GENERAL LISTS MAKE PROGRESS

Extreme Reaction of One to Three Points Effected on Some

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Selling of the general list, with a few minor exceptions, made further progress in the stock market today. Extreme reactions of 1 to 3 points were effected on comparatively small offerings.

Little attention was given to the continued ease of money on call and time money, the strength of the foreign exchanges and the more encouraging tone of advices from leading agricultural centers.

Demand loans opened at 4 per cent, falling to 3 1-2 at midday and to 3 per cent in the final hours. The minimum figure is the lowest rate reported on the stock exchange since November, 1919. Offerings of time funds at 4 3-4 per cent applied to all periods, with freer purchases of commercial paper. Another cut in Pennsylvania oil prices and bearish developments pertaining to industrial, mercantile and transportation conditions precipitated the reaction to which professional shorts again rendered assistance.

Offs of all grades supplied fully 25 per cent of the day's business.

Pronounced weakness was manifested by low priced rails, especially Erie common and first preferred, as well as several grangers, notably Chicago & Northwestern, these establishing lowest quotations for many years.

Strength of Reading first and second preferred was in striking contrast to the trend of other coalers. The moderate rally before the close was assisted by buying of Mercantile Marine preferred and Pullman and Haskell and Barker. Sales 535,000 shares.

Further consideration of the proposed economic conference at Genoa contributed to the strength of international remittances. Sterling rose almost 2 cents and virtually all other European bills, Italy alone excepted, advanced 5 to 20 points.

Time pay on call money rate influenced the better tone in the bond market, where strength was shown by Liberty issues and other domestic offerings. The foreign division was irregular, however. Belgian was irregular, however, Belgian advancing while French municipals reacted. Total sales aggregated $17,500,000.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9.—Moderate buying sustained the price of cotton today in the face of a waiting attitude because of tomorrow's report on ginning from the census bureau. Traders of all classes were inclined to hold off because of the pending figures, but enough demand arose to hold the market at small net advances during the greater part of the session. At one time the most active months were 3 to 5 points under the close of last week, but this recession did not last long. The close was steady at net gains on the day of 8 to 6 points, March closing at 17.16c.

Egg Market Panicky.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Conditions in the egg market are "almost panicky," due to heavy offerings of fresh eggs and consequent unloading of storage eggs, according to S. R. Davis secretary of the Chicago butter and egg board.

"The market is in a state of decline in fresh eggs today," Mr. Davis said, "with heavy offerings, and the price of April futures today was 22 cents, compared with 41 cents last year." The eggs, he said, were also of much better quality.

Mild weather and plentiful supplies at Many points had caused the price of fresh eggs to drop, with the result that those dealers holding cold storage stocks were anxious to sell, he said. Eggs for January delivery were quoted today at 28½ cents.

BEARISH TREND WEAKENS WHEAT

Special Emphasis Given to Available Report on Argentina

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Bearish estimates of the Argentine exportable surplus tended today to weaken the wheat market here. Prices closed heavy, 3-4 to 1 1-4c net lower, with May $1.11 5-8 to $1.11 3-4 and July $1.01 to $1.01 1-8. Corn finished 1-8c to 1-4c at 3-8c off, oats unchanged to 3-8c down and provisions 2 1-2c to 15c advance.

According to one report, Argentina has 750,000 tons of wheat available for export in addition to a new crop ready to be harvested. Special emphasis was given to this news owing to a decline of 2 1-2c in Argentine prices. A decrease of 1,629,000 bushels in the domestic visible supply total halted for a time the downward movement of the market, but when buyers attempted to realize profits near the end of the session, a decided lack of power to absorb the offerings was shown. The fact that an election for officers of the board was in progress served to diminish the volume of trading. Export demand appeared to have come to a standstill.

Corn and oats were easier in sympathy with the wheat market, but were steadied somewhat by knowledge that exporters were after corn.

Strength in provisions was ascribed to announcement of a reduction in German reparation payments. A break in the hog market was ignored as hog prices were above a parity with cured products.

FEED SOUP AND CRACKERS

Believe Children Do Not Do Well on Diet of Cold Lunch.

Special to The World.

SKIATOOK, Jan. 9.—A bowl of soup and crackers will be served the children of the public schools commencing this week, according to Superintendent H. G. Creekmore. The soup will merely supplement the cold lunches brought by the pupils, it having been demonstrated in school work that those pupils who have a hot lunch can do their work better than those who have only cold lunches.

The chamber of commerce has arranged to take care of any deficit which may be incurred thereby by the schools.

DRIVE CAR THROUGH FENCE

Damaged Auto Held to Investigate Its Ownership.

Special to The World.

PAWHUSKA, Jan. 9.—A seven-passenger touring car was found abandoned in a field two miles north of here by a deputy sheriff. It evidently had been driven through a wire fence and into a tree. The radiator was damaged. The letters "E. C. A." are visible on the sides of the car, as though acid had been used to erase them.

Officers are investigating on the theory that the car was stolen, probably by someone trying to escape the law.

WHIZ BANG REALTY IS SOLD

Miss DeNoya Parts With Property Right in New Oil Town.

PAWHUSKA, Jan. 9.—The 80-acre tract on which the little oil town of Whiz Bang in the Osage is located sold at private sale Friday to Seth M. Lewis, former sheriff of Osage county. He intends to plat the site and sell town lots the latter part of this month.

Although the village is known as Whizz Bang, it really is named DeNoya, after Miss Margaret DeNoya, the minor Osage Indian girl who sold the land. It is in the heart of the Burbank pool.

Shoe Worker So Busy He Can't Be Annoyed With $10,000,000 Legacy

Patrick Canning, a shoe worker at Haverhill, Mass., is the heir to a fortune of $10,000,000 left by the late Maj. Edward J. Carley, who died recently in Monte Carlo. "I'd rather," says Canning cobble shoes than lead a millionaire's life. No high life for me. I've lived natural so far and I guess I'll finish the same way. Millions, or thousands, it's all the same to me. I may buy a flivver and then again I may not. I have intended to paint my house here for some time, and I think that is the first use to which I will put the money. My wife is ill and we may take a short vacation." He has three children—Bertha, aged 8; Gertrude, aged 10, and Irene, aged 24. Irene is engaged in sorting leather soles at a local shoe factory and is quite contented with her surroundings.
