OCEAN, BAR, BAY, DOCK AND RIVER

The fine German ship Henriette, wheat laden for Falmouth, for orders, came down the river yesterday on the hawsers of the Harvest Queen, and is at anchor off the Tongue, and will leave out this morning on her long trip. While getting ready to come to an anchor in these waters her first mate had the misfortune to get his ankle in a chain snarl and wrenched it so badly that it was necessary to have medical attention. Dr. J. A. Fulton went on board and made him comfortable, so that he may make the voyage and not be delayed here.

A wireless message was received yesterday by Operator Ferland, of the United Wireless station on Smith's Point, from the steamship Victoria, bound from Nome City for Seattle, which port she expected to enter this morning. All her people and passengers were well.

The steamship Geo. W. Fenwick, of the Hammond fleet, departed from this port yesterday morning, en route to San Pedro, with 1,950,000 feet of piling. She is one of the cracker-jack carriers of the Astoria coasting fleet and a fine ship to boot.

The German steamship with the Irish colored hull, the Diecke Rickmers, grain laden for St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, arrived down yesterday morning from Portland, outward bound. She goes to St. Vincent for orders.

The steamer South Bay, in ballast from the Bay City, arrived in yesterday morning and proceeded direct to Portland where she will load lumber out for the return voyage.

The steamer Cascades got away from this port yesterday morning on her way to San Francisco, deeply laden with good Oregon lumber.

The steamer Shoshone, on entering port, immediately went to the Columbia mills dock at Knappton, where she will load out for the return trip.

The steamship Rose City got away over the Columbia bar at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, with over 400 passengers, the record list of the season.

The Kamm flagship Lurline did not get away from her dock here last night until nearly 10 o'clock, having been under pressure of business on both banks all the way down the river. When she left up she took with her the following people: L. G. Kramer, Miss Ina Davis, D. B. Shreve.

The entire Elmore fleet, the Sue H. Elmore, Gerald C., and Evie, is tied up on Tillamook Bay, waiting upon a subsidence of rough conditions on that bar. They are all expected home on Tuesday.

The Harvest Queen made a special trip down here yesterday with freight for Tillamook Bay points.

HAS DISAPPEARED.

Seattle Man Being Looked For Under Suspicious Circumstances.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Frank Pinkham, an employee of the Tacoma Mill Company has disappeared, and officials of the concern have asked the assistance of the police in locating him in the belief that he is responsible for a shortage that may amount to $30,000. Pinkham, who was well connected here socially, was employed upon the recommendations of well known business men and after remaining here for several months went to Tacoma. Upon his return he learned that his accounts had been questioned and disappeared. It is supposed he left for some Oriental port by steamer.

According to the mill officials a number of checks sent in payment of goods delivered never reached the treasury and Pinkham is formally accused of withholding them.

CADAVER FIGHT.

Chicago Medical Students In An Ugly Situation Over It.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Considerable excitement was caused in the medical laboratories of the University of Chicago yesterday by the sudden discovery that one of the cadavers upon which four students had been dissecting since October 1, was claimed by a woman in California as the body of her long lost husband. The woman is said to be on her way to take possession of the corpse.

Five months ago the man, who was about 50 years of age, died, a pauper at the county hospital, leaving neither clew to his own identity nor to his relatives. After the body had been held for twenty days—a customary time—it passed into the possession of the University of Chicago, as do many others from the county hospital unclaimed by kin.

After keeping the body in storage 30 days, as the law requises, it was placed upon the dissecting table.

"We were notified by the Demonstrators Association which furnished us the specimen, that the body had been claimed by a relative," said Professor R. R. Bensley, head of the anatomical department, "So we took it out of the dissecting room and placed it in storage to await the claimants.

"I know nothing of the history of the incident except that the woman lives in California and that she held some insurance on the man.'

JAILS ARE FILLED.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 24.—Private advices from Honduras indicate that political conditions are even worse than reported in the press dispatches. According to this information it is not ex-President Manuel Bonilla, but General Policarpo Bonilla, who threatens a revolution. An attempt, it is reported, was recently made upon the life of President Davila's private secretary, whose conduct has incensed the wing looking to the moral support of President Zelaya. It is said that the jails are full of political prisoners.

MORE GRAFT FOUND IN SAN FRANCISCO

SOME $60,000 IS MISSING IN THE CITY TREASURER'S DEPARTMENT.

