The Democratic candidates, in the shape of finely executed lithographic portraits, are for sale at the periodical stores of Lazarus and Hirschfeld. This is the only way in which you can buy them. They are a very fine looking set of people, and surpass their Republican opponents in both shape and talent and character. These portraits are on heavily tinted paper and they should be hung up everywhere.

Yesterday was the thirty-sixth birthday of Major Ben C. Truman. As this old Angeleño happened to be in town, a number of his friends took advantage of the circumstance to present him with a diamond breast pin of unique and pleasing pattern. The ceremony took place in the HERALD editorial rooms. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Thomas E. Rowan, in his usual felicitous manner. The Major responded in an equally happy vein. An adjournment was then had to a symposium where the testimonial was duly baptized in to Pommery Sec.

Democratic Meeting at Anaheim.

The largest political meeting ever held in Anaheim assembled in front of the Anaheim Hotel on the evening of October 23d. Theo. Staley called the meeting to order. Mr. A. W. Steinhart was elected Chairman, and Mr. Theo. Staley Secretary. A. Langenberger, P. Davis, Mr. Tyson, J. Hickey, B. Dreyfus, George Hager and J. Meredith were elected Vice-Presidents. Hon. R. F. Levy, J. W. Broaded and others all spoke, and held the large audience until after midnight. The meeting was very enthusiastic, and cheer after cheer went up for Cleveland and Hendricks and Del Valle. Count Anaheim for a good solid Democratic majority. S.

A Perilous Feat.

The lofty tower of the old Trinity church building on Spring street has been dismantled and taken down during the past week. The feat of hanging to the lofty timbers at a dizzy height and sending down the massive timbers that composed the tower was most daring and dangerous, and was accomplished successfully. Few persons would like to risk their anatomy on the lofty height of a church steeple, and at the same time to saw and sever and send down to the earth the great timbers that formerly composed the old church tower. The brave man who did this perilous work is a Frenchman, whose name has not been obtained, but certainly should be recorded for the pleasure of those who admire nerve and bold adventure.

The National Assurance Company of Ireland.

By advertisement in this morning's HERALD, it will be seen that the firm of Dobinson & Fairchild are the local agents in this city for this company, and H. M. Newhall & Co., of San Francisco, general agents for the Pacific Coast. This Company was established in 1822, but has only recently opened an agency on the Pacific Coast. The amount of capital stock, authorized, is $10,000,000, the capital stock subscribed is $5,000,000, and the amount paid up $500,000. The assets are $3,080,657, and the liabilities $2,125,227. We congratulate this firm on their being appointed the agents of this Company, which will, no doubt, become popular with the people of Southern California.

Exodus to the Country.

To-day will undoubtedly be one of the finest Sundays ever experienced in the middle of autumn. Two small rains precursed the rainy season, but the past week has been warm and pleasant, except the usual chilly evenings and mornings. To-day large numbers of people will go to various pleasant parts of our rich country, some by rail but the majority by team. It is a well known fact on a pleasant Sunday that nearly all of the livery stables have all their available teams out early in the day. Teams containing pleasure seekers can be met on any main road outside of the city. There is a very large assortment of game.

Sir Moses Montefiore.

To-night Orange Lodge No. 24 I. O. B. B. will give a social and musical entertainment at Masonic Hall, in honor of the centenary birthday of Sir Moses Montefiore, Bart., the great Jewish philanthropist. There is no living man so dear to the hearts of the Jewish element as Sir Moses Montefiore, and his birthday will be appropriately celebrated. After the exercises at Masonic Hall an adjournment will be taken to Turnverein Hall, where refreshment will be served and a social dance indulged in. Only invited guests will be present.

Los Angeles Vintage Company.

This extensive establishment, located on the old Keller place on North Alameda street, with Henry Stuhr as manager, and a capable corps of employes, has a capacity of 400 tons per day, for the entire season. One hundred tons of foreign grapes have been crushed daily, with about a carload of red grapes for sweet wines and brandy. The consumption of coal is about one ton per day. The manager is on duty from half past six o'clock in the morning to six o'clock in the evening.

Incandescent Lights.

