading between 12 to 12 noon, were the lowest of the preceding week with July at 16.75 and October at 16.70, and 21 to 30 points net lower than 17.

The spinning market was a range of 35 to 50 points. In the face of some price fear 23 to 25 points July closing at 16.90. In this spot the movement continued about good at 11.85 to the mill quoted. A very little nothing closed at 16.23.

The weather of the week was as a rule as in the preceding, the showers in the new crop too much rain had been reported over a large part of the belt. Planting and cultivating were prevented and in some parts in the south were being enough to work the land. Chicago was up to a very optimistic tone because of the third position of the season and late. These conditions would feel and are reported also growth and insect as has damage has been in substance in the western belt.