ARRESTS ARE BEING MADE

Experts Declare The Money Was Taken During Term Of Treasurer C. A. Bantel, And His Deputy Is Subject To A Long Examination.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—In the endeavor to fix responsibility for a shortage of $37,500 in the city treasury a committee of investigation has made the unexpected discovery that funds to the extent of $30,000 more are missing and criminal prosecution is foreshadowed in the detention by the authorities of James C. Tomalty, for several years a bookkeeper in the office of the city treasurer.

For nearly two years it has been known that there was a shortage in the treasury of over $37,000. Officials of that office all disclaimed responsibility, and an effort was made to connect the missing money with Ed. Smith, a former tax collector, who is serving time in the penitentiary for forgery. It was not until state Controller A. B. Nye, through the attorney general, instituted an action to recover $14,000 of the state's money, included in the missing funds, that any legal steps were taken to clear up the mystery.

Expert accountants were employed and in their report they have uncovered a total shortage of $60,000 and declared that the money was taken during the term of Former City Treasurer C. A. Bantel, whose deputy was David Davis. Tomalty, the bookkeeper, had filled the same position in the preceding administration of John E. McDoughald and when an expert in handwriting declared that the books had been altered, he was summoned and subjected to an examination that lasted five hours. Up to the last, it is said, he declared his innocence. He is said to be in custody.

City Treasurer Bantel and Deputy Davis are said to have been the only officials who had entry to the vaults. No action has been taken with regard to either. Bantel was last night in consultation with his attorneys.

W. C. T. U. IN SESSION.

Thirty Fifth Annual Convention Being Held In Denver.

DENVER, Oct. 24.—Today's sessions of the National W. C. T. U., which opened its thirty-fifth annual convention in this city yesterday, were devoted almost exclusively to addresses, although the delegates were given to reading proposed amendments to the Constitution.

Most of the addresses were on the work of the Union during the past year and partook of the nature of reports from superintendents and state organizations.

"Juvenile courts, industrial education and anti-child labor," was the subject of an address by Mrs. Minnie M. Rutherford of Arkansas.

Judge B. B. Lindsey of the Juvenile Court of this city, Mrs. Rose Wood Allen Chapman of New York and Mrs. Zillah Foster Stevens of Illinois also make addresses.

The evening session will be devoted exclusively to the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the Loyal Temperance legion.

The junior L. T. L. demonstration will be in charge of Mrs. Ellen A. Dayton Blair of Colorado, and the senior Legion programme will be conducted by Mrs. Margaret Wintringer, national secretary of the L. T. L. branch.

The Y. W. C. T. U., will be led by Miss E. G. Misher, national general secertary of the "Y" branch.

"CUT GORDIAN KNOT."

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—By throwing into the sea 1,052 cases of so-called egg yolk the collector of customs has decided the long standing controversy between importers and the government. A great quantity of this material has been imported into this country from China for a number of years. It is used in making custards, pies and other products of bakeries. Three years ago a large consignment was held up by the authorities under the pure food law on the claim that excessive quantities of borax were used in it as a preservative. Since then none has been allowed to land. The importers fought the department's decision, but the city health department has now condemned the egg yolk held in storage here and it has been fed to the fishes.

THE PERFECT BATH.

For long years George Hill of this city has made a study of the bath; the best, most perfect method of cleansing the human body and keeping it clean, and fresh and wholesome. This intelligent scrutiny has borne results that his patrons now enjoy and appreciate. His establishment at 217 Astor street, is replete with proof of his deliberate concern for his business and this is amplified by the regular and generous custom he enjoys. The Turkish and Russian baths are his specialties, and his equipment for both are as nearly complete as they can be made. His furnace has been newly fitted with steel tubing that seggregates the ash and dust from the metals that generate the vapors and this is one of the features that adds materially to his latest success. Cleanliness is the first principle of his conduct of these baths; his place, from end to end, in every department, is the quintessence of spotless cleanliness, and this is a matter of pride with the proprietor and his attendants. He has full service for both ladies and gentlemen, including all methods of massaging, and the second floor of the establishment is devoted to snug lounging rooms, cots, beds and lounges, with separate rooms for those who desire more seclusion after the bath. A mere visit and inspection of Mr. Hill's place carries conviction of the perfect appointment and service of which it is capable, while the bath itself, in any phase, seals the conclusion in the mind of the most exacting person. He is very reasonable in his prices, from the plain bath at 25 cents to the ampler service that ranges from $1 to whatsoever limit the patron may desire; and all he gets, in any instance, is reasonable, rational and wholly satisfactory. The Hill baths are a distinct credit to the city and to the management that has striven so earnestly to make them what they are. Another, and commanding virtue of this resort, is that Mr. Hill gives special attention and treatment to rheumatism and skin diseases and with notable success and is ready to guarantee the service and the cure.
