

THE RUINED SOUTH.

We print on the first page of this issue, a communication from PARKER PILLSBURY to the N. Y. Independent, to which we ask the attention of the reader. Mr. Pillsbury was the compeer of Garrison, Phillips and Smith, in the work of Abolition, and is at this day, perhaps the most consistent and earnest of the whole circle of Anti-Slavery agitators.

It seems that Mr. Pillsbury is making a tour of observation in the South, for the purpose of learning the real condition of the negro population in that section. He knew too much of the character of the adventurers who flocked to the Southern States, immediately after the close of the war, to place unquestioning reliance in the rose-colored reports concerning the well-being of the African "man and brother" sent out by them from time to time.

The scarcity of money, excess of importations and the difficulty of disposing of the crops in the West, at a profit to the farmers, are among the reasons given by mercantile men for the depressed condition of business. Rumors of failures, and of difficulties in meeting monetary engagements, are common, and there are an unprecedented number of stores in our large cities tenanted.

Such are the results of Radical folly. The Grant administration instead of wisely conducting our National affairs has managed to involve the nation in great financial difficulties.

"Strange as it may seem, not one colored person in a thousand will refuse whisky, old or young, male or female; though in slavery, I am told—indeed, was always told—that drunkenness was not a prevailing vice. Probably the restraints of masterhood had much to do with it. The whisky is usually drank raw and reeking from the barrel, without sugar and with very little if any water."

How does this jump with the theory of those pious people who insist that Radicalism is reform and that the social and political equality of all people, white, yellow, red and black, is progress? This apostle of the gospel of Abolitionism, in a single paragraph contradicts all his preaching in the past. If not one free colored person in a thousand will refuse the abominable whisky sold in the stores of the South, how can it be that he before the war? And if the negroes have retrograded morally, does it not follow as certainly as the night follows the day, that they are decaying physically, falling industrially, declining intellectually, and, therefore, eking out miserable lives, useless alike to themselves and the community?

Here is a question that might be studied to some purpose by the noble array of temperance lecturers now perambulating the country, some of whom imagine that Abolitionism is the twin sister of their own goddess of Abstemiousness.

Mr. Pillsbury sketches the negro as a legislator, in the following style: "A majority of the legislature of South Carolina are colored men, and many of them can neither write nor read. At the opening of the session, colored votes were easily bought at five dollars, though later they rose to their price. One shrewd Yankee from Massachusetts, not a member, but who had some schemes to lobby through the legislature, carried to the capital some cases of new hats, and with them as a legal tender drove quite a spirited and successful business."

And this is one of the legislatures to which is entrusted the work of amending the Constitution of the United States! This "legislature" of South Carolina, many of whose members can neither write nor read, and who are bought at five dollars a head, or for a Massachusetts wool hat, has already ratified the Fifteenth Amendment. Nay, without the affirmative vote of this immaculate and intelligent body, the Amendment can never become a part of the Constitution. Where is the man whose cheek will not crimson at the thought? Is there really an American so corrupt, so base, so recreant to all that patriotism holds dear, who will not scruple to champion so stupendous a fraud upon the nation?

But this is not all that is related of the blessings of fruitifying Abolitionism, by its quondam prophet. He pronounces "reconstruction" a dead failure. "From the sole of its foot to its head, if it have any head," says he, "there is no soundness in it, none whatever." And then he gives us a glimpse of its effects in the federal capital, where he has seen Radical Aldermen "sitting at the city council board so drunk that they had to be removed by the police before business could proceed," and refers to an account by "an eye-witness" of Judge, elected under the "reconstruction" regime in South Carolina sitting on the bench "so drunk that he had to be taken home by his friends and the court adjourned," whilst the Clerk was "about as drunk as the Judge!" A darker picture of the results of Radical malice and folly, could not possibly be drawn. It is enough to startle the most stolid, to shock the most stupid, adherent of that party. If this hideous revelation of the horrible condition of the Southern people, blacks as well as whites, fail to disgust the people with the policy of the dominant party, then may we well exclaim,

"Can such things be, And overcome us like a Summer's cloud Without our special wonder?"

The second session of the Forty-first Congress commenced on Monday. The proceedings were opened at 12 o'clock, M. The usual ceremony of appointing a committee to wait upon the President and receive a copy of his Message, was gone through with. Grant's communication to Congress was read to assembled Radicalism. This is about all that has been done up to the present writing. We hope that we shall not be called upon to chronicle such disgraceful scenes as were enacted by this same body during the last session.

