The Guest Room.

If I should live so near to Him
today
That He would plan my life for me
The kind of home to make, besides the way
To keep it as it ought to be;
And if by being close to Him I might
Some way, somehow, show
forth a sign
That I was out of His (maybap a light)
Upon my face that made it shine),
Perhaps some one upon His errand sent
Might need me and salute me,
"Friend,
I seek the Guest Room, lo! the Lord hath sent
To where he there may to lend?"
Ah, joy were mine if I could say
to this,
"Beneath my roof the room, for all I have is His."

Luncheons

Mrs. Howard N. Cole brought an attractive group together at a handsome luncheon in the Country club on Monday. The sunroom was chosen for the function and a long table centered with a circular one was embellished with miniature May poles and May baskets in pastel tints. The place cards also carried out the May day idea. With the many seated were Mrs. E. W. Cahow of Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. A. C. Brewster of Pryor, Mrs. Oscar Robert Howard of California, Miss Stockwell of Beaumont, Texas, and Mrs. J. M. Beyer of Pennsylvania. This lovely affair is the first of a series of luncheons to be given this season by Mrs. Cole.

Mrs. Randolph Shirk presented her relative and guest, Mrs. M. S. Guth of Erie, Pa., at a smart luncheon given at the Country club on Thursday. The May day idea prevailed in charming decorative arrangements and offered a picture in pastel coloring. Miniature May poles with rainbow-tinted ribbons extended, candles in pastel shading and many lovely flowers all carried out the idea. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. F. G. Rodolf of Los Angeles, Mrs. Oscar Robert Howard of Pasadena and Mrs. Rankin of Eldorado, Kan. The ballroom was the setting, and seated about the table was a large company of matrons and girls.

The spring luncheon given by the Tuesday Book club was a delightful event in the early week at the Country club. Baskets of spring flowers decorated the table, which was placed in the sun-room and about which were seated 28. Miss Marjorie Williams of Springfield, Ohio, the guest of Mrs. William F. Stahl was present as a visitor. After the luncheon, and at a business meeting, Mr. William H. Pomeroy, the retiring president, passed the gavel to the incoming president, Mrs. James R. Cole.

One of the brilliant luncheon parties of the week was that given Wednesday at the country club by Mrs. Charles J. Wrightsman, honoring Mrs. Oscar Robert Howard of Pasadena, Cal., and Miss Irene Stafford of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Miami, Fla. The tables, placed X-shape, were in the ballroom. In the center was a circular table and smaller ones were placed at the four corners. Birds and flowers prevailed in artistic decorations. There was a miniature lake of water as a centerpiece on whose surface were miniature ducks really alive. High-handled baskets, tied with airy bows of tulle held all the bright blossoms of the season and the place cards brought out the bird and flower idea.

Mrs. Frank M. Rodolf's beautiful luncheon given Friday at the Country club was among the week's interesting affairs. Mrs. Rodolf chose to honor on this occasion Mrs. F. G. Rodolf of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. M. S. Guth of Erie, Pa., who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Shirk. The ballroom was the scene of the party and circular tables, smaller ones placed around one larger, were handsomely decorated in mounds of rose-colored peonies. Lavender candles were used and the place cards were colonial girls. The hostess was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. McKerlie Rodolf and Mrs. Leola Thompson Kiser. Mrs. Rodolf is planning a tea to be given in her home before her relative and guest returns to her California home.

Parties

Mrs. E. W. Jacob extended gracious hospitality at one of the prettiest parties of the week when she entertained at bridge on Wednesday afternoon for Miss Natalie Schey of Brooklyn, N. Y., the guest of Mrs. W. C. Brown. Green and yellow expressed the color scheme that was carried out in Ophelia roses and nosegays. The home was lighted with yellow candles in crystal sticks and here and there were golden tints of yellow-shade which accentuated the yellow tones. The refreshments also paid tribute to the idea. Mrs. Jacobs guests were Mesdames Oren H. McCarty, F. G. Brewer, D. Claude Richardson, H. E. L. Rhodes, George Clyde Lovell, Earnest Lorton, John B. Meyers, W. W. Walker, H. F. Borthwick, Harry Heilbrun, Lee Daniel, Forrest Z. Wills, Thomas J. Hartbush, Edward H. Short, A. C. Brewster, Bertram Redgrave, Marvin Beckett, S. T. Reynolds, W. T. Phillips, Misses Lorabelle and Dewey Phillips, Marguerite Gavin, Betty Brewer and Jennie Yeager King.

