GRAND JURY LIST IS MADE PUBLIC; 16 NAMES DRAWN

MEN WILL SERVE DURING SEPTEMBER TERM OF COURT.

The grand jury list for the term of district court beginning September 26 has been made public and has been turned over to Sheriff Burton Roach for service by District Clerk J. C. Skillman. The list cannot be opened before 30 days before the term of court begins.

Sixteen names have been drawn as follows: George F. Lindsay, C. P. Elliott, C. C. Loving, W. H. Brymer, Quincy Ford, J. S. Sanders, J. R. T. Bassett, J. N. Beasley, Terry Thompson, Charles Martin, L. R. Marshall, E. C. Britain, Sam J. Orr, Tom Baldwin and Harvey Crudgington.

From this list of names District Judge Henry S. Bishop will select a foreman on the date that the jury is empanelled.

The petit jury list for ten weeks was also drawn. Each week about 40 men have been drawn and will be served by the sheriff's department at the proper time.

W. R. Armstrong, J. F. Hall and C. L. Timmons were the jury commission for this term of court. At the close of the September term a jury commission will be appointed to select jurors for the "baby" term in December.

ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOLS TO BE ENFORCED HERE

POLICE FORCE EMPLOYED AS AMARILLO TRUANT OFFICERS.

Beginning with next Monday morning, September 5, the compulsory school law for the Amarillo Independent School District will be enforced according to a statement made by the board of trustees yesterday. All children between the ages of eight and fourteen who have not completed the fifth grade will be expected to enroll in school next Monday.

Chief of Police Jim Keeton and his force have been employed as truant officers by the school board. It will be their business to see that children between the ages mentioned above are in school.

Announcement was made yesterday that all children in the fifth to seventh grades, inclusive, will meet next Monday morning at 9 o'clock in their respective buildings and districts for the purpose of enrollment and classification. Textbooks will be given out at the time and lessons assigned. Regular work will begin Tuesday morning.

High school pupils who have not been able to enroll this week will do so Monday. High school work will also begin at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. School hours in Amarillo will be from 9 to 12 o'clock, and from 1 to 3:30 and 4 o'clock.

Game Commissioner Recently Appointed Visits in Amarillo

B. D. Garmon of Panhandle, Texas, recently appointed special game deputy for Northwestern Texas by W. W. Boyd, game, fish and oyster commissioner of Texas, was in Amarillo yesterday. Large numbers of game violations have been taken place from the Panhandle, particularly the killing of the nearly extinct antelope and prairie chicken. A consistent effort will therefore be made to save the vanishing wild life of the northwestern plains and foothills.

The prairie chicken of the Panhandle is the lesser prairie hen of the Great Plains, a bird that is nearing extinction as rapidly as the Attwater prairie chicken of the coast country and the once abundant big prairie chicken of the tall-grass prairies to the east. The blue quail, or scaled partridge, has also been killed out of season, and many ducks are shot each year before October 16, when duck hunting season opens.

Mr. Garmon will have charge of game preservation in the Panhandle extending to Childress and south to Paducah, Matador, Floydada and Plainview. He will endeavor, with the assistance of prominent game conservationists of this region, to create a sentiment in favor of game protection and conservation. His efforts will be to teach observance of game laws and to prosecute violations. Because of present game scarcity he will enforce the game laws to the letter.

Volunteer game wardens for the district will be appointed by Game Commissioner Boyd on Mr. Garmon's recommendation. They will assist him in awakening the people of the Panhandle to the value of their game and the necessity for strict conservation.

Mr. Garmon's principal work will be to save and if possible, to increase the few antelope and prairie chickens in the Panhandle. He will also secure observance of open seasons, and prevent the killing of quail, doves and waterfowl during closed months.

Town Will Be Quiet.

This town will seem quiet Saturday night, when the last show is put on at the Deandi Theatre. Tom Mix comes today and concludes in the "Town Round-up." See him on the screen so you can compare him with what you see at the Labor and Industrial Show round-up next week.

LABOR SHOW TO BE BIG SUCCESS IS BELIEF HELD

EXPECT 25,000 PEOPLE TO PASS THROUGH PARK'S GATE.

It's going over in great style—Amarillo's Labor and Industrial Show. At least that is the consensus of opinion just now, and people are now looking forward to the program of next week, which will, without any doubt, be one of the best ever rendered in the city. No money nor effort has been spared, and those in charge of the affair feel that with good weather at least 25,000 people may pass through the gates during the week.

"For a while," said J. W. Cummings, "people considered the affair as a joke and no matter how much they were schooled they refused to take the matter seriously. Personally, I can see through this. The public has been robbed so often, and misled so many times that it really takes a power to convert. Labor has staged several shows in Amarillo. Some of them were good, some bad, and others indifferent. But this time labor is going to put over its show in big town style."

Other leaders interviewed are in accord with Mr. Cummings. During the past week a majority of Amarillo business men have been assisting in perfecting the plans. The industrial show will be the most elaborate ever staged in Amarillo or any other city in the Southwest. Scores of booths have been erected, and they are all being taken over by dealers.