THE PITTSBURGH POST.—To those of our readers who think of subscribing for another paper besides the GAZETTE, we would cheerfully recommend the daily and weekly Pittsburgh Post. The Post is the champion of the Democracy of Western Pennsylvania, and during the late political contest it made a vigorous and successful fight against the fearful odds which Radicalism has always held in that section. To the Post must the great gains for the Democracy in the western part of the State be, in the main, attributed.

The Daily and Weekly Post are both large newspapers, and wide-awake journals, and contain full Congressional and Legislative reports, the latest news from all parts of the world, editorials on all leading subjects, poetry, stories, local news, full market reports, and a vast amount of miscellaneous news suited to all classes. The terms of the Daily are $8.00 per annum. Weekly, $2.00 per annum, with a reduction to clubs of five or more. Specimen copies sent to any address free of charge. Address, J. P. Barr & Co., Pittsburg, Pa.

GODEY FOR JANUARY.—We have been favored with an advance copy of this highly popular book, published by L. A. Godey, Philadelphia. Time and again we had the pleasure of uniting our voice with the thousands of editors throughout the United States in praise of this valuable household guide. The present number is as perfect a magazine as could be desired. Besides the usual attractive features which commend this number it contains a portrait of the publisher, who for the long period of forty years has done so much to make his periodical the leading one of America. In presenting his portrait to his patrons Mr. Godey has but yielded to an oft-repeated request for it by hundreds of his old subscribers. Address L. A. Godey, Philadelphia, Pa.

A NEW YEAR'S GIFT.—Any gentleman that wants to give a lady friend a present ought to send her Peterson's Ladies' National for 1870, as it promises to be better than ever, and Peterson always keeps his promise. The January number of this most excellent Magazine is on our table, with two splendid steel engravings. The first one is called "Parted by Fate," and is accompanied with a very powerful story by Frank Lee Benedict. The second is called "A Bitter Morning," and represents two children skating on the ice. As for Peterson's fashion plates, they can't be beat. The price of this magazine is only Two Dollars a year, while the inducements to Clubs are very great. Specimens are sent gratis to those wishing to get up clubs. Address Charles J. Peterson, No. 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

THE GALAXY.—The December number of this brilliant periodical is on our table. Charles Reader's new novel, "Put Yourself in His Place," is continued and will run through most of the numbers for 1870. There is not a single paper in this number which is not readable, entertaining and instructive. The "Galaxy" is really the best of American monthly magazines. Address Sheldon & Co., 498 and 500 Broadway, New York City.

PACKARD'S MONTHLY.—There is no journal in the land that stands higher than Packard's. Original, bold and spicy, it ranks far above the ordinary literature of the day. The publishers announce an enlargement for the new year, and other new features which promise to make the magazine still more interesting. Address Packard's Monthly, New York.

THE OLDEST YOUTH'S PUBLICATION.—Mr. Nathaniel Willis, father of N. P. Willis, started a Youth's paper in Boston in 1827, called the Youth's Companion. It has been published weekly from that year until the present time (45 years), and is to-day one of the most vigorous and enterprising sheets in the country.

The Legislature of Tennessee has repealed all laws requiring candidates to take a test oath. Thus the people of that State have been relieved from the tyranny and oppression of Radicalism. Democracy did the glorious work!

Land speculators have purchased nearly every acre for sale in Florida.

FROM THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.

The district Supreme Court has sustained the decision of the lower court in rendering judgment for the defendant in the case of Joseph Bradley vs Judge Fisher for damage.

A large number of persons including several Senators and Representatives had interviews with the President. Among those who had conversations with Gen. Grant were Mr. Horace Greeley, Senators Lewis, of Virginia, Drake, Cameron, several Senators from the Southern States, Representatives Logan, Van Horn, and many others.

A large number of Cubans called upon Admiral Porter, and assured him that they had traveled across half of Cuba, and in all their tour did not see a Spanish officer or soldier. They stated that the Spaniards admit that the Island is hopelessly out of their grasp.

The Secretary of the Navy has issued orders for the building of twenty torpedo boats, similar to the one experimented upon a few days ago.

The action of congress between now and Christmas will be simply feeling the pulse of the legislative body and taking a diagnosis of the political heart.

