EUROPEANS CAN'T SEE PROHIBITION

Tulsan Says Eighteenth Amendment Enigma to French

SERVE LIGHT DRINKS

Heavy Liquors Are Seldom Seen and Water Is Used to Put Out Fires

Prohibition in America is incomprehensible to most Europeans, according to A. L. Farmer, who has just returned from a trip to England, Scotland, France, Belgium and Switzerland, and who, while away, attended the International Rotary convention at Edinburgh. Only in cinema to the French is vice foreign service known. France is not a country of strong liquors, but is the land of beers and light wines.

"While we were in France," Farmer explained, "we seldom saw water unless we made a special effort to obtain it. This was true especially in cafes, where it was necessary to place a special order for water if you wanted it. When a customer sits down to a table in an American cafe, the waiter brings a glass of water before he takes one's order. This can't be said in France. Everything is wine. We passed a number of fields where peasants were working, and at one end of the field near the highway could be seen a tubfull of water that was used only to keep several bottles of wine cool. When the wine was consumed, the water was poured out on the ground.

Ice on Special Order

"It was also necessary to place a special order for ice. Those people over there don't seem to know what ice was made for, and they use it only in small quantities.

"Butter is another American commodity that is not served unless one asks for it. We found an exception in England, where butter is served only for breakfast along with what is called the 'continental breakfast.'"

Farmer is to speak at the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday on his observations of the Rotary convention.

KILLED BROTHER IN-LAW

Held Without Bond and Silent as to Cause of Quarrel.

Special to The World.

PAWHUSKA, July 30.—The preliminary hearing of Sam Hunter, charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, Phil Smith, an oil worker of Hominy, has been set for August 2 before G. W. Hargle, justice of the peace. The killing occurred on an oil lease on section 8, eight miles from Hominy.

Hunter, who is 50 years old, is being held without bond. Smith died instantly from the effects of shotgun wounds. The sheriff's office is investigating Hunter's statement as to the causes which led to the shooting.

SIX HELD FOR CAR THEFT

"Accessory to the Fact" Is Fastened Down Under $1,000 Bond.

Special to The World.

ADA, July 29.—Another alleged car thief has been caught, Buck Sturl being arrested on a charge of being "accessory to the fact" to grand larceny of an automobile stolen on July 16 of this year. The complaint was filed against him by Ernest Cadwell and Sturl was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Brown who fixed his bond at $1,000.

Officers have been devoting much time to an investigation concerning the series of car robberies in Ada and surrounding towns with the result that six men have been arrested, some being held without bail. Trial for Eugene Augustus, Claude Hall and Ed Stewart will be held this week, these men being charged with stealing a car from L. A. Thompson recently.

FEELS GOOD TO HIS FINGER TIPS

For First Time in Five Years Muskogee Man Can Eat a Meal in Comfort

"I want to say a good word for Tanlac, for it certainly has been a good friend to me," said Wm. H. Chilton, Box 4, R. F. D. No. 1, Muskogee, Okla.

"There's something about Tanlac different from anything I ever tried, for it does what they say it will do. For two years I didn't know what it was to eat a meal without being bothered afterwards by gas on my stomach. Sometimes this gas would rise and press against my heart and made it beat like a trip hammer, and then sometimes it would rise in my throat until I would gasp for breath. I got so nervous that I was restless day and night and just didn't know what it was to get a good, sound night's sleep. I was miserable all the time, especially in the morning.

"Tanlac benefited me in every way. In fact, I am feeling like a new man now. I can eat three big meals a day and never feel the slightest distress afterwards. As soon as Tanlac put my stomach in good condition my nerves got quiet and I began to sleep all night long. Just like a boy. I have gained several pounds in weight and feel good clean to my finger tips. I am willing to go on record any time and anywhere in favor of Tanlac. It beats any medicine I ever saw or heard anything about."

Tanlac is sold in Tulsa exclusively by the Quaker and Puritan Drug companies.—Adv.

May Ask Excise Board to Include Fee of $3,000 Asked by Dr. Clinton in New Budget.

The city commission Friday morning allowed the bill of Dr. Fred S. Clinton, head of the Oklahoma hospital, for approximately $3,000 for services for sick and disabled members of the police department.

R. E. Eakes presented the claim before the commission and although informed that there is no fund at present out of which the bill may be paid, asked for the commission's approval.

Whether Eakes will ask the excise board to include this amount in the forthcoming budget, or if his client will institute a friendly suit against the city for collection of the bill, was not stated.

DEFER STREET EXTENSION

Present Cost of Heavy Traffic Way on East First Held Prohibitive.

At present prices of labor and materials, it will cost approximately $152,000 to build the proposed heavy traffic roadway from First street to the Arkansas river bridge, according to an estimate presented to the city commission Friday morning by City Engineer C. E. Griggs. Of this amount, approximately $43,000 would be borne by property owners whose property would be benefited by the paving, and the remaining $109,000 would have to be voted as a bond issue. A bond issue of $40,000 was voted for this project several years ago, but it was discovered afterward that amount was insufficient and the bonds were never sold.

Action on the project was deferred by the commission Friday until a later date.
