Yank Puts One Over the Wall With Bases Full; Doubleheader Today

By D. A. BRITTENWATER.

Working in order to live up to their reputation for turning any past similar bound and determined to do the about-face once in a while. And when a lowly worm is in the process of turning it becomes an irresistible force against which the well known immovable object is given odd before the wind.

So it was fitting and proper that the Oilers, who have been the Western league worm all season, should turn yesterday. In fact they've been due to turn for to these many weeks but for some reason they never seemed to get properly set for the swinging around. But yesterday they turned. To tell the truth and make a long story a bare statement of fact they turned so fast and sharp that they couldn't quit once they got started, and they made a regular merry-go-round out of the first game of the series with the Joplin Miners, winning by 16 to 2.

Upsets the Expected.

Baseball is just like football, horseracing and roulette in one way—it's full of surprises. Look at this line-up: Joplin, in the midst of a winning streak, comes here immediately after annexing seven games out of the last eight, during which time they took three straight from Wichita and two out of three from Oklahoma City. The Miners shut out Wichita twice in one day and then blanked Oklahoma City the next day. Then Wichita moves to Tulsa and slaughters the Oilers two days straight by 10 to 2 and 12 to 6. Then the same Miners who humbled the Witches who overpowered the Oilers, sail into port and are trimmed by the same Oilers, 16 to 0. O, the dope can't go wrong in baseball.

It was a field day for the Oilers. They hammered the ball at will, everybody getting one or more hits. Manager Hamilton of the Miners tried out his newest box recruit, a Western league newcomer who was introduced by Umpire Becker as Mr. Nafziger. Clymer's boys pounded Nafziger so hard in five and a half innings that Jimmy Hamilton wouldn't use up another of his pitchers to finish the game, Christensen, the centerfielder taking up the burden where Nafziger deposited it and carrying it, heavy though it was, until the bitter end.

Richmond in Fine Form.

While the champions were looking the part at the bat, Ray Richmond was hurling unbeatable ball for Tulsa. He held the Miners at his mercy throughout, a lone run in the first inning which came from Mueller's over-the-fence drive, and another single marker in the ninth being all he would allow.

Aside from the general hitting of the Oilers, the bright feature of the day was the continued heavy batting of Yank Davis, who clouted out a single, a double and his sixteenth home run of the season during the game. Yank, who got started hitting rather late, has set his home run mark at 20, and it now looks like he would reach the goal. Brannon, Spellman and Richmond also hit well, the lanky first-sacker especially showing an improvement with the willow.

Play a Pair Today.

The Miners and Oilers are scheduled to play a couple this afternoon, the first game starting at 2:30 and after these battles Tulsa will bid farewell to Bill Clymer and his boys until September. They depart the next day on their last northern tour of the year, going to Sioux City, Des Moines, Omaha and St. Joseph. This invasion will be followed by a long home stand in September, concluding the 1921 season.

Mueller Gets a Homer in First.

A home run in the first inning again put the Oilers off behind Richmond appeared to have a lot of stuff and the first two men up were easy outs, but Mueller caught a fast one on the end of his bat and smashed it over the centerfield fence. The only puzzling thing was the fact that there were no Joplin runners waiting on the paths to score. It has been our luck lately for a home run by the opposition to mean three or four runs at least.

The Miners' one run lead was short-lived, however. After remaining quiet in the first, the Oilers tied it up in the second when Nafziger started to get wild. Brannon and Connell walked to open the inning, and Eddie Spellman drove a crashing double into the extreme right-field corner. Brannon scored on the hit, but Connelly, who was rushing in right behind him, was tagged out at the plate. Spellman's drive was a smash easily good for a home run, but for the assistance both fellows gave the outfielder.

Each team got a runner to third base in the third, but neither could score. A wild throw by Richmond helped the Miners around. After two down Kennedy walked and Richmond threw the ball against the stand in an effort to catch him off. "Spec" chasing to third. He made a daring try to steal home, but Mueller fanned and it didn't come when Spellman tagged Kennedy out. The Oilers got their man around on clean hitting, Burke opening with a single, going to second on Thompson's sacrifice and to the far corner on an infield out. But he perished there as Kennedy gather Todt's fly.