Col. C. H. Howland, manager of the Electric Light Works, informs a HERALD reporter that the apparatus for the introduction of the incandescent electric light, will arrive in the city in about two weeks more, after a hiatus of over two years. All who ordered first, when it was supposed that they would be here shortly, will be first served, families taking the precedence.

Steamer Passengers.

The following passengers left for northern coast ports yesterday, per steamer Los Angeles:

For San Francisco—G E Cleaman, Robert Bernard, Charles Johnson, M Elliott, and six in the steerage.

For Port Harford—J P Edoff and wife.

For Santa Cruz—Louis Umber, John Miller.

The Grand Opera House.

The Fay Templeton troupe played La Belle Coquette at the matinee yesterday and Olivette in the evening. Both performances were enjoyed by large and fashionable audiences. In all details the respective programmes were rendered very acceptably. To-night, at the Tivoli, the troupe will render Olivette, in which role Fay Templeton is simply captivating.

Change of Time.

On and after to-day trains for Santa Monica at 9:30 A. M. and 5:20 P. M. on week days, and on Sundays at 4:20 P. M. Trains arrive from Santa Monica at 8:15 A. M. and 4:50 P. M. on week days and 3:50 P. M. on Sundays.

California Excursion.

Elsewhere appears the card of R. M. Baker & Co.'s Excursion Company, now managed by S. J. Mathes, late of the Times. This is one of the most popular excursions on the road, and persons accompanying them will be well treated. Send for circulars.

Grapes in Santa Ana Valley.

It is reported that the wine-makers of the Santa Ana Valley are paying but $10 per ton for grapes. In consequence of this low price a large amount of grapes are being shipped to Los Angeles.

Recorded.

The following instruments were filed in the County Recorder's office yesterday: Thirteen deeds, seven mortgages, four releases and six miscellaneous papers.

Dr. Robbins' Removal.

Dr. Robbins has removed his office to the Larronde Block, on the corner of Spring and First streets, rooms 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7. See notice in another column.

Montefiore Celebration.

The entertainment at I. O. B. B. Hall this evening, will begin at 8 o'clock. The exercises will be of a musical and literary nature strictly.

Alarm of Fire.

The alarm of fire this morning at 2 o'clock was caused by the burning of a lot of torches on First street, near the corner of Alameda.

THE REPUBLICANS.

A Creditable Turn-out For a Losing Party.

CLUBS FROM A DISTANCE.

A Number of Speeches Made---The Demonstration Somewhat of a Disappointment to the Leaders.

Last night occurred the grand rally which has been talked of and worked up by the leaders of the Republican party for a long time past. When the subject was first broached it was determined to make it a demonstration that would cause the Democrats to hide their diminished heads. Fatted oxen were to be killed and barbecued and the whole county side were to be invited in to partake of Republican hospitality. It was to be of such immensity that future generations of Republicans would cherish the day in their memories. The small Republican majority in Ohio, however, caused the ward leaders to stop and think, and after thinking a gradual curtailment of the details of the occasion began to be made. The day time meeting was wholly abandoned. The fatted oxen were turned out to graze and the whole thing dwindled down into a simple torch light procession without a great variety of frills. The Los Angeles Republican is a courteous creature and, having invited the faithful of the surrounding towns to come and see the Democrats of this city crushed, they did not rescind the invitation. The adjacent Republicans fasted for two days and came in yesterday in hordes ready to flop their lips over the juicy roast beef. The San Bernardino people turned out a large club of fine looking Republicans, as did Riverside. These gentlemen concealed their disappointment as well as possible and distributing themselves around the city were hospitably entertained by their friends, both Democratic and Republican. These clubs from a distance certainly added greatly to the Republican demonstration and gave it whatever of praise it deserves. The Los Angeles members of the "grand old party" certainly did not turn out in a manner to impress the visiting clubs with the idea that Republican enthusiasm was at a very high tide in our city.

The procession moved about 8 o'clock down Main street, in the following order:

FIRST DIVISION.

Grand Marshal and staff.
Eagle Corps Band.
Carriages containing the speakers.
Blaine and Logan Cavalry—57 in number.
Drum corps.
Young Men's Republican Club of Los Angeles—75.
The Negro Club and drum corps—44.