Mrs. W. K. Campbell gave a luncheon Thursday in Hotel Tulsa complimentary to Mesdames W. A. Hall and M. C. Russell of Delaware, Ohio, who with Mr. Hall have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hall on South Detroit avenue and who returned Friday to their home. Mrs. Campbell's party included 12 guests. The table was artistically decorated with a large basket filled with a profusion of spring flowers which were afterward found to be corsage clusters for each guest. On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Hall entertained at bridge for Mr. and Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Russell. The home offered a reminder of the orient with lovely Japanese ideas abroad. Cherry blossoms were clustered in Jap vases and parasols and screens were place at vantage points. Prizes and favors adhered to the motif also. A buffet supper was served after the game. Mr. and Mrs. Hall were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Daulton, and Mrs. Harry Smith. Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Clarence J. Hindman, Charles W. Flint, E. B. Howard, Ivan Howard, Victor C. Mieher, Alf G. Heggem, Thomas I. Munroe, F. B. Howard of Oklahoma City, Mesdames J. Raymond Burdick, E. W. Cahow of Omaha, Neb., and Mrs. John Murray Ward. Mr. and Mrs. Daulton entertained one evening during the week with a buffet supper for these Ohio visitors.

Clubs

The physical education department of the Y. W. C. A. will give a festival of dances in the high school auditorium on May 26 under the direction of Miss Miriam Phillips, director of dancing. This festival of dances will mark the close of the season and is the first event of its kind ever given by the local association. This year has seen the successful establishment of aesthetic dancing as a part of the program of the physical education department.

The work of this department is under the direction of Miss Mary E. Clarke, graduate of Wellesley college, who has been associated with the local association for the past two years and, prior to that time, was in charge of one of the associations in New York City. Miss Clarke has been ably assisted for the past year by Miss Miriam Phillips, who is also a graduate of Wellesley college.

Miss Phillips hopes, through the festival of dances, to bring before the public the fact that aesthetic dancing is not for a certain few but can be enjoyed by all from the youngest to the oldest. Many people feel that aesthetic dancing is beyond their means but the majority of the people taking part in this festival are employed girls of the city. The program will be divided into three parts consisting of national dances—Spanish Waltz, Egyptian, Highland Fling, Holland Kiddies, Sicilliana, and Greek Waltz; nature dances—Morning, Marguerites, Evening, Flowers and Elves, Garland, Reed Nymphs, Butterfly and Bumblebees; aesthetic dances—Contra Waltz, Ball Dance, Galanterie, March Militaire, Pierrott & Pierrette and Aubdade Printaniere. N. Sill, Mrs. C. W. Grimes and Mrs. C. L. Goodale. Two delightful musical numbers of the afternoon were the songs, "The Land of the Sky Blue Water" and "The Waters of Minnetonka," sung by Mrs. Goodale's niece, Mrs. Paul Gardner of Claremore, who was in Indian costume. An etude by Camille Saint Saens was well played by Miss Janice Snyder. During the social hour following the interesting program, Mrs. L. L. Hutchison and Mrs. W. W. Stumph presided at the tea table, which held a lovely centerpiece of snapdragon in the pastel colors.

New Straws Show Which Way Fashion Wind Blows This Year

By ELOISE.

The straw hats which are being shown now are of two distinct classes in addition to the sports chin-chin styles. There are the simple suit hats which are usually small in size and simply trimmed with quills, with points of straw and bead tassels. It may be had in black, navy blue or brown for the dark suit or in high colors for the tweed or covert costume.

The other three hats show the modern preference for flowers. At the upper left is an attractive model of green straw braid trimmed with many kinds of flowers placed flat against the brim.

The other two hats are the type which may be worn late into the summer with light frocks. One is of black straw braid, hand-made with a garland of roses for trimming. The other is yellow hair cloth trimmed with French flowers and fruit, bows, bead or straw ornaments or embroidery. Then there are the large, dreamy hats which are appearing in great numbers just now and all trimmed heavily with flowers.

At the upper right is a suit hat. It has an upturned brim with a decided flare accentuated by a flange of horsehair braid. It is trimmed