We Take a Juicy Lead.

The last half of the fourth was a pleasant 10 minutes indeed for the Tulsa fans. During this happy session six Oilers scampered over the merry home rubber, four of them when Yank Davis hit his sixteenth home run of the season with three mates on the paths ahead. Brannon opened the inning with a scorching double to center. Connelly beat out a bunt to Nafziger and the bases were full when Spellman walked. McGinnis dropped a Texas leaguer behind Robertson, scoring Brannon, and Connelly came in when Richmond singled to right. The bases remained full while the next two batters went out, the boys deciding to wait there till Yank Davis came up. Yank didn't disappoint anybody but the Joplin players, for he drove the ball over the right center fence, scoring McGinnis, Richmond and Burke ahead of him.

The Slaughter Continues.

Bill Clymer must have smelled blood in the fourth, for he growled an order at his men to get some more runs in the fifth. Well did they obey him, as well in fact five more runs were counted during the round. Hits by Brannon, Spellman, McGinnis and Davis, a couple of bases on balls and three bobbles accounting for them.

This finally convinced Manager Hamilton that Mr. Nafziger was having a bad day. So he switched the lineup about, bringing Christensen in from centerfield to pitch and sent Williams, a pitcher, to the center garden. Speas was shifted to rightfield, Bourg going to first. Without going into detail, suffice it to say that the Oilers found this to their liking and scored three more in the sixth.

Manager Hamilton gave up and left after this, sending Doyle to third.

Just for good measure the Oilers gathered one in the seventh, and called it a day's work.

It was their best day's work, by the way, in many a moon. Not since we beat Sioux City 17 to 11 one day last spring had the Oilers enjoyed such a frolic.

It was the last home run of the game from Oneida here today in a game that resembled a track meet. The score was 12 to 7. The last inning was a farce, nobody at bat or base being safe on account of Hallie Daubert, Cincinnati third baseman, on the mound for the visitors.

NET PLAY ONE-SIDED

Absence of Mlle. Lenglen and Bad Weather Has Depressing Effect on Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 17.—One-sided matches were the outstanding feature of the third round of the thirty-fourth annual women's lawn tennis championship tournament here today. Of the eight contests scheduled seven were completed in rapid fire fashion and the eighth was postponed by rain late in the afternoon. The absence of Mlle. Lenglen and the threatening weather, which finally developed into a steady downpour, had a depressing effect upon both the attendance and play.

With the exception of Miss Mary K. Browne of Santa Monica, Cal., who was unable to complete her match against Miss Edith Sigourney of Boston, due to the rain, the past and present women champions came through in the fourth round without particularly strenuous opposition. Miss Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, the present titleholder, eliminated Miss Florence Sheldon of Montclair, N. J., 6-0, 6-1. Mrs. May Sutton Bundy of Los Angeles defeated Mrs. Edward Raymond of New York, 6-3, 6-2, and Miss Browne was leading Miss Sigourney by a love set and three games to one when their contest was halted by the twilight of the seventh. The pitching of Pat Ruiz, a youngster, who replaced Toney in the box in the fourth inning, featured. He pitched 8 1-3 innings without a strikeout, player reaching first base.

American Leaders Holding Same Positions; Browns Winners

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Babe Ruth of the Yankees in cracking out his forty-first home run of the season and his 139th extra base blow since being in the American league today established what was considered to be a new major league record for a drive. The ball cleared the right centerfield bleachers well about 10 feet and landed in Lincoln park, a distance estimated at 455 feet from the plate according to eyewitnesses of the feat. The ball, on an adjoining field bounded a distance of 200 feet or more before being stopped by a boy making off with it. Incidentally New York was defeated Chicago 11 to 5 in a game marked by accounts of late in the game. The witnesses of the long pitch were coupled with opportune hitting was responsible for the victory.

Thirteen teams to date have entered, leaving Manford, Hominy, Speller City, Bristow, Red Fork and John Cutler's F. & H. teams the only ones on the list of entries that have not yet put up their entrance fee.

It all depends on the number that enter by noon today as to when the series will start. If it is seen that the series can be played off by starting Monday, the opening will be held off until that time. If not, Friday will be the first day.
