COSDENS ARE BEATEN

Producers and Refiners Win by 4 to 3 at McNulty Park; Randolph Pitches Steadily.

John Cutter's Producers and Refiners, contenders for the Tulsa Oil league pennant, administered a defeat to Murphy's Cosden team to the tune of 4 to 3 last evening at McNulty park before a large crowd of twilight fans. The victory carries with it the undisputed claim on first place for the P. & R. boys. Veteran "Bonsby" failing to stop the fast traveling Cosden club when the teams meet the first time this season, Cutter sent Randolph to the mound with his fast breaking curves which spelled Cosden's doom. While Randolph's pitching was not on the sensational order, however, his curved ball forced most of the heavy hitting Cosden team to ground balls, which were easy picking for the P. & R. fielders.

Naval Hearing Resumed.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The third week of senate debate of the $105,000,000 naval appropriation bill opened today with the group of senators who have been prominent in the disarmament and economy controversies offering new proposals for naval reductions. A final vote, however, is expected by leaders to-morrow or Thursday.

'WHITES' DEFEAT 'BLACKS'

Chess Tourney Turns Out Just Like Race Riot.

The battle between the whites and the blacks at the Tulsa Chess and Checker club last night was a miniature affair compared to a similar battle which was going on in the city at the same time. History repeated itself, for practically every player of black met defeat in the clubroom while the blacks were going down to defeat in the battle being waged in all parts of the city. The club was host to a lot of uninvited guests, a number of hysterical men and women taking refuge therein, while the excitement was raging. The first ten men in the tournament are very closely bunched, with Cole maintaining his supremacy.

SALES METHODS IN PERSIA

Shop Exteriors Ape West But East Rules Bargain Counter.

In Teheran are aristocratic shoe shops where the styles of Europe and America are copied from illustrations in catalogues that have somehow or other found their way out there. These shops have glass windows and real doors, and they display their goods in a way thought to be truly Parisian. The glass windows, though, the panes are small, must have cost a deal of money, for glass is almost unknown in Persia.

The master shoemaker stands proudly at his door and welcomes a customer with the greeting, "All that I have is yours—my shop and all its goods." But once the prospective customer is inside the shopkeeper forgets to be the Frenchman of the orient and the bargaining methods of the east begin.

The customer is assured that the price asked is half the actual cost, while all the time a quarter of the sum named would buy the goods. If no business results, politeness is still the order of the day, for a Persian does not consign a man to Hades, but just insinuates, by referring to him as the "son of a burnt father," that his honored parent is already there.

Continue Murder Trial.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 31.—When the trial of Ed Dailey, aged 28, negro, on a charge of murdering N. Matthews, an aged pawnbroker, who was shot and beaten to death in his store on November 11 last, was called in the district court today, the defense obtained a continuance until fall on the ground that the jury was summoned by Jim Robbins, sheriff, a witness for the state, and because of the absence of nine defense witnesses.

Mailing Privileges Restored.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Postal prohibitions against the Milwaukee Leader and the New York Call, two socialist newspapers, were withdrawn today by Postmaster General Hays, who restored them to second class mailing privileges. The action was in line with that recently taken in the case of the Liberator, a periodical published in New York City.

THE BROKEN RAINBOW

Tuneful Story Given to Account for the Origin of a Beautiful Flower.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 1.—Preparations for the coming display by the American Iris society, and the Columbus Iris society, held in Columbus, July 12 and 13, show the origin of the origin of this beautiful flower. Prof. A. F. Hottes of the department of horticulture at Ohio State university told this story.

"It was the last of the six days of creation. A rainbow was above the earth and on the rainbow, sat a group of angels. Casting their eyes around over the vast universe they discovered far below them this new world and were charmed by the beauty of its mountains, its seas, its lakes and its plains.

"The earth was filled with all manner of strange animals, and yet whole, they walked something so beautiful that even the angels marvelled at the handiwork of God for they gazed upon the garden of Eden, Adam and his wife, Eve.

"Marveling at the sight of such great beauty and wishing to share this with other friends, they called many other angels to their lookout upon the rainbow, and these angels in turn called others, until finally the weight was great and the rainbow cracked. But they did not know that the rainbow had cracked and so they continued to call other angels. Suddenly the rainbow broke into thousands of pieces and fell to the earth.

BEAUTY IS HARMONY

"There can be no harmony, and therefore no beauty, in a home in which the wife and mother is cross and irritable and disheartened. Often ill and disease lead the bottom of such a condition.

"Let the woman who is always tired and who suffers from low spirits and nervousness, aches and pains, try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She will then see that the beauty and harmony will be restored to her home with the return of her health and good spirits.—Advt.

Colors Not Deferred to? Tulsans Careless, Claim

"I believe in America and its ideals every day," said one woman yesterday, who had part in the Memorial day parade Monday. "As we passed down Main street in the parade we couldn't help but notice that the men, as a rule, kept their hats on as the colors passed by. There were a few exceptions, and for two blocks, every man in those blocks virtually took off their hats every time the colors passed. It is not, we believe, that they did not have respect for the flag; it was simply carelessness. But I believe, with many others, that the act is a simple outward expression of reverence and should be more universally observed in Tulsa."
