

THE GREAT ATLANTIC SUBMARINE TELEGRAPH

About a mile or so below Greenwich stands the factory of Messrs. Glass & Elliot, where the great submarine cable, by which it is hoped to connect England with America, is in rapid course of completion.

Before entering further into the subject, we may as well mention that the whole cable is being constructed in two equal portions—one half being made at Messrs. Newall's works at Birkenhead, and the other at Messrs. Glass & Elliot's at East Greenwich.

The half of the cable made at Newall's works will be shipped in July on board the Niagara American screw-ship, the longest and largest vessel of its class yet built.

The Atlantic cable, of the construction and ultimate destination of which we have thus given an outline, is by all odds a beautiful specimen of manufacturing skill.

The speech of Gen. Pierce was received with hearty and frequent cheers, and when he had concluded the walk ran again with a heartfelt welcome to General Pierce.

"I thank you, fellow-citizens, for this unexpected call, and desire to express the gratification which I feel in meeting and being introduced by a gentleman who permits me to call him my friend, who has done honor to your city, and rendered signal service not only to the State of Pennsylvania, but our common country, both in civil life and on the field of battle.

"Good news never comes amiss or out of season. I congratulate you upon the results which have followed your patriotic and energetic efforts in the selection of a candidate for the most sacred right of suffrage, that of choosing for themselves those who shall execute their will in the conduct of public affairs.

This Atlantic cable, though with regard to lightness and cheapness a step in the right direction, is still not in the right path. Whenever a cable is constructed with spiral wires round a soft core any severe strain in paying it out must, by stretching the outside wires, either attenuate or break the copper conductor or injure insulation.

"I honor you for all this. Your geographical position in the Union, and the positions and glorious memories which peculiarly attach to you here, impel me to believe that you will continue to redeem them all.

"The distinguished ex-President was frequently interrupted and compelled to pause in his remarks by the applause which he elicited. His beautiful allusion to the immortal instrument framed in old Independence Hall, and the duty of Philadelphia to guard and defend that sacred work, was most vociferously cheered; and when he concluded, the unbounded applause of the multitude testified at once their approval of his sentiments, and their sincere regard for himself.

A Buffalo (New York) exchange states that a man in the employ of James O. Robinson, governor, was severely injured while running bullets. His head becoming hot he cooled it by plunging it in water, and then commenced pouring lead again. The water in the mould blew the lead into his face, seriously injuring both. It is feared that he may lose his eyes.

GENERAL SUMMARY

The London (C. W.) Free Press of yesterday says that on Wednesday last week a shocking accident occurred in a circular saw-mill at Wallingford.

The South Side (Virginia) Democrat of this morning says: "Yesterday afternoon five small boys, sons of our citizens, respectively named Roper, Hobson, Williams, and Kerr, engaged in a peacocking party, and there fixed their rope of it to a lighter anchored at the shore.

The Baltimore Sun of this morning states that on yesterday, immediately after the arrival of the Washington at the Camden wharf, a boat named the Peacock, in the train, with a child about five months old, applied to the proprietor of the National Hotel, Camden street, for lodgings, and registered her name as Mrs. Miller, Virginia.

The Weldon, North Carolina, Patriot says that the Roanoke river is far beyond its banks, and is within a foot and a half of being as high as the oldest citizen has any recollection of having seen it.

The Florida Peninsula states that the premium for every living Seminole warrior, woman and child, who may be captured or induced to come in for emigration to the West, is fixed at the following rate, and will be paid by the special Indian agent to stop operations.

A bundle, containing a man's clothes, was found on the railroad bridge at Atlanta, Georgia, on Tuesday, together with a letter, signed Thomas M. Evans, requesting that no search should be made for the man.

The Wheeling Argus states that on Wednesday last a robber of a sly complexion attempted to enter the house of the widow Mrs. H. in Branchburg, Virginia, by descending a chimney. He was stopped in the middle of the old widow heard him. She sprang from the fireplace, and lighted it. The robber, half-afrighted, roared. Persons were collected by his cries; he was drawn up with ropes to the top of the chimney, more dead than alive, and sent to the mercies of the law.

The St. Louis Evening News states that the late news received from the Upper Mississippi, at Lake Pepin was still closed, and the weather in that region of country quite cold. Missouri and Illinois are about stationary, and in good business order.

A New York exchange states that the great bulk of horses sold in New York are of low value; the stockmen generally buy at from $125 to $145. A class of horses that are really worth from $250 to $500 each are the ones that are most scarce, and there are quite a number of that class in market.

The New York Mirror states that no light has yet been thrown upon the mysterious case near Newburg, and the body of the female is not yet identified. There are a great many rumors and surmises in circulation; but nothing has transpired to afford the slightest clue. It is the opinion of the medical men that the murder was committed near the place where the body was found.