The argument in the case of the Spanish gunboats, seized a few days ago by the United States authorities was set down for to-day, but on coming into Court, District attorney Pierront asked that it be postponed until Wednesday, which was agreed to by the council for the claimant.

The Cuban delegation had an interview with President Grant and strongly urged the recognition of their struggling republic. The president said the laws that they obeyed were plain, but that congress would probably do something in reference to Cuba soon after assembling.

NEWS ITEMS.

So various and rascally are the means employed in Indiana for obtaining divorces that the newspapers are beginning to denounce the practice in good earnest. A lawyer at New Albany, who has made a fortune by his practice in securing divorces, gives this as his mode of procedure in a recent case: The husband and wife were to quarrel and fight every day, and this was to be done in the presence of the children of the wife who were well grown and they were to be made to believe the fighting was genuine, instead of feigned. The programme was carried out to the letter, and then the husband applied for a divorce. He set forth "incompatibility" in his complaint, the wife admitted it, the children swore to it. Judge Bicknell granted the divorce. The same day she transferred some property of her first husband as she had desired to do, and the next day the divorced couple were remarried.

A shrewd trick has just been played by a Pennsylvanian in the oil regions. It appears that he had lost everything by speculation, and determined to retrieve his fortunes by getting up another petroleum excitement. He obtained a quantity of crude oil, which he buried in the cellar of his shanty, and afterwards pretended his land was full of oil. Some live Yankees from Bath, Maine, greedily grabbed the bait, bought the supposed rich oil tract, formed a company, sold a great amount of stock, and prepared for an active development of their petroleum property. Wells were sunk and machinery set up, but no oil was to be found, and the Bathites are out nearly a million of dollars by the collapse of the concern. They acknowledge the gullibility of Americans is about equal to that of Englishmen.

A wood-sawyer who was piling wood near the railroad track at Edgerton, Ohio, one day last week, noticed, while standing on the pile as the lightning train approached, a large stick lying upon the rail. Without a moment's hesitation, he leaped directly before the train and grasped the stick. At that instant the engine struck him and hurled him some distance forward. He fell to the ground mangled and lifeless, but he saved the train.

A negro boy stole a doll in Petersburg, Va., the other day, and while protesting his innocence unwittingly pressed it as he endeavored to hide it more completely under his shirt. The doll gave a loud squeak, and the little negro, who had never heard of crying dolls before, turned almost white and thought a miracle had been done in his case.

In Waltham, Vermont, last week, a girl eight years of age, finding her dress in flames, with remarkable presence of mind smothered the fire, and cut off her burning apron with a pair of scissors, while her little hands were being burned to blisters, and not only saved her own life, but that of the baby also, by keeping away from it until the fire was put out.

The verdict of the coroner's jury on the Western Pacific railroad accident is that the collision was the result of the ignorance and incompetency of Bernard Kane, the switch-tender at Sampson station. The jury also find that he deceived the officers of the company, whose business it was to instruct him in his duties as to his ability to read. Kane has been arrested and sent to jail.

A vigilance committee in Fremont county, Iowa, a few days ago lynched a notorious person named Sam. Murdock charged with the murder of Henry Johnson. Since the lynching, Johnson has made his appearance alive and well. Efforts will be made to try the lynchers.

The mail train west on the Erie and Philadelphia Railroad collided last week with a freight train going east; both locomotives were wrecked, the baggage car "telegraphed" with the smoking car, a number of passengers and employees were injured, but none killed.

The reported offer of Gen. Jordan to surrender to the Spanish forces some time ago is confirmed, his objects, as stated, being to escape with his fellow-Americans, who were always forced in front in every fight, from the almost certain annihilation which awaited them.

The London Times asks the question why should not Spain have the upstart dynasty as well as France and Sweden? And intimating that one scion of royalty will do as well as another, suggests the elevation of the Prince of the Asturias to the throne, the right to which he has not forfeited through any fault or crime of his own.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all sure to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work. Then the appetite becomes good, food digests, and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh, the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient undergoes the disease and gets well.

Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Patient can take the food which will make good blood.

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills set the liver, remove all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved, the stools will show what the Pills can do, nothing has ever been so availed, except Colic (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the Alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is so richly supplied with, throws out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, as was stated in the Philadelphia Record, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless, and abandoned him to the fate which awaited the sufferers from this disease, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.