SECOND DIVISION.

San Bernardino Cornet Band.
Company A, San Bernardino—40.
Company B, San Bernardino—48.
Company C, S. B. boys—32.
Riverside Blaine and Logan Knights—48.
The White Hat Brigade—46.

THIRD DIVISION.

City Band.
The Irish Republican Club—20.
Drum corps.
Army and Navy League—95.
The Blaine Invincibles—69.
Union Band.
First Ward Club—75.

The above, including a number of small boys, probably two hundred, made up a procession of 778 by actual count of both responsible Democrats and Republicans. The Irish Club was a feature, there being probably eighteen Irishmen in line, not one of whom will hold up his hand and say he ever voted the Democratic ticket. The rest of this remarkable body was made up of men who would provoke a fight from an Irishman if they claimed nationality with him.

The procession marched down Main to Fourth, to Fort, to Temple, to Buena Vista, to Short, to Main, to Court street, where the speaking took place.

THE MEETING.

Elaborate preparations had been made for the speeches, and the public was to be afforded every facility for hearing the untamed eloquence that poured from the lips of purely disinterested (?) orators. Stands were erected on both the north and south sides of the Court House. It was the intention to have a detachment of the crowd stop near the plaza and listen to the festive Obando, a Mexican who has never been naturalized as a citizen of the United States, and is therefore considered by the Republicans a fit man to teach American their duty. One stand, however, would have been amply sufficient to accommodate the listeners, and the Sonoratown meeting was abandoned, and only the two Court House meetings were conducted.

The stand on the south side of the Court House was manned by Hon. John Mansfield as chairman; L. Osborne and H. A. Stevens, secretaries; and fifty-four vice-presidents. None of the vice-presidents, however, came to the front. At this stand General W. H. L. Barnes and Hon. John W. Taylor were the speakers.

An incident of the demonstration was the speech of the Hon. John W. Taylor, of San Francisco. We are constrained to contess that, while his Republican ideas are distasteful to us, in arrangement of matter, in grace of delivery and magnetic effect upon the crowd, Mr. Taylor was the oratorical success of the evening, and in delivering this judgment we have both stands in view. It may be that this is a case of Singlespeech Hamilton, and that Mr. Taylor may have developed exceptional powers under the influence of our orange groves, but the truth is that last night his speech formed a departure from the jejure and commonplace performances of his political compañeros. There was just one objection to the severe logical methods of Mr. Taylor. His premises were excessively weak, but his conclusions were notably strong. During the time in which he held the rostrum he held the crowd, which was more than can be said of his oratorical colleagues.

General Barnes read his speech from manuscript and it strung out interminably. He is rather a good looking man and from the red, red rose that adorned his coat and the bouquet of flowers on the stand, might be put down as a middle aged masher. His figures of speech were most magnificent and the poetry of his address showed long and careful preparation. The glorious firmament was ransacked and the brightest stars called down and placed side by side with immaculate Republicans.

On the north side of the Court House Hon. J. F. Crank was Chairman, and F. A. Gibson Secretary, while the usual half hundred Vice Presidents were appointed. Hon. H. F. Paige and Governor Solomon were the speakers from a distance at this stand, and their speeches seemed to have a quieting effect on the audience, as they were permitted to finish without interruption. Governor Solomon vociferously called Curtis a liar and Schurz a horse thief, but even this failed to disturb the placidity of his hearers. The venerable ex-Senator Bartlett, who is possessed of the most powerful lungs of any man on the coast rent the air for a short time. Obando the foreigner then made an address in Spanish, in which he let Del Valle down very easily. His general appearance indicated that he was going to take up a collection at the conclusion of his speech, and the crowd gradually edged away.

It now being past eleven o'clock and there still being a crowd lingering around the north side stand, Col. Walter S. Moore thinking they were about drunk enough to appreciate one of his incomparable efforts, responded to the call of a small boy and said: "We are here for the purpose of standing in with the Republican party every time, you bet. Sonoratown is with us." The Colonel then sat down.

Henry T. Hazard then up-ended and read an extract from the HERALD, which was rapturously applauded. The crowd then adjourned to the neighboring saloons, and the great Republican meeting was over.

