MANY DISMISSED FROM HOSPITALS

Victims of Riot Removed to Their Homes After Medical Attention

NEGRO WOMEN ASSIST

Act as Attendants to Wounded Negroes at Two Hospitals; Relieve Nurses

[illegible] of a number of negro patients wounded from local hospitals Thursday, cessation of riot news, completion of cases of the wounded and relief of a number of the nurses from their long stand by volunteer nurses resulted in the hospitals restored the air of tranquility which came perceptibly vanishing in Tuesday and Wednesday's tide of events and lent to the institutions an atmosphere reminiscent of war days.

Many wounded white people were considered sufficiently recovered to be sent home from the Osteopathic and Morningside hospitals Thursday, those from the former being Rose G. Owens, 1708 South Jackson ave.; Robert Fairchild, West Tulsa; E. D. Hartsfelder, 1[illegible] E. Thomas, 893 South Main; [illegible] Burkhard, West Tulsa, and Jesse [illegible] from Morningside hospital; [illegible] Perry, 925 Elwood ave.; H. D. M. Gould, 1706 East Fifteenth and Norman Gilliland, 314 South North. None of the wounded at the Tulsa hospital were dismissed Thursday. Those remaining were declared by the respective hospital officials to be on the road to recovery.

At the Tulsa hospital operations on the wounded were completed by 5 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Patients Leave Hospital.

The number of negro patients in Morningside hospital was reduced to 32 Thursday from over 60 by three deaths Wednesday night, dismissal of cases and removal of others to homes found for them by relatives or public people. At the Tulsa hospital a ward was prepared, at the request of the Red Cross, for receiving negro women expecting to become mothers and six will be accommodated. Nurses furnished by the Red Cross will care for these as the nursing staff already has six white girls, with the other patients filling the building almost to capacity. At the Oklahoma hospital a ward in the basement was opened for maternity cases and four negro women admitted, with two other beds prepared. Nurses' aids will be furnished by the Red Cross to wait upon these women under the supervision of a graduate nurse from the hospital.

Reminder of War Times.

Negro patients in the basement of the Morningside hospital were in a better condition than the day previous, their faces having lost the dazed, frightened look of the day before. Oran Smith, hospital orderly, who was detailed to care for the negroes said that he was reminded somewhat of the days of 1918 when, as a member of the hospital corps of the navy, his ship, the Leviathan, transported wounded soldiers among them some of the colored race, back to America. Though three major operations were performed during the day and the head nurse shook her head over the condition of four or five, the remaining were said to be safe from death by wounds. The negroes were too sick to talk even among themselves, though cots touched shoulders in the crowded space. Their quiet was due in part to the opiates administered to dull suffering. As a precautive of lockjaw or tetanus, a hundred dollars' worth of anti-tetanic serum was administered Thursday.

Three negro women, one a nurse, and three negro men assisted white nurses during the day, while several others were employed in cooking for the patients. In the late afternoon a negro woman doctor with several young women, relieved the women assistants. Four negro women in a separate room were doing well one having sustained a flesh wound in the thigh, another having wounded feet, one who had been shot through the elbow said that she would not mind the loss of everything if only she did not lose her arm.

Much Clothing Is Needed.

In another room was a negro woman who had injured herself by escaping as a patient from the burning Frisco Memorial hospital, where she herself was a patient. The negroes did not complain much, except when questioned as to what they had lost. C. E. Armley, a builders assistant and an older man of seeming stability and character, who was shot through the leg, said "They did me about the negroes who had the guns. They shot the innocent parties." One of the injured women had lost an apron, underclothes and house slippers, and did not know where to turn except to a white woman employer who had formerly been kind to her. There was little complaining of experiences on the part of the men, but the women were more allative in this regard and two acting as helpers in the kitchen were overheard to say "I ran so fast I could not get hurt" and "my home was one of the first to burn."

Seek Former Employes.

There was a constant stream of white people coming to inquire after their former employes, chauffeurs, maids and men-of-all-work, and negroes making pitiable inquiry for the husband, brother or father whom they could not find, and pictured on King's floor in the hospital. Several white people were successful in calling those for whom they inquired and imparted to them spoken comfort and the promise of future employment. The negroes in question were duly grateful at this attention from their employers. One party of two women and a man found their houseboy so seriously wounded that it may be necessary for him to remain in the hospital for six weeks, but his pain-drawn face brightened perceptibly at their coming.

There is need for dressings for the wounded negroes at this hospital. The white housewives in the neighborhood made dressings Thursday and all more will be needed. The hospital superintendent said that any clean rags would be acceptable for making into dressings. Shirts are also needed for the negro patients. One stated that requests for cigarets had been made by restless patients.

CARS ARE STOLEN BY RIOT VANDALS

Eight Autos Taken From City Wednesday During Disorders

Eight cars were reported stolen to the police department Thursday. Most of them were taken from "Little Africa" while that section was in flames. Many of the others were stolen from in front of the several churches while the owners were inside doing humanitarian work. Several of the negroes reported that their garages had been broken into before the torch was applied and the thieves had drove off with their prizes. Those who are guilty of such thievery and fool will be dealt with in the same manner as ordinary car thieves, police officials say.