The Harrison (Indiana) Democrat says that notwithstanding the cold weather there will be a fair average crop of fruit in that county. Peaches, which are most liable to be killed, are in many places in full bloom, which is a sure indication that the fruit is not yet killed. Apples, we understand, are but little injured.

The friends of William A. White, late of Watertown—whose mysterious disappearance in Wisconsin, in October last, attracted so much attention—have received a telegraphic despatch announcing that his body has been found on the bluffs of Milwaukee; cause of death unknown.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR IN CHINA—SEVERE FIGHTING IN PROSPECT

The departure of the Himalaya and Transit with nearly two thousand troops on board is a significant index of our present relations with China. There is a possibility of a satisfactory adjustment of that untoward and unlooked-for difficulty without the aid now on its passage to Canton; but there is an equal, or rather, a greater probability, that things may be even before they are better, and that the sanguinary Yeh will not succumb till he has had further experience of our naval and military operations.

It is probable that this gentleman was followed by hawks from his starting in New York to his arrival in Washington. No blame can attach to the proprietors of the hotel, who have done all they possibly could to ferret out the perpetrators of the robbery.

The weather being such as to accord with the poet's conception of spring, there was a large array of beauty and fashion on the President's House grounds this afternoon, the concert by the Marine Band attracting the concurrence of auditors, who were evidently delighted with the performances of the well-practiced musicians.

The grounds, although there are comparatively few flowers, are truly beautiful, wearing an air of freshness, and rejuvenating to those who are usually confined to sedentary pursuits, or who, apart from such gay scenes, feel the touch of time. The young are additionally buoyant, while an opportunity is afforded to the gallant men to admire the lovely female forms, encased in crinolines, passing in bright review. We shall not venture to say that the ladies reciprocate such attentions!

Central Market.—We are convinced that we have a market in this city profitably supplied with all the luxuries as well as the substantial of the season; but certain we are that the prices charged for marketing are higher than in any of our sister cities. Why such enormous charges should be made cannot be satisfactorily explained. The damage of the Long Bridge by the breaking up of the ice in the Potomac cannot have caused such a rise in the price of everything else that enters into general consumption—poultry, fish, potatoes, butter, and eggs. If such be the fact, we hope that there will be no further delay in the repair of the old bridge.

A New Church.—The parishioners of St. Patrick's Church intend erecting a new church on the site left for that purpose by their late venerated pastor, Rev. William Matthews. A meeting to take the initiatory steps to effect this object will be held to-morrow afternoon, at four o'clock, in the parish school-room at the corner of F and Tenth streets.

We understand that the proposed style of architecture will be Gothic, and the church will be one hundred and eighteen feet front on Tenth street, and two hundred and forty-seven feet deep. There will be two center steeples, three hundred and fifty feet each in height. There will also be a steeple at each corner of the front—one two hundred and the other two hundred and fifty feet in height. The church when finished will be capable of seating six thousand persons.

NAVAL COURTS.—In Court No. 1 the case of Passed Midshipman E. C. Gratton was concluded, and the finding of the court was transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy. Court No. 2 was not in session; and the case of Captain Voorhes before Court No. 3 closed. The finding of the court will be transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy on Monday.

THE MEDICAL SOCIETY of this District met this evening at the Infirmary. A Physiological Society was organized, and the first and third Thursday evenings in each month were set apart for holding meetings.

BY TELEGRAPH. Dalton Divorce Case. Boston, May 8.—The Dalton divorce case was given to the jury this evening. It is doubtful if they agree on a verdict before to-morrow. Judge Merrick, who is in ill-health, faintly at the close of his charge, and was carried from the court-room by the sheriff and others. He is revived, but is evidently greatly prostrated by the fatigue of the protracted trial and the atmosphere of the densely-crowded court-room.

Boston, May 9.—The jury in the Dalton divorce case were in session all night, and reported to-day that they were unable to agree upon a verdict. The panel stands there for granting a divorce, and two against it.

New York, May 9.—A memorial, signed by sixty masters of vessels at Camden, has been forwarded to the Secretary of State, calling attention to the remissness of the Spanish authorities in arresting, or trying to arrest, the murderers of Capt. Pendleton, of the barque General Jones.

LOCAL NEWS

STREET-SWEEPING.—We feel quite sure that the streets of Washington need sweeping as frequently as those of her sister cities. Certain we are that complaints have been made by our citizens of the filthy condition of the gutters, the only inviting disease. We are not disposed to reflect upon the industry of our street commissioners; they do their duty to the best of their ability—but we do believe that there is room enough for considerable improvement in their present mode of street-cleaning by hand labor.