NOTES.

The Riverside Blaine and Logan Knights were the handsomest body in the parade. Their suits were tasty and they had some idea of marching.

Captain Janes put the procession at 1174, and Captain H. T. Paine at between 1500 and 2000. The Times will probably accept Captain Janes' figures.

The Army and Navy League probably made the poorest out at marching on record. The trouble was that a soldier was put to march with a sailor and their tactics were different.

The San Bernardino boys turned out with three companies, two of them composed of men and one of "kids." This was a return compliment for the trip the Los Angeles boys took to San Bernardino lately.

The Stalwart Rangey was arrayed in a Young Men's Republican Club uniform that set off his form to advantage. Frank McCoy, who aspires to be deputy judge, wore a Blaine hat and a pleasing smile.

Ben E. Ward, the obese candidate for Recorder, was determined that his euphonious name should not be kept in the background. In the procession was a transparency bearing an inscription advising people to vote for Ward. The modesty of the young gentlemen will operate against him.

A Swindler Abroad.

EDITOR HERALD.—I wish, through the columns of your widely circulated paper, to call attention to a swindling scheme, of which I was one of the victims. About a month ago a young man, representing himself as belonging to the house of Bancroft & Co., San Francisco, called on me, and after considerable persuasion, induced me to place a card in a publication which he said Bancroft was getting up, called the "Los Angeles Gazeteer." It was to contain maps, pictures and information concerning Southern California. I was to have a copy, and 10,000 were to be circulated in Southern California, Arizona, New Mexico, etc. For all of these immense advantages I, like a fool, paid him $7.50 in advance, and it is scarcely necessary to say that since then I have seen nothing of my smooth-talking young man or the books, which were to have been delivered two weeks ago. For myself, I feel that the money I paid has not been wasted, for I have learned once for all to have nothing to do with these glib-talking advertising agents from the north and East, who are continually preying upon our business men. Not only do they charge four or five times as much for the same service as is rendered by our home papers, but they invariably want their pay in advance, which shows they cannot trust us as well as our home papers. Many, from mortification at the fact that they have been gulled, say nothing of their losses, but I believe that the best way is to publish the facts and thus warn others of the danger of being too confiding. During the past week I have been called upon by three fellows, each of whom wanted from $4 to $10 in advance for cards, hotel guides, etc., but I have politely shown them all the door. By publishing these facts you may do a service not only to the public here but elsewhere. J. F. H.

OUR POMONA LETTER.

Gossip From a Rising Young Center of Population.

Owing to very great interest in the political question, business has slackened up wonderfully during the last month, to revive again in a splendid manner, no doubt, soon after the November election. Democrats entertain confidence that, after many years, they will awaken to a realization of their dreams, and Republicans profess to feel greatly elated over the Ohio result, claiming, in some places, that the "battle is over." In Pomona the lines are closely drawn between Democrats, Republicans and Prohibitionists. The latter party is estimated at 42, with chances for 50, including seven-eighths former Republican votes.

Tuesday evening Col. Markham spoke to an audience composed largely of Democrats, who appeared to be acquainted with his brief California record, and he created no enthusiasm whatever. He gave Mr. Del Valle a fine compliment during the course of his remarks, and a number of Republicans who had not intended to do so will probably vote for the "little Democrat." After Col. Markham's address, G. Wiley Wells waved the "bloody shirt" with the old time vigor, and reviewed the record of Blaine to prove his honesty, etc. It is safe to say that he skipped many points of interest in the "Plumed Knight's" career.

"On the quiet" Republicans are displeased with the county ticket, and it will be bolted quite extensively, and the election of the Democratic ticket may be said to be generally conceded.

The burglars who entered two business houses in Pomona last week were apprehended at Colton. The evidence was meager and one was discharged, the other being bound over to higher courts.

Mr. T. J. Carter, a prominent young gentleman of this city, will give up his residence here next week and go to Los Angeles.

"What! You don't mean it?" This was said by a prominent Republican when informed of the HERALD's astonishing circulation in Pomona. "Why, everybody takes it," said the HERALD man. "Well, its a metropolitan sheet, newsy and reliable, if 'tis Democratic," said the white lot gent.

