Mercantile Removals.

Walker & Smith will open a large gun store on Spring street, and Robinson & Stahl will open a mercantile house near by.

There are nearly a dozen other stores that will remove to this street within the next two weeks, and establish large mercantile places of business. So the city moves and thrives and grows.

The "Herald" and the Industries.

The readers of the HERALD for the past week cannot have failed to observe the excess of publicity which this journal has given to the live-stock, horticultural and agricultural displays in this city, and to the trials of speed of the fleet-footed horses of Southern California. To do this it has been necessary to incur increased expense and curtail the advertising space of the local department. But the HERALD, always in the front in encouraging the development of the country, has taken pains to collect and publish a complete list of all the exhibitors and their exhibits, from the offering of the patchwork of the little child to the highest accomplishment of mature and disciplined minds in all the industrial, mechanical and ornamental branches of human economics, and the premiums which were awarded for superiority and excellence. To do this, much other local matter and correspondence has been necessarily crowded out.

Banquet to T. A. Garey.

The attaches of the pavilion gave Superintendent T. A. Garey a banquet at the parlors of Bob Eckert, after the close of the pavilion last night. Secretary R. H. Hewitt, Alfred Wright, I. S. Smith, J. A Church For Antelope.

Mr. M. L. Wicks, with his accustomed liberality, has donated 160 acres of land at Antelope for the purpose of providing ways and means for the erection and maintenance of a church, and Rev. Mr. Stevens, of the M. E. Church, it is understood, will take up his residence at that place and see to the establishment of the institution. If this tract of land shall be properly cared for and cultivated it will be the sure means of securing a church for that settlement in a short time.

The attendance at the Dissolution Auction Sale by John C. The Awards in the Horticultural Department.

LIST OF LUCKY EXHIBITORS.

The Last Day at the Pavilion a Grand Success—A Large Crowd in Attendance—The Awarding of the Premiums.

The attendance at the Pavilion yesterday was good and composed principally of visitors who had not attended before. The awards gave pretty general satisfaction to all except James Stewart, of Downey, who had a magnificent box of raisins, but did not put them on exhibition, as he was not aware there was any premium offered on raisins until he found some other gentleman took the $40 premium, when he pulled out his box of choice raisins, and after stating the fact of his ignorance, asked Superintendent Garey to pound him over the head. T. A. Gardner held a large audience in front of his display of confectionery to witness the process of manufacturing candy on one of Edwards' patent oil furnaces. The award of premiums which was billed to come off last night was omitted by order of the directors very much to the dissatisfaction of the exhibitors and visitor.

Racing To-Day.

The lovers of sport not being surfeited with the racing which has been going on at the Park during the past week have decided to have several trials of speed to-day. There will be a consolation purse for trotters, in which several good horses are entered, and speedy heats may be expected.

There will be a running race, in which some flyers and horses from up the country will go.

Pool selling last night on the different entries was quite lively, and everything looks well for a fine day's sport to-day. A large crowd may be expected at Agricultural Park, and a good day's entertainment is promised.

The entries in the trotting race are: Trump Winston, Ed, Ned and Wiggle. Winston is the horse that won a race handsomely on Friday, being hitched to a Chicago road cart. In the race to-day Wiggle will also pull a road cart. The races will begin at half past 2 o'clock.

Spanish Republican Club Meeting Last Night.

The long talked of Spanish Republican meeting took place at their new stand lately erected at the Pico House. The new stand is a credit to the Club, as it is well lighted with two electric lights and very nicely decorated. The procession passed through Chinatown, and with their music and general whoop-up succeeded in drumming up a motley crowd that had any amount of enthusiasm but very few legal voters. Hogan, the only apostate Irishman in the city, made a vulgar assault on Mr. McSweeny, who is putting the thing very plain to the Irish people just now in New York, and who had a great many warm personal friends last night in the crowd who could hardly be restrained from personal violence on the speaker. Hon. H. T. Hazard, Col. Samuel Hellner and Sr. Villalobos addressed the meeting in Spanish and English and were enthusiastically received, but it is a question if a vote was changed by the effort.