E. L. Robinson, 904 South Main street, reported the loss of a Chandler coupe, stolen from in front of the Baptist church. A Ford sedan was stolen from in front of the residence of Dr. R. T. Bridgewater, 507 North Detroit. D. Frankel of Kansas City, Mo., reported his Peerless sedan car which he had left in the Williams garage had been stolen. Charley Scott, 1431 South Carolina, lost a Hudson automobile when thieves made away with it at Archer and Cincinnati streets. A five passenger Oldsmobile owned by A. B. Hassler, R. F. D. 4, was stolen from in front of the Lowell school. The garage of Thomas Gentry, on North Greenwood, which was left standing after the surrounding buildings had after the surrounding buildings had been burned to the ground, was broken open and a new Ford car taken by the car thieves. N. W. Simmons, negro, who lived at 610 North Greenwood street also had a Ford car stolen when his home and garage had been burned. A Ford truck owned by J. A. Ferguson, which was used in hauling baggage, was stolen from in front of Convention hall Wednesday afternoon.

Two Negro Doctors and Wives Found in Hills

Louis Lefko, special member of the police force and captain in the reserves, with a few men was detailed to scout around in the Osage hills district early yesterday morning in an attempt to round up the negro refugees. Four negroes brought back with them were negro doctors and their wives, Dr. R. R. Rousson and Dr. B. H. White and wives. They dropped in the weeds before their flight to escape being shot at. One of the women is quite seriously ill.

Colored K. P. Form Relief Organization

Dr. Chas. B. Wickham, grand chancellor of the Colored Knights of Pythias, announced his intention Thursday night of organizing among the local members of the lodge a relief association through which appeals for financial assistance and clothing will be made to all colored Knights of Pythias lodges in this and other states.

Legion Men Testify Before Senate Board

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Col. F. W. Galbraith, jr., commander, and other spokesmen for the American legion were before the senate special committee on bonus legislation for three seven men today. The session was behind closed doors.

The legion representatives were understood to have pressed arguments for early action on legislation because of increasing unemployment.

Hits at D. of C. Blue Laws.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—A Sunday closing law for the District of Columbia which its author declared was "designed largely to head off some of the more extreme 'blue laws'" proposals was proposed today by Senator Myers, democrat, of Montana. His bill would prohibit baseball, movies, pictures and all amusement enterprises operated for an admission fee and sale of commodities not absolutely essential.

ROUT GERMANS IN SILESIA

French and Poles Turn Machine Guns on Invaders

BERLIN, June 2.—Many Germans have been killed and wounded at Buechen, Upper Silesia, in fighting that followed an unsuccessful attack against the French garrison, said advices from Oppeln today.

A number of Poles fought with the French. Machine guns were turned against the Germans, putting them to flight.

The attack is said to have resulted from anger on the part of the Germans because of alleged assistance given to the Poles by French troops.

NO U. S. INQUIRY INTO RIOT HERE

Considerable Discussion of Case But No Probe Is to Be Made

Special to The World.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Despite talk about the senate and house floorrooms today it was certain tonight that there would be no federal probe of the race riot in Tulsa.

Senator Frost of Kentucky, chairman of the senate subcommittee considering the McCormick bill providing a commission to inquire into riots, causes and prevent their recurrence, tonight said that he did not believe an investigation would be held.

President Harding in his address to congress on April 12 asked for the appointment of a commission to study the cause of riots, bring about a better feeling between the races and prevent barbaric lynchings.

Following his recommendation a number of bills were introduced in congress. The McCormick bill provides that there shall be a commission of six to investigate such matters, but does not specify that it shall be composed of white and negroes. Senator Spencer of Missouri has a bill providing for a commission of six, three of them white and three negroes. Representative Dyer also has a bill which in addition to the Spencer terms, also provides a penalty of $10,000 against counties where such disorders occur.

Took Whole Family of Negroes to Her Home

Many negroes were taken by their employers to their residences and to servant quarters yesterday. It was a happy day for the blacks. Other white people who could accommodate more than their own employes in their servant quarters took more negroes with them. One woman living on the east side brought in addition to her own maid, a man and his wife, their four children and the woman's sister. The mother had dragged from their burning home a baby buggy the only thing she saved. She hung on to it firmly, and the "white lady" finally with the assistance of men, got the buggy into her closed car, filled it with Pickaninnies, and took them home, returning later for the rest of the family.

BUTTE, Mont., June 2.—The Butte Bulletin, an evening newspaper, which, with the Montana Federation of Labor, championed the "One Big Union" idea suspended publication today because of financial difficulties.

Call Third Red Congress.

By the Associated Press

RIGA, Letvia, June 2.—The third congress of the third internationale is scheduled to open in the Kremlin at Moscow today or tomorrow amid a setting greatly contrasting with previous gatherings of the world's "direct actionists." The Moscow Izvestia announces that but little ceremony is attached to the meetings, which in previous years were the occasion of great proletarian rejoicing.

DENNY IS OUT OF JAIL UNDER BAIL

Legislator Charged With Living With Girl Puts Up $2,500 Bond

By Universal Feature Service.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 2.—C. O. Denny, state legislator from Tulsa, was released with bonding bond for $2,500 Thursday night. A 20-year-old Virginia girl who shot and killed herself recently left his cell in the county jail four dates for her home in Oklahoma, to testify in behalf of his friends. Denny faces prosecution on charges preferred by his wife, and was bound over to the district court for trial on June 29.

Denny is still investigating rumors that letter from over the state, his attorney announced, which was the reason he remained in the county jail while in Oklahoma City, it was explained. Referring to the letters, his attorney said that "we believe there came from notorious which have read only one side of the case, and who will have a lot more when the case goes to trial."

Denny's bond of $2,500 is said to Forrest L. Hughes, county attorney, to be one of the biggest on record in Oklahoma county for a similar charge. Bondsmen from Garvin qualified for about $2,000 each, he said.