Compared to last week, social circles have been less active. The society of Pomona is closely connected with Los Angeles, and in this surburban town of the county much interest is evinced in prominent moves in your society. Consequently several citizens of Pomona attended the important social events of last week.

Natural attractions, the fair and the Prohibition Convention caused Pomona people to "flood" Los Angeles last week. Among the visitors were Dr. Brown, Rev. Neather, Frank Truitt, W. W. Lopez, Mr. Smith, Mr. Eods and others.

Democracy made local nominations Tuesday night as follows: Justices, Capt. Firey, Pomona; Joseph Malotte, Spadra. Constables, J. W. Wright, Pomona; S. E. Arnett, Spadra. Republicans are in a wrangle and will not nominate until Monday night. They are mixed everywhere in this great Cleveland year of 1884.

Dr. Morrison has returned from a successful freighting trip to the Calico district. He visited Los Angeles Wednesday.

Several deer have been killed in the San Antonio cañon lately. The campers have generally "flown."

F. G. Haley, lately postmaster of Cleveland, Ohio, has completed his residence on the Kingsley tract.

Judge Wright, who failed to receive nomination for Justice of the Peace at the Democratic caucus, will run independent.

The Democratic meeting to-night was the grandest affair of the season. Over fifty mounted torch-light bearers were in the great procession, stretching from one end of Second street to the other. Col. Godfrey and Richard Dunnigan made brilliant speeches and enthusiasm was almost beyond control.

The last campaign meeting will be held next Saturday evening, when candidates for county offices will address the people, and Mr. Del Valle.

A branch of the Club Theater pleased the natives Friday eve. REX.

Honey at the World's Fair.

EDITOR HERALD: From all accounts the World's Fair which opens at New Orleans on December 1st, 1884, promises to be one of the grandest expositions which has ever taken place. The building is to cover thirty three acres of ground. The plan was on exhibition at the late Fair in Los Angeles city. The sums of money which have been appropriated by the different States and countries have been on the most magnificent scale, and without a doubt the Crescent City will be visited from all parts of the civilized globe. This will afford an unprecedented opportunity to the people of this State to demonstrate to the world what California is capable of. The S. P. R. R. co. generously offers to transport everything to and from free of charge, thus making it possible for every industry to be represented. By this offer the Railroad Company does its part nobly, and now it remains with the producers to do theirs.

In order to have each of the various industries well represented at this great exposition, some one should be sent to represent each industry, also to superintend and arrange said department. For instance, the honey department: Suppose the bee keepers of Los Angeles county select some one from among their number to go to New Orleans to superintend and properly arrange the apicultural exhibit, and then it might be well if the bee-keepers of this county would make their exhibit jointly, and should this county take the premium it could be divided among those who assisted in making the display. As bee-keepers of the Golden State each and every one should endeavor to do the utmost in his power in order that California should take the first premium at the World's Fair. Then as Angelenos we have a nearer and dearer duty at our own doors. It is well known that there exists a vein of rivalship between the five southern counties of California as to the honey industry; therefore the Angelenos splendid as they look for laurels. But if they bear in mind that in Union there is strength they can make a display to which every spiarian can point with pride and say, I contributed my mite to that. For the purpose of deciding what to do in regard to the honey exhibit at the World's Fair, the bee-keepers will hold a meeting in Los Angeles city Nov. 8th at the City Council rooms, at 11 o'clock A. M. It is to the interest of every bee keeper in the county to be present at the meeting. J. E. P.

At G. L. Mesnager's Winery.

G. L. Mesnager & Company have for nearly three years past been running an extensive winery, at the property owned by M. Mesnager, on Chavez street, at the corner of Elmira street, which connects directly with the street cars on San Fernando street. Mr. Mesnager lives close to the winery, his residence, surrounded by a wire fence, fronting on Elmira street. Mr. Henry Lecroq is the manager and Pierre Daranecette is a half partner in the works, and is also the engineer of the machine that runs the whole establishment, which uses a ton of coal daily. Up to the 24th inst. the establishment ran altogether on Malvoisie and Zinfandel grapes, sent by the carload from Anaheim. The works are at present running on Mission grapes, which are now fully ripe and are used for white and red wines and brandy. The capacity of the works is 100,000 gallons of wine and 75,000 gallons of brandy. A new scheme is to dry the pumice in a furnace and use it for fuel. Already there are about 1000 gallons of aguardiente and 20,000 gallons of wine. The still is steadily heated with 75,000 gallons of brandy under process of rectifying. In a few days the heating of sherry wine, to a temperature of 150 degrees, will commence. The entire crushing will close about the first day of December next. In the meantime everything progresses lively in crushing and the manufacture of fine wines and brandy.