Then, too, the daily programs will be of interest to every one. For those who enjoy lectures special speakers have been obtained. On the streets there will be various kinds of amusements during the day. On the show grounds there will be amusements by the score—entertainment of every description. There will be roping, riding, bulldogging and other western sports. There will be dancing and music for those who are inclined in this way. Then a hundred special carnival attractions will care for those who like a change every time the whistle blows.

The automobile and motorcycle races will be second to none ever seen in the Panhandle. Riders and cars from a number of Western states are already arriving and before the week is over many others are expected.

The cowboys' round-up and reunion has been well planned. Rogers and Hart have been in the city several days and have arranged some programs which will be acceptable to all. A lot of men may think they can ride a bucking horse or wild steer, but there are girls who will be in Amarillo next week who know that women can ride. They are not talking but will give demonstrations every day during the week.

From fifty to one hundred individuals will participate in the riding and bulldogging contests. Just how many head of livestock will be on the grounds is not known at this time. Rogers and Hart have something like two hundred and fifty head with them and various other riders will probably bring along their outlaws.

The race track has been completed and those who have seen it declare that it is one of the best in the state. The track was outlined and built by T. W. Smith, assistant to Mr. Cummings, and his work has been highly praised.

One of the most thrilling attractions will be the "Death Drag." Dare-devil Ralph A. Miller of Boston is here and will give two shows daily. Miller will be placed in a straight jacket and then at the end of a long rope dragged behind an automobile at a rate of fifty miles an hour. No definite plans have been made as to where the start will be made, though probably on Polk street somewhere between Fifth and Tenth. From the starting point he will be dragged through the streets and then to the park west of the city. Miller also promises other thrillers during the week.

FEDERAL FARM PAYMENTS ARE PROMPTLY MET

$150,000 IN LOANS PLACED IN SIX COUNTIES RECENTLY.

About $150,000 worth of Federal farm loans have been placed in Potter, Oldham, Randall, Deaf Smith and Armstrong counties during the past 60 days, according to J. M. Neely, of Amarillo, who has charge of this work here. He estimated that about $500,000 had been loaned in these sections.

A representative of the Federal farm loan bank was in the city this week and he complimented the Panhandle for the splendid condition it is in, especially in comparison with other parts of Texas. Ninety-one farmers are in the local association, said Secretary Neely, and of $14,000 in interest due August 1 and September 1, there has not been a delinquency.

Payments cover a period of years and include payments for actual purchase of the land as well as for interest.

Mr. Neely has 30 to 40 men on the waiting list now, but there are no funds available at the present time. No more applications can be accepted, as the government has not sent the proper blanks here to be filled out.

It is the belief of Mr. Neely that some Federal farm loan bonds will be sold within the next few weeks and this should enable still more loans to be made. Federal farm loan bonds bear five per cent interest and are non-taxable. This has been held constitutional by the courts, according to Mr. Neely.

Suspension of Federal farm loans for more than a year has caused considerable difficulty in getting things reorganized. Suspension of loans was caused by a suit instituted against certain features of the act.

NORTH PLAINS RAILWAY HELD AS NECESSITY

STINNETT SPEAKS OF SITUATION AT ROTARY CLUB LUNCHEON.

Prediction that Amarillo would become secondary to a South Plains town unless plans are made to get a railroad line direct to the North Plains was made by A. S. Stinnett, former president of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, at the Rotary Club luncheon Thursday noon at the Amarillo Hotel. Such a railroad would quickly open up three million more acres of valuable wheat land, he declared.

Unless the railroad is built, Mr. Stinnett believes that eventually a line will be constructed from a South Plains city into Fort Worth. He declared that North Plains cities were willing to put up money for this railroad.

R. G. Barnum, of the George E. Montgomery Brokerage, discussed the oil problem facing Amarillo. Mr. Barnum told of plans that are being made for getting development in the Panhandle.

Following a talk by Representative Lee Satterwhite upon the forthcoming visit of Texas legislators here, September 19, the Rotary Club decided to appoint a committee to assist in entertaining them. The legislative committee will inspect Palo Duro Canyon as a possible site for a state park.

CITY DIRECTORY TO BE PUBLISHED ON NOVEMBER 15

SIZE OF VOLUME DECLARED UNCERTAIN AT THIS TIME.

Amarillo's 1921 city directory will be off the press about November 15, according to the Hudspeth Directory Company of El Paso, which has charge of compiling and publishing it. For several weeks a crew of five persons worked here and gathered information.

An office is being maintained in room 21, Fuqua building, so that details regarding the winding up of the directory may be handled. Information about the size of the directory is a little indefinite now, depending upon the completion of composition by the printers.

The Hudspeth Company has been publishing the Amarillo directory since 1917 and the size of the local one has increased considerably during those years.

The directory covers will be of two or three colors. That is, some will be in blue, others in light brown and possibly other colors, although the cover will be printed in only one color.

As to the pages making up the inside of the directory, the streets will be listed on pink paper, the advertising on yellow paper and the regular directory list of names on white paper. The only change in this from the 1920 directory is that the streets will be shown in pink instead of pale green.

Russell and Cockrell have printed the directory for a number of years and will print this one. Materials for printing it have already been ordered by this firm.