Petroleum at Livermore.

The Petroleum Development and Refining Company is a corporation not more than a year or so old. This company has an oil well near Livermore. Active operations towards developing the well will commence the last of this month. A large derrick, requiring altogether, about 30,000 feet of lumber, is to be erected, and the machinery necessary to prosecute the work has been purchased. There is no doubt of the worth of this deposit, for the flow on the surface will average eight or ten gallons daily. The crude article will readily bring $4 a barrel. —Herald.

The Hay Mart.

For nearly a year past the hay mart has been officially established at the wide portion of Los Angeles street, on the north side of Commercial, extending to Arcadia street. Lately the large increase in the number of wagons loaded with hay, nine-tenths of it baled, is immense. Most of the hay is sold before four o'clock in the afternoon, the price averaging from eight to fourteen dollars per ton, according to quality.

Good Roads.

The Anaheim Gazette voices the sentiment of the people in favor of good roads, as follows: "The sentiment outside the city of Los Angeles is almost unanimously opposed to the issuance of bonds for that purpose; and in the city we believe the opposition is stronger than the advocates and promoters of the infamous job. The people of Los Angeles county want good roads and bridges and they will vote bonds for that purpose as willingly as they will emphatically sit down on the new Court House scheme concocted by the late imbecile Board of Supervisors."

That Seven Per Cent.

WHY PERMIT ANY TEA ADULTERATION AT ALL.

AN OFFICIAL STANDARD OF PURITY.

"Examiner Davies, after consultation with the Appraiser, with the largest tea importers and with Referees Batchelor and Dr. Davies, the chemists at the Government laboratory, recently agreed upon a standard determining the percentage of impurity which shall be hereafter deemed sufficient to exclude all colored teas, whether from China or Japan, and especially to be applied to teaditus. According to this standard, seven per cent. of foreign substances will be permitted, but where a cargo of tea is found to exceed that proportion the examiners will refuse to pass it."—New York Times.

This is just where ordinary common sense people fail to see the legislative wisdom of our government. Why permit any adulteration in tea at all? It may be said that all teas are adulterated, and that to stop the importation of adulterated teas would practically put an embargo on the trade. But such is not the case, as every one knows, that teas imported to this country in Perfection Tea Cans are pure, and the importers of Eola Tea earnestly call the attention of the public to the fact, that the Perfection Tea Can is the only package in which either their high class Eola, or their full-flavored family "White Cross" brand is imported.

Business Men of Los Angeles.

Many States in the Union at present are competing with California for European immigration, but the fertility of our soil, and particularly the climate of the Southern part of the State, are great things in our favor. The most enterprising business men of Los Angeles come from all parts of the Union, among the foremost of which must be mentioned the Pacific Restaurant, opposite the Postoffice.

Judge for Yourself.

While every one is doubtlessly aware of the great popularity of the new, pleasant and effective remedy, Syrup of Figs, yet if there is any one suffering from any of the ills arising from a disordered or inactive condition of the liver, stomach and bowels who has tried so many remedies without being cured, that he has lost confidence in the efficacy of medicine and the testimonials of strangers, we would say it costs nothing to try Syrup of Figs and judge of its merits for yourself. Unlike all other liver medicines and purgatives, it acts gently yet thoroughly, giving strength to the organs on which it acts, thereby enabling the invalid to form regular habits and be restored permanently to health. Trial bottles free and large bottles for sale by C. F. Heinzeman.

Lord Chesterfield, the pink of politeness in his day, said that a true gentleman should be always suaviter in modo, fortiter in re, which means mild in manner, strong in action. This is precisely the character of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. Nothing operates so mildly and yet so powerfully in removing disease.
